

TEXT TALK LESSONS

CREATED BY

UTAH READING FIRST EDUCATORS

Utah State Office of Education
250 East 500 South
PO Box 144200
Salt Lake City, UT 84114-4200

Patti Harrington
State Superintendent of Public Instruction

Rebecca Donaldson, Specialist
Utah Reading First

INTRODUCTION

Text Talk is an approach to read alouds that is designed to enhance young children's ability to construct meaning from decontextualized language. (Beck & McKeown, 2001; Beck, McKeown, & Kucan, 2002). The idea of creating this collection of Text Talk lessons was sparked from the work of Beck and McKeown's research and findings. These lessons provide educators with a resource to accomplish the complex and demanding task of developing children's literacy using read-alouds. The ultimate goal of a Text Talk lesson is twofold: 1.) Getting children to talk about the text, considering ideas using decontextualized language to improve comprehension, and 2.) the acquisition of vocabulary. (Beck and McKeown's journal article can be found at the end of this book.)

In order to increase comprehension, teachers are reading while adding interspersed discussion to focus, monitor, and scaffold learning; helping the children to respond to the text rather than the illustrations. Discussions are based on the actual text instead of permitting students' responses to rely strictly on their background knowledge.

Using explicit instruction, 3 or 4 vocabulary words are taught after the story has been read. These words are chosen based on their ability to be generalized, the frequency the word will likely occur in future text, and their importance in comprehending the text. The teacher gives the word within the context it was used in the story and then provides a child-friendly definition. Students repeat the word to create a phonological representation of the word. This is followed by interactions with the word by the students in different contexts to assure understanding. The word is then repeated, and this process continues with the remaining 2 or 3 words. Finally, students are asked a series of questions comparing, giving examples and then given a scenario from which to choose the correct word.

The Text Talk lessons contained in this book have been created by educators involved in Utah's Reading First project—primarily classroom teachers. We would like to thank each of them for their hard work and creative ideas. These teachers are dedicated to the cause of teaching all children to read. We applaud their efforts and dedication on behalf of Utah's children.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

1	A Bad Case of Stripes Elizabeth Moore, Granite District	1
2	A Bad Case of Stripes Nancy West, Duchesne District	5
3	Abiyoyo Jileen Boydston, Ogden District	10
4	Alexander and the Wind-Up Mouse Karen Percival, Duchesne District	14
5	Amazing Grace Sara Payne, Salt Lake District	18
6	Amber On the Mountain Linda Roundy, Salt Lake District	22
7	Anansi and the Talking Melon Brady Donaldson, Salt Lake District	27
8	Applemando's Dream Michele Paoletti-Schelp, Salt Lake District	32
9	Armadillo Tattletale Lisa Fulton, Ogden District	37
10	Art Lesson, The Margie Ikeda, Salt Lake District	41
11	Barefoot Escape on the Underground Railroad Mary Heslop, Ogden District	45
12	Baseball in April and Other Stories: La Bamba Ursula Martinez Olivo, Ogden District	49
13	Betsy Who Cried Wolf Ursula Jones, Ogden District	54
14	Bubble Factory, The	58

	Natalie Eberhard, Duchesne District
15	Chrysanthemum Sara Payne, Salt Lake District	63
16	Cow Who Wouldn't Come Down, The Brenda Cook, Duchesne District	67
17	Coyote Steals the Blanket; A Ute Tale Christena Anderson, San Juan District	71
18	Dandelions Anita Marx, Duchesne District	76
19	Detective LaRue-Letters From the Investigation Cathy Heiner, Duchesne District	81
20	Detective LaRue-Letters from the Investigation Anita Marx, Duchesne District	87
21	Dog Who Cried Wolf, The Melody Francis, Salt Lake District	92
22	Drop Goes Plop, A First Look at the Water Cycle, The Chris Panas, Duchesne District	95
23	Ducky Daphne Marchant, Salt Lake District	99
24	Easter Egg Farm, The Adalee Wall, Duchesne District	102
25	Edward and The Pirates Mary Heslop, Ogden District	107
26	Elbert's Bad Word Paula Bickerton, Salt Lake District	110
27	Empty Pot, The Kathy Carson, San Juan District	113
28	Exploring the Deep, Dark Sea	117

	Ann L. Andersen, Duchesne District
29	Fancy Nancy Jeannie Rowland, USOE	120
30	Fancy Nancy and the Posh Puppy Jeannie Rowland, USOE	124
31	Fireflies! Kim Gianelo, Salt Lake District	128
32	Friend Frog Susan Hardy, Salt Lake District	132
33	Friends Fran Hall, Ogden District	136
34	Gardener, The Sandi Barber-Baker, Ogden District	140
35	Gem Lori Gammon, Ogden District	144
36	Getting to Know the World's Greatest Artists: Diego Rivera Ursula Martinez Olivo, Ogden District	148
37	Ghost-Eye Tree, The Margie Ikeda, Salt Lake District	153
38	Giant Jam Sandwich, The Janice Jenkins, Duchesne District	157
39	Goldilocks Returns Roxanne Slaugh, Duchesne District	161
40	Graves Family, The Kathryn Hall, Ogden District	165
41	Heckedy Peg Kathy Huber, Duchesne District	172
42	How I Became a Pirate	175

	Kappy Lyn Williams, Ogden District
43	How the Stars Fell into the Sky: A Navajo Legend Christena Anderson, San Juan District	178
44	I Wanna Iguana Paula Bickerton, Salt Lake District	182
45	If You Could Go To Antarctica Crystal Riser, Duchesne District	186
46	Imogene's Antlers Annabelle Rutledge, Duchesne District	190
47	Julius, Baby of the World Kristi Sorenson, Salt Lake District	195
48	Katie's Trunk Marla Atkinson, San Juan District	199
49	Library, The Sandi Barber-Baker, Ogden District	203
50	Lilly's Big Day Linda Roundy, Salt Lake District	208
51	Lilly's Purple Plastic Purse Patsy Mecham, Duchesne District	212
52	Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe, The Amy Shirts, Ogden District	216
53	Little Grunt and the Big Egg Jennifer Davila, San Juan District	221
54	Little Red Riding Hood Debra Tjoland, Ogden District	225
55	Magic Hat, The Sara Johnson, Salt Lake District	229
56	Mailing May	233

	Tami Zirker, Duchesne District
57	Man Who Walked Between The Towers, The Jileen Boydston, Ogden District	237
58	Market Square Dog, The Karen Toledo, San Juan District	241
59	Midnight Fridge, The Ben Moser, Ogden District	245
60	Ming Lo Moves the Mountain Kim Gianelo, Salt Lake District	249
61	Miss Rumphius Valerie Dixon, Ogden District	253
62	Moondance Melissa Brock, Ogden District	256
63	Mr. Peabody's Apples Brenda Cook, Duchesne District	259
64	Mud Puddle Fran Hall, Ogden District	262
65	Mufaro's Beautiful Daughters Rona Wood, Duchesne District	266
66	My Brother Needs a Boa Melody Francis, Salt Lake District	270
67	My Lucky Day Brenda Perry, Ogden District	273
68	Never, Ever Shout in a Zoo Lisa Fulton, Ogden District	277
69	Never Trust a Squirrel Kristi Sorenson, Salt Lake District	281
70	Nonna's Porch	284

	Lori Gammon, Ogden District
71	Odd Velvet Kathy Lien, Salt Lake District	288
72	One Giant Leap—The Story of Neil Armstrong Angela Child, Duchesne District	292
73	Owen & Mzee: The True Story of a Remarkable Friendship Michele Paoletti-Schelp, Salt Lake District	297
74	Paper Dragon, The Marla Atkinson, San Juan District	302
75	Patchwork Quilt, The Sharon McKenzie, Duchesne District	306
76	Pecos Bill Daphne Marchant, Salt Lake City District	310
77	Principal from the Black Lagoon, The Julia Martinez, Salt Lake District	314
78	Polar Express, The Ben Moser, Ogden District	317
79	Relatives Came, The Valerie Dixon, Ogden District	321
80	Royal Nap, The Chris Panas, Duchesne District	324
81	Ruby the Copy Cat Marcia Machado, Granite District	329
82	Rude Giants Stephanie Hyder, Duchesne District	333
83	Signmaker’s Assistant, The Wendy Betts, Duchesne District	340
84	Somewhere In The Ocean	344

	Colleen Bowcutt, Duchesne District
85	Stellaluna Barb Gallagher, Salt Lake District	349
86	Story of Jumping Mouse, The Kathryn Hall, Ogden District	353
87	Stranger, The Jen Knight, Duchesne District	359
88	Stray Dog, The Kathy Carson, San Juan District	363
89	Sunflower House Susan Hardy, Salt Lake District	366
90	Sylvester and the Magic Pebble Melissa Brock, Ogden District	370
91	Sylvester and the Magic Pebble Barbara Gallagher, Salt Lake District	374
92	Thunder Cake Sheila Davis, Duchesne District	378
93	Too Many Tamales Amy Shirts, Ogden District	381
94	Ugly Duckling, The Jennifer Davila, San Juan District	385
95	Umbrella, The Sara Johnson, Salt Lake District	388
96	Uncle Jed's Barbershop Sharon Oakes, Duchesne District	392
97	When Jessie Came Across the Sea Ursula Jones, Ogden District	396
98	Widow's Broom, The	400

	Elizabeth Beebe, Salt Lake District
99	Widow's Broom, The Brenda Perry, Ogden District	404
100	Wolf! Rebecca Donaldson, USOE	408
101	Zen Shorts Johanna Wight, Duchesne District	413
Article	Text Talk: Capturing the benefits of read-aloud experiences for young children (2001)--Beck & McKeown Reading Teacher, 55(1), 10-20	417
Index	List of books, authors, and ISBNs	427

1. A BAD CASE OF STRIPES

Elizabeth Moore
David Gourley Elementary
Granite District

Text Talk Lesson for: A Bad Case of Stripes, (David Shannon, 1998)
ISBN: 0-439-07955-1

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- fretting
- impress
- relieved
- extraordinary
- drowsiness
- disaster
- contagious
- announced
- prodded
- virus
- huddled
- remedies
- sprouted
- heaping
- cured
- vanished

Tier 2 words selected for direct instruction:

- fretting
- contagious
- remedy

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read aloud page 1. Show the illustration. Ask the children, “Have you ever been worried about what other people would think of you?” (fretting)

Read aloud page 2. Ask the children, “What is Camilla’s problem?” Then show the illustration on page 3.

Read aloud page 4 and show the illustration on page 5.

Read aloud page 6. Show the illustration on pages 6-7. Ask the children, “Can you predict what made Camilla’s stripes change?” “What do you think the other children will say?”

Read aloud page 8. Ask the children, “Does this confirm our prediction of why Camilla’s stripes change?” Show the illustration on page 9. Ask, “How does Camilla feel about all of this?”

Read aloud the first paragraph on page 10. Show the illustration on page 11. Ask the children, “Why are the other parents afraid to have Camilla around their children?” “Have you ever gotten sick because of someone else?” (contagious)

Read the rest of page 10. Ask the children, “Why doesn’t Camilla ask for the plate of lima beans?”

Read page 12 and show the illustration on pages 12-13.

Read page 14. Show the illustration on page 15. Ask the children, “What has happened to Camilla?” “What was the cause?”

Read page 16 and show the illustration on page 17.

Read page 18 and show the illustration on pages 18-19.

Read page 21. Ask the children, “Why won’t anything work for Camilla?” “Can you think of anything that might fix her?” (remedy) Show the illustration on pages 20-21.

Read page 22 and show the illustration on pages 22-23.

Read page 24 and show the illustration on page 25.

Read page 26. Ask the children, “Do you think the lima beans will work?” “Why or why not?” Show the illustration on page 27.

Read page 28 and show the illustration on page 29. Ask the children, “Why do you think the lima beans worked when nothing else would work?”

Read page 30 and show the illustration. Ask the children, “How did Camilla keep herself from having a case of stripes again?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: fretting (fret, fretted)

1. “In the story, the author says that Camilla was fretting over what to wear. During the story, Camilla also fretted over what her friends would think of her.”
2. “If you are fretting over something, it means that you are worried about something.”
3. “Say the word with me: fretting.”
4. “You might fret if you lost your favorite toy. Your mom is fretting when she worries about you getting sick.”
5. “Now you think of a reason you might fret over something. Start your sentence with, “I fret when _____.” or “_____ makes me start fretting.” (if children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did)
6. “What’s the word?” ‘fretting’

Target word: contagious

1. "In the story, the other parents were afraid that the stripes were contagious."
2. "If you say that something is contagious, you mean that other people can easily get it just by being around it."
3. "Say the word with me: contagious."
4. "You should stay home when you are sick with the flu, because you are contagious and you could get other people sick." "Sometimes yawning can be contagious because when one person yawns, other people start yawning."
5. "Now think of something that is contagious. Start your sentence with, '_____ is contagious.' or 'I would be contagious if I _____.'" (if children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did)
6. "What's the word?" 'contagious'

Target word: remedy (remedies)

1. "In the story, the author says that the Creams were given all kinds of remedies for Camilla."
2. "If you give someone a remedy, you give them a cure, or something that will fix them."
3. "Say the word with me: remedy."
4. "When you are sick, you might go to the doctor for a remedy. A bowl of hot soup could be a remedy for a sore throat."
5. "Now you think of a remedy. Start your sentence with, 'I need a remedy when _____.'" or "A remedy that works for me is _____.'" (if children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did)
6. "What's the word?" 'remedy'

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- The doctor giving you some medicine: remedy or contagious?
- Losing some money: remedy or fretting?
- Getting the chicken pox from your little brother: fretting or contagious?
- Can't find your mom or dad at the store: fretting or remedy?
- A Band-Aid for your scraped knee: contagious or remedy?
- Yawning because someone else does: fretting or contagious?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell us about a time that you saw someone fretting. What were they fretting about?
- Have you ever been contagious? What happened?
- Where would you go to get a remedy? Why?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Sometimes a smile is contagious, because when someone smiles at me, I want to smile back. Can you think of other things besides sickness that are contagious?
- What are some things that moms and dads fret over? Teachers? Children?
- What remedies work the best for you? Is there a remedy that your family uses most?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: fretting, contagious, remedy.”

- Which would be an example of someone fretting – a student who can’t find their library book or a student checking out a library book? Someone answers- students who agree with the response should give a thumbs up and those who disagree should give a thumbs down.
- Who would be contagious – someone who comes to school with a cold or someone who studies really hard? Someone answers- students who agree with the response should give a thumbs up and those who disagree should give a thumbs down.
- Which would be a remedy – a special prize for being really good or a cast for a broken arm? Someone answers- students who agree with the response should give a thumbs up and those who disagree should give a thumbs down.

2. A BAD CASE OF STRIPES

Nancy West
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: A Bad Case of Stripes, (David Shannon, 1998)
ISBN: 0-439-07955-1

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- impress
- cure
- relieved
- bizarre-weird
- uncontrollable
- fret (fretting)
- normal
- distraction
- vanished
- contagious
- specialists and experts

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- impress
- distraction
- vanished

Step 1: Read story and focus on comprehension

Briefly introduce the book: Listen closely to this story called, “A Bad Case of Stripes. As you listen, think about the girl Camilla and what she finally did to get rid of the stripes which all of a sudden covered her body.”

Read aloud page one. Ask the children, “Why was Camilla worried about the first day of school?” Camilla loved lima beans, but she never ate them. Her friends hated lima beans.

Read aloud page two. “Why did Camilla’s mother scream? Why did mom say Camilla couldn’t go to school?” Show picture.

Read aloud page three. “Why did Dr. Bumble say that Camilla could go to school the next day? How did Dr. Bumble help?” Show picture.

Read aloud page four. “What happened when Camilla went to school? Were things normal in class?” Show picture. Discuss what “normal” would “look like” in reference to the development of the story. What should normal in the classroom “look like?”

Read aloud page five. “Why were the kids yelling out at Camilla? Why were they laughing at Camilla?” Show picture. “Is Camilla laughing too? Why not?”

Read aloud page six. “Why did the principal say Camilla couldn’t go to school the next day?” Camilla couldn’t believe that two days ago everyone liked her and now nobody wanted to be in the same room with her. Parents were afraid that her stripes might be contagious. Contagious means they thought their children could get the stripes from Camilla. Her father tried to help her feel better. What did Camilla really want? Why didn’t she eat any lima beans? (She had been laughed at enough for one day!) Show picture.

Read aloud page seven. Read ½ of the page, and then show the picture of the four specialists called in to help solve Camilla’s stripe problem (continue to read while showing the picture). Why did each give Camilla a bottle of colored pills?

Read aloud page eight. Read and show pictures of Camilla shaped like a colorful pill. Point out why her clothes didn’t fit.

Read aloud page nine. “Who’s trying to help now? What happened to Camilla?” Show picture.

Read aloud page ten. Show picture. “Why are the T.V. reporters outside Camilla’s house?”

Read aloud page eleven. “Is anything working?” Show picture.

Read aloud page twelve. Show picture. “What did the therapist cause to happen in Camilla’s room?”

Read aloud page thirteen. Show picture of the little old woman.

Read aloud page fourteen. “What did the old woman want to give Camilla? Did Camilla want the beans?” Read ½ of the page. Camilla wanted a big heaping plateful of lima beans more than just about anything, but she was still afraid to admit it. “Yuck,” she said. “No one likes lima beans, especially me.” “Why wouldn’t she eat the beans?” Read the rest of the page. Show picture. Why did the old woman take her beans and walk away? What did Camilla say that stopped the woman? What happened when Camilla popped the beans into her mouth?”

Read aloud page fifteen. Show picture while you read the words. The story says the old woman said, “I knew the real you was in there somewhere.” It said she went outside and vanished into the crowd.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: impress

1. In the beginning of the story it says that Camilla didn’t eat the lima beans because she wanted to “fit in” with her friends and there were so many people to impress.

2. Impress is when we do something so someone will like us because of what we do or say. Camilla loved lima beans but her friends did not, so to impress them, she didn't eat them.
3. "Say the word with me: impress." Sometimes people do things that are not right, so they think people will like them like take drugs or be unkind to someone because someone tells them to. These are not "good" ways to impress people. We can impress people by doing good things like being kind to them when they need a friend or help them pick up their pencil when it falls on the floor.
4. "Tell me something that would impress you that a friend might do to you or for you. Try to use the word impress in your sentence you could start by saying, "I would be impressed if..."
5. "What's the word we're learning today? Impress! I am so impressed that you are so smart to learn this big new word!"

Target word: distraction

1. In the story the principal told Camilla's mother that she couldn't go to school the next day because "she's too much of a distraction."
2. A distraction happens when your mind is totally pulled away from what you are presently doing or thinking about to something or somewhere else! Mrs. West might be teaching you how to clap the syllables for alligator and you aren't clapping with the class because you're thinking about the cool new video game or Barbie doll you got last night at your birthday party! You are distracted or your mind is pulled away to think of something other than clapping syllables.
3. Let's say the word together: distraction
4. Camilla was distracting all the students when her stripes kept changing to whatever the children said! It's important for us not to get distracted when we are at school trying to learn what our teacher is teaching us.
5. (I pass out stick faces that have a smiley face on one side and a frowny face on the other). I'm going to tell you sometimes when you might get distracted. If this could happen: "Smiley," if not "Frowny."
 - You are practicing your letters and your brother throws a pillow at you for a pillow fight
 - You're sitting in a chair
 - You are trying to peel an orange while you read a book
 - Your baby sister is crying loudly while you're trying to sleep
 - You get into the tub
 - Your turn to bat the ball and a dog runs between your legs
6. What's our new word from our story? distraction.

Target word: vanished

1. Target word: vanished
2. At the end of our story, after the old woman shared the lima beans with Camilla, our author says, “the old woman went outside and vanished into the crowd.”
3. Let’s all say the word together: vanished.
4. Sometimes when I get embarrassed in front of my friends I wish I could vanish. “Would you turn to the person next to you or close by and tell them what you think vanished means. If you know what it means, tell them something you can think of that could vanish. Use the word in a sentence when you share. Some of you share with the class.
5. What is our new word? vanished
6. “Who can tell us what it means?” “It means when someone or something just disappears.” That’s right!

Some explicit ways I will reinforce these words and meanings over the next days and weeks are:

- Add the three new words to our word wall.
- Add them to our individual word books so we can use them in our writing and when we talk.
- Wear each word around my neck for a day and have the children use “me” in sentences in our “down time” or doing whole group.
- On each day as we emphasize the word again, break it down into syllables and possibly even into phonemes so we can attempt to spell it.

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two words:

- If your sister gave you your favorite grape flavored Popsicle would you vanish or be impressed? Why or why not?
- Your favorite TV show comes on while you’re doing your homework, do you get distracted or vanish? Which one
- Your team wins a trophy for winning the most soccer games do you feel distracted or impressed? Why?
- When Christmas comes, you get the favorite gift you asked for! Are you distracted or impressed?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- If you are impressed with someone, how do you feel about them?
- Tell the class about a time when you were distracted.
- Can you think of something that might vanish from before your eyes?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

1. I knew I could _____ my friends by doing “5” back handsprings!
2. I really wanted to get “100” on the spell-a-thon test, but I had a headache and the headache was _____ for me.
3. My friend wanted to borrow my quarter to buy a pencil but it has _____ from my desk.
4. Examples and explanations:
 - If my teacher was impressed because I got all my letter sounds right, it means she....
 - The rainbow in the sky had vanished: it had just _____.
 - I am trying to read my story; please don’t _____ me.

Assess:

(Could do whole group, small group, or individually; one a day, three days or all at once)

1. Which one of these things could “vanish?” from before your eyes?
 - A drop of water or a cement truck?
 - Are you impressed when someone brushes you off when you fall down or someone lines up behind you?
 - A distraction happens when you are listening to your mom read your favorite book or you sneeze.
2. Prize out of the prize bucket if you can use one of our new words correctly in a sentence.
3. Periodically ask children if they remember what words “mean.”
4. Small little treat if children “use” these words correctly here and there throughout rest of school year.

Jileen Boydston
Lewis Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Abiyoyo, (Pete Seeger, 1986)
ISBN: 0-590-42720-2

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- disappear
- ostracized
- pasture
- precious
- possessions
- slobbery
- matted
- foolish
- grin
- staggered

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- disappear
- pasture
- staggered

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Before reading the story, say, “The people in this village have a problem. While I am reading, think about what the problem is and how it is solved.”

Read aloud page one. Ask the children, “Why do you think the grown-ups want him to stop playing?”

Read aloud page 2 aloud. Briefly tell them what “disappear” means. Show the illustration.

Read aloud pages 3 & 4. Show the illustration.

Read aloud pages 5 & 6. Show the illustration.

Read aloud page 8. Ask the children, “How do you think the people felt about the father? Why?” Ask the children, “Do you like people to play tricks on you? Why or why not?” Ask the children, “What do we know about the father and son so far?” Show the illustration.

Read aloud pages 9 and 10. Ask the children, “What did the story say ostracized meant?” Tell them, “Ostracized means that people send other people away. They won’t let them live by them. Why were the father and son ostracized?” Show the illustration.

Read aloud page 12. Show the illustration.

Read aloud page 14. Ask the children, “What could make a shadow that big?” “What do you think is coming?” Show the illustration.

Read aloud page 15. Show the illustration.

Read aloud page 17. Show the illustration. Point out in the illustration what a pasture is.

Read aloud page 19. Ask the children, “What is the dad planning? How do you know?” Show the illustration.

Read aloud page 22. Show the illustration.

Read aloud page 23. Ask the children, “What are some words that would describe the father and son now?” Show the illustration.

Read aloud page 25. Show the illustration.

Read aloud page 27. Show the illustration.

Read aloud page 29. Show the illustration.

Read aloud pages 31 and 32. Show the illustration.

Read aloud pages 33 and 34. Briefly explain what staggered means. Show the illustrations.

Read aloud pages 35 and 36. Ask the children, “What is going to happen now?” “Why do you think that?” Show the illustrations.

Read aloud pages 37 and 38. Ask the children, “If you were one of the villagers, how would you feel about the boy and father now?” Show the illustrations.

Read aloud pages 39 and 40. Show the illustrations.

Read aloud pages 41 and 42. Show the illustrations. Ask the children, “What was the problem the villagers had? How was it solved?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: disappear

1. “In the story, the boy’s father used his magic wand to make things disappear.”
2. “Disappear means that something goes away. We can’t see it any more. It is no longer there.”
3. “Say the word with me: disappear”
4. “When it is nighttime, we can’t see the sun anymore. It has disappeared from the sky.” “If you left some money on your desk at recess time, then came back and it was gone, your money has disappeared.”

5. “Tell me of something that you know of that has disappeared. You could begin your sentence by saying, “The _____ disappeared from _____”
6. “What word have we been talking about? disappear”

Target word: pasture

1. “In the story, Abiyoyo grabbed a sheep from the pasture and the cow from a pasture.”
2. “A pasture is a grassy area of land where cows, sheep and other animals live. They eat the grass in the pasture.”
3. “Let’s say the words aloud, pasture.”
4. “I saw a movie once where goats were eating grass in a large field. That is a pasture.” Show pictures of pastures.
5. “Tell me about a pasture you have seen in a book, movie, or in real life. You could begin by saying, “I saw a pasture with _____ in it.” Then tell us where you saw it.”
6. “What word have we been learning? pasture. “

Target word: staggered

1. “In the book, Abiyoyo danced so hard he staggered, then fell flat on the ground.”
2. “Staggered means that someone can’t stand up straight. They are dizzy, and their bodies move back and forth.” Stand up and demonstrate staggered.
3. “Say the word with me :staggered.”
4. “If I turned around in circles really fast, then stopped, I would stagger. After I got off a roller coaster, I staggered.”
5. “I’m going to tell you some things. If any of these things would make someone stagger, say “stagger”. If not, don’t say anything.”
 - A baby learning to walk
 - Taking a nap
 - Walking to the library
 - Rolling down and hill, then standing up
6. “What word are we talking about? staggered”

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Is where a sheep lives a pasture or disappear?
- Could a magician make a rabbit disappear or stagger?
- When I have a fever and stand up to walk, would I stagger or pasture?
- A grassy place is a pasture or disappear?
- I ate my lunch. There is nothing left. My lunch has: disappeared or staggered?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- What lives in a pasture? Why do they live there?
- If you saw someone staggering, how could you help them?
- If something of yours disappeared, what would you do to find it?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- What would you like to make disappear? Why?
- Have you even seen someone stagger? When? What they were doing?
- Describe a beautiful pasture you have seen.

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: disappear, pasture, stagger.”

- Which of these is a pasture—a barn or a grassy field?
- When would you want someone to disappear—when they are being kind to you or when they are being mean to you?
- Which of these would make you stagger—if someone picked you up and swung you around or if you were sitting in your chair?

4. ALEXANDER AND THE WIND-UP MOUSE

Karen Percival
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Alexander and the Wind-Up Mouse, (Leo Lionni, 1969)
ISBN: 0-394-82911-5

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- ordinary
- rustled
- envy
- quivering
- mysteriously
- dawn
- precious
- searched
- adventures

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- adventures
- envy
- searched

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension:

Read pages 1-2 (There are no page numbers. I counted the pages with words.)

Show illustration and point out the broom

What do we know about Alexander? (No one likes him.)

Read pages 3-4

What do we know about Willy?

Point out wind up and wheels

Show illustration

Read page 5

Why does everyone love Willy? (adventures)

Show illustration

Read page 6

What does Alexander want? (envy)

Show illustration

Read pages 7-8

What is happening?

Show illustration

Read page 9

What is Alexander's problem? (searched)

Show illustration

Read to “he thought” pages 10-11

Don't show pictures

Then read from “But then” show picture and point out purple pebble

What did Alexander wish for?

Read pages 12-13

How is Alexander feeling?

Show illustration

Read and show illustration at the same time. Pages 14-15

How did the story end?

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: adventures

1. In the story the author says, “He told him of his adventures with brooms, flying saucers and mousetraps.”
2. When you say you had an adventure you mean that you enjoy and look for dangerous and exciting experiences.
3. Students repeat the word adventures.
4. Display Word

Example:

Miss Jenkins' got lost at Disneyland and she had some interesting adventures.

The boys went on a big adventure to the ice caves.

5. Now think about a dangerous or exciting adventure you have been on. Start your sentence with, “I went on an adventure, and I...” Ask students to tell why it was an adventure.
6. What is the new word? adventures

MAINTENANCE:

Listen to these situations. Thumbs up if you think it's an adventure. Thumbs down if you think it's not an adventure.

- Superman is a hero because he has many adventures and rescues people from danger.
- Our principal, Mr. Heaton has many adventures when he comes to visit our classroom.
- Sam went on an adventure to Vernal, Utah and found a huge dinosaur bone.
- My family went hiking in the mountains and it turn out to be an adventure when a brown bear tried to get into our car.

Target word: envy

1. In the story the author said, "Alexander thought of Willy with envy."
2. Envy means, you want something that someone else has.
3. Students repeat the word envy.
4. Examples:
 Brooke was green with envy when she saw my new bike.
 Kaitlin plays the piano and violin very well and many people envy her talent.
5. Now think about a time when you have envied something that someone else has. Start your sentence with "I envy... because..." Ask students to tell why they envy something.
6. What is the new word? envy

MAINTENANCE:

Which of these things would you envy? Raise your hand if you would envy this.

- Your mom takes your little brother or sister out for an ice cream cone while you are at school.
- Your neighbor gets a brand new pair of hee-ees (skates).
- Your best friend gets a 100% on the spelling test.

Target word: searched

1. In the story the author says, "For days and days Alexander searched the garden for a purple pebble."
2. When you say you have searched you are saying that you have looked carefully to find something.
3. Students repeat word searched.
4. Display Word
 The children searched the playground all recess to find a little red ladybug.
 The students searched the classroom to find the missing clue.
5. Now think about something you have searched for. Start your sentence with "I searched for..." Ask students to tell why they had to search for it.
6. What is the new word? searched
7. Which one would be something you would search for? Have children raise their hand for which one they think is the correct choice.
 - Would you search for your bed or for your missing library book?
 - Would you search for a missing pencil or for your desk?
 - Would you search for a lost toy or for the book shelf?

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Matt searched the beach all day only to find a broken sea shell.
- I envy my best friend because she has a brand new trampoline.
- Which sentence did you like? Tell me why you liked the sentence?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell me about something you would envy. Why would you envy it?
- Tell me what would be an adventure for you? What makes it an adventure?
- Tell me about something you would want to search for? Why would you search for it?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- What have you envied that belongs to someone else? Why did you envy it?
- What have you searched for? Why did you search for it?
- What kind of adventures have you been on? How did you know it was an adventure?

Assess

Let's think about all three of our new words again: adventures, envy, searched."

- The classroom was on an adventure when _____. Ask for response. If you agree, thumbs up. If you disagree, thumbs down.
- She was green with envy when _____. Ask for response. If you agree, thumbs up. If you disagree, thumbs down.
- My family searched all over _____. Ask for response. If you agree, thumbs up. If you disagree, thumbs down.

5. AMAZING GRACE

Sara Payne
Mountain View Elementary
Salt Lake City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Amazing Grace, (Mary Hoffman, 1991) ISBN: 0-803-71040-2

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- wicked
- exploring
- auditions
- success
- paved
- cheered (up)

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- amazing
- paved
- exploring

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read aloud the first page and ask, “What do we know about Grace so far?” Show the illustration.

Read aloud pages 3-6. Ask the students the following questions: What is Grace doing? What kinds of things does Grace like to do when she plays?” Show illustrations and give quick explanation of characters such as Anansi the Spider and Joan of Arc if necessary.

Read page 8 aloud and ask, “What is the author trying to tell you about Grace? What kinds of stories does Grace like to act out?” Show illustrations.

Read pages 9-11 and ask, “What did Raj tell Grace? Why would he say that? What does that tell us about Raj?”

Read page 12 and ask, “What did Natalie say to Grace? Why would she say that? What does that tell us about Natalie?” Show illustrations.

Read page 13-14 and ask, “How is Graces feeling?” Show illustrations.

Read pages 15-18 and ask, “Why did Nana take Grace to the ballet? How did the ballet help Grace?” Show illustrations.

Read aloud page 19. Ask the children, “Why did everyone in the class vote for Grace? Why did Grace do so well in the audition?” Show pictures at this time.

Read page 21 aloud and ask the children, “What does the author want us to know about Grace now?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: exploring

1. “In the story the author says that Grace went exploring for lost kingdoms.”
2. “If you go exploring, you would travel in order to discover what a place is like.”
3. “Say the word with me: exploring.”
4. If you were to go explore a new school, you would look in all of the rooms for new and exciting things. You might also explore a new book by looking through its pages and pictures and begin reading it.”
5. “Now you think of somewhere that you would like to go exploring. Start your sentence with, ‘I would like to go exploring’... or The place that I would most like to explore is _____ because...” (If children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did).
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘exploring’

Target word: paved

1. “In the story the author the author says that Grace found a city with streets paved in gold.”
2. “If a road or other surface is paved, it is covered with a hard material such as concrete, rocks, or asphalt.”
3. “Say the word with me: paved.”
4. “If you were to walk on a paved road or sidewalk, it would be covered in asphalt, rocks, concrete, or something other than dirt (maybe even gold if you were dreaming!).”
5. “Now, think of some places in our neighborhood where things might be paved. Start your sentence with ‘I saw a _____ that was paved in _____.’” (If children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did).
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘Paved.’

Target word: amazing

1. “In the story the author says that the play was a big success and Grace was an amazing Peter Pan.”
2. “If someone or something is amazing, they can be wonderful and at times surprising.”
3. “Say the word with me: amazing.”
4. “If someone or something is amazing, they are good at what they do. A cat could be an amazing jumper, or your dad could be an amazing cook.”
5. “Now, you think of someone or something that you think is amazing. Start your sentence with _____ is amazing because s/he_____.” (If children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did).
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘amazing’

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- The sidewalk: paved or amazing?
- Taking a hike in the mountains to look for rocks: amazing or exploring?
- The freeway: exploring or paved?
- Your mom’s recipe for chocolate cake: exploring or amazing?
- Searching in your backyard for different types of insects: exploring or paved?
- The best basketball player in the world: amazing or paved?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Have you ever seen construction workers pave a road? What does it look like? How do they do it?
- What kinds of things would you like to explore during your summer vacation?
- What is the most amazing sight you have ever seen? Have you ever done anything that is amazing?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- If you could pave the streets with anything, what would it be? What would you use to pave a sidewalk?
- My Dad is an amazing golfer. What do you do that is amazing?
- If you were to explore Disneyland, what do you think you would find? If you could explore anywhere, where would you go?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: paved, auditions, exploring.”

- Which of these would most-likely be paved- a street or a bed? (Students who agree with the response will raise their thumb; those who disagree will point their thumb down).
- What would be more amazing to see- an elephant flying or a dog barking? (Students who agree with the response will raise their thumb; those who disagree will point their thumb down).
- Where would you rather go exploring- in your bedroom or in the great outdoors? (Students who agree with the response will raise their thumb; those who disagree will point their thumb down).

6. AMBER ON THE MOUNTAIN

Linda Roundy
Salt Lake School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Amber On the Mountain, (Tony Johnston, 1994)

ISBN: 0-8037-1219-7

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- poked
- bristled
- porcupine quills
- giddy
- lonesome
- scattered
- longed
- supplies
- fix as in 'fix your mind'
- biding
- flopped
- meadow
- streaked
- examined
- stubborn
- stumbled
- stamped (his foot)
- notion

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- lonesome
- stubborn
- determination (is not explicitly named in the book)

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Today we are going to read a story about a little girl who feels lonesome and having determination to learn something she has always wanted to do.

You probably already know what lonesome is. Say lonesome. What does that word feel like to you? Show me a lonesome face. I feel lonesome when I am all alone and there is nothing to do? Is that when you feel lonesome? Buddy up and tell each other when you felt lonesome last. Why might someone feel lonesome?

Amber is the girl in our story. She feels lonesome sometimes because she lives high up in the mountains away from people. People are scattered all over the mountain; Amber does live and not close to anyone.

Maybe because she feels lonely, story Amber has decides to do something. Amber is determined to learn something. We are going to find out what Amber is determined to do.

The book is not paginated. (Number the pages. Page 1 would be the first page of text with the cow in the picture)

Read aloud page 1. Children discuss the images of the setting, i.e., the mountain is so high it poked through the clouds like a needle stuck in down. Trees bristled like porcupine quills. In spite of all the beauty Amber is lonesome. Ask “What is Amber’s problem? Why is she feeling lonesome? Show illustration.

Read aloud page 2. Discuss the following: Two different men come to Amber’s home on the mountain. One man came to teach the children how to read and write. Let’s read that part again and listened to find out what happened to the first man? What happened to him? Why did he leave? Did he have enough determination to teach the children how to read? What might have happened to his determination? The second man came to the mountain. He brought his family with him. He came to build a road on the steep mountain. Which job do you think would take more determination, learning how to read or building a road on a very steep mountain? “Do you think the man building the road has enough determination? He says, “You can do almost anything you fix your mind on.” What did he fix his mind on? Tell your buddy if you think he has enough determination to build the whole road. Do you think he will have to be stubborn to get the road built?

Read Aloud to page 6. Have the students discuss the how the relationship between Amber and Anna develops.

Reread page 6. Anna decides to do something. She determines to do something with Amber. The story says Anna got a stubborn look in her eye, just like the old mule whose name is Rockhead. Mules are stubborn animals. They look like shaggy hairy horses; they do not like to be told what to do. Sometimes they won’t move at all! Anna is fixing to do something. What is she fixing her mind to do? Do you think she will have enough determination to help Amber learn how to read?

Continue reading aloud to page 13. Show the illustration before reading page 13. What in this picture tells us that Anna and Amber are determined to read?

Read Page 14. Have the children close their eyes and visualize the action of the narrative on this page or from the past couple of pages. Amber is frustrated or upset, what is making her unhappy? Right now Amber is being very determined. The story says, “Amber stiffened up as mulish as could be.” What do we know about mules that will help us understand why the author said Amber was mulish? Can you show a mulish, determined face like you are fixin’ to do something important and difficult?

Read aloud to page 17. Ask the students what is the next thing Anna is fixing on teaching Amber to do? Let’s read to see if the girls have enough determination or they are stubborn enough or mulish enough to get Amber read and write.

Read page 18. Accept student responses and clear up confusions. Have the children state the Amber’s new goal. Discuss how determined Amber was to accomplish her goal.

Read aloud to page 28; ask the children why Amber says to Anna in her letter that they are not far away from each other anymore? Who had more determination Amber or Anna? What in the story makes you think that?

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: stubborn

1. In this story people have to be very determined. In fact they need to be so determined that they are stubborn. On page 6 Anna gets a stubborn look in her eye. What was she fixing to do? Would she have to get stubborn to finish that job?
2. Stubborn means that you are not going to change your mind. It means that whatever you decided is how it will be. Sometimes it is good to be stubborn, like when someone is trying to talk you into taking drugs. Sometimes it is bad to be stubborn like when your mom wants you to clean up your room and you won't do it.
3. Stay stubborn. Say it again. Now make a sound like a mule and you can remember that mules can be very stubborn.
4. I am determined to help you remember that word stubborn. I won't give up until you all can tell me what stubborn means. I will have enough determination to say it, and say it, and say it until you know it all the way!
5. You think about a time you were stubborn. You can start your sentence with: I was stubborn when I _____. Or my sister or brother was stubborn when _____. Have the children tell when they have been stubborn in a good way and stubborn in a bad way.
6. What is this new word we are talking about? Say Stubborn. Say it slowly. Say it fast, say it like a mule!! Hee-haw.

Target word: determination

1. (Although this word does not appear in the story, it is a central concept to understanding the relationship throughout the story.) Three people in our story are very determined. They have determination. Anna was determined to teach Amber how to read and write. Anna's dad was determined to build a mountain road. Amber had enough determination to learn how to read, and even more determination when she taught herself how to write.
2. Determination means once you have decided to do something it gets done!
3. Say: determination.
4. I have to use determination to eat cooked spinach. I do not like it, but it is good for me. Do you use determination to do anything that is hard for you? Most of us have to use determination to work hard in school, don't we?
5. Buddy up-play like you are the Mom and you are determined to get the baby to eat each spinach? How determined did you have to be? How determined was the baby?
6. What is our new and important word? determination.

Target word: lonesome

1. Amber felt lonesome living up on the mountain so high. She didn't have friends near by to talk to and play with.
2. Lonesome is how you feel when you don't have anyone your own age or size to play with. Lonesome is how you feel if your pet gets lost. Lonesome makes your body move slowly and feel sad.
3. Say lonesome and show me with your whole body what lonesome looks like.
4. I am lonesome when my grandchildren go home. I feel lonesome when I watch a sad movie all by myself.
5. You think of a sentence that tells when you felt lonesome. Say, "I felt lonesome when _____." , or you can use your pet. Say, "My puppy feels lonesome when _____."
6. What is the sad word we have been talking about?

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If I lift weights until your muscles are strong: determined or lonesome?
- If you refuse to eat your vegetables: determined or stubborn?
- If you spend all day cleaning out your messy room for your mother are you being determined or stubborn?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Buddy-Up. Tell your buddy about a time when you were determined to learn how to ride a bike, or roller skate or do something difficult. Did you feel good after you finished the hard job?
- Tell your buddy about a time when you were too stubborn to do something good for yourself or for your mom, or at school.
- Tell your buddy about a time when everyone in your family was determined to do something important and difficult. Did you succeed?
- Can a fish feel lonesome? How do you know? Can a puppy feel lonesome? Have you ever felt lonesome when you were around lots of people?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- If you were stubborn in a grocery store. How would you act?
- If you were determined to buy Cheerios in a grocery store how would you act?
- If your friend felt lonesome what might you do for your friend?

Assess:

Let's think about all three of our new words one more time. The words are determination, stubborn and lonesome. Say those words with me: stubborn, determination and lonesome.

- Which of these is stubborn? When you won't share your new toy or when you give up after trying to do something one time?
- Which of these shows determination. When you won't read my book because it is too hard, or "This book is tricky, I just need a little help."
- When do you feel stubborn? When your mom want you to make your bed, or when your mom wants to go get ice cream.
- When do you feel lonesome? When you wake up at night after a spooky dream, or when you are at a birthday party?

7. ANANSI AND THE TALKING MELON

Brady Donaldson
Salt Lake City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Anansi and the Talking Melon, (Eric A. Kimmel, 1994)
ISBN: 0-8234-1167-2

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- bore (drill)
- bored (tired)
- ridiculous
- impatient
- command
- insult
- prodded
- excitement
- handsome
- rose (sun)
- exclaimed
- hurled

Words to teach for deeper understanding:

- ridiculous
- impatient
- insult

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

PAGE:

1-2

Read page

Show illustration and point out:

- spider in thorn tree
- elephant hoeing
- melons

3-4

Read

- What do we know so far? (Bore a hole w/thorn)

Show illustration

4

Read

- What is Anansi's problem?

Show both illustrations

5

Read only

6-7

Read

- What is Anansi planning to do?

Show picture?

8-9

Read

- What is happening?
- What is elephant going to do?
- Show illustration.
- Who is talking to the elephant?

10-11

Continue to read without showing the pictures yet. (ridiculous)

12-13

Read

- Why is Hippo angry?
- Where are Hippo and Elephant going? Why?

Show this and previous picture.

14-15

Read and show picture. Point out Warthog. (ridiculous)

16-17

Read

- Why is Warthog angry?

Show picture

- Where did they go next?

18-19

Read and show illustrations at the same time.

20-21

Read and show.

22-23

Read

- What's happening here?
- How does the king feel? Why? (impatient)

24-25

Read

- Why is the king angry?
- How do we know the king is angry?

Show pictures (insult)

26

Read

- What happened?

27

Read

- Why did Anansi climb the banana tree?

Show illustrations

28

Read

- How does the story end?

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: ridiculous

1. In the story, the author says the talking melon was as ridiculous as a skinny Hippo. The author also says the talking melon is as ridiculous as a handsome warthog.
2. If you say that something is ridiculous, you mean that it is very foolish or silly.
3. STUDENTS REPEAT WORD
4. DISPLAY WORD
5. EXAMPLES:
 - If our principal, Ms. Wilkerson, rode into your classroom on a bicycle. You could say that was ridiculous.
 - Serving something like jelly bean soup for lunch would be ridiculous.
6. Now you think of something ridiculous. Start your sentence with, "Something would be ridiculous if . . . ," or "If you _____, that would be ridiculous." Ask students to explain why each situation would be ridiculous.
7. WHAT'S THE NEW WORD?

MAINTENANCE:

Which of these things would be ridiculous?

- A student reading book in the library or a student making pancakes in the library? Why?
- A dog singing a song or a dog chasing a ball? Why?
- Going to the zoo and seeing an elephant eating hay or going to the park and seeing a dinosaur swimming in the pool? Why?

Target word: insult

1. In the story, the King got angry and said, "How dare this melon insult me."
2. Insult means to make someone mad or upset by being rude to that person.

3. STUDENTS REPEAT WORD

4. DISPLAY WORD

5. EXAMPLES:

- If someone made fun of your new shoes and said that they looked ugly, then that person insulted you.
- Someone drawing a picture of a pig and writing, "You are a fatso," would be insulting.

6. STUDENT GENERATED EXAMPLES:

- Now you think of some way to insult someone. Begin your sentence with, "You could insult someone by . . ."
- Ask another student to explain why that someone would be insulted.

7. WHAT'S THE NEW WORD?

MAINTENANCE:

Listen to these situations. If it would insult you, stand up and say, "That's insulting." Otherwise, remain seated and say nothing.

- A teacher says, "Your handwriting is the worst I've ever seen."
- Mom gives you a hug before you leave for school.
- An older student pushes you in the hall and yells, "Get out of my way."
- Mr. Rose helps you solve a difficult math problem.

Target word: impatient

1. In the story, the author wrote, "The melon said nothing. The king grew impatient."

2. Impatient means that you are bothered for having to wait for someone or something.

3. STUDENTS REPEAT WORD

4. DISPLAY WORD

5. EXAMPLES:

- Someone would become impatient if they had to wait in line for a long time to get a drink at the drinking fountain.
- Some children may be impatient on their birthday when they have to wait and wait to open their presents.

6. STUDENT GENERATED EXAMPLES:

- Now you describe a time that you have been impatient and then tell why. Start your sentence with: "I was impatient when . . . because . . ."

7. WHAT'S THE NEW WORD?

MAINTENANCE:

Point to and read the three new words. Assign the number 1 to ridiculous, number 2 to insult, and 3 to impatient. Give the following situations and have the students say the correct word while holding up fingers to show the corresponding number:

- Taking a fish for a walk on a leash: impatient or ridiculous.
- Making a mean face at someone: impatient or insult.
- Laughing at someone who falls down and gets hurt: ridiculous or insult.
- Your bicycle has a flat tire and you have to wait four days to get it fixed: insult or impatient.
- A student ahead of you in the lunch line drops her tray of food and you can't get your food until the mess is cleaned up: ridiculous or impatient.

Assess:

Ask students to think of words to complete each of the following sentences. Call on a student to respond. All students who agree that the word was used correctly will hold their thumbs up. Those who disagree will put their thumbs down.

- Complete this sentence: Maria was impatient when _____. Ask for response. Students who agree with the response will raise their thumb; those who disagree will point thumb down.
- Something ridiculous that a pet would do is _____. Ask for response. Students who agree with the response will raise their thumb; those who disagree will point thumb down.
- Mr. Rose becomes impatient when _____. Ask for response. Students who agree with the response will raise their thumb; those who disagree will point thumb down.

8. APPELEMANDO'S DREAM

Michele Paoletti-Schelp
North Star Elementary
Salt Lake City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Appелеmando's Dreams (Patricia Polacco, 1997)
ISBN: 0-329-05500-3

Potential Tier 2 Words in the Text

- drab
- overgrown
- magic
- useful
- snapped
- special
- piece
- discover
- waddling
- stunned
- ridiculous
- alarmed
- elders
- hire
- soaring
- daydream
- brilliant
- capture
- wondrous
- disappeared
- laundry
- responsible
- suspicious
- ashamed
- alerted
- signal
- bustling
- wept
- prank

Tier 2 Words Selected for Direct Vocabulary Instruction:

- responsible
- signal
- useful

Step 1: Doing the Read-Aloud of the Text with a Focus on Comprehension

Introduce the text: This is a story about a little boy named Appелеmando and a special way he had of daydreaming when he was with his friends.

Pages 1 and 2: Read Page 1 aloud. Tell the students that “drab” means something that does not have much color. Show the students the illustration on Page Two. Point out that the buildings are beige, light blue, and gray – not very colorful!

Also, point out the drawing of Appелеmando on Page 2.

Ask the students what they know about imagination. Explain that the author is using the word “dream” in the same way we would use the word “daydream” or “using our imagination.” Re-read the last paragraph on Page 1. Explain that “For him, dreams were magic chariots pulled through his mind by galloping hues of color” is just a special way for the author to say that Appелеmando has a very active imagination. All of the pictures that he gets in his mind when he daydreams are very colorful.

Read Page 4. Show the illustration on Pages 3-4 while asking, “Why do you think that the villagers thought that Appелеmando did not do anything useful?”

Read Pages 5 and 6. Show the students the illustration on Pages 5 and 6. Ask them what they think the special secret is that the five friends shared.

Read Pages 7 and 8 then show the illustration on these pages. Ask the students what would be neat about others being able to see what they daydream. Ask them what would be a problem about others being able to see what they daydream.

Read Pages 9 and 10 and show the illustration.

Read the first paragraph on Page 11. Ask the students to use their imaginations and suggest ways that Appelemando's friends could get one of his daydreams on paper.

Read the rest of Page 11 and show the illustration on Pages 11 and 12.

Read Page 14 (the right side of the next page). Show the illustration on Pages 13 and 14. Point out where some of Appelemando's dreams are sticking.

Read Page 15. Ask the students what they think will happen next.

Read Page 18 (the right side of the next page). The villagers are upset about Appelemando's dreams sticking to their buildings. Ask the students what they think the mayor of the town will do to Appelemando and his friends. Show the illustration on Pages 17 and 18.

Read Pages 19 and 20. Ask the students what they think the reason is that Appelemando cannot dream in front of the elders of the village. Show the illustration.

Read Page 21. Show the illustration. Ask the students how they think Appelemando and his friends will find their way home from the middle of the forest.

Read Pages 23 and 24. Show the illustration. Ask what the students think helped Appelemando be able to dream again. (His friends believed in him, believed that he could dream again.)

Read Page 25. Show the illustration on Pages 25 and 26.

Read Page 28 (the right side of the next page). Show the illustration. Ask the students for their opinions of why dreams are important.

Read Page 30. Show the illustration. Ask the students how the village changed because of Appelemando's dreams. Ask the students who they think the old man leaning on the cane in the last illustration is.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target Word #1: responsible

1. “In the story, when the villagers came out and found Appelemando’s dreams stuck onto their houses and stores, the mayor of the village said, ‘I’ll find who is responsible for this prank.’”
2. “If a person has done something, something good or something bad, then he or she is responsible for doing it. “ “Also, if a person is supposed to do something, then he or she is responsible for doing it.”
3. “Say the word with me: responsible.”
4. “If you and your best friend put the flag up on the flagpole in front of the school this morning, who would you say was responsible for putting up the flag?” “If I give you a math worksheet to complete tonight for homework, who is responsible for getting the homework done?”
5. “Tell me some things that you are responsible for doing at home. Start your sentence with, ‘At home, I am responsible for _____.’ “(Have three or four students give answers.)
6. “What’s the word we have been talking about?” “Responsible.”

Target Word #2: signal

1. “In the story, after the children are lost in the forest and are trying to figure out a way to get rescued, they have this discussion:
 - ‘Our people will never find us here,’ Petra and Dorma cried.
 - ‘They won’t even know where to look,’ Jefftoe said sadly.
 - ‘If only we could signal them somehow,’ Lark said thoughtfully.
 - Then all of the children looked at Appelemando.”
2. “When you talk about giving a signal or signaling someone, it means that you show a sign or a gesture to others that will cause them to do something. Such as, in the story when the search parties saw the signal that Appelemando sent in the form of one of his daydreams, they immediately went to the area of the forest close to the signal and found all of the children.”
3. “Say the word with me: signal.”
4. “When you are outside before school, what causes you to line up at the door of the school to go inside? It’s the school bell signaling to all of you that it is time for school to begin.” “How do you signal to me that you want to answer a question that I have asked the class? You raise your hand.”

5. “Tell me about a time when you signaled someone to do something or when you did something when you were given a signal. Begin your sentence with:
 - ‘I signaled a friend to do _____ (task) _____ by _____ (what was done to signal the other person) _____.’
 - OR
 - ‘I did _____ (task) _____ when my friend signaled me by _____ (what was done to signal me) _____.’ “
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” “Signal.”

Target Word #3: useful

1. “In the beginning of the story, the author writes about the villagers saying that nothing that Appellemando did was useful.”
2. “Useful means that something that a person does is helpful to himself or herself or to others. If an object is useful, then by using it, a task can be done more easily.”
3. “Say the word with me: useful.”
4. “A spoon is useful because you can use it to eat your cereal for breakfast without having to use your fingers, which would make a mess.” “It is useful for a student to read twenty minutes every day at home because then reading will get easier for the student, and the student will become a better reader.
5. “Tell me about a time when you have done something useful or have used some object that is useful. Begin your sentence with:
 - ‘I did something useful when I _____.’
 - OR
 - ‘A(n) _____ (object) _____ is useful when I _____ (description of a task) _____.’ “
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” “Useful.”

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

List the target words on the board like this:

- 1 – responsible
- 2 – signal
- 3 - useful

“I will read a statement and then give you two of our target words. You are to hold up one finger [hold up index finger] if you think the statement is talking about being responsible. You are to hold up two fingers [hold up index and middle fingers] if you think the statement is talking about showing a signal. Hold up three fingers [hold up index, middle, and ring fingers] if you think the statement is about being useful.”

- Handing in your homework: signal or responsible?
- Going outside to the playground when the recess bell rings: signal or useful?
- A car stopping at a red light: signal or useful?
- Getting to school on time: responsible or useful?
- Eating salad with a fork: signal or useful?

Maintain all three words by asking children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell us about something that you have done this week that is responsible.
- Have you ever been useful to your mom or your dad or your big sister? Tell us about it.
- Tell us about a signal that you have seen recently. What did it cause you to do?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- How do you signal to your mom that you are hurt?
- What is something that you think is useful and why?
- What chores are you responsible for doing at home?
- What are you responsible for doing at school?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our target words again: responsible, signal, and useful.”

“Put your thumbs up if you agree with what I say; put your thumbs down if you do not agree with what I say.”

- Which is being responsible – a student picking up and throwing away a candy wrapper that she sees in the hall or a student just walking by a candy wrapper that she sees in the hall?
- What is a good way to signal to others that you are happy – frowning and stomping your feet or smiling and laughing?
- Which is an example of using something that is useful – using a knife to pick up green peas to eat or using a pencil to write down a sentence?

9. ARMADILLO TATTLETALE

Lisa Fulton
Dee Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Armadillo Tattletale, (Helen Ketteman, 2000)
ISBN: 0-590-99723-8

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- eavesdrop
- creature
- scrounge
- scraggly
- bawl
- squawk
- gawk
- humongous
- scold
- prattle
- fuss
- cuss
- wail
- rail
- snoop
- gnash

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- humongous
- scraggly
- scrounge
- overheard

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read the title of the book, show the cover and point out the armadillo.

Read the first page. Ask the children what we know about the armadillo so far. Show the illustration.

Read the next page and show the illustration. Read the sign in the pond and ask the children why the other animals didn't want the armadillo to drink water with them. (Scrounge)

Read the next page and show the illustration. (Scraggly, overhear)

Read the next page without showing the illustration. Ask the children if Armadillo told the truth about what Egret had said. Show the illustration. (Scraggly, humongous)

Read the next page and show the illustration. Ask the children what Egret means when he tells Armadillo that what he had said was not for Armadillo's ears.

Read the next page and then show the illustration.

Read the next page and then show the illustration. Ask the children to predict what will happen next. (Humongous)

Read the next page and ask the children if they think Armadillo will stop telling tales. Show the illustration.

Read the next page and then show the illustration.

Read the next page and ask if Armadillo enjoys telling stories and how do they know? Show the illustration. (Humongous)

Read the next page. Ask the children to predict what Alligator will do to Armadillo. Show the illustrations.

Read the next page and then show the illustration. Ask the children why Armadillo hadn't heard what the other animals were whispering.

Read the next page while showing the illustration.

Read the last page while showing the illustration. Ask the children how Armadillo feels now? Ask the children to predict what will happen in the future between Armadillo and the other animals. (overhear)

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: humongous

1. "In this story several animals have a humongous hissy fit."
2. Humongous means very big.
3. "Say the word with me: humongous."
4. "An elephant is a humongous animal" or "Our school is humongous."
5. "Now let's see if you can think of something else that is humongous. Start your sentence with "A _____ is humongous."
6. "What's the word we've been talking about: humongous."

Target word: scraggly

1. "In this story Egret says that the Blue Jay's feathers are scraggly."
2. "The word scraggly something that is dirty or messy."
3. "Say the word with me: scraggly."
4. "If I didn't comb my hair before I came to school you might say that my hair was scraggly. Or "If I wasn't careful about doing my schoolwork; you might say that my work was scraggly."

5. Now you think of something that could be scraggly. Start your sentence with "A _____ is scraggly."
6. "What's the word that we've been talking about: scraggly."

Target word: scrounge

1. "In this story the armadillo had to scrounge through mud for some water to drink.
2. "The word scrounge means to get something by looking carefully for it."
3. "Say the word with me: scrounge."
4. "If I needed some money, I might scrounge around my house looking for it." Or "If I was hungry, I would scrounge through my refrigerator.
5. Now you think of a situation where you might scrounge for something. Start your sentence with "I might scrounge for ..."
6. "What is the word that we've been talking about: scrounge."

Target word: overhear

1. "In this story the armadillo overheard what Egret said to Turtle about the Blue Jays feathers."
2. "The word overhear means listen to what someone is saying to someone else."
3. "Say the word with me: overhear."
4. "If someone were to listen to what I said to our principal, they would overhear us."
5. Now you think of a situation where you might overhear something. Start your sentence with "I might overhear if I..." or "Something I have overheard is..."
6. "What is the word that we've been talking about: overhear."

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Listening to what others are saying: overhear or scraggly?
- A coat that is worn and dirty: humongous or scraggly?
- Looking for money under the couch: scraggly or scrounge?
- A building that is large: scrounge or humongous?
- Having a toy that is old and messy: overhear or scraggly?
- Hearing what people are talking about: scrounge or overhear?

Maintain all four words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell us about a time that you overheard something?
- Describe something you've seen that is humongous?
- Tell us about a time you had to scrounge for something?
- Describe something that is scraggly?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- If someone overheard you talking about someone else and told the person what would you do?
- Tell us about a time that you have had a humongous problem?
- Tell us about something you have seen that is scraggly?
- What are some things that you have had to scrounge for?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all four of our new words again: overhear, humongous, scrounge, scraggly.” Students will put their thumb up if the definition agrees with the word and their thumbs down if it doesn’t.

- Which of these is humongous- an elephant or a mouse?
- Which of these is overhearing- you talking to someone on the phone or you listening while your mom talks to a friend?
- Which of these things would be scraggly- a dog that has just had a bath or a dog that has been playing in the mud?
- Which of these situations is scrounging- looking in all of your pockets to find money or having your mom give you money.

10. THE ART LESSON

Margie Ikeda
Edison Elementary
Salt Lake District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Art Lesson, (dePaola, 1989)
ISBN: 0-399-21688-X

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- artist
- unfinished
- lesson
- awful
- wrinkly
- smock
- practice (practiced)
- property
- monitor
- ruin
- copy
- fair

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- artist
- lesson
- ruin / ruined/ ruining

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read aloud page 1. “Where do you think Tommy like to draw his pictures?” Show picture.

Read pages 3 and 4. Show pictures. “What unique things do Tommy and his friends like to do?”

Read pages 4 and 5. “Why do you think Tommy’s cousins told him to NOT copy?” “What did they mean by that?” Show illustrations.

Read pages 6, 7, 8, and 9. Show pictures. “How you think Tommy’s parents and grandparents felt about his drawings?” “How can you tell they feel this way?”

Read page 10. “What did Tommy do that he shouldn’t have?” “Do you think that will stop Tommy from wanting to draw?” Read page 11. “Were your predictions correct?” “How do you know?” Show illustrations for pages 10 and 11.

Read pages 12 and 13. Show illustrations. “Do you think Tommy was excited to start kindergarten?” “Why?” “How do you think Tommy felt when he found out that art lessons wouldn’t start until next year?”

Read pages 14 and 15. Show illustrations. “Do you think Tommy enjoyed painting in kindergarten?” “Why or why not?”

Read pages 16 and 17. “How did Tommy know the teacher was a real art teacher?” Show illustrations.

Read pages 18 and 19. “Why do you think Tommy’s box of 64 crayons was so special to him?” “Where do you think he might like to use his new box of crayons?” Show illustrations.

Read page 20. “How do you think Tommy will feel about the school crayons?” Read page 21. “Were your predictions correct? Why or why not?” Show illustrations.

Read page 22 and 23. “Why do you think Tommy hid his box of 64 crayons under his sweater?” “What do you think might happen to him at school?” Show pictures.

Read pages 24 and 25. “The art teacher told the class to copy the pilgrim. They also won’t let Tommy use his box of 64 crayons. What do you think a good solution to Tommy’s problem might be?” Show illustrations.

Read pages 26 and 27. “Do you think Tommy will like the solution that Mrs. Bowers and Mrs. Landers came up with?” “Why?” Show illustrations.

Read pages 28 and 29. Show illustrations.

Read last page (page 30). “The book says, ‘And he still does’, what do you think that means?” Show illustrations.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: artist

1. “In the story, it talks about Tommy wanting to become an artist when he grew up.”
2. “If someone is an artist, they are someone who draws, paints, or does some other kind of art work.”
3. “Say the word with me: artist”
4. “When we draw or paint pictures in class, we are all artists. Some artists make sculptures. Some artists take pictures with a camera. Tommy loved to draw pictures. Tommy was an artist. Tommy’s twin cousins were professional artists. That means that their job is to paint pictures.
5. “I want you to think of a time when you or someone you know was an artist. Share that time with your partner. Start by saying, ‘I was an artist when I _____’. Or my friend was an artist when _____.”
6. “What is the word we have been talking about? Artist.”

Target word: lesson

1. "In this story, Tommy was really excited to go to school because he will get real art lessons."
2. "A lesson is something that is learned. Tommy wanted to learn art. He wanted to have an art lesson. He wanted someone to teach him how to draw."
3. "Say the word with me: lesson."
4. "If I teach you math, I taught you a math lesson. When we learn to read, we are having reading lessons. My Mom taught me to tie my shoes. She gave me a lesson on how to tie my shoes. My Dad gave me a lesson on how to ride a bike. He taught me how to ride my bike. A lesson can also be something important that you learned. I learned a lesson not to touch a hot stove when I burned my hand."
5. "Now I want you to think of a lesson that you have been taught, or a lesson that you have learned. Start by saying, 'A lesson I have learned was _____.'" Have the students share their sentences with the class. Try and get them to use the two different uses of the word lesson.
6. "What was the word we have been learning: lesson."

Target word: ruin / ruined / ruining

1. "In our story, Miss Landers told the class to be careful with their piece of paper. She said, '... don't ruin it because it is the only piece you'll get.'"
2. "If you ruin something, you will destroy or break it."
3. "Say the word with me: ruin."
4. "If I spill juice on my new shirt, I could ruin it. If you don't take good care of your toys, you could break them or ruin them. I ruined my lunch because I ate a lot of candy right before. I couldn't eat my lunch because I ate too much candy. My sister is ruining my homework because she is writing all over it."
5. "Now I want you to think of something that you ruined. I want you to tell me what you ruined and how you ruined it. Start by saying, 'I ruined my _____ because I _____.'"
6. "What's the word we've been talking about? 'ruin'"

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

Give the students the 3 words on individual cards. Go over the words again with the students so they are able to read the words. Ask the questions/statements and have the students hold up the correct card.

- If I draw a picture of my family, I am an _____. Artist.
- When I tore my paper, I _____ it. Ruined
- My teacher taught me to add. She taught me a math _____. Lesson
- I threw a ball in the house and broke a glass. I _____ the glass. Ruined.
- My parents taught me to not steal. They taught me the _____ not to steal. Lesson
- Someone who makes a sculpture is called an _____. Artist

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell me what you could do to be an artist.
- What are some things you might do to ruin your toys?
- What are some lessons you learn in school everyday?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Are all of the lessons that you learn taught to you at school? Where else might you learn a lesson? Who might teach you a lesson?
- Do you know anyone who is an artist? What did that person do to make them an artist?
- What could you do to not ruin the recess toys in our class? What could you do not to ruin your toys?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: artist, ruin, lessons.”

- Which of these things are some things an artist might use- paper, pencil, toothpaste?
- How might I ruin my clothes- fold them neatly, cut them with scissors.
- What is an example of a lesson you might take- karate or sleeping.

11. BAREFOOT ESCAPE ON THE UNDERGROUND RAILROAD

Mary Heslop
Dee Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Barefoot Escape on the Underground Railroad, (Pamela Duncan Edwards, 1999)

ISBN: 0-06-02713-X

Or

0-06-443519-9 (pbk.)

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- gasps
- furtively
- marsh
- frantic
- undergrowth
- strained
- plantation
- wearily
- rustling
- exhausted
- eluded
- keen
- urgent
- scurried
- sentinel
- pursuers
- salute
- prey

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- urgent
- frantic
- exhausted
- strained

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Briefly introduce the book: “Listen closely to this story about a barefooted boy. As you listen, think about why this boy is barefoot.”

Read aloud page one. Show the pictures and point out the dark colored feet. Point out the rabbit and the mouse watching the barefoot.

Read aloud the next page. Show the pictures and point out what a heron looks like. Ask the children “What do we know so far about how this boy is moving?”

Read aloud the next page. Ask “What is the boy’s problem?”

Read the next page and show the pictures.

Read the next page. Ask “Why are the animals helping the boy?” Show the pictures.

Read the next page. Ask “Why is the boy so tired?” Show the pictures.

Read the next page and show the pictures. Ask “Who are the Heavy Boots?”

Simultaneously read the next two pages and show the pictures. Ask “What are the animals trying to do?”

Read the next page and ask “Where is the barefooted boy going? Why didn’t the mosquitoes bite the boy?”

Read the next page and show the pictures. Ask “Does the house represent safety or danger, and why do you think that?”

Simultaneously read the next two pages. Ask “What makes this house safe?” Show the pictures

Read the last page. Stop reading after the word warning and ask “Why is the heron crying?” Finish reading and show the pictures. Ask “What are the animals planning to do?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: urgent

1. “In the story, the author says then from a few feet away came the urgent croaking of a frog.”
2. “If you say something is urgent, it needs to be done right away.”
3. “Say the word with me: urgent.”
4. “If you fall off your bicycle and break your arm, you could say you need urgent care. A baby crying needs urgent attention.”
5. “Now I want you to think of something that you think is urgent. Turn to your partner and tell them something that is urgent. Remember to use the word urgent in your sentence.”
6. “What’s the word we are learning?” urgent

Target word: frantic

1. “In the story, the author says the white-footed mouse scurried away as the Barefoot reached for a handful of berries, stuffing them into his mouth with a frantic hunger.”
2. “If someone is frantic, they are excited by worry or fear.”
3. “Say the word with me: frantic.”

4. "My mom was frantic when she lost her keys to the car and was late for work." "I was frantic when I saw a bear in the woods."
5. "Think of a time when you or a family member was frantic about something. Tell your partner about being frantic. Remember to use the word frantic in your sentence. Who would like to share with the class?"
6. "What's the word we are learning?" frantic

Target word: exhausted

1. "In the story, the author states with an exhausted sigh, the Barefoot pulled a thick blanket of leaves over himself."
2. "If someone is exhausted, they are extremely tired."
3. "Say the word with me, exhausted."
4. "I was exhausted after I played a hard game of kickball." "My dad was exhausted after a long day at work."
5. "Say the word exhausted if the situation I tell you would make you exhausted. If it wouldn't, don't say anything.
 - Running a mile
 - playing cards
 - reading a long book
 - watching TV
 - playing a long game of soccer
 - making dinner for 100 people
6. "What's the word we are learning?" exhausted

Target word: strained

1. "In the story, it says the Barefoot strained to see the house."
2. "If you strain to do something, you try very hard to do it."
3. "Say the word with me: strained."
4. "He strained his eyes to see the animal in the distance." "The dog strained his neck to get the bone that was under the fence."
5. "Think of when you have seen someone strain to do something. Tell you partner, and don't forget to use the word strained in your sentence. Who would like to share?"
6. "What's the word we are learning?" strained

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Walking to school when you are late: frantic or strained
- Looking through a thick bush to see through to the other side: exhausted or strained
- Swimming all day long at the pool: urgent or exhausted
- Taking your sick sister to the doctor: frantic or urgent

Maintain all four words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Has there ever been a time when you strained to do something? What was it and when?
- What is urgent that you need to do right now?
- What have you done in the past week that has made you exhausted?
- What makes you or a family member frantic?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- What would you do if you strained to see something?
- How would you act if something was urgent?
- What would you do if you were exhausted?
- How would you act if you were frantic about something?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all four of our new words again: strained, urgent, exhausted, and frantic.”

- Which of these things would make you strain – looking at a small bug or watching a dog play ball?
- When would something be urgent – calling a friend to come over and play or calling 911 because of an emergency?
- What would make you exhausted – eating a cookie or running an Olympic race?
- Which of these would make you frantic losing your homework or walking to school?

12. BASEBALL IN APRIL AND OTHER STORIES: LA BAMBA

Ursula Martinez Olivo
Lewis Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Baseball in April and Other Stories: La Bamba, (Gary Soto, 1990)

ISBN: 0-15-202567-7

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- applause, applaud, applauding, applauded
- audience
- conductor
- coordinator
- forty-five record
- groove
- hilarious
- La-Z-Boy recliner
- limelight
- maneuvered
- pantomime
- pharmacist
- pomegranate
- snickered
- talent show
- volunteer, volunteers, volunteered
- yearned

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- applause, applauded, applauding
- audience
- limelight
- pantomime

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

I'm going to read a short story by Gary Soto. The name of this story is La Bamba. It's about a young boy named Manuel.

(Read the first two paragraphs)

"Who is the main character of the story? What did he volunteer to do? Why?"

(Read the next four paragraphs)

"Can you explain why Manuel is pretending to sing for his friend Benny? What does Benny tell Manuel to do?"

(Read the next eight paragraphs)

"What happens when Benny blows his trumpet?"

(Read the next paragraph)

"How did Manuel feel when he remembers his science project in first grade?"

(Read the next fourteen paragraphs)

“How does the audience react when Manuel begins his performance on stage? How do you think Manuel feels when the audience is “watching him, like they would a monkey at a zoo?”

(Read the next paragraph)

“Manuel does a fancy dance step and hears a group of girls scream during the applause. Just as he’s “getting into the groove,” the music begins to skip? What do you think will happen next?”

(Read the next four paragraphs)

“Funny. Crazy. Hilarious.’ These are the kinds of words people used to describe Manuel’s performance. How do you think he felt when he heard people say these things at first? How did his feelings change after spending some time in the limelight?”

(Read to the end of the story)

“After Manuel is alone in his room singing in front of the mirror why does he stop? What do you think the author means when he ends the story with the word ‘probably’?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: applaud (-ed, -se, -ing)

1. “Manuel yearns to hear the applause or clapping from an audience. He hopes the applause is as loud as a thunderstorm.”
2. “Applause, or clapping, is when an audience or a group of people like what they see or hear from someone who is performing or speaking.”
3. “Let’s say the word together, ‘applause.’ ”
4. “If an audience is at a concert or a play that they really like they will use their applause to let the singers or actors know how much they liked the performance. In the story, after each student performed his or her talent, the audience applauded because they liked watching the students’ performance. Applauding is a polite way of letting them know how much you appreciate their talents.”
5. “Now, think of special events when you would applaud. Say, ‘I would applaud when _____.’”
6. “Repeat the word we’ve talked about; applause.”

Target word: audience

1. “When the actor who is playing the part of the tooth in one of the talent show skits trips and falls, Mr. Roybal asks him if he is okay. The tooth replies, ‘Ask my dentist.’ The audience roars with laughter.”
2. “An audience is a group of people watching some kind of performance. There are many times when we are part of an audience or sometimes when we are in front of an audience.”
3. “Repeat the word after me, ‘audience.’”
4. “When we perform in front of an audience we always want to do our best.’ When we are part of an audience it’s always polite to show your appreciation for the performance by listening and clapping when it’s needed.”
5. “Which kinds of events do you think would be done in front of an audience? In which kinds of events would you be part of the audience?”

Can you be in an audience or in front of an audience if you...

- play a soccer game
- sing with the school choir
- paint a picture
- give a speech
- read a book
- take a nap

There are many times when we are part of an audience watching someone else or in front of an audience being watched by other people.”

6. “Which word did we just talk about? Audience.”

Target word: limelight

1. “Manuel was thinking back and trying to understand why he decided to volunteer for the talent show, but he really knew it was because he wanted to be in the limelight.”
2. “Being in the limelight means that you are the focus of everyone’s attention. Everybody is watching to see just what you’re going to do.”
3. “This is a compound word. If we break it down it makes the word ‘lime’ and the word ‘light.’ When the two words are put together, it has a completely different meaning. Repeat the word after me, ‘limelight.’”
4. “Being in the limelight can happen at different times whether or not we want to be in the limelight. Sometimes we choose to be in the limelight when we play sports, sing in a choir, or try out for a talent show.”

5. “People have different jobs doing different things. Some who is an entertainer would probably enjoy being in the limelight.”

Answer ‘yes’ or ‘no’ if you think the following people would enjoy being in the limelight:

- singer
- dentist
- actor
- mechanic
- writer

As we can see, not everyone would enjoy being in the limelight.”

6. “Let’s say the word again, ‘limelight.’”

Target word: pantomime

1. “Both Manuel and Benny are going to be in the talent show. Manuel is worried about being embarrassed in front of the audience. He asks Benny to watch him as he pantomimes the words to La Bamba.”
2. “Pantomime means that you use actions to imitate a person or a thing. It’s like pretending to do something that another person would do. If you were going to pantomime the actions of someone who is a singer, you would probably pretend you were singing into a microphone or playing an instrument while singing.”
3. “Let’s say the word pantomime together. ‘Pantomime.’”
4. “When people use pantomime to express their ideas, sometimes they don’t use words at all. They will just act or make noises to imitate a person, animal or some other idea.”
5. “Show me how you would pantomime different types of workers. Without using words, what would it look like if you were:
 - a fireman fighting a fire
 - a policeman giving a ticket
 - a teacher in a classroom
 - a construction worker building a house
 - a author who is writing a book

You’ve shown me a few ways to pantomime or imitate people doing different jobs.”

6. “Let’s repeat the word one more time, “pantomime.”

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- “Would you be in the limelight or in the audience if you were an actor?”
- “Would you volunteer to applaud or limelight for a talent show?”

- “Would you be part of an audience or a pantomime if you were watching a movie?”
- “Would you pantomime or applaud during a parade?”

Maintain all the words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- “Why would a group of people applaud a speaker who is talking about running for president?”
- “If someone didn’t speak a language well, why would they try to pantomime for someone else?”
- “Why would people in an audience clap after a movie ends in a theater?”
- “If a person is really shy, do you think they would like being in the limelight? Why?”

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- “Are you the kind of person that likes to be in the limelight all the time?”
- “Would you ever perform in a play before a live audience?”
- “What actions would you do if you were to pantomime a lion in a play?”
- “Would you be nervous if people didn’t applaud?”

Assess:

“Let’s think about all of our new words again: applause, audience, limelight, pantomime?”

- “Which person would want to be in the limelight, a circus clown and a librarian?”
- “Would you applaud for a your favorite movie or your favorite teacher?”
- “Could you pantomime the actions of a tree waving in the wind or a rock?”
- Would an audience watch a concert or a person eating in a restaurant?”

13. BETSY WHO CRIED WOLF

Ursula Jones
Dee Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Betsy Who Cried Wolf, (Levine, 2002)

ISBN: 0-06-028763-2

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- oath
- thicket
- rumbled
- shepherd
- ewe
- scowled
- guarded
- reviewed
- mischievous
- howled
- snout
- hurl
- scanned
- pounded
- herded
- bounded
- pasture

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- guarded
- scanned
- mischievous

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Briefly introduce the book: Listen closely to this story about a young shepherd who finds various ways to keep a wolf from eating her sheep.

Read aloud page 1. Show the pictures and ask the students what the name of the girl is that is taking the Shepherds' Oath, and how old she is.

Read page 2. Show the pictures. What was happening on the mountain while Betsy was asleep?

Read page 3 and 4. Show the pictures. Why was Betsy scanning, or looking to the left, right, and straight ahead?

Read page 5. Show the pictures. What did Betsy do when she saw the wolf?

Read page 6. Show the pictures. Why didn't the farmers believe Betsy?

Look at the pictures page 7 and 8. What is Betsy doing on these two pages? What do you think the wolf is thinking? Now read page 7 and 8 to the students.

Read page 9. Look at the pictures. What did Farmer Woolsey do as a consequence for Betsy? What did Betsy have to write on the chalkboard?

Read page 10. Why did the author write the last sentence this way, “But this time he was— Look at the pictures.

Read page 11. Look at the pictures. Make a prediction, and discuss with a partner what you think will happen next.

Read page 12. Look at the pictures. Was your prediction correct? What did Betsy hurl at the wolf? Why did a tear trickle down his cheek?

Read page 13. Look at the pictures. Betsy gave her lunch to Zimmo the wolf. What does it mean when the author writes, “Zimmo wolfed down Betsy’s lunch.....?”

Look at the pictures on the next two pages. What is happening? Read page 14. What will happen next? Make a prediction.

Look at the pictures on the next two pages. Read page 15. Was your prediction correct?

Read pages 16 and 17, and look at the pictures on these and the next few pages. Where did Betsy take Zimmo? Did farmer Woolsey apologize to Betsy? Did Betsy and Zimmo become friends? Explain why or why not.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: guarded

1. The author stated that “The sheep were always guarded...”
2. Guarded means protected from harm.
3. “Say the word with me: guarded”
4. The mother duck guarded her nest so no one would harm her eggs.
5. Have you ever seen a mother dog that was guarding her newly born puppies? How would a bird guard her nest filled with eggs? If your baby brother or sister was in danger, would you try to guard them?
6. What is the word we are learning? guarded

Target word: scanned

1. The author says that Betsy scanned to the left, to the right, and straight ahead.
2. Scanned means to have looked at something quickly.
3. “Say the word with me: scanned”

4. You can scan a book quickly to see if you want to read it.
5. What else can you scan? Can you scan the newspaper quickly to read the headlines? How many of you have scanned the T.V. guide to see what was coming on T.V.
6. What is the word we have been talking about? Scanned

Target word: mischievous

1. Farmer Woolsey scowled, and said “Bray Valley had lost its sheep because of a mischievous shepherd...”
2. Mischievous means a playful behavior that may cause harm to others.
3. “Say the word with me: mischievous.”
4. A mischievous baby threw his food at his brother.
5. Think of a time you may have done something mischievous. You can be mischievous by joking with someone.
6. “What is the word we are learning?” ‘mischievous’

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If you made sure nothing happened to your little sister, does that mean you guarded her or scanned her?
- You looked in the window of a candy store quickly. Would you say that you scanned or mischievous the window?
- When your cousin tapped you on your shoulder, and then hid on the other side, was she being mischievous or guarded?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- If the bird guarded her nest, did she fly away from it or stay nearby?
- When I scanned the room to see who was absent, did I look quickly, or did I stare for a long time
- If I tapped you on your elbow slightly, in a teasing way, would that be mischievous or mean.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Who did you do something mischievous to lately?
- When was the last time you scanned the newspaper to see what the weather would be that day?
- Who needs to be guarded the most, a baby in the yard with a dog on the loose, or a baby in the house in the playpen?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: “guarded, scanned, mischievous.”

- If a kitten were being guarded, would it be in danger or would it be safe?
- When I scanned the refrigerator for a snack, did I look in it quickly, or for a long time?
- Is a mischievous act meant to be mean or funny?

14. THE BUBBLE FACTORY

Natalie Eberhard
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Bubble Factory, (Tomie dePaola, 1996)
ISBN: 0-590-21275-3

Potential Tier II Words in the text:

- winding
- chimney
- imagine
- maze
- capping
-
- funnel
- send-off
- ordinary
- introduced
- exactly
- mechanical
- invented
- squad

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- ordinary
- introduced
- exactly

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Use a Story Impression as a pre-reading activity to ensure that the students have a firm understanding of the following words:

factory
machine

chimney
jars

bubble(s) floating twins

mess

wishes

Page:

1-2 Read

Show pictures on page 1 and discuss problems the twins get into. Then show page 2 and discuss how Grampa helped the twins solve their problems.

3-4 Read

Show picture

5-6 Read

Ask, "What does it mean when the story says "who was just as round as a bubble himself?"

Discuss the question

Show picture

7-8 Read

Show picture.

Point out the wheels, gears, levers, and pulleys. Have a couple of students explain how they think the Bubble Machine Works.

9-10 Read

Ask, "What would your beautiful bubble look like?"

"Would you like gum that chews itself?"

Show picture

11-12 Read only

Ask, "What have the twins seen so far?"

13-14 Read

Show picture

Ask students to predict what they think might happen next.

15-16 Before reading, tell students to close their eyes and listen as I read the text. Ask them to "visualize" what I am reading.

Read

Let students share what they visualized with the neighbor sitting next to them.

17-20 Read

Clarify and discuss the text when it says, "It's all of our wishes come true."

Show pictures and discuss what some of the twins' wishes are.

21-22 Read

Ask students to share what they think the mess looks like.

Show picture

Clarify what it means when the text says, "No sooner said than done."

23-24 Read

Show picture

25-26 Read

Show picture

27-28 Read

Show picture

Discuss what it means when the text says "a big send-off" through the context of the text and picture.

29 Read

Show picture

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target Word: ordinary

1. Target Word Contextualized
In the story when Grampa was taking the twins to the Bubble Factory it says – Before long they turned down a winding road. And there it was. It looked like an ordinary factory.
2. Student-friendly definition
If something is ordinary it isn't really fancy – it's just kind of plain and not very exciting at all.
3. Phonological Representation
Ask students to repeat the word. Show students the word and let them point out what they notice. Break the word apart by counting the phonemes they hear. Repeat the word.
4. Additional examples of word use
 - If you were to leave your Easter eggs white instead of coloring them, they would be ordinary eggs.
 - If you wake up in the morning and go to school and nothing exciting happened, that would be an ordinary day.
 - When Mr. Heaton comes to school dressed in blue pants and a blue shirt, that is an ordinary way to dress.
5. Student opportunities
Tell students that now it is their turn to think of something that is ordinary. Start your sentence with "Something would be ordinary if . . ."
6. Reinforce new word
What is the new word?

Target Word – introduced

1. Target Word Contextualized
In the story - Grampa introduced them to Mr. B., the Head Bubblemaker.
2. Student-friendly definition
If two of your friends do not know each other you would introduce them to each other by saying something like this. "Cheryl, I'd like to introduce you to my friend Wendy and Wendy I'd like to introduce you to my friend Cheryl. Sometimes when people are introduced to each other they might shake hands. (Demonstrate by introducing two students.)
3. Phonological Representation
Ask students to repeat the word. Show students the word and let them point out what they notice. Break the word apart by counting the phonemes they hear. Repeat the word.

4. Additional examples of word use
 - If you are at the grocery store with your Mom and you see Mrs. Jensen, you would introduce the two of them to each other.
 - On the playground you might introduce your first grade friend to your second grade friend.
5. Student opportunities
Now I would like you to think about a time when you might need to introduce people to each other. Give them time to share their ideas.
Reinforce new word
6. What is the new word?

Target Word : exactly

1. Target Word Contextualized
In the story it says, "I'm going to show you exactly how bubbles are made."
2. Student-friendly definition
When someone shows you how to do something exactly- they show the way they want you to do it and the right sequence to do it in. They want you to do it the very same way without changing anything.
3. Phonological Representation
Ask students to repeat the word. Show students the word and let them point out what they notice. Break the word apart by counting the phonemes they hear.
Repeat the word.
4. Additional examples of word use
 - When I go on vacation I need someone to feed my dog while I am gone. I would have them come to my house so I can show them exactly what to do.
 - When you are going to Disneyland, you must follow the map exactly or you will end up at Sea World instead.
5. Student opportunities
What are some other things that need to be done exactly? Why?
Show me Thumbs Up if you need to do the activity exactly. Thumbs Down if not.
 - watch TV
 - eat your lunch
 - following a recipe
 - eating a cookie
 - clean your room
 - play a game with friends
 - reading a book
 - drawing a picture
6. Reinforce new word
What is the new word?

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Would this be ordinary or exactly? A chicken laying white eggs. Why?
- When we had the fire people come talk to us about fire safety were they exactly or introduced? Why?
- If you were building a model dinosaur would you follow the directions ordinary or exactly? Why?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Students will participate in “Applause, Applause!”
- Tell students that they will clap to show how much they would like to be introduced to the people I will name.
 - Do not want to be introduced – do not clap at all
 - They want to be introduced – ordinary clap (bonus!)
 - Really, really want to be introduced – clap loud and a lot
 - Jack and Annie (from Magic Tree House Series)
 - President of the United States
 - Black Pete
 - A monster with really stinky breath
 - Judge Judy
 - Ronald McDonald
 - 100 year old man

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Display the cover of the book and place the new words below the picture. Encourage students to listen for as well as use the new words at home, at school or on the playground. Each time they use or hear the word we will make a tally mark next to the word.

Assess

“Let’s talk about all three of our new words again: ordinary, exactly, introduced.”

- Word Association Activity
- Ask students to make an association with one of words with a phrase.
 - Which word goes with plain? (ordinary)
 - Which words goes with instructions? (exactly)
 - Which word goes with new friend? (introduced)

15. Chrysanthemum

Sara Payne
Mountain View Elementary
Salt Lake City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Chrysanthemum, (Kevin Henkes, 1991)
ISBN: 0-590-13565-1

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- absolutely
- giggled
- wilted
- dreadful
- informed
- miserably
- precious
- priceless
- fascinating
- winsome
- jealous
- begrudging
- discontented
- jaundiced
- scrawny
- speechless
- humorous

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- miserably
- wilted
- humorous

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read pages 1 and 2. Ask the children, “Why did her parents name her Chrysanthemum?”

Read pages 3-5. Ask the children, “What do we know about Chrysanthemum so far? Why do you think she loves her name so much?” Show illustrations.

Read pages 6 and 7. Ask the students, “Why did everyone giggle when the teacher read Chrysanthemum’s name? How do you think Chrysanthemum felt when they laughed?”

Read pages 8-10. Ask the children, “What do we know so far? What does Chrysanthemum mean when she says, ‘school is no place for me’?” Show illustrations.

Read pages 11 and 12. Ask the children, “What does the author tell us about Chrysanthemum’s parents?” Show pictures.

Read pages 13-16. Ask the students, “What just happened? Why is Victoria being mean to Chrysanthemum?” Show illustrations.

Read pages 17-19. Ask the children the following question: “How do Chrysanthemum’s parents feel about her? How do we know that?”

Read pages 20 and 21. Ask the students, “Why did Chrysanthemum have a nightmare?” Show illustrations.

Read pages 22 and 23. Ask the children, “Who is Mrs. Twinkle? What do we know about her?”

Read pages 24. Ask the children, “How does Chrysanthemum feel about her part in the play? Why does she feel that way?” Show illustrations.

Read pages 25-27. Ask the students, “How does Chrysanthemum feel now? How did Mrs. Twinkle help Chrysanthemum?” Show illustrations.

Read pages 28-31. Ask the students, “What do Jo, Rita, and Victoria think of Chrysanthemum’s name now?” Show illustrations.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: miserably

1. “In the story the author says that Chrysanthemum felt miserably about her name. He says this after Victoria made fun of Chrysanthemum’s name.”
2. If you feel miserably about something, you are very sad or disappointed.”
3. “Say the word with me: miserably.”
4. “I might feel miserable if I had a cold or felt sick. Someone might also be miserable if they felt left out or that they didn’t have any friends.”
5. “Now you think of something that would make you miserable. Start the sentence with, ‘I feel miserable when _____.’” (If children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did).
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘miserably’

Target word: wilted

1. “In the story the author said that Chrysanthemum wilted after the girls in the class were mean to her. “
2. “Wilted can mean upset or unhappy, but it is a word that we usually use to describe plants or flowers (like a Chrysanthemum) that are dying because they haven’t received enough water or sunlight.”
3. “Say the word with me: wilted”

4. “If we decided not to water our classroom garden, the plants would start to wilt. The leaves would begin to droop and the plants would probably die because they need water to survive.”
5. “Can you think of something that might wilt? Start your sentence with, ‘_____ wilted because it didn’t have enough _____.’” (If children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did).
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘wilted’

Target word: humorous

1. “In the book, Mrs. Twinkle asked the students what was so humorous when they were laughing at Chrysanthemum’s name.”
2. “Humorous is a synonym for funny; they mean the same thing.
3. “Say the word with me: humorous.”
4. “Many things are humorous; a clown is humorous, jokes can be humorous, and even movies and people can be humorous.”
5. “Can you think of something humorous? Start your sentence with, ‘Something would be humorous if...,’ or, ‘If you _____, that would be very humorous.’” (If children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did).
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘Humorous.’

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- A flower without water: wilted or humorous?
- A child who lost their new toy: humorous or miserable?
- A clown at a party: wilted or humorous?
- A plant that is dying: humorous or wilted?
- A book of jokes: humorous or miserable?
- The day that your best friend moved away: wilted or miserable?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell about a time that you felt miserable.
- Do you think that the monkeys at the zoo are humorous? Why or why not?
- What would you do if the plants in your garden began to wilt? Why would you do that?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- If you felt miserable, what kinds of feelings would you have? What would make you miserable?
- My baby brother is very humorous. Who do you know that is humorous? What makes them humorous?
- If you picked some flowers for your mother and they started to wilt, what would you do?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: miserably, wilted, humorous.”

- Which of these is wilted- a tomato plant or a mini-van?” Students who agree with the response will raise their thumb; those who disagree will put their thumb down.
- What would be more humorous- a funny movie or a test in science class? Students who agree with the response will raise their thumb; those who disagree will put their thumb down.
- What would make you more miserable- going to recess or going home to do 3 hours of homework?

16. THE COW WHO WOULDN'T COME DOWN

Brenda Cook
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Cow Who Wouldn't Come Down, (Paul Brett Johnson, 1993)

ISBN: 0-531-05481-0

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- tizzy
- fussed
- notion
- sternly
- sturdy
- lasso
- curious
- hearty
- bale
- instant
- contrary
- perched
- gutter
- cautiously
- ignored

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- ignored
- cautiously
- sturdy

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

“This is a story about a cow who does something other cows don’t do. Listen and see if this is a problem for anyone.”

Read page one. Ask: “How is Gertrude different than other cows? Does this make a problem for anyone else? Why is it a problem for Miss Rosemary?”

Read the next three pages. Show the picture of Miss Rosemary using her fishing pole. “How do you think Miss Rosemary feels? What do we know about Miss Rosemary?”

Read the next three pages. Show the picture of Miss Rosemary in the trumpet vine. “What things has Miss Rosemary tried so far to get Gertrude to come down?”

Read the next page. “What do you think Miss Rosemary is thinking about? What do you think she will do next?”

Read the next three pages. “Miss Rosemary is making something with her sewing machine. What do you think she is making? Why?” Show the picture.

Read the next page and show the picture of Matilda. “What do you think she will use Matilda for?”

Read the next two pages. Show the picture of Gertrude on the roof. “How do you think Gertrude feels? What makes you think that?.”

Read the next page. Show Gertrude zooming into the clouds. “What is Gertrude going to do?”

Read the next page and show the picture. “Why is Miss Rosemary calm? Why isn’t she outside watching?”

Read the last page. “What might Gertrude try next? “ Show the picture on the last page of Gertrude driving the tractor. “Will this cause a problem for Miss Rosemary? How?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: ignore

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.
Miss rosemary had called Gertrude and told her to come down. But Gertrude ignored Miss Rosemary.
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.
If you ignore something you don’t pay any attention to it. Gertrude didn’t pay attention to Miss Rosemary when she told her to come down.
3. Ask the children to repeat the word so they can create a phonological representation of the word. Say the word with me, ignored.
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.
 - I might ignore the telephone ringing if I am busy doing something else.
 - Should I ignore a noise in my car that means something might need to be fixed?
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word. (If children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did.)
“Have you ever ignored someone or something? Tell me about it.”
6. Finally, have the children repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation.
7. What word means to not pay any attention to someone or something? Ignore
Say it with me. ignore

Target word: sturdy

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.
“Listen to this part from our story. It uses the word sturdy. ‘Miss Rosemary hurried to the shed and sorted through her fishing gear. She chose a sturdy rod and returned to the yard.’
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.
Sturdy means it is made strong so it won’t break easily. Miss Rosemary wanted a sturdy rod so it wouldn’t break easily.”
3. Ask the children to repeat the word so they can create a phonological representation of the word.
“Say sturdy. If something is sturdy it won’t break easily.”
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.
 - “If I’m building a fence to keep my dog in, I would want it to be sturdy so he won’t get out.
 - I would want a sturdy ladder if I needed to climb up to reach some apples on a tree.
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word.
“What is something that you would want to be sturdy if you were using it?”
6. Finally, have the children repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation.

Target word: cautiously

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.
The word is cautiously. “Let’s read how it was used in the story.” Show the picture of Miss Rosemary inching her way up the roof. “She climbed very cautiously out the window and onto the roof. Inch by inch, she crawled upward.”
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.
“If something is done cautiously it is done very carefully so no one gets hurt. Miss Rosemary climbed up the roof very carefully. You can tell she was very careful because the story said she crawled inch by inch. That means she went very slowly being very careful.”
3. Ask the children to repeat the word so they can create a phonological representation of the word.
“Say the word with me, cautiously. Say it again. “What does it mean?
Cautiously means to do something very carefully so no one get hurt.
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story. “Let me give you some other examples.

- If I were walking across an icy sidewalk, I would walk cautiously so I wouldn't fall.
 - If I were carrying a cup of hot chocolate to the table I would carry it cautiously. I wouldn't want to spill it.
 - If I were using a knife to cut up an apple, I would do it cautiously.
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word.
Put thumbs up if this is something you might do cautiously.
- eat a sandwich
 - run across the lawn
 - drive a car
 - tie your shoe
 - climb a tree
6. Finally, have the children repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation.
"What's the word we have been talking about?" cautiously "What does it mean?"

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If I were walking down a path and saw a snake: cautiously or sturdy
- Make a box to carry rocks: ignore or sturdy
- Noise made by workers outside: sturdy or ignore

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell me something you would do cautiously while camping.
- Is there anything you should ignore at school? Why would you ignore it??
- What would you build that would need to be sturdy?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- What is something you have done cautiously?
- Have you made something that was not sturdy enough? Tell us about it.
- Something you should never ignore is...

Assess:

"Let's think about all three of our new words again: ignore, sturdy, cautiously."

- What were our new words? cautiously, sturdy, ignore
- Which of these would you do cautiously- Wash your hands or cut up an apple?
- Which would need to be sturdy- a table or a paper airplane?
- When should you ignore someone- if they are annoying you or if they are hurt badly?

17. COYOTE STEALS THE BLANKET: A UTE TALE

Christena Anderson
Montezuma Creek/ Mexican Hat
San Juan District

Text Talk Lesson for: Coyote Steals the Blanket: A Ute Tale, (Janet Stevens)
ISBN: 0-8234-1129-X

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- bragged
- dashed
- powerful
- darted
- disappeared
- crush
- twitched
- glanced
- ancient spirit
- muttered
- exhausted
- whirred
- narrow
- collapsed
- budge
- draped
- grazing

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- dart(ed)
- dash(ed)
- brag(ged)
- exhausted

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

“Today we will be reading a story about Coyote and how he got into trouble because of a blanket. We will read the story and after we read the story, we will be learning some new words. The reason we will be learning new words is because good readers need to learn lots of words in order to understand what they are reading about.”

“As I read the story, I will be stopping to ask you questions so that we can make sure we understand what is being read. Sometimes I will show you the pictures while I am reading and sometimes I won’t show you the pictures until after I have asked you a question. This is because we need to be active readers and think about what words say without always relying on the pictures to tell us what is going on.”

Show the cover of the book. “The title of the story is Coyote Steals the Blanket: A Ute Tale. It was retold and illustrated by Janet Stevens.

Read aloud the first page. Point out that the main characters in the story are Coyote and the Hummingbird. Say, “From the words Coyote says and the look on his face, I can tell that Coyote is annoyed or bothered by Hummingbird. Coyote is saying that he can do whatever he wants. He is annoyed with Hummingbird and doesn’t want to do what Hummingbird tells him to, because he thinks he is the best in the desert. He thinks he ought to be crowned King of the Desert.” (brag)

Read aloud the next three pages. What did hummingbird tell Coyote?

Read aloud the next page, showing the picture on this page, but not the picture on the next page.

Read aloud the next page without showing the picture. What did Coyote do? Then show the pictures and ask what Coyote is doing? (dash)

Read aloud the next page. Ask, "What is coming after Coyote? Why do you think the rock is coming after Coyote?"

Read aloud the next page without showing the picture. Coyote thought he could outrun a rock any day. He thinks he is faster than the rock. (brag).

Read the next page aloud.

Read the next page without showing the picture. Coyote tries to run faster. What happens to him? (exhausted)

Read aloud the next page.

Read aloud the next two pages. Look at the pictures. What happens to Mule Deer? What did Coyote do? (dart)

Read aloud the next two pages.

Read aloud the next two pages. What happens to Big Horn Sheep? What did Coyote do? (dart)

Read aloud the next page. Look at the picture. What does Hummingbird tell Coyote to do?

Read aloud the next page. What does Hummingbird do to help Coyote?

Read aloud the next two pages.

Read aloud the next two pages without showing the pictures. What did Coyote do? (dashed)

Then show the picture.

Read aloud the next page. Look at the picture. What is Coyote doing? Did he learn?

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

"We are now going to learn some new words."

Target word: dash(ed), dart(ed)

1. “The first word is dash. I will write the word dash on the board. Say dash. Say dash again. We will also learn the word dart. I will write dart on the board. Say dart. Say dart again.
2. “In the story, Coyote darted away from the rock that was coming after him. He also dashed away from Hummingbird at the end of the story.”
3. “To Dash and to dart means to run very quickly. Since dash and dart mean about the same thing we will talk about them together.
4. “Say dash.” Say dart.”
5. “If you are playing tag on the playground and you didn’t want to be caught, you would dart or dash away from the person chasing you. If you were playing and your mother told you to come right now, you would dash to get to her quickly.”
6. “Can you think of a reason why somebody would dash or dart? Begin your sentence with, ‘You would dash when ...’ Or ‘Someone would want to dart when ...’ (if children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than was used in the book.)
7. “What two words did we just learn?” ‘dash, dart’

Target word: brag(ged)

1. “The second word is brag. I will write the word brag on the board. Say brag. Say brag again.”
2. “In the story, Coyote bragged that he could do what he wanted, and take what he wanted and that he should be crowned the King of the Desert. He also bragged that he could outrun a rock any day.”
3. “If someone is bragging they are saying that they are better than everyone else or they can do something better than everyone else.”
4. “Say brag”
5. “If your sister told you she was smarter than you she would be bragging. If your cousin told you he could run faster than you he would be bragging. “
6. “I am going to tell you a sentence. If it is bragging, put your thumb up, if it is not bragging, put your thumb down.
 - I can color better than you can, you just scribble.
 - That boy knows how to drive a car.
 - I can eat 76 flies in the blink of an eye.
7. “What word did we just learn?” ‘brag’

Target word: exhausted

1. “The last word is exhausted. I will write the word exhausted on the board. Say exhausted. Say exhausted again.”
2. “In the story Coyote was exhausted after he had been running from the rock for a long time. He was so exhausted that he collapsed or fell down in the middle of the path.”
3. “To be exhausted means to be very, very tired.”
4. “Say exhausted”
5. “If someone stayed up all night long and didn’t go to bed they would be exhausted the next day. If you worked all day doing chores you would be exhausted.”
6. “Now, you tell about a time when you were exhausted. Being your sentence with ‘I was exhausted when ...’ (if children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than was used in the book.)
7. “What word did we just learn?” ‘exhausted’

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

I’m going to tell you some statements. Then, I will give you two of our new words to choose from. You tell me which new word makes more sense with the statement.

- After you finished running a very long race, would you be bragging or exhausted?
- If you were crossing the street and a car was coming would you brag or dash?
- If you said you could jump higher than everyone else would you be darting or bragging?
- If you were running in a race would you dash or brag?
- If you had just finished a really long, hard test would you brag or would you be exhausted?
- If you got first place in a race you might brag or be dart?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

“Now, I will ask you some questions about our four new words.”

- Has anyone ever bragged to you about something? Tell us about it.
- Have you ever seen anyone that was dashing? Tell us about it.
- Why might you need to dart? Tell us.
- Have you ever been exhausted? Tell us about it.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

“I am going to ask you some more questions that I want you to think about.”

- Has anyone ever bragged to you about something they have done? How did that make you feel? What did you do about it?
- The woman was dashing through the grocery store because she had to hurry home to make dinner for her family. Why else would someone need to dash?
- The girl darted around the playground equipment as she ran to get to class when the bell rang. Why else would someone need to dart?
- The boy was exhausted at school because he went to bed too late the night before. If this was you, what could you do about it?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all four of our new words again: brag, dash, exhausted.”

“I will tell you a statement, if you agree with the statement; put your thumb up, if you don’t agree with the statement, put your thumb down.”

- “Which statement would be bragging? ‘I can run faster than everyone in this class’ or ‘Everyone in this class can run faster than I can.’”
- “When would you dash? When you are running in a race, or when you are walking through a beautiful meadow?”
- “When would you dart? When you are talking to a friend or when someone is chasing you?”
- “When would you be exhausted? After you have just woken up in the morning or after running laps around the gym.?”
- “We just learned four new words. What four words did we learn?” Dash, dart, exhausted, brag.

We did what good readers do. We will now be able to understand what the words mean the next time we hear them either in a book or when someone is talking to us.

Anita Marx
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Dandelions, (Eve Bunting, 1995)
ISBN: 0-15-200050-X

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- lonely (3x), loneliness
- trundled
- journey (2x)
- claim stake
- quivered
- advise
- imagine
- sods (2x), soddie (5x)
- faint
- obliged
- scorching
- precious
- survive
- disappointment
- interrupted
- miracle

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- lonely
- journey
- miracle

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Briefly introduce the book: “In this story titled Dandelions, we will see how a pioneer girl named Zoe helps her Mama adjust to her new surroundings. Her family moves from a house in Illinois to the open land in Nebraska.”

Read aloud the next three pages. Show the picture of the family in the covered wagon followed by the cow. Ask the students, “How does everyone in this family feel about moving?” Use the context of the text and the picture to discuss how they trundled along. Ask, “What did they do when they wanted to sleep and bathe?”

Read the next page. “How did they know when to stop?” Explain the purpose for a stake claim.

Read the next two pages. Show the picture of Mama and Mrs. Svenson and ask, “What did Papa want Zoe and Rebecca to imagine?”

Read the next two pages. “Sod is a chunk like bricks cut from the ground. What are some problems with a soddie?” Show the picture of Svenson’s house.

Read the next three pages. “What do we know about the Svenson boys?” Show the picture of Papa giving Zoe and Rebecca a drink and ask, “What are two important things Papa did before starting to build their soddie?”

Read the next page and show the picture of their soddie. “Is Mama happy now? Why?”

Read the next seven pages. “Why do Papa and Zoe leave?” “What does Mama worry about?” Show the picture of the town. Zoe is excited about many things she sees in town. “What did she see?”

Read the next page. Show the picture of Zoe and the dandelions. “Why did Zoe want to give her Mama dandelions?” Discuss how Papa’s water was considered precious.

Read the next page. “Zoe didn’t want her Mama to worry about Papa getting lost anymore. Where did she transplant the dandelions?” Show the picture of Zoe and Rebecca on the roof.

Read the next page. Show the picture of the family looking at the dandelions on the roof. Whom did Zoe believe the dandelions would bloom and be strong like?

Read the next page and show the last picture with the soddie covered with dandelions. “Did Zoe help her Mama? How?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: lonely

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story. Papa said, “Look . . . miles and miles of free land. “But it’s so lonely . . . “ Mama said. “We won’t be lonely,” Papa promised. “We have each other and the girls, and in the fall there will be the new baby.” “Moo (was) tied behind us so she could be milked at the Svensons’ and so she wouldn’t be lonely while we were gone.” Mama said, “Maybe they’ll just die of loneliness.”
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms. “Lonely describes how you might feel when someone or something is not nearby.
 - In the story, Mama feels lonely because she misses her parents and house in Illinois.
 - Mama compares her loneliness with the wilted dandelions and how they both were transplanted from a familiar place to an unfamiliar place.”
3. Ask the students to repeat the word so they can create a phonological representation of the word. “Say the word with me: lonely”

4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.
“If your best friend moves away you’ll feel lonely and miss playing with them. When people choose to be alone, they are showing loneliness.”
5. Provide opportunities for the students to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word.
“Tell about a time you were lonely. Use the word lonely when you tell about it. You can start by saying, ‘I was lonely when ____.’”
6. Finally, have the students repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation.
“What’s the word we’ve been talking about? Lonely.”

Target word: journey

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.
“It had been weeks since we started our journey. Twelve miles a day, if we were lucky.” “When the house was up at last, Papa gave thanks for our snug soddie, for the baby that was to come, and for our safe journey.”
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.
“The word journey in this story means traveling many miles from a starting place to a destination. Traveling in a covered wagon or walking made their journey difficult so they were grateful when they arrived safely.”
3. Ask the students to repeat the word so they can create a phonological representation of the word.
“Say the word with me: journey”
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.
 - “Life is a journey.”
 - Setting goals and working on them is a journey.”
 - It’s a step-by-step journey to get us from a starting place to an end.
 - For example, to improve our reading we must first learn about letters. Next, learn that letters have sounds. Then blend those sounds together to form words. Followed by combining words to make sentences that we can read. Reading is a journey, not a destination.
5. Provide opportunities for the students to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word.
“Now I want you to think of a time you went on a journey. It can either be a journey with miles traveled or a journey where we learned something. Turn to a person next to you and tell them about the journey you took.” Ask a few students to share their examples.

6. Finally, have the students repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation.
“What’s the word we’ve been talking about? Journey.”

Target word: miracle

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.
Mama put her arm around my shoulder and pulled me close. “Don’t expect a miracle, Zoe. It will take time.”
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.
“When something amazing happens even though it wasn’t expected to happen is called a miracle. In this story, Mama is telling Zoe that it would take a miracle for the dandelions to live after being transplanted from the ground to the soddie.”
3. Ask the students to repeat the word so they can create a phonological representation of the word.
“Say the word with me: miracle”
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.
 - “Even though we don’t think about it a lot, it’s a miracle how the sun rises in the morning and sets in the evening.
 - When a person survives a serious illness or accident, people say it was a miracle. “
5. Provide opportunities for the students to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word.

If the sentence I say would be a miracle, say “miracle.” If not, don’t say anything.”

- If everyone in the class returned their homework on Friday!
 - Coloring the United States flag red, white and blue.
 - Drinking water from a cup.
 - Finding a hundred dollars in your cubby.
 - Never missing one day of school for 4 years!
 - Getting dressed by yourself.
6. Finally, have the students repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation.
“What’s the word we’ve been talking about? Miracle.”

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words. Ask them to explain their choice.

- If you fed all the students in the school with only 1 apple would that be a miracle or would that be a journey?

- If you sit at home by yourself for three hours, you will probably become miracle or lonely?
- If you walk around the soccer field, you're taking a journey or a lonely?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Explain how the Life Cycle of the butterfly is a miracle.
- Describe a time when you were lonely, but not scared.
- When you take a journey, how can you make it a safe journey?

Maintain by helping students add to their networks of related words:

- If you were lonely, how could you solve your loneliness?
- What happens when you take a journey?
- When Helen Keller learned to speak, it was a miracle. What else could be a miracle?

Assess:

“Let's think about all three of our new words again: lonely, journey, miracle.”

- Which of these would be lonely – playing baseball by yourself or going to a friend's birthday party?
- When would you need a miracle – counting to ten or walking on water?
- Which of these is a journey – riding your bike from your house to the park or watching television?

19. DETECTIVE LA RUE – LETTERS FROM THE INVESTIGATION

Cathy Heiner
East Elementary School
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Detective LaRue-Letters From the Investigation, (Mark Teague, 2004)

ISBN: 0-439-79168-5

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- criminals
- anonymous
- portrayed
- abducted
- investigate
- interrogate
- reluctant
- convince
- suspect
- distracted
- commit
- solve
- barking up the wrong tree
- reluctant
- scheme
- detained
- familiar
- retrieve
- deception
- intend
- stalled
- burglars
- baffled
- innocent

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

The following words were selected because they are high utility words that children will encounter in other texts, other content areas, and in situations outside of school in conversations and other interactions.

- criminals
- abducted
- solve

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with the focus on comprehension:

Briefly introduce the book: “Listen closely as I read this story about a dog named Ike LaRue. The story is told through letters that Ike writes to his owner who is on a trip and also in several newspaper articles. As you listen, think about the problem he has in the story and what he does to solve the problem.

Read aloud page one. Ask the children, “What do we know about Ike LaRue so far? Show the picture of the newspaper article. (On Sept. 30, Ike was detained by the police because two cats are missing. Ike looked suspicious and he had problems with the two cats two winters ago.)

Read aloud page two. Ask the children, “On Oct. 1, Ike wrote a letter to his owner Mrs. LaRue and told her his problem. What is Ike’s problem? (He is in jail because the cats disappeared. Everyone blamed Ike. He typed the letter and asked her to come home now.) Show the picture.

Read aloud page three. Ask the children, “On October 2, Ike wrote to his owner again. What did he tell her?” (He explained what happened to the cats and why he was in jail. Perhaps he also wanted some sympathy?) Show the picture.

Read aloud page four. Ask the children, “On October 3, Ike wrote Mrs. LaRue again. What did he tell her? (Ike explained why he was in Gruber Park.) Discuss the word deception because one of the themes of the story is about the cats’ deceiving Ike and the problems it caused for him. Show the picture.

Read aloud page five. Ask the children, “On October 4, Ike wrote again to his owner. What do you think he wanted?” (He told her it’s easier to blame a dog than to solve a crime and said he can see she does not intend to come get him. He also mentioned he would have to take matters into his own paws and solve the mystery himself. I wonder how he will do that? He will escape from jail?) Show the picture.

Read aloud page six. “From the October 5 newspaper article we learned that Ike escaped from jail. What does his escape tell you about Ike? What do you think he will do next?” (He took charge of investigating his own case since the police didn’t seem to be doing anything. He wanted to find the cats. Also, the canary burglars have struck again.) Show the picture.

Read aloud page seven. Ask the children, “On October 6, Ike wrote to his owner. It sounded like he looked for the two cats in the back alleys of the city. He found some new information about cats’ eating habits. What did he find out? (He explained that cats regularly capture and eat small animals.) Show the picture.

Read aloud page eight. Ask the children, “On October 7, Ike wrote his owner again. He related a sad story a pigeon told him. What did you think was important about the pigeon’s story? (A pigeon lost half of his family to attacks by CATS. Ike said he must find the cats for the good of the city.) Show the picture.

Read page aloud page nine. Ask the children, “What did you think was important in Ike’s letter of October 8?” (Ike visited a cattery to see if valuable cats behave better than the cats he had met but they didn’t.) Show the picture.

Read aloud page 10. Ask the children, “In his October 9th letter, Ike found more information. What did you think was important in his letter? (Criminals took two parrots and a gerbil in the latest canary burglary and this crime wave started just after the cats disappeared.) Show the picture.

Read aloud page 11. Ask the children, “On October 10, Ike wrote that even though his owner has returned, he had to remain in hiding. Why do you think he was still hiding?” (He was still looking for the criminals but the police were still looking for him. He didn’t want the police to find him because then he would have to go to jail again. He wanted to find a way to tell the police who the real criminals were.) Show the picture.

Read aloud page 12. Ask the children, “On October 11, Ike wrote his owner and explained the first canary burglary took place on the night of his arrest and he believed he was part of their plan. He went to the place of the first crime. Why do you think he went there?” (He went there to see if they would return to the scene of their crime and then he could catch them. Show the picture.

Read aloud page 13. Ask the children, “The October 12 newspaper article explained that Ike is a hero dog. Why do the police and the newspaper reporter think Ike is a hero?” (The police thought they helped him rescue the two lost cats at the Small Pets Emporium from the fire escape. Do you think Ike was trying to save the cats? No, he was trying to catch the animals responsible for the canary burglaries which he believed were the cats.) Show the picture.

Read aloud page 14. Ask the children, “On October 12, Ike writes to his owner. What do you think he wanted to tell her?” (He was not a hero trying to rescue the cats, as the police believed. He wanted to arrest them.) Show the picture.

Read aloud page 15. Ask the children, “A newspaper article on October 20 tells about something special that happened to Ike. What was it and why do you think it was important? (He was made an honorary detective by the police in special ceremony.) Show the picture.

Read aloud page 16. Ask the children, “A picture from the newspaper shows the cats hugging their hero Ike. Do you think they are really hugging him?” (It looks like he is hugging them so hard he is squashing them.) “At the end of the story, what can you tell me about Ike?” (He was a very determined dog. He didn’t wait for the police to solve the crime. He took charge and solved the mystery himself. However, he was the only one who found the truth which was the two supposedly lost cats were the canary burglars. I am sure he decided to keep a close eye on them.) Show the picture.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: criminals

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.
“In the story it said the criminals made off with two parrots and a gerbil as well.”
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student friendly terms.
Criminals are people that commit crimes. A crime happens when a law is broken. In the story, the criminals committed crimes and broke the law by stealing parrots, a gerbil, and other birds. It is a crime to steal. If people drink alcohol and then drive their cars, they are criminals because they broke the law.
3. Ask the children to repeat the word so they can create a phonological representation of the word. “Say the word with me: criminals.”

4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.
“If people destroy other peoples’ property, they are criminals. If people break into other peoples’ houses, they are criminals.”
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word.

“Tell me something people do that would make them criminals. Try to use the word criminals when you tell about it. You could start by saying, If people did _____, they would be criminals.”
6. Finally, have the children repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about? ‘criminals’

Target word: abducted

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.

In the story, the newspaper article reported the cats were apparently abducted from their Second Avenue apartment.
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.
If someone is abducted, someone else takes them away and won’t let them go home. Abducted means kidnapped.
3. Ask the children to repeat the word so they can create a phonological representation of the word.
Let’s say the word aloud: abducted.
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.
Usually it is people who are taken away and abducted. If someone takes a dog, puts it in their car, and takes it away, sometimes people say the dog was abducted.
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word. (If the children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did.)
Show me by your facial expression how you would feel if someone abducted a friend of yours. Show me by your facial expression how you would feel when the abducted friend is found and returned home.
6. Finally, have the children repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation.
What’s the word we’ve been talking about? ‘abducted’

Target word: solve

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.

In the story it said it is easier for some people to blame a dog than to solve a crime.

2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.
If you solve a math problem, you find the answer. You can solve a problem by finding a solution. You can solve a crime by finding out who did the crime.
3. Ask the children to repeat the word so they can create a phonological representation of the word.

Say the word with me: solve

4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.
Sometimes you have word problems in math. You feel satisfied when you solve a word problem. Sometimes you lose your coat in your house. To solve the problem, you think of all the places you went and revisit those places to look for your coat.
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word. (If the children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did.)
Tell me about a time when you had to solve a problem. What kind of problem was it and how did you solve it?
6. Finally have the children repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation.
“What’s the word we’ve been talking about? Solve.”

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Which word goes with thief? (criminals or abducted)
- Which word goes with “try, try, try, until you succeed”? (criminals or solve)
- Which word goes with “carried off”? (solve or abducted)

Maintain all three words by asking children to give examples or explanations:

- Describe something that someone did that made him/her a criminal.
- Tell about a problem that you had to solve.
- If someone tried to abduct you, what would you do?

Maintain by having children add to their networks of related words:

- Most people want to have a happy good life. Do you think criminals will have happy good lives? Why or why not?
- Does the word abducted make you feel happy or sad? Why?
- If you solve a problem, do you need to find out more or have you found out all that you need to know? Why?

Assess:

Let's think about our three new words again: criminals, abducted, and solve

- Which of these would be a criminal-a child taking a piece of pie at home without asking or a man robbing money from a store?
- Which of these situations shows the meaning of abducted-a grandmother asking permission to take her grandchild out for an ice cream cone and then bringing him back in an hour or a stranger taking a child from his front yard into his car and driving off with him and not bringing him back?
- When would you want to solve a problem-when there was something really bothering you or when everything is just fine?

20. DETECTIVE LARUE – LETTERS FROM THE INVESTIGATION

Anita Marx
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Detective LaRue-Letters from the Investigation, (Mark Teague, 2004)

ISBN: 0-439-79168-5

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- instincts
- detained
- altercation
- abducted/nab/captured (3x)/apprehended
- disrupt
- suspicious, suspect (3x)
- retrieve
- investigation, investigator, investigate (4x)
- interrogate
- deception
- loathsome
- convince
- reluctantly
- scheme
- anonymous
- speculated
- brutes/culprits/criminal/villains (5x)
- emporium (3x)

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- disrupt
- investigation
- reluctantly

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Briefly introduce the book: "Listen carefully to this story about a dog named Ike LaRue. As you listen, think about the problem that Ike LaRue has in the story and how he solves this problem. The story is told through letters written by Ike to his owner, Mrs. Larue, newspaper articles and his think bubbles."

Read aloud page one. Ask the students, "What do we know about Ike LaRue so far?"

Show the picture. Talk about the similarities between captured, abducted, apprehended, nab" through the context of the text. Ask the students, "What are the police going to do with Ike LaRue?"

Read the next two pages. Show the pictures. Tell students the word "interrogate" means to question someone. Ask students, "Can you think of a time you were interrogated?"

Discuss the word "loathsome" means disgusting. Ask the students, "Does it look like the police are questioning him in a disgusting place?"

Read the next two pages. Show the pictures. Ask students, "Why did Ike LaRue let the cats out of the apartment?" "What does he think about cats?" Discuss the sentence "I will have to take matters into my own paws and solve this mystery myself." "What do you predict he will do?"

Read the next three pages. Show the pictures. Ask students, "Why didn't the police recapture Ike LaRue?" "Where did he go to look for the cats?" "Did he find any clues?" "What does he suspect?"

Read the next three pages. Show the pictures. Ask students, "Are birds the only small animals missing?" Discuss the phrase "must follow his instincts" is his conscience - the little warning voice that tells us the good things to choose." "Was Ike LaRue worried about getting recaptured?"

Discuss the phrase, "barking up the wrong tree" and how it applies to the police.

Read the next two pages. Show the pictures. Discuss "The newspaper article states that Ike LaRue rescued the two lost cats. What really happened?"

*Read to the end of the book. Show the pictures. Ask students, "Does Ike LaRue understand humans?"

"Let's review: What was Ike LaRue's problem in this story? Did he solve his problem? Was he a good detective?"

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: investigation (investigate, investigators)

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story. "In the story it said that Ike will be detained at police headquarters pending further investigation." "Investigators admit to being completely baffled." "Today my investigation led me to a pigeon . . ."
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms. "Investigation means to examine or take a closer look."
 - In the story Ike's problem was being sent to jail for abducting two cats. The police (who are the investigators) needed to investigate the clues and events of the day the cats were missing.
 - In the middle of the story Ike LaRue became an investigator."
3. Ask the students to repeat the word so they can create a phonological representation of the word.
"Say the word with me: investigation."
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.

- At school we investigate problems - I'm going to investigate to find out how Justin got hurt at recess.
 - My investigation helped Mrs. Marx find the stapler.
 - It also means to increase our prior knowledge - learn more information. I made an investigation of igneous rocks for my report.
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word.

"Tell about an investigation that you have made. It can be an investigation you used to solve a problem or something you learned. Use the word investigation when you tell about it. You can start by saying, 'I made an investigation _____. If the student provides an example used in the book, ask them to use the word in a different way than the author did.

6. Finally, have the children repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation.
 "What's the word we've been talking about?" investigation

Target word: disrupt

1. "In the story, Ike LaRue writes in a letter 'I hate to disrupt your vacation, but you must return immediately!"
2. "Disrupt is a verb that describes an action. When someone upsets or interferes with something that is calm, relaxed or peaceful. In the story, Ike LaRue did not want to disrupt Mrs. LaRue's vacation in Europe but he needed her help!"
3. "Say the word with me: disrupt."
4. "Disruptions can happen everywhere and caused by many things. I hate the phone to disrupt my peaceful sleep. Please do not disrupt the class by yelling out answers. Commercials disrupt the movies I watch on television."
5. "If the things I say would disrupt someone, say disrupt. If not, don't say anything."
 - Humming during a reading test.
 - Keeping your arms folded while walking in the hall.
 - Saying the wrong answer just to get attention.
 - Talking to the person next to you during a school program.
 - Coming to school tardy and making a lot of noise.
 - Put the volume low for computer games in computer lab.
6. "What's the word we've been talking about?" disrupt

Target word: reluctantly

1. "In the story it said, "The cats had threatened to damage her apartment (as only cats can) unless I let them out for some 'fresh air.' Reluctantly, I agreed."
2. "Reluctantly describes an unwillingness to do something. In the story Ike LaRue reluctantly let the cats leave the apartment even though he knew he shouldn't."
3. "Let's say the word together: reluctantly"
4. "Sometimes we do things reluctantly because we are afraid or too shy. She reluctantly got in front of the school and read her poem. Have you ever done something you really didn't want to do but you knew it was the right thing to do? He reluctantly did his homework instead of watching television."
5. "Now I want you to think of a time you reluctantly did something. Turn to a person next to you and tell them what you reluctantly did. You start by saying, 'I reluctantly _____.'"
6. "What's the word we've been talking about?" reluctantly

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If you had to wash 100 dirty dishes, would you disrupt them or reluctantly wash them?
- If you lost your new bike and you want to know where it is, do you begin a serious investigation or would you reluctantly look for it?
- If you cry and scream at church would you disrupt the speaker or make an investigation.

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Why do police officers make an investigation when a vandal spray-paints on buildings?
- Describe a time when it's necessary or important to disrupt someone for his or her attention.
- If you change your attitude would it help you from doing things reluctantly? How would it help?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- When you make an investigation, what do you do?
- How would you act if you did things reluctantly?
- What happens when you disrupt the class? Is there any time wasted?

Assess:

Let's think about our three new words again: investigation, disrupt, reluctantly.

- Which of these choices would involve an investigation - playing a card game or using clues to solve a problem?
- When should you disrupt the teacher - when she is with small reading groups or when there is an emergency?
- Which of these choices would be done reluctantly - taking nasty cough syrup or eating ice cream?

21. THE DOG WHO CRIED WOLF

Melody Francis
Backman Elementary
Salt Lake City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Dog Who Cried Wolf, (Keiko Kasza, 2005)
ISBN: 0-399-24247-3

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- amazing
- howl
- sighed
- failure
- yelped
- miserable
- mumbled
- gazed
- panted
- dashed

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- miserable
- mumbled
- dashed

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read aloud page 1. Show the illustration.

Read aloud page 3. Ask the students, “What do we know so far about Moka and Michelle?” Show the illustrations.

Read aloud page 5. Ask the students, “Is Moka happy with his life? Why or why not?” Show the illustrations.

Read aloud page 7 & 8. Ask the students, “What has Moka decided to do? Why has he decided that?” Show the illustrations.

Read aloud pages 10 & 11. Show the illustrations.

Read aloud page 13. Show the illustrations.

Read aloud pages 14 & 15. Ask the students, “How is Moka getting along with being a wolf?” Show the illustrations.

Read aloud page 17. Ask the students, “How is Moka feeling now? What is the last thing he has to try?” Show the illustrations.

Read aloud page 19. Show the illustrations.

Read aloud page 21. Ask the students, “How do you think Moka is feeling now? Why?” Show the illustrations.

Read aloud page 23. Show the illustrations.

Read aloud page 25. Ask the students, “How are Michelle and Moka feeling now? Why?” Show the illustrations.

Read aloud page 26. Show the illustrations.

Read aloud page 29. Ask the students, “What do you think might happen now?” Show illustrations.

Show illustration on page 30. Ask the students, “How did the story end? What do you think Moka learned from his experience?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: miserable

1. “In this story, the author says that Moka was miserable after being gone from Michelle for so long and from trying to be a wolf.”
2. “If you say someone is miserable, they are very unhappy and sad.”
3. “Say the word with me: miserable.”
4. “If I made you write your name 1,000 times, you would feel miserable. When you are stuck at home with the flu, you feel miserable.”
5. “Now you think of a time you have been miserable. Start your sentence with, ‘I was miserable when . . .’”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about? Miserable.”

Target word: mumbled

1. “In this story, the author says that Moka mumbled that he missed Michelle after he had spent a day trying to be a wolf.”
2. “If you say someone mumbled, it means they said something that was hard to hear or understand.”
3. “Say the word with me: mumbled.”
4. “If you forget to brush your teeth and your parents ask if you did, you might mumble that you forgot like this, ‘I forgot to brush my teeth.’”
5. “Now it’s your turn to mumble something.”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about? Mumbled.”

Target word: dashed

1. “In this story, the author said that Michelle dashed out the door to meet Moka after he returned.”
2. “If someone dashed somewhere, it means they moved quickly or hurried.”
3. “Say the word with me: dashed.”
4. “After school you might dash out of the school to meet your friends. If my dog ran out to get his ball, I could say he dashed after the ball.”
5. “Tell us a time when you might have dashed.”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about? Dashed.”

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- A cat chasing a mouse would: mumble or dash?
- Standing on your head for a long time would make you: miserable or mumble?
- Speaking softly so no one could understand you: dashed or mumbled?
- Eating way too much food: dashed or miserable?
- Playing soccer and rushing after the ball: mumbled or dashed?
- Saying unclearly that you need a pencil: miserable or mumbled?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell us a time that you have felt miserable.
- Has there ever been a time someone mumbled something and you didn’t understand what they were saying?
- When might you dash when you are out at recess?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- What is something that might make you feel miserable?
- Why do you think people might mumble? Why?
- What kinds of things might you see dash?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: miserable, mumbled, and dashed. If you agree with the first choice hold up your blue card. If you agree with the second choice hold up your yellow card.”

- Which of these means miserable: one, feeling very unhappy, or two, feeling really happy?
- Which of these is an example of mumbled: one, (in a regular voice) I need a pencil, or two, (in a mumbled voice) I need a pencil?
- Which of these means dashed: one, rushing to answer the phone, or two, walking to school?

21. DROP GOES PLOP, A FIRST LOOK AT THE WATER CYCLE

Chris Panas
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Drop Goes Plop, A First Look at the Water Cycle, (Sam Godwin, 1998)

ISBN 1-4048-0657-1

Pre-reading Strategy: Brainstorming

Since we were learning about storms and how the Water Cycle affects storms, the first thing we did was to brainstorm types of storms. We just did this vocally, and when we were done brainstorming we did a word web to classify the storms.

Graphic Organizer: Word web where we introduced the possible tier 2 words.

Possible Tier II Words:

- flowing
- floats
- reservoir
- stored
- treatment (water treatment plant)
- gushes
- faucet
- swishes
- swirls
- whooshes

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction

These words were chosen for their relevance to the story and words they are very likely to encounter when they read.

- reservoir
- treatment (water treatment plant) (I chose this because it really pertained to the story).
- gushes

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension

Page:

4-5 Read.

What do we know about the clouds?

Show illustration

6-7 Read

What happened on these pages?

Have you ever seen clouds like these?

- 8-9 Read and show illustration.
What happens when the clouds get heavy?
What are they heavy with?
- 10-11 Read, ask what we know so far about the water cycle.
- 12-13 Read
What is happening to the drop of water?
Where is the water headed?
- 14-15 Read and show picture. (reservoir)
- 16-17 Read and show illustrations. (water treatment plant)
How does the water get to where we can use it again?
- 18-19 Read. (gushes)
What is this boy doing?
Show pictures.
What do you think is going to happen to the water he is using?
- 20-21 Read and show pictures at the same time.
Were we right on our predictions of where the water would go? How can you tell?
- 22-23 Read and show pictures.
What is happening on these pages?
- 24-25 Read and show at the same time.
How would you feel about the water cycle?
- 26 Read
What is happening?

How does the story end? Is this the way you thought it would end?

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target Word: reservoir

1. In the story, a drop of water fell from the sky and landed and eventually made it to a reservoir. One of the reasons I chose this word is because there are a lot of reservoirs in the area.
2. DEFINITION: A reservoir is a body of water that has a dam at one end. We also know them as lakes or ponds.
3. STUDENTS SAY WORD
4. DISPLAY WORD

5. EXAMPLES:
 - We go boating at a reservoir named Starvation.
 - Many of the farmers in our area get their irrigation from Sand Wash Reservoir.
6. STUDENT EXAMPLES:
 - Use reservoir in a sentence.
 - Explain what a reservoir is and use an example that they know of where a reservoir is included.
7. WHAT WAS OUR WORD?

MAINTENANCE:

Which of these would be a reservoir?

- Uintah river flowing down the canyon?
- A body of water named Bottle Hollow?

Target Word: treatment (water treatment plant)

1. In the story, our drop of water is floating in a peaceful reservoir then the dam is opened and the drop is sucked into a water treatment plant.
2. DEFINITION: A water treatment plant is where water is cleaned or purified to the point that it is safe for humans to drink.
3. STUDENTS SAY THE WORD
4. DISPLAY THE WORD
5. EXAMPLE:
 - On your next trip to Disneyland, you will be glad to know that the tap water you are drinking is from a water treatment plant.
6. STUDENT EXAMPLES:
 - If you try to drink water from a muddy stream you would get sick because the water has not gone through a water treatment plant.
 - Have students talk about water they have seen that they wouldn't drink.
7. WHAT IS THE NEW WORD?

MAINTENANCE:

Listen to these examples and if what I say stands for something that would need to go through a water treatment plant before you could drink it.

- A bottle of water from a store.
- Water out of a horse's water trough.
- Drinking water from a toilet.

Target Word: gushes

1. In the story, a boy turns on the faucet and the drop of water we have been reading about gushes out of the faucet.
2. DEFINITION: gushes means that water or some form of liquid shoots out with some sort of force.
3. HAVE STUDENTS SAY WORD
4. SHOW WORD
5. EXAMPLES:
 - When you shake up your dad's can or bottle of pop and when he opens it the pop gushes out and all over him.
 - When city workers dig a hole and hit the main water line for the city, a lot of water gushes out.
6. STUDENT EXAMPLES
 - Give me an example of something that gushes. If it gushes, (rest of class) raise your hands. Have a few students give examples.
7. SAY THE NEW WORD

Maintain:

Point and say the new words and say we will play a game. Reservoir will be number 1, water treatment plant will be number 2, and gushes is number 3. If the following situations is number 1 raise one hand, if it is number 2 raise both hands, and if it is number 3, clap your hands.

- You can go fishing at one of these.
- I have to get a drink and can't wait.
- A water pipe broke.
- Drinking water from the toilet.
- Trying to hook a hose to a sprinkler with the water turned up full blast.

Assess:

While the lesson is taught, there are multiple ways to assess students on what they know but in addition, I would have students respond to situations with thumbs up if they agree or thumbs down if they disagree.

- Complete the following sentence: I knew the lake was a _____ because it had a _____ on it.
- Give an example of doing something that would need to go through a water treatment plant before you could drink it.
- Something that gushes would be a _____ and it would _____.

Daphne Marchant
Edison Elementary
Salt Lake City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Ducky, (Eve Bunting, 1997)
ISBN: 0-395-75185-3

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- danger
- snuggled
- tumbled
- bobbed
- surface (noun)
- disappeared
- stare
- terrified
- gulps
- guaranteed
- relief
- drifting
- separate
- tumbling
- loneliness, lonelier
- nudges
- fulfilling
- wondrous

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- danger
- terrified
- wondrous

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read aloud pages 4-7. Ask the children, "Who is telling this story? What do we know about the duck? What is its problem?" Show illustrations.

Read aloud pages 8-11. Ask the children, "Why is the duck scared?" Show illustrations.

Read aloud pages 12-13. Ask the children, "What did the shark do with the animals? Why didn't it eat them?" Show illustration.

Read aloud pages 14-17. Ask the children, "Why is the duck alone? Where did the other animals go?" Show illustrations.

Read aloud pages 18-21. Ask the children, "How is the duck feeling? How do you know?" Show illustrations.

Read aloud pages 22-25. Ask the children, "What happened to the duck? What is the boy going to do with it?" Show illustrations.

Simultaneously show illustrations and read pages 26-29.

Read aloud page 30. Ask the children, "How does the duck feel now? How do you know?" Show illustration.

Read aloud or summarize the author's note on page 32.

"Let's review: What happened to the duck in the beginning of the story? In the middle? At the end?"

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: danger

1. "The story begins with the duck saying he was in great danger."
2. "If you are in danger, something bad could happen or you could get hurt."
3. "Say the word with me: danger."
4. "You would be in danger if you were outside alone at night, if you were boating without a life jacket, or if you were playing with a weapon. If you stay up really late, you are in danger of falling asleep in class. If you don't do your homework, you are in danger of missing recess."
5. "If any of the things I say are likely to put you in danger, say 'danger.' If not, don't say anything."
 - Running next to a swimming pool
 - Writing a story at your desk
 - Playing with matches
 - Listening to the radio in your bedroom
 - Watching a movie
 - Crossing the street without looking
6. "What's the word we have been talking about?" 'danger'

Target word: terrified

1. "In the story, when the duck is floating alone, it is scared. Then when it sees a shark, it becomes terrified."
2. Terrified means very very scared.
3. "Say the word with me: terrified."
4. "If you watch scary movies alone at night, you might feel terrified. You might feel terrified if you were lost. Some people feel terrified when they ride roller coasters."
5. "Think about a time when you were terrified. Tell a partner about that time and use the word terrified in your description."

6. "What's the word we have been talking about?" 'terrified'

Target word: wondrous

1. "In the story, when the duck is floating in the bathtub, it says that it is wondrous to be able to float."
2. "Wondrous means fantastic or unusually good."
3. "Say the word with me: wondrous."
4. "You could say that a beautiful sunrise or sunset is wondrous. If you have a really great day, you could say it was a wondrous day."
5. "Tell about a time when you experienced something wondrous. Be sure to use the word wondrous in your description."
6. "What's the word we have been talking about?" 'wondrous'

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If you were in the mountains and saw a beautiful lake, would you use terrified or wondrous to describe it? Why?
- If you saw an angry bear at that lake, would that be wondrous or dangerous? Why?
- If you had to do a presentation in front of the whole school, would you be in danger or terrified? Why?
- Would you rather go to a place that is dangerous or wondrous? Why?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- What are some situations where you would be in danger?
- What are some things that make you feel terrified?
- Describe something in nature that is wondrous.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- What would be dangerous about going somewhere by yourself?
- What would you do if you were terrified?
- How would you look and act if you saw something wondrous?

Assess:

"Let's think about all three of our new words again: danger, terrified, wondrous."

- Which of these would be dangerous-- a newborn baby or a tiger?
- If you were terrified would you laugh or scream?
- If you saw something wondrous would you look at it or close your eyes?

24. THE EASTER EGG FARM

Adalee Wall
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Easter Egg Farm, (Mary Jane Auch, 1992)
ISBN: 0-8234-1076-5

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- collected (teach in context with picture)
- nudged
- squabbled
- concentrate (5x)
- confusion
- normal
- fantastic
- embarrassed
- different (4x)
- unusual (4x)
- surroundings
- creative
- annual
- inspiration
- frantically

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

The following words were selected because I felt like they would carry over into other texts. These words needed to be understood in order for the students to get the meaning of the text. They are also words that they can use in their writing and in everyday conversations.

- concentrate
- different
- unusual
- frantically

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Briefly introduce the book: “Listen closely to this story about Pauline (a hen) and Mrs. Pennywort. As you listen, think about the problem that Pauline has in the story and the problems that that problem cause her.

Read aloud page one. Ask the children, “What do we know about Pauline and Mrs. Pennywort so far?”

Show the picture and talk about the word “collected” using context clues and picture.

Read the next page and show the picture. “What kind of egg did Pauline lay? What did she do with the egg?”

Read the next page and show the picture. “What happened when Pauline concentrated on the sky? What did Mrs. Pennywort say about how Pauline’s eggs turned out?”

Read the next two pages. “What did the lady from the town want?” Talk about the word annual.

Read the next two pages and show the pictures. “Where did Mrs. Pennywort take Pauline to get inspirations for her eggs?”

Read the next two pages. “What happened to the eggs? What did Mrs. Pennywort try to do?”

Read the next three pages and show the pictures. “Why did Mrs. Pennywort decide not to give the chicks to the lady from town?”

Read the next two pages. Show the pictures. “What happened to the chicks as they grew up? Talk about how we change as we grow but still look the same. How did Pauline feel about how her children turned out?”

Read the Last two pages of the book. Show the pictures. “What did Mrs. Pennywort’s farm become know as? What did Pauline do at the end of the book to solve her problem?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: concentrate (concentrated)

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.
“In the story it says that Mrs. Pennywort asked the hens to concentrate.”
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.
Concentrate---to concentrate means to give it all your attention so you can really think carefully about what you are doing. When someone is at work, it’s important to concentrate on getting their job done.
3. Let’s say the word aloud: concentrate.
4. Your father might concentrate if he is trying to figure out how to put a new toy together. Someone might concentrate if they are trying to put a 1000 piece puzzle together. You might concentrate if you are trying to get a 100 on your spelling test.
5. If any of the things I say would make someone concentrate, say concentrate. If not, don’t say anything.
 - Drinking a glass of milk
 - Listening to me read a book
 - Playing your game boy
 - Washing your hands
 - Looking for your lost coat
 - Making your bed
6. What is the word we are learning? “concentrate”
7. Now you think of something that you might concentrate on. Start your sentence with “Something that I would concentrate on would be....
Ask students to tell why they would have to concentrate for that.

Target word: different

1. In the story when one of the other hens said Pauline was lazy Pauline said, "I'm not lazy, I'm just different."
2. If you are different it means that you are not like everyone else. Your hair is not the same as everyone's. You don't wear the same clothes that everyone else is wearing. You do things your own way. You don't look like anyone else. Everyone these days is buying SUV's. I wanted a car that would look sporty and go when I stepped on the gas. So my car is different from what everyone else is driving.
3. Let's all say our word together: different
4. Now I want you to think of how you are different from others. Turn to a partner and tell them how you are different.
5. What is our new word? different

Target word: frantically

1. In the book when the eggs started hatching it said that Mrs. Pennywort took the broken shells to the table and frantically tried to glue them together.
2. If you work at something frantically, it means that you are excited and working very hard and fast to fix something. The other day my husband and I were going to Vernal and we had to be there at 4:00. It was 3:30 and it takes 30 min. to get to Vernal. We had just enough time to get there and when my husband was getting into the car he ripped his pants. He ran into the house and frantically tried to change his pants.
 - I am frantically trying to finish the baby blanket for my new grandchild that is coming in June.
 - Some mornings I work frantically to get to school on time.
3. Now you think of ways that you might be frantic. Begin your sentence with, "The other day I was frantically trying to...."
4. What is the new word? Frantically
Let's all say the word: frantically

If any of the things I say would make you feel frantic, stand up and say, "I'm frantic." Otherwise, remain seated and say nothing.

- Your mom is in the car waiting for you honking the horn
- You are reading a quiet book
- You are taking a bubble bath
- You are looking for your lost dog
- Your teacher wants you to read 50 books tonight

Target word: unusual

1. In the story the word unusual is used several times when it talks about the eggs that Pauline lays. When Mrs. Pennywort sees the first egg she says, "Pauline, what a lovely egg. This is too unusual to crack open for my breakfast. I'll put it on my windowsill where everybody can enjoy it."
2. If something is unusual it is not the same as all the others. It stands out above the rest of the group. When I was looking for a dress for my daughters wedding I wanted a dress that was unusual.
3. Let's say the word together: unusual
 - It would be unusual to see someone with purple hair.
 - It would be unusual for me to let you have 5 recesses today.
4. Now I want you to think of something that is unusual. Start your sentence with, "It would be unusual if....."
5. What is our new word? unusual

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If your sister fell down and cut open her arm, would you have to concentrate or would you be frantic? Why?
- If our principal won the American Idol contest on TV, would you have to concentrate or would that be unusual? Why or why not?
- If you found a beautiful butterfly on the playground that no one else has see, would it be different or would you be frantic? Why?
- If you had to learn to do some very difficult math would you have to concentrate or would that be different? Why?

Maintain:

Maintain all four words by asking the children to complete each of the following sentences using one of the new words. If you agree that the word was used correctly hold up your thumb. Those who disagree will put their thumbs down.

- Complete this sentence: Matt had to concentrate when he _____. Ask for response. Students who agree that he would have to concentrate put your thumb up; those who disagree will put your thumb down.
- Something that is different from something else is _____. Fill in the blank. Students who agree will put your thumb up; if you disagree put your thumb down.
- Complete this sentence: I was frantically trying to _____. Stand up if that would be frantic; stay seated if it would not.
- Complete this sentence: It would be unusual if _____. Thumb up if you agree; thumb down if you don't.

Maintain by helping children add to their network of related words:

- When you are concentrating on something, what do you do?
- If something is different, what does that mean?
- If you are frantically trying to do something, how do you act?
- If something is unusual, what do you do with it?

Assess:

Let's think about all four of our new words again: concentrate, different, frantically, unusual.

- When would you need to concentrate the most—when you are reading a good book or when you are eating breakfast?
- When would you like to be different—when you are trying to fit in or stand out?
- When would you act frantically—when you are sleeping or when the house is on fire?
- What would be unusual— a dog with 4 legs or a lamb with two head?

Let's now put these new words into our word book and put the meaning of each word in your own words.

25. EDWARD AND THE PIRATES

Mary Heslop
Dee Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Edward and The Pirates, (David McPhail, 1997)

ISBN: 0-316-56344-7

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- catalogs
- convinced
- lance
- inscription
- helm
- flurry
- monument
- demanded
- tunic
- comforting
- pleaded
- bounded
- urging
- roared
- firmly
- deflect
- budge

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- comforting
- pleaded
- firmly

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Briefly introduce the book: “Listen closely to this story about a boy with a great imagination. I want you to think about how this boy got his imagination.”

Read the first four pages and show the pictures. Ask “What kinds of other things do you think Edward likes to read? What kinds of things do you like to read?”

Read the next page and ask “What did Edward like to use while he was reading?”

Read the next page and ask “how can you use your imagination when you read?”
Show the pictures.

Read the next two pages and show the pictures. Ask “Could Edward actually be in the places that he said he was and help the different characters? Why or why not?”

Read the next two pages and ask “Could a young boy stay at the library until it closes?”
Show the pictures.

Read the next two pages and ask “What is Edward problem?” Show the pictures.

Read the next two pages and ask “Do you think these pirates will hurt Edward for the book? Why or why not?” Show the pictures.

Read the next four pages continuously. Then ask “Why do you think Edward is not scared of the pirates?” “Why do you think Edward really wouldn’t give the pirates his book?”

Read the next two pages and ask “What would you do if your mom dressed up and came into your room?” “What do you think will happen to Edward’s mother?” Show the pictures.

Read the next two pages and ask” Do you think Edward will let his father hurt the pirates? Why or why not?” Show the pictures.

Read the next page and ask “What do you think the pirates are going to do?”

Read the next page and ask “What would you do if you were Edward?” Show the pictures.

Read the next two pages and ask “Why did Edward’s father tell the pirates to close the window when they leave?” Show the pictures.

Read the last page and ask “Can you make prediction on what Edward will do next?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: comforting

1. “In the story, the author say Edward was right alongside, comforting the brave dogs and urging them on.”
2. Comforting means to make someone or something feel less worried or upset.
3. “Say the word with me: comforting.”
4. “We comforted the lost child so they would feel safe. It was comforting to have my dog home from the vet’s office.”
5. “Now I want you to think of a time when you felt like you were being comforted by someone or something. I want you to turn to your partner and tell them about it. Don’t forget to use the word comforting in your sentence. Who would like to share with the class?”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about today?” comforting

Target word: pleaded

1. In the story, the author said they pleaded, but Edward folded his arms around the book and shook his head no.”
2. “Pleaded means to beg someone to do something.”
3. “Say the word with me: pleaded.”
4. “I pleaded with my mom to let my friend stay all night.” “I pleaded with my teacher to accept my late homework.”
5. “Everyone has pleaded for something in their lives. I want you to think of a time when you pleaded for something and share it with you partner. Who would like to share with the class about a time you pleaded for something?”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” pleaded

Target word: firmly

1. "In the story it says, "But don't stay up too late," Edward's mother told him firmly."
2. "Firmly means to say something in a steady voice."
3. "Say the word with me: firmly."
4. "My teacher told me to stop playing with my pencil very firmly." "My mother said in a firm voice to clean my room."
5. "When have you been told to do something firmly? Share with your partner and don't forget to use the word firmly. Who would like to share with the class?"
6. "What's the word we've been working on today?" firmly

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- When your mom says "go to your room!" firmly or comforting
- When your grandmother gives you a soft kiss. Comforting or pleaded
- When you really want that new bike you saw at the store. Firmly or pleaded

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Has there ever been a time in your life when you comforted someone or something? Who was it you comforted and when?
- What was the last thing you can think of that you pleaded for? Did you get what you wanted? Why or why not?
- Have you ever spoken firmly to someone? Who was it and what was it about?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- How do you feel when you are comforted by someone you love and care about?
- "I pleaded with my mom to let me be in Girl Scouts." What did I do?
- How do you feel when you are spoken firmly to? What can you do next time to avoid being spoken firmly to?

Assess:

"Let's think about all three of our new words again: comforted, pleaded, and firmly."

- Which of these would you comfort a crying baby or a little boy playing ball?
- Which of these would you plead for, a mean, barking dog or a yummy looking cookie?
- Which of these statements would you say firmly, please pick up your toys or pick up your toys now?

26. ELBERT'S BAD WORD

Paula Bickerton
Mountain View Elementary
Salt Lake City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Elbert's Bad Word, (Audrey Wood, 1988)
ISBN: 0-15-225320-3

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- elegant
- bristly
- patiently
- shocked
- snickering
- cobbled
- crackled
- sparkled
- shriveled
- rousing

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- patiently
- snickering
- shriveled

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension

Briefly introduce the book Elbert's Bad Word by explaining that you are going to read a story about a little boy named Elbert who happens to catch a bad word. Tell the children to pay attention to how Elbert catches the word and how he manages to get rid of it.

Read pages 1,2, and 3. Ask the children where Elbert heard the bad word, what he did with it, and what it looked like. Then show the picture.

Read pages 5 and 6. Ask what happened to the bad word. Show the pictures.

Read pages 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12. Ask the children what things happened that led up to the croquet mallet landing on Elbert's toe. Explain that croquet is a game played with wooden balls and mallets (like large hammers) are used to hit the balls on the ground. Ask what Elbert did when the croquet mallet landed on his toe. Why were people at the party surprised by what he said? Show pictures.

Read page 13. Ask what Elbert's mother did to Elbert after he said the bad word. Was this fair? Why or why not? Explain that lavatory is just a fancy word for bathroom.

Read page 15, 16, 17, and 18. Ask the students where Elbert went and why he chose to go there. Ask what the wizard pulled out of his drawer and why he pulled these things out. What did he do with them? Show pictures.

Read page 19. Ask the children what Elbert did with the cake the wizard baked and what happened to the bad word when he did so. Show picture.

Read pages 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, and 26. Ask the children to summarize what happened when Elbert returned to the party. Remind them that the croquet mallet has just landed on Elbert's big toe AGAIN and Elbert is angry! Have the students predict what Elbert will do. Show pictures.

Read pages 27, 28, and 30. Were the children's predictions correct? What did Elbert do? What did the other guests do? What happened to the bad word? Could you try using words like Elbert instead of bad words? Show pictures.

Step 2: Direct vocabulary instruction of the Tier 2 Words:

Target word: patiently

1. In the story the author writes: "But the word waited patiently."
2. Patiently means waiting quietly without complaining.
3. Say the word with me: patiently
4. If you are waiting for the recess bell to ring without bothering your teacher or friends, you are waiting patiently. If you wait for your parents after school where you need to be you are waiting patiently.
5. Now you think of a time when you have patiently waited for something. Start your sentence with "I waited patiently when... Think, Pair, Share and then share as a whole class.
6. What is the word we've been talking about: Patiently.

Target word: snickering

1. In the story the author writes: "While Elbert scrubbed his tongue, the bad word sat on his shoulder, snickering wickedly."
2. Snickering means laughing quietly in a mean way.
3. Say the word with me: Snickering.
4. If someone was teasing another student and laughing meanly, we could say they were snickering. Laughing unkindly at someone's drawing would be snickering.
5. Now you think of an example of snickering. Start your sentence with "He (or she) was snickering when... Think, Pair, Share and share as a whole class.
6. What is the word we've been discussing: snickering.

Target word: shriveled

1. In the story, the author wrote: "And as he did, the ugly word shriveled to the size of a flea and hopped onto his necktie."

2. Shriveled means to shrink to a very small size.
3. Say the word with me: shriveled
4. If you leave a grape in the sun it will become shriveled. If you look down from a very tall building, the people on the street will look shriveled.
5. Now you think of something that can look shriveled. Begin your sentence with "Something can shrivel when...Think, Pair, Share and then share whole class.
6. What is the word we have been discussing: Shriveled.

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between the two words.

- Laughing at a person: snickering or shriveled
- Waiting nicely for your turn at the drinking fountain: Patiently or snickering
- A balloon shrinking as the air leaves it: patiently or shriveled
- Waiting for Christmas to come: patiently or snickering
- A sponge drying up: snickering or shriveled
- Playing a joke on someone: snickered or patiently

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples of explanations.

- "Tell us about something that made you snicker."
- "Tell us about a time when you had to wait patiently."
- "Have you ever seen something shrivel? Tell us about it."

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words.

- "Has anyone ever snickered at you? How did you feel?"
- "Think of a time when you had to wait patiently for something. Was it easy or hard?"
- "Think of a time, maybe in science when you have watched something shrivel. How did it look?"

Assess:

"Let's think of our three words again: patiently, snickering, shriveled."

- "Which of these is an example of patiently: Pushing your way to the front of the drinking fountain line or simply waiting your turn, no matter how thirsty you are?" Students use happy faces on tongue depressors to show agreement and sad faces to show disagreement.
- "Which of these is shriveled: A raisin or a big fat juicy grape?" Students use happy and sad faces again.
- "Which of these is an example of snickering (be careful, I'll try to trick you): Laughing at a funny joke or laughing at someone who has made a mistake." Students use happy and sad faces again.

27. THE EMPTY POT

Kathy Carson
Bluff Elementary
San Juan School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Empty Pot, (Demi, 1990) ISBN: 0-59047090-6

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- emperor
- successor
- proclamation
- issued
- succeed
- palace
- swarmed
- transferred
- ashamed
- frowning
- shame

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- swarmed
- transferred
- ashamed

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read aloud pages 1-3 and show illustrations. Point out Ping, other people and all of the flowers.

Read pages 4-6 and ask, What do we know so far? Show illustrations

Read page 7 and ask, What does the proclamation say? Then, show illustrations.

Read aloud pages 8 and 9. Do not show picture yet. (swarmed) Ask, What are the children doing? What do their parents want? Show illustrations.

Read pages 10 and 11. What does Ping do? How does he feel and why?

Read pages 12 and 13. What is the problem? Show illustrations.

Read pages 14-17 and show the pictures. What has happened to Ping's seed?
(transferred)

Read pages 18 and 19 and show pictures.

Read page 20. What has happened? How does Ping feel? Why? (ashamed)

Read page 21 and 22 and show the picture. What does Ping's father say?

Read page 23. What happened?

Read pages 24-27. What happened? How does Ping feel?

Read page 28 and show illustrations.

Read pages 29-30. How does the story end? What does the Emperor say and what happens to Ping? Show the illustrations.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: swarmed

1. In the story, the author says, "children from all over the country swarmed to the palace to get their flower seeds."
2. If some people or some things have swarmed, it means that a lot of them have gotten together in a group.
3. Say the word with me: swarmed.
4. If the fire drill bells and lights go off in school, we could say that all of us swarmed out of the building. When the bees moved to a new place, they swarmed.
5. Now you think of something that swarms. Start your sentence with, _____ are something that swarm, or the _____ swarmed yesterday.
6. What is the word that we have been talking about? swarmed

Target word: transferred

1. In the story, the author says, "Then he (Ping) transferred the seed into the rich black soil."
2. If you say that someone has transferred something, it means that they have moved it from one place to another.
3. Say the word with me: transferred.
4. If someone new comes to our school from a different school, we say that he or she has transferred. If you pour some juice from the large bottle to your glass, you have transferred it.
5. Now think of what you can transfer. You could start your sentence with, "I transferred the _____ to the _____ "or "I transferred to _____".
6. What word are we talking about? transferred

Target word: ashamed

1. In the story, the author wrote, "Ping was ashamed of his empty pot. He thought the other children would laugh at him because for once he couldn't get a flower to grow".
2. Ashamed means to feel badly.
3. Say the word with me: ashamed
4. Someone might be ashamed if they had dirty clothes on. I might be ashamed of someone if they were rude to my friend.
5. Think of something that you might be ashamed of. Tell your partner. Tell us a sentence using the word. You might start your sentence with "I was ashamed when _____".
6. What's the word we've been talking about? ashamed

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Slipping and falling in the mud: ashamed or swarmed?
- Many mosquitoes attacking you at night: transferred or swarmed?
- Coming to our school from another school: transferred or ashamed?
- Not having any new clothes when all of your friends have new clothes: transferred or ashamed?
- All of your friends gather around and want birthday cake at the same time: swarmed or ashamed?
- Moved the candle from the table to the window: transferred or swarmed?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell us if you transferred anything.
- Would you be ashamed if your friend said your shoes were ugly?
- Has there ever been a time when you kicked an anthill and the ants swarmed? Tell us about that.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- If you were ashamed, how would you feel? What could you do or say?
- Have you ever transferred something to a new place? What did you transfer? What happened?
- I once saw bees that swarmed in a tree in back of my house. Tell us if you've seen something that swarmed.

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: swarmed, ashamed, transferred.”

- Which of these would make someone feel ashamed – a girl who has to wear her brother’s shoes or a girl who has new shoes. (Students can show their choice by thumbs up or down.)
- When would you need to transfer something – when you wanted a drink or when you wanted to play?
- If insects have swarmed, have they flown off one at a time or have they all gone together?

28. EXPLORING THE DEEP, DARK SEA

Ann L. Andersen
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk: Exploring the Deep, Dark Sea, (Gail Gibbons, 1999)
ISBN: 0-439-16839-2

Tier 2 words in the text:

- explorers
- seafloor
- pilot
- submersible
- marine
- researchers
- creatures
- specimens
- abyss
- trench

In choosing the vocabulary words, I read through the book to see which words were used the most often and that applied to the subject that the book was talking about. The text talk lesson will be divided into two separate days so that we can take the time needed for all the information and the subject to adequately be discussed.

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension

“Students, as we read informational books, we look for things that we have not learned yet. In many books, we find this information to be interesting to learn about. We are going to explore a book that fits along with the habitat of the coral reef, which we have studying in Science. As we read, we will stop and discuss some of the information and some of the new vocabulary words so that you will understand the book better.”

Pages 1—2: Read the pages and show the illustrations.

- “What kinds of things can be carried on ships?”
- “What are some of the purposes that ships have?”

Pages 3—4: Read the first two sentences and discuss the meanings

- explorers—those that travel to find new places, animals, plants, or civilizations that had once existed. They also find what has happened to different cultures in the past. The places they travel can be anywhere on land, in the water, or even in the air. Say “explorers”.
- seafloor—floor of the ocean. Say “seafloor”.
- “What kinds of things do you think explorers might find on the ocean seafloor?”
- “What depths can there be on the seafloor?”

Pages 6—7: Read and discuss the illustrations along with the labels.

- “What do you think a pilot does? Show the illustrations of where a pilot sits and what he does. Is this type of pilot different from one that flies an airplane? What are some of the differences? (In the water and not in the air). Say “pilot”.

Pages 8—9: Read and discuss

- submersible—a small submarine that is sent into the ocean to explore. A submersible holds a small crew of workers. Say “submersible”.

Pages 10—11: Read and discuss what is the “sunlight zone.”

- “What do you think the sunlight zone is? It is the area below the surface of the water that is 450 feet down.”
- “What makes up marine life? They are plants, fish, and other sea creatures that live in the ocean. Say “marine”.
- We can see by the illustrations that there are many different living things in the ocean.
- “What do you think a researcher does? They are those that look for the unusual and interesting things to explore and they study them. Say “researcher”.

“In the zone that is 450 to 3300 feet deep down into the ocean, the sunlight becomes dark and it is colder.”

Pages 14—15: Read and discuss how the creatures survive in this sunless environment.

Pages 16—17: Read and look at the illustrations.

- “What does the word creature mean? These are the living animals that live in an area.
- “How do the creatures survive in this area called the “Dark Zone”. Say “creatures”.

Pages 18—19: Read and explain:

- “What happens when the submersible touches the bottom of the ocean?” The water pressure is extremely powerful, two hundred times greater than on the ocean surface.

Pages 20—23: Read and show illustrations as the submersible resurfaces.

- “What do you think the explorers brought back up to the surface with them? They brought specimens. What are specimens? These are small samples of what the explorers found down in the ocean. They brought these specimens back up to the surface so that they could study them to see how they lived. Say: “specimens”.

Pages 24—29: Read and show the illustrations:

- “What do you think an abyss is? This is the depth of the ocean that is between 13,000 feet and 20,000 feet. Notice how different the plants and animals are at this depth. Say “abyss”.
- These are deep cracks in the ocean floor called trenches. Can you tell how trenches are made on the land. “trenches”.

Pages 30—32: Read and discuss the time line that shows the progression of how the ocean began being explored in the beginning and how it might be in the future. Each time period had different ideas on how to explore the ocean.

Assess:

“As we look at the list of vocabulary words, let’s think of a way that we could use all of the words in a story. Each of you are to choose two vocabulary words that you like the best and tell why you are going to use them in your story. Make sure that use these words as if they were part of your individual lives. You are then to write a summary of what you have learned about the ocean from this book. You are the use the vocabulary words from the list in your summary. You are to make an illustration with labeling on it to go with your summary.

The vocabulary words are:

- explorers
- seafloor
- pilot
- submersible
- marine
- researchers
- creatures
- specimens,
- abyss
- trench

29. FANCY NANCY

Jeannie Rowland
Utah Reading First
Utah State Office of Education

Text Talk Lesson for: Fancy Nancy, (Jane O' Connor, 2006)
ISBN: 0-395-42331-7

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- frilly (discuss in context, if necessary)
- tiara (discuss in context, if necessary)
- ad
- accessories
- escort
- curtsy
- suggest

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- ad
- accessories
- suggest

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Show the cover and introduce the book. Set a purpose by asking the students if there was ever a time when they felt different from other people around them. What did they do about it? Did they try to convince others to change, did they change to be just like everyone else, or did they just remain different. Tell the students that they need to listen for how Nancy reacted to being different from her family.

There are no page numbers in this book. Consider the picture of Nancy's bed page 1.

Read aloud page 2

Show illustration

Read aloud pages 3 through 6

Talk about the format of some words being explained in the very next sentence. Ask students to give quick examples of the format. (Fuchsia is fancy for purple or plume is fancy for feather.)

Ask the students how Nancy is different from her family. Why doesn't Nancy's family understand her?

Show pages, pointing out frilly toothpicks and tiara on pages 5 and 6 if necessary.

Read aloud pages 7 through 10

What is Nancy trying to do? Why?

Show illustrations

Read aloud pages 11 through 14

The family seems to be trying to be like Nancy. Do you think her family is having fun? What part of the text gives you that idea?

Show illustrations

Read aloud pages 15 through 22

Why would the people at King's Crown think they are movie stars? Would you like to be in Nancy's family? Why or why not?

Show illustrations

Read aloud pages 23 and 24

What do you think happened when she slipped?

Show illustrations

Read aloud pages 25 and 26

Show illustrations

Read aloud pages 27 through 29

Refer back to purpose: How is Nancy different? Or is she?

What do you think will happen tomorrow?

Show illustrations

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: ad

1. Nancy wants to teach her family to be fancy, so she sticks an ad on the fridge.
2. An ad uses things like TV, magazines, radio, posters, etc. to draw attention to a product for sale or a service being offered. Also, ad is an abbreviation for advertisement.
3. Everyone say the word with me: ad
4. During some commercials on TV, an ad convinced me to buy my daughter the book they were selling. The ad in the magazine showed a picture of a beautiful sports car for sale. An ad on the radio may tell you about a company that is hiring people.
5. Tell us about an ad you have seen. You could start your sentence with, "I saw an ad that was selling _____" or "I heard an ad for _____."
6. What is the new word we are learning? ad

Target word: accessories

1. Nancy's family didn't have fancy clothes, so she brought them accessories.
2. Accessories are things such as a belt, a bag, or jewelry that aren't necessary, but makes something plain more attractive.
3. Everyone say the word with me: accessories
4. My favorite accessories are earrings and necklaces. Some people add accessories to their houses to make them look better, such as hanging artwork on the wall or displaying pictures of their family and friends.
5. Have you ever used accessories? You could begin your sentence with, "I use accessories when _____" or "Some accessories I have in my house or room are _____."
6. What's the new word? accessories

Target Word: suggest, s, ed

1. After dressing up their clothes with accessories, Nancy's dad suggests that they go to dinner at The King's Crown.
2. Suggest is to tell someone your idea of what to do or where to go.
3. Everyone say the word with me: suggest
4. My teacher suggests that I get my homework done if I want to earn a good grade. Her friend suggested that they walk to the park instead of the store.
5. Have you ever suggested that someone should do something or go somewhere? Start your sentence with "I suggested that we should go _____ because..." or "My mother always suggests _____."
6. What's the new word? suggest

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- You want to sell lemonade on the corner. ad or suggest
- Giving your friend an idea for his art project. accessories or suggest
- A girl wearing a hat, sunglasses, bracelet, and frilly socks. accessories or ad
- Wanting to watch a different movie than your friend. suggest or accessories

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- I read an ad in the newspaper about a sale at my favorite store. What other ads have you seen? (solicit responses using many media types)
- Tell us an occasion for which you'd need accessories. Explain your answer.
- Have you had a friend suggest that you do something different from what you wanted to do? Tell us about it.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- What would you suggest to a friend who is having trouble in math? Explain your answer.
- What are some accessories you can add to your computer?
- If you hung an ad to sell your bike, what information would you put on the poster?

Assess:

“Let's think about all three of our new words again: ad, accessories, suggest.”

- Which of these things would be an example of an ad—A radio commercial talking about buying a CD or playing a song from your favorite CD? Students who agree with the response will stand up; those who disagree will remain seated.
- Which of these things would be examples of accessories—The computer screen, keyboard and mouse or gaming software and headphones? Students who agree with the response will stand up; those who disagree will remain seated.
- Which of these things would be an example of suggest—Telling your little brother or sister to clean your room or giving your mom a hint about what you want for dinner? Students who agree with the response will stand up; those who disagree will remain seated.

30. FANCY NANCY AND THE POSH PUPPY

Jeannie Rowland
Utah Reading First
Utah State Office of Education

Text Talk Lesson for: Fancy Nancy and the Posh Puppy, (Jane O' Connor, 2007)
ISBN: 0-06-054213-9

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- beauty salon
- delicate
- groom (clean, brush an animal)
- responsible
- refreshments
- introduce
- terrified
- shelter (animal shelter)

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- delicate
- introduce
- responsible

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Show the cover and introduce the book. Set a purpose by asking the students to raise their hand if they have a pet. Ask those that don't if they've ever wanted a pet. Check their background knowledge on caring for a pet: Did they have to take care of the pet by themselves? Did their mom and dad tell them it would be hard? What did they do to take care of the pet? Tell the students that they need to listen to see how Nancy deals with getting a pet.

There are no page numbers in this book. Consider the picture of Nancy's bed page 1.

Read aloud pages 2 and 3

Show illustrations for 1 through 4

Read aloud pages 5 and 6

- If you have not read the first Fancy Nancy book, talk about the format of some words being explained in the very next sentence. Ask students to give quick examples of the format. (e.g., Posh is fancy for fancy.) This will require only a quick review if Fancy Nancy has already been read.
- Ask the students why they think Nancy wants a Papillion.

Read aloud pages 7 and 8

Show illustrations, quickly pointing out the dogs in the books.

Read aloud pages 9 and 10

What do you think will happen when Nancy puppy-sits?

Show illustrations

Read aloud pages 11 through 14

Ask the students if they think Nancy should have a Papillon. Ask them to explain their answer.

Show illustrations

Read aloud pages 15 through 20

Why do you think that Nancy thinks Jewel is perfect for Mrs. DeVine, but not for her family? Ask students to give details to support their answers.

Show illustrations

Read aloud page 22

Show illustration

Read aloud page 23

Briefly explain an animal shelter

Don't show illustration

Read aloud pages 24 through 26

Why is Frenchy perfect for Nancy's family? What makes you think that?

Show illustrations

Read aloud pages 27 through 29

Refer back to purpose: What did Nancy learn about having a pet?

Show illustrations

If you've read the previous Fancy Nancy, it might be fun to predict what her next adventure will be...*

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: delicate

7. Nancy's mom doesn't think a Papillon is a good pet for them because it is delicate.
8. Delicate means that something can be easily hurt or broken.
9. Everyone say the word with me: delicate
10. You must gently hold a newborn because it is delicate. A beautiful glass bowl is delicate, so you have to carry it very carefully.
11. Have you ever seen anything delicate break? You could start your sentence with, "A delicate _____ broke when _____" or "My sister got in trouble when she broke the delicate _____ because she was _____."
12. What is the new word we are learning? delicate

Target word: introduce, -ed

7. Nancy introduced Jewel to her doll, Marabelle.
8. To introduce means to tell two people each other's names for the first time.
9. Everyone say the word with me: introduce
10. When someone new comes to our class, we introduce ourselves when we tell them our name and they tell us theirs. When a friend comes to your house for the first time, you should introduce them to your parents.
11. Have you ever had to introduce someone? You could begin your sentence with, "I introduced _____ and _____ when _____" (Encourage extended sentences to check for understanding.)
12. What's the new word? introduce

Target Word: responsible

7. Nancy is responsible while taking care of Jewel.
8. Being responsible means that you are dependable and make good decisions.
9. Everyone say the word with me: responsible
10. You are responsible for bringing your homework to school. Your mom let's you have a pet because she knows you're responsible and will take care of it.
11. What are some things for which you are responsible? You might start your sentence with "I am responsible for _____"
12. What's the new word? responsible

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Two people have never met before. responsible or introduce
- Serving fruit and drinks at a wedding. delicate or responsible
- Will you tell me who your new friend is? introduce or delicate
- A tall, crystal vase. responsible or delicate

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Some people have delicate skin that will burn in the sun. What are other things that are delicate?
- Have you ever been introduced? Tell us about it.
- Tell us about ways you have been responsible. Explain your answer.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- What gifts could you give that are delicate? Explain your answer.
- Why would people introduce each other?
- If a neighbor asked you to be responsible for their yard while they went on vacation, what are some things you might do?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: delicate, introduce, responsible.”

- Which of these things would be an example of delicate—A mirror or a door? Students who agree with the response will point their thumbs up; those who disagree will point their thumbs down.
- Which of these things would be examples of introduce—Walking away when someone is mean to you or telling your friend and the new student’s names to each other at recess? Students who agree with the response will point their thumbs up; those who disagree will point their thumbs down.
- Which of these things would be an example of responsible—Taking the garbage out without being asked or letting your dog run away? Students who agree with the response will point their thumbs up; those who disagree will point their thumbs down.

Kim Gianelo
North Star Elementary
Salt Lake District

Text Talk Lesson for: Fireflies!, (Julie Brinckloe, 1985)
ISBN: 0689-71055-0

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- flicker
- cellar
- dulling
- soaring
- grasping
- thrust
- dimmer

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- flicker
- soaring
- thrust

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Briefly introduce the book: “As you listen to the story I want you to be thinking would you do the same thing the boy does at the end of the story? Why or why not?”

Read pages 1-3. Ask the children, “What’s happening in the story?” Discuss ‘fireflies’. Show illustration on page 3.

Read pages 4-6. Ask the children, “Now what’s he doing? Have you done something like this?”

Read page 7. Ask, “What did he just do?” Show illustration page 6-7.

Read pages 8-9. Ask the children, “What happened after he ran out the door?”

Read page 10. In the story it says, “My ears rang with crickets, and my eyes stung from staring too long.” “What is he describing? Have you been outside at night and experienced something like this?”

Read page 11 and show the illustration.

Read pages 12-15. Ask the children, “What do you think he will do with the fireflies that he caught? What would you do?” Show pages 14-15.

Read pages 16-19. Ask the children, “What did you picture in your mind?” Show illustrations on 18 and 19.

Read page 20. Ask the children, “Describe how he has been feeling so far in the book and give an example.”

Read page 21 and show the illustration.

Read page 22. In the book it says, “I tried to swallow, but something in my throat would not go down.” “What is he thinking and feeling here?”

Read 23 and show the illustration.

Read page 24. Ask the children, “What emotion is he feeling now? What do you think he will do? What would you do?”

Read page 25 and show the illustration.

Read pages 26-27 and show the illustrations.

Read the last page and ask, “What emotion is he feeling now?”

After finishing the book return to the initial question presented to the class: “Would you do the same thing that the boy does at the end of the story? Why or why not?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: flicker

1. “In the story, something flickered there . . .it flickered again, over near the fence.”
2. “Flicker means a quick moving light; to flutter; or if something moves unsteadily.
3. “Say the word with me: flicker.”
4. “The flame flickered in the wind. I saw a shadow flicker on the wall as I was walking through the haunted house. The light from the campfire flickered in the night.”
5. “Tell about something that you have seen flicker. Try to use flicker when you tell about it. You could start by saying something like “I saw a _____ flicker when I was _____.”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘flicker’

Target word: soaring

1. “The story says the fireflies were “. . . soaring high above my head, making circles around the moon, like stars dancing.”
2. “Soaring means to sail or hover in the air; to fly very high in the sky.”

3. "Say the word with me: soaring."
4. "When you go to the mountains look up in the sky, you might see a red tailed hawk soaring in the clouds. If you're in the desert you might see a turkey vulture soaring over the mesa searching for food."
5. "Tell about something that you have seen soaring in the sky. Try to use soaring when you tell about it. You could start by saying something like "I saw a _____ soaring in the _____."
6. "What's the word we've been talking about?" 'soaring'

Target word: thrust

1. "In the story the boy tells us, "I thrust my hand into the jar and spread it open."
2. "Thrust means to push something suddenly and hard."
3. "Say the word with me: thrust."
4. "When it's just before dinner and you want a cookie you might be thrusting your hand into the cookie jar before your mother catches you and tells you to put it back!" At your baseball game you need to thrust out your baseball glove to catch a ball fast."
5. "Tell about something that you have done when you thrust something hard and fast. Try to use thrust when you tell about it. You could start by saying something like "I thrust out my _____ to _____."
6. "What's the word we've been talking about?" 'thrust'

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If you had a fish on your fishing line would you need to thrust out the net or flicker out the net to catch it?
- On a dark and stormy night would the candlelight flicker on the wall or soar up into the sky?
- If you were catching fireflies would you be soaring out you hand to catch them or thrusting out your hand?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Show us how you would thrust out your hand to catch something and tell us what you are catching.
- Compare a lightening bolt to a candle and tell how they flicker.
- Show us how you would look if you were an eagle soaring over the Grand Canyon and tell us what you would see down below.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- If somebody is soaring in a plane what would you see when you look out the window?
- When you see a moth flickering close to a light bulb what does it do?
- How does a new shoot on a plant thrust itself through the soil as it grows?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: flicker, soaring, thrust.”

- Which of these would be a flickering flame – a light that goes out or a light that flutters back and forth?
- Which of these would be soaring in the sky – an eagle and a kite or a penguin and a seal?
- What means almost the same as thrust – poke or pull?

Susan Hardy
Edison Elementary
Salt Lake City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Friend Frog, (Alma Flor Ada, 2000)
ISBN: 0-15-201522-1

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- scurried
- noticed
- rustling
- ventured
- curious
- disappeared
- discouraged
- admiring
- extraordinary
- hesitate
- rose (sun)

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- noticed
- curious
- discouraged
- hesitate

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Briefly introduce the book: “Listen carefully to this story and think about the problem Field Mouse has in this story and how his problem is solved.” Do not show the cover.

Read pages 1-2. Ask the children, “What do you know about the setting of this story? Can you tell what time it is? What the season is? Where the story takes place? How is a field different from a forest?” Do not show the picture yet.

Read pages 3-4. Ask the children what they know about Field Mouse already. “Is it important to be able to share secrets with a friend?” Show the pictures from pages 1-4.

Read pages 5-6. “The text said ‘Field Mouse scurried on a bit.’ How does a mouse scurry? Can you make a rustling sound like the grass moving in the wind?” Show the picture. (noticed)

Show the picture on pages 7-8. “These plants are called ‘cattails.’ What are they and why do they have such a silly name? Listen to the story and tell me what you think Field Mouse is doing on the cattails.” (curious)

Read pages 9-10 and ask the children, “What did the text tell you about Frog? Would a frog make a better friend than a pebble or a stalk of grass? Tell me why you think so.” Show the picture.

Read pages 11-14, but do not show the pictures. “Frog said he would be friends with Field Mouse. What is the problem then that is worrying Field Mouse?” Has the setting of the story changed at all so far? How has the time of day changed? Has the season of the year changed? How do you know?” Now show the pictures from pages 11-14.

Read pages 15-18. “Does Field Mouse still want to be friends with Frog? Does Frog still want to be friends with Field Mouse? Tell me how you know.” Show the pictures. (discouraged)

Read pages 19-20. “Why do you think Field Mouse stayed hidden in the grass? What does the author tell us that Field Mouse wishes for?” (admiring)

Read pages 21-24. “Why did Frog jump into the pond? How do you think the author wants you to feel right now? What do you think Field Mouse and Frog are feeling?” Show the pictures from pages 21-24. (hesitate)

Read pages 25-28 showing the pictures as you read. “How does the story end? How did Field Mouse’s problem get solved?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: noticed

1. “In the story it says that Field Mouse noticed some tall grass swaying in the breeze.”
2. “If you noticed something you paid close attention to it.”
3. “Say the word with me: noticed.”
4. “I noticed that _____ was wearing her hair in a cute style today. I hope you noticed the word of the day this morning so you can tell me every time you hear it today. You might hope your mom noticed your homework and signed the paper so you could bring it back to school.”
5. “Tell me about something you noticed on your way to school today. What made you pay attention to it? Start your sentence by saying, ‘I noticed _____ on my way to school because _____.’”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘noticed’

Target word: curious

1. “In the story, Field Mouse suddenly hears a curious sound – croak, croak, croak.”
2. “If something is curious it is strange or unusual. In this story the croak, croak, croak was a curious sound Field Mouse had never heard before. Sometimes we say that a child is curious because they are learning new things all the time.”

3. "Say the word with me: curious."
4. "If you asked a lot of questions about a show you saw on Discovery Channel your dad might say you were curious. If you look in the fish tank at the doctor's office you might say there are several curious looking fish in there. When you go to bed at night you might hear a lot of curious noises that make you scared."
5. "Think of something curious you have seen or heard and describe it to me. Start your sentence, 'Once I saw/heard a curious _____.' Ask another student to tell why that might be curious."
6. "What's the word we have been talking about?" 'curious'

Target word: discouraged

1. "In the story, the author said Field Mouse couldn't swim. He was discouraged."
2. If someone loses hope about something they are discouraged. You might have been discouraged when you first tried to jump rope or ride a bike without training wheels."
3. "Say the word with me: discouraged."
4. "You might get discouraged if you can't reach your 'hot' timing goal after two or three tries. Your parents might get discouraged if they can't pay all their bills on time. The principal might get discouraged if kids keep running in the hallways after they have been told not to."
5. "Tell me about a time you got discouraged and how that made you feel. Start out by saying, 'I get discouraged when _____. That makes me feel _____ because _____.'"
6. "What's the word we've been talking about?" 'discouraged'

Target word: hesitate

1. "In the story, when Field Mouse told Frog to jump into the pond, Frog did not hesitate."
2. "Hesitate means to stop, wait, or hold back."
3. "Say the word with me: hesitate."
4. "You might hesitate before you go out the door in the morning to check the weather, so you know if you need to wear a coat. Someone might say you did not hesitate when you heard the ice cream truck. That means you did not stop or wait for your mom, you just ran outside to get some ice cream. If you have to answer a question in class you are not sure of, you might hesitate and think about the answer."

5. “Think of something that might make you hesitate. Start your sentence by saying, ‘I would hesitate if _____.’ Now think of something you would not hesitate to do right away.”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘hesitate’

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Seeing a spider crossing the floor: noticed or discouraged. Why?
- A blue frog at the zoo: noticed or curious. Why?
- Getting 5 words wrong on a spelling test even though you practiced: hesitate or discouraged. Why?
- Looking both ways before you cross the street: hesitate or curious. Why?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- When you notice something, what do you do? Why do you notice things?
- What make some animals look curious? Why do you think that is so?
- Tell about a time when you were discouraged about something.
- What might make you hesitate? Why?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Tell me about something that you might notice at the park. Why do you think you would notice that?
- Tell me about an animal that you think is curious. What makes it so curious to you? If you could invent a new animal that was curious, what would it look like? Why would people think it was so curious looking?
- What would you do if your friend was discouraged about something?
- If your friend asked you to do something you did not want to do you might hesitate before you said “yes” or “no.” What kinds of things would you hesitate to do with your friends? What would you not hesitate at all to do with them?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all four of our new words again: noticed, curious, discouraged, and hesitate.”

- Which of these things would you be more likely to notice – a duck in a duck pond or a white swan in a duck pond? Students who agree to the response will do thumbs up; those who disagree will do thumbs down.
- Which of these is curious – a hairless cat or a fluffy, white cat? Students who agree to the response will do thumbs up; those who disagree will do thumbs down.
- When would you be discouraged – when you got 100% on your spelling test or when you lost a soccer game? Students who agree to the response will do thumbs up; those who disagree will do thumbs down.
- When would you hesitate – when you came to a crosswalk or when your mom calls you for dinner? Students who agree to the response will do thumbs up; those who disagree will do thumbs down.

Fran Hall
Bonneville Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for Friends, (Helme Heine, 1982)

ISBN: 0-689-71083-6

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- strutted
- together
- roughest
- steepest
- rumbled
- complained
- enough
- discovered
- decide
- frightened
- true

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- bold
- conquered
- unfair

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

1-2 Read Page

How have Charlie, Johnny and Percy been good friends already this day?
Where do you think they might go on their morning ride?
Show Illustration

3-4 Read

How do you think Charlie, Johnny and Percy feel? Why?
Show Illustration

5-6 Read

How do you play hid and seek?
Show Illustration

7-8 Read

How have the animals been good friends in their play?
Show Illustration

9-10 Read

Could any of the animals have sailed the boat by themselves?
Why? Why Not?
Show Illustration

11-12 Read and show illustration at same time (bold)(conquered)

13-14 Read and show illustration at same time

How are the friends working together to catch a fish? (unfair)

15-16 Read

How have the friends been fair?

Show Illustration

17-18 Read and show illustration

19-20 Read and show illustration

21-22 Read and show illustration

23-24 Read

Why do the friends want to sleep together?

Show Illustration

25-26 Read and show illustration

27-28 Read and show illustration

Why are Charlie, Johnny and Percy true friends?

Keynote: Use lots of partner discussion during this part of the lesson.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: bold

1. "In the story it says, they sailed out on the open water, and as the day went on, they felt very brave and bold."
2. "If you say that someone is bold, you mean daring, courageous, he or she could do anything."
3. "Say the word with me: bold."
4. "The new student in our class made a new friend. You could say that he was bold. It was bold to tell the truth to your mother after you broke the vase."
5. "Tell me how you can be bold." (Get examples of bold)
6. "What's the word we've been talking about? bold"

Target word: conquered

1. "In the story the characters are playing pirates. They conquered the village pond!"
2. "If you say that something conquered you mean it overcame, defeated, or overpowered someone or something."
3. "Let's say the word aloud: conquered."

4. If you won a race against a champion, you could say, “I conquered the champion.”
5. If you learned to read a book all by yourself, you could say, “I conquered the book. The first time they crossed a street by themselves – They conquered the street. The first time riding your bike without help – I conquered riding my bike.
6. “What’s the word we are learning? conquered.”

Target word: unfair

1. “Johnny Mouse didn’t mind, but Charlie Rooster complained. He said it was unfair. So they gave him Cherry stones.”
2. “If you say that something is unfair you mean it’s not just, not nice, or not equal.”
3. “Let’s say the word aloud: unfair.”
4. “It was unfair that the girls got the treat and not the boys, when the boys were just as good. It was unfair that my sister got a new dress and not me. It was unfair that their brother got a new toy and they didn’t. It was unfair they got in trouble for something they didn’t do.”
5. “What’s the word we are learning? unfair.”

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- The bully beat up the kid. Is that bold or unfair? Why?
- The student usually misses several words on his spelling test. This week he got 100%. Does this mean he conquered or was it unfair?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Is your mother bold when she tries to catch your tossed ball?
- How could you conquer your fears about swimming in a pool?
- What do you do when a friend plays unfair in the ball game?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Which sentence is right?
I conquered the rule about no talking in line. I was quiet.
I conquered my fear of swimming by not swimming in the pool.
- Which one of these is an example of unfair?
The class won the race.
The class lost the race because someone on the other team cheated.
The other team won the race.
- Which of these shows something bold?

The boy hid behind his bed so he wouldn't get in trouble.
The student turned his unfinished project into the teacher late.

Assess:

Let's think about all three of our new words again. bold, unfair, conquered.

Match the definition of the word with the word card. Use sentence strips and word cards—can do with whole, small, or individual students.

Bold	Daring Brave Can Do Anything
Unfair	Unequal Not Nice Not Just
Conquered	Overcome Surmount Win

34. THE GARDENER

Sandi Barber-Baker
Bonneville Elementary School
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Gardener, (Sarah Stewart, 1997)
ISBN: 0-374-32517-0

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- important
- gardening
- recognizing
- mustache
- doze
- catalogues
- knead
- discovered
- imagine
- sprouting
- sprucing
- survived
- retire

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- important
- recognizing
- discovered

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

(The pages are not numbered so consider page one as the page right after the title page.)

Day 1

Begin reading the Gardner by Sarah Stewart with a brief introduction. This story takes place during the Depression. The Depression was a time in our country when many people were out of work. It was a time of sadness for many people. Decisions were made such as moving to a new place or sending children to live with relatives. This was so they would be taken care of. There would be enough food and other necessities to take care of the children. This was however, temporary. When the family could again take care of the children's needs, the children rejoined the family.

Each page of the story is written in letter form. Show the students what this means by showing page 1.

Read page 1

Ask: Lydia writes to her Uncle Jim and tells him she coming to live with him until things get better. Why are things so bad?

They all felt very sad. Why do you think the family is feeling sad?

Read pages 2 and 3

Ask: The letter says she will recognize Uncle Jim because he has mama's face with a big nose and a mustache. Why do you think that is?

Show the picture on pages 4 and 5.

Ask: How do you feel about this picture?

Why do you think the illustrator used only black and white for the picture except for Lydia herself?

What do you feel when you look at this picture?

Have you ever been to a big, unfamiliar place that was almost scary?

What do you think Lydia is feeling and thinking?

Read page 6

Lydia has arrived at Uncle Jim's Bakery. She writes to grandma that she has found window boxes that looked as if they were waiting for her. Explain what a window box is and ask:

Do you think Lydia is going to be happy living with Uncle Jim?

Why do you think this? Answer should contain evidence.

Day 2

Review what was read on Day 1 as a retell in teams.

Read page 7

Lydia wrote a long poem for Uncle Jim for Christmas. She said he didn't smile but she thought he liked it. Why did Lydia think he liked it even though he didn't smile.

Read pages 8 and 9

Ask: Lydia has found a secret place. She is using all kinds of pans and cups. She is filling them with dirt from the vacant lot. What do you think she is doing?

Ask: What do you think that secret place is? Show the picture after the responses.

Show the picture on page 10 and 11.

Ask: What could Lydia be doing on the roof?

Read pages 12 and 13

Ask: Why did grandma send Lydia baby plants or seedlings and dirt from home?

Read page 14

Why are some of the neighbors calling Lydia "the gardener"?

Day 3

Do a retell from Day 2 as partners

Read page 14

Ask: The secret place is ready. What do you think the secret place is now?

Ask: Why will they be bringing Uncle Jim up to the roof?

Show the picture on pages 15 and 16

Ask: Was the secret place what we thought it was?

Read page 17

Ask: Why did Lydia feel the cake was worth a thousand smiles?

Show the picture on page 18 and 19

Ask: What is going on in this picture?

Ask: How does Uncle Jim really feel about Lydia? How do you know?

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: important

1. I forgot to tell you in the last letter three important things that I'm too shy to say to your face.
2. Important means special or out of the ordinary, having great consequence, serious
3. Ask the children to repeat the word important.
4. The important thing to remember is that you must wear a coat when it is cold outside. You are important in our class. Studying your spelling words is important because you will get a better grade if you do.
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word. (If children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did.) "It is very important to _____ when you are going to take a test on Friday."
6. Have the children repeat the word important.

Target word: recognizing

1. I haven't forgotten what you said about recognizing Uncle Jim: "Just look for mama's face with a big nose and a mustache!"
2. Recognize means to be able to identify something by what is known.
3. Ask the children to repeat the word recognize.
4. I could recognize my soccer ball by having written my name on it. The teacher said I would recognize the spelling word when I saw it again, because I had learned it so well. I recognized my best friend by his laugh even though I could not see him.
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word. Mr. Jones recognized his dog when he saw his _____ on a lost and found poster.
6. Have the children repeat the word recognized.

Target word: discovered

1. I've discovered a secret place.
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms: to see, to find, to learn for the first time
3. Ask the children to repeat the word recognized.
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story. I discovered a nest in the big oak tree out in the backyard. I discovered I liked cottage cheese after I ate some. My teacher helped our class discover how water becomes a gas by an experiment we did in Science class.
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word. I was so surprised when I discovered _____ in the basement.
6. Have the children repeat the word discovered.

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If you found some new kittens with their mother in your garage, did you recognize them or did you discover them?
- If you feel you must study for the math test, the math test is important or discovered?
- You know the assignment is yours even though you forgot your name because you important or recognize your handwriting.

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- The word recognize means what?
- The word discover means what?
- The word important means what?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- What would be something you would recognize?
- Give an example of something you have discovered.
- List three things you feel are important and share them with your partner.

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: recognized, discovered, important.”

- The word important means: found or serious
- The word discovered means: able to identify or to learn for the first time
- The word recognized means: to identify or to find

Lori Gammon
Dee Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Gem (Emma Kallok, 2001)
ISBN: 1-58246-027-2

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- silky
- impatient
- lopsided
- oozy
- mosey
- whirls
- hypnotized
- bursts
- sways
- glowing
- wailing
- sun-scrubbed
(teach in context w/picture)
- bulges
- gaze

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- impatient
- sways
- glowing

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Briefly introduce the book: “Listen to this story about a young girl. As you are listening, think about what she is thinking and feeling while waiting for something special to happen.

Read aloud page one and two. Ask the children, “Why do you think the girl can’t sleep?” Show the picture.

Read the next page. After reading the page, show the picture w the illustration. Talk about “sun-scrubbed” through the context of the text and the picture. Continue reading the next page. Ask: “Why does ma look happy?” “Why can she only sleep in a rocking chair?”

Read the next page. Show the children the illustration after. Ask: “Why is she impatient?”

Read the next page and show the picture. “Who is Bluesy?” “What instrument does he play?”

Read the next page. Discuss the words “lopsided” and “oozy.” Ask: “How can pancakes be lopsided and oozy?”

Read the next page and show the picture of the girl and Bluesy. Continue reading the next page. Model the way that Bluesy would talk. Ask: “What did Bluesy call gems?”

Continue to read the next 2 pages. Show the illustration after reading. Ask: “Who does dad say are his two favorite people?”

Read the next page showing the illustration after. Ask: “What does dad do to the girl?”

Continue to read the story. “What does it mean to be hypnotized?” “What instrument is Bluesy playing?”

Read the next two pages. Show the illustrations after reading. Ask: “Where are they going?” “Why?”

Simultaneously read aloud and show the illustrations for the next two pages. “Why does ma sway down the hall?”

Read the next two pages and show the pictures. “How does Dad feel?” “What does the author do to make you think that?”

Simultaneously read aloud the next two pages. “Why does it say that ma is glowing and the baby is wailing?”

Read the last few pages of the story. “How does the young girl feel now?” “What is her sisters name?”

Read the last page of the book. Show the illustration after reading. “Can music slip around us?” “How?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: impatient

1. “In the story, the author says that all the little girl is impatient.”
2. “If you say that someone is impatient it means they are bothered for having to wait for something or someone.:
3. “Say the word with me: .
4. “Someone would be impatient if they had to wait for lunch and they were in the back of the line.” “Some children may be impatient waiting for Christmas to come so they could open up their presents.”
5. “Now think of a time when you were impatient. Start your sentence with, “I was impatient when I _____,””
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘impatient’

Target word: sway(s)

1. "In the story, Ma leans on Daddy as she sways down the hall."
2. "Sways means that something is moving back and forth like a swing."
3. "Say the word with me: sways."
4. "When you see a tree moving in the breeze, you would say that it sways."
"When I was on the roller coaster, I felt it sway back and forth."
5. "Now you think of something that could sway. Begin your sentence with, "I saw _____ sway....."
6. "What's the word we've been talking about?" sways

Target word: glowing

1. "In the story, the author wrote, "Ma looks tired and happy, her face glowing."
2. Glowing means that someone is very happy."
3. "Say the word with me: glowing."
4. "When she opened her birthday present, she was glowing."
5. "Can you think of a time when you might have been glowing?" Start your sentence with, "I was glowing when....."
6. "What's the word we've been talking about?" glowing

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If you got a present you really wanted would you be glowing or impatient?
- If you got off a roller coaster that went really fast, would you sway or would you be impatient?
- If you had to stand in line for a very long time would you be impatient or would you sway?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell me about something that would make you impatient.
- Have you ever seen someone who was glowing? Tell us about it.
- Did you ever feel like you had to sway? Explain.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- When you are glowing, how do you feel?
- When I was little I was impatient waiting for Christmas. At what other times would you be impatient?
- The dress sways in the wind. What else might sway in the wind?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: impatient, glowing, sway”

- Which of this is to be impatient? Waiting in line a long time or being first in line?
- Which definition would be glowing? Being very happy or being very sad?
- When something sways it would move back and forth. What is something else that could sway?

36. GETTING TO KNOW THE WORLD'S GREATEST ARTISTS: DIEGO RIVERA

Ursula Martinez Olivo
Lewis Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Getting to Know the World's Greatest Artists: Diego Rivera, (Children's Press, 1994)
ISBN: 0-516-42299-5

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- | | | |
|------------------------------|--------------------------|-----------------|
| • academy | • cubist | • mechanical |
| • ancient | • design | • murals |
| • architect,
architecture | • engineer | • plaster |
| • artwork | • fresco | • poisonous |
| • canvas | • inventions | • revolutionary |
| • ceremony | • machines, machinery | • sculptor |
| • | | |

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- architect, architecture
- canvas
- design, designer
- mural, murals

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

One of my favorite artists is Diego Rivera. I love his paintings because they were not created for the wealthy to see in art galleries, but for the common people of Mexico and throughout the world.

(Read pages 3-6)

How did Diego make it easier for a lot of people to see his artwork?"

(Read pages 8-11)

"When Diego was a young boy, he would draw all kinds of things like new inventions and mechanical parts. Why did his father cover an entire room with canvas?"

(Read pages 10-15)

"Jose Posada was an artist and printer when Diego was going to school in Mexico. How did Posada affect Diego and his artwork many years later?"

(Read page 16-19)

“Diego learned more and more about artists and about making art when he studied in Europe. He learned about different styles of art, but when he went to Italy he saw fresco paintings. Why do you think this changed the way he would paint? When he returned to Mexico who were the paintings created for?”

(Read pages 20-25)

“Other artists decided to paint the same way as Diego. How do you think this has changed the way Mexico looks and feels? Why were people sometimes angry with Diego’s paintings?”

(Read pages 26-29)

“In his murals, how are machines more like animals? How are the people in his murals more like machines? Why do you think he would paint like this?”

(Read pages 30-32)

“Why was it important that Diego worked with a lot of designers and architects when he painted his murals?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: architect (-s, -ure)

1. “Diego painted many important people in his murals, but he also painted the people that helped to design buildings, like architects.”
2. “An architect is someone who draws the plans for a building with all the measurements. They design all kinds of buildings from small houses to tall skyscrapers.”
3. “Repeat the word after me, ‘architect.’ ”
4. “An architect needs to have special drawing skills to draw buildings. The architecture of a building can be very simple or very elaborate and decorative.
5. “What kinds of things do you think an architect would design? Answer ‘yes’ or ‘no’ to any of the following:”
 - a playground
 - a new school
 - a comic book
 - an apartment building
 - a car
6. “What is the word we’ve been talking about? Architect.”

Target word: canvas

1. “When Diego was a boy, his father covered an entire room for him with canvas because he was always painting and drawing on the walls. Most artists paint on a canvas or other surface that they have permission to draw on.”
2. “A canvas is a heavy, thick material that can be stretched over a frame to paint on. The thickness of the canvas gives an artist a good surface to apply thick coats of paint without being too thin to wear out.”
3. “Repeat the word after me, ‘canvas.’”
4. “When you visit an art museum and see paintings on the walls, they are usually painted on a canvas. The material canvas can also be used to make other things that are durable or strong. Canvas can also be used to make tents, tennis shoes, or book bags.”
5. “What other things do you think could be made from canvas material? Answer ‘yes’ or ‘no’”
 - a bathing suit
 - a wedding dress
 - a hat
 - a beach towel
 - a jacket
6. “Which word did we just talk about? ‘Canvas’”

Target word: design (-s, -er)

1. “It was important for Diego to draw a mural that fit into the design of the architecture of a building. That is why he always talked to other artists, designers, and architects.” The design needed to be just right before he painted it.”
2. “A designer is someone who creates something that is beautiful and also sometimes useful. They draw, paint, build, or weave designs for many things like sport cars, clothing, and many other things. Almost everything in your house was designed by an artist or draftsman.”
3. “Let’s say the word together. Ready? ‘Design.’”
4. “Designs can be drawn on paper or painted on a canvas. Murals have colorful designs that can fill an entire wall. Sometimes designs are used to create furniture or other things that are both useful and beautiful.”
5. “If you were to create a new type of car, what things would you include in your design? Start by saying, “I would design a car that _____ because _____.”
6. “Let’s repeat the word one last time, ‘design.’”

Target word: mural (-s, -ism, -ist)

1. “Diego must have had an early interest in drawing murals as his father covered the walls of a room with canvas to paint and draw on. After seeing fresco paintings on many walls in Europe, he was destined to become one of Mexico’s greatest muralists.”
2. “Murals are special paintings on walls that are sometimes painted while the plaster is still wet. The paint actually becomes part of the wall as it seeps into the wall. Murals often tell stories of the people who are part of the community where they are painted.”
3. “Say the word ‘mural.’”
4. “Many artists have painted murals on walls for thousands of years. Some of the earliest murals can still be seen on small islands near Greece and Italy. Murals tell stories. Murals are beautiful. Muralism is a form of artwork that is very old.
5. “If you were going to paint a mural what kinds of tools and other supplies do you think you would need before you started? Answer ‘yes’ or ‘no’ if you need these tools and supplies to paint a mural:
 - a ladder
 - different colors of paint
 - a hammer and nails
 - paint brushes
 - a mop and bucket
6. “One last time, let’s say the word mural together. ‘Mural.’”

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- “Would you paint on a mural or on an architect?”
- “Do you design or canvas a painting for a wall?”
- “A painting on a wall is a canvas or a mural?”
- “Which person draws plans for a building, an architect or a designer?”

Maintain all the words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- “When you are designing a work of art, why would you sometimes need to work with other artists or architects?”
- “What can canvas be used for other than painting?”
- “What would an architect be most interested in drawing?”
- “Why would someone want to paint a mural on a wall?”

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- “If you were going to paint a mural what would you choose to paint in it?”
- “Have you ever been inside a building where you really liked the architecture?”
- “Would you ever like to try painting on a canvas? Tell me why.”
- “If you designed a new machine, what would it be used for?”

Assess:

“Let’s think about all of our new words again: architect, canvas, design, and mural?”

- “Where would you find a mural, in a grocery store or at a neighborhood park?”
- “Would an architect draw t-shirts or bridges that stretch across a river?”
- “Would an artist design a photograph or an advertisement in a magazine?”
- Would a canvas be used by an artist or a deep sea diver?”

37. THE GHOST-EYE TREE

Margie Ikeda
Edison Elementary
Salt Lake School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Ghost-Eye Tree, (Martin & Archambault, 1985)
ISBN: 0-8050-0208-1

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- autumn
- dreaded/ dread
- mind runs free
- halfway
- muttering
- gasping
- haunted
- flash
- tough
- pretending

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- dread / dreaded
- halfway
- mutter / muttering

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Briefly introduce the book: “Have you ever been afraid of something in the dark, but when you saw it in the daytime, it wasn’t so scary?” “I am going to read you a story about a brother and sister. I want you to listen and see if you can discover what might be frightening them.”

Read page one. Show the children the picture. Ask the children, “The mama asked the children to go to the end of town for a bucket of milk. How is that different from what your parents might ask of you?” “How can you tell that this story might take place in the past?”

Read the last paragraph of page one again. “What do you think the author meant when he said the mind runs free?” “Can you think of a time where your mind ran free?” “How do you think the boy was feeling?” “How do you know?” Show pictures.

Read the next page. “How do think the brother and sister feel about each other?” “Do you think that that is the way most siblings speak to each other?” Show the students the picture.

Read the next page. “Where do the children have to go to get their milk?” “How are they going to get there?” “What is something that they have to walk by that might make them a little frightened?” “Why would they be afraid of that?” Show the students the picture.

Read the next page. “What did the children think was in the tree?” “After they passed the tree, how did the children feel?” “Why were they relieved?” Show them the picture.

Read the next page. “Why do you think the boy was trying to make himself look tough?” “How did he do that?” “What are some things you might do to try and make yourself look tougher?” Show them the picture.

Read the next page and show them the picture. “How does the place where the children are getting their milk differ from where you might get your milk?”

Read the next page. “How do you think the brother felt after what Mr. Cowlander was saying to him about his hat?” “Why do you think the brother felt that way?” “Did the sister’s comments make him feel any better?” Reread the section, if needed. Show the picture.

Before reading the next page, ask: “Now that the children have their bucket of milk, what do you think might be running through their head?” “What do you think they might be thinking of?” Read the page then show the picture.

Read the next page. “The children said that the Ghost-Eye tree turned its head and looked at them. They also said that that the tree shook its arms are reached for them. How could a tree do that? Do you think it really did that, or do you think it might be their imaginations playing a trick on them?” Show the picture.

Turn to the next page and show them the picture (there are no words). “How would you feel about walking at night past a tree that looked like that?” “Do you think the children in the book are going to feel the same way that you do?” “What would you do if you were the children and you came across the Ghost-Eye tree?” “What do you think the children are going to do?”

Turn to the next page and read it to them. “What did the children do as they approached the tree?” “What happened to the milk in their bucket if they ran past the tree?” Show them the pictures.

Turn to the next page. Show them the pictures and read the page. “How is the sister treating the brother now?” “Has her attitude toward him and his hat changed since the beginning of the book?” “How has it changed?”

Read the next page. “What did the sister do for the brother?” “Do you think she was worried about going back to the tree?” Show the pictures.

Read the next page and then show the picture. “Why do you think the sister’s attitude toward the brother’s hat changed again?” “Does that usually happen between brothers and sisters?”

Read the next page. “What do you think the brother is going to do when his mom asks him to go get some milk for her the next time?” “Why do you think he is going to do that?” “Do you think the brother really believes there are ghosts in the tree?” “Do you think he will go past the tree in the day time?” “Why?” Show the picture.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: dread (dreaded)

1. “In the story it says, ‘Oooo... I dreaded to go... I dreaded the tree... Why does Mama always choose me when the night is so dark and the mind runs free?’
2. “To dread something means that you do not want to do something. In this story, the boy dreaded going to the town. He also dreaded the tree. That means that he didn’t really didn’t want to go to the town. He didn’t want to see the tree. When people dread something, it is usually something scary or bad and they do not want to do that thing.
3. “Say the word with me: dread.”
4. “I could say I dread going to the dentist because I might be afraid of getting my tooth pulled. Or, I could say that I dreaded school because I didn’t do my homework. I dreaded school because I was afraid I would get in trouble for not doing my homework.”
5. “Tell me something that you might dread. Try and use the word dread when you tell about it. You could start by saying, ‘I dread _____ because _____.’
6. “What is the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘dread’

Target word: halfway

1. “In this story, the boy described walking to the town to get milk. He said, ‘walking the road to the end of the town... for the halfway tree... the Ghost-Eye tree was feared by all...’
2. “Halfway describes the place that is right in the middle of two places.” Draw an illustration on the board of a road. Draw two houses, one on each side of the road. Draw a tree halfway between the two houses. “This tree is halfway between the two houses.” Do another example with items in the classroom. For example: “_____’s desk is halfway between the windows and our door.”
3. “Say the word with me: halfway.”
4. “Now I want you to think of something that might be halfway between two other things.” Make sure you use the word halfway when you share your idea. You could say, “The _____ is halfway between the _____ and _____.”
5. “What is our new word? Halfway.”

Target word: mutter (muttering/ muttered)

1. “In the book the sister told her brother, ‘You were muttering to yourself.”
2. To mutter something is to say something in a low voice so that other people cannot hear you very well. Sometimes when I get mad at someone, I want them say something to them, but I don’t really want them to hear it, so I will mutter the words. That means I say it quietly so that the other person can’t really hear what I am saying.” Say something to the class muttering the words, after say, “I am muttering the words.”
3. “Let’s all say our word together: mutter.”
4. “Now I want you to turn to a partner and mutter something to them. Then I want you to say, ‘I was muttering the words_____.”
5. “What is our new word? Mutter.”

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If your teacher gave you a lot of hard homework, would you dread it or would you mutter words to someone? Why?
- If your house was in between the school and the park, would it be halfway or would you dread it?
- If you were talking to your friend in a low voice, would you dread her it or would you be muttering to her?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- If you dreaded cleaning your bedroom, how would you be feeling? Why?
- If I was muttering to you, would you be able to understand what I am saying? Why or why not? Give me an example.
- Our classroom is halfway between which two places? Why is it halfway?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks or related words.

- What are some things that you dread doing?
- Why might you mutter something to someone else?
- Can you think of something that is halfway between two other things?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: dread, mutter, halfway.”

- What might be something you would dread- eating worms or eating ice cream?
- What is halfway between the lunchroom and the office- the restrooms or the library?
- I am going to say two sentences, tell me which one I am muttering (say two sentences, muttering one and saying one clearly).

38. THE GIANT JAM SANDWICH

Janice Jenkins
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Test Talk Lesson for: The Giant Jam Sandwich, (John Vernon Lord, 1972)
ISBN: 0-395-16033-2

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- nuisance
- suggestion
- clever
- squealed
- spoil

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction

- nuisance
- suggestion
- clever

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension

Before reading I showed my class the title and front of the book. I asked them to predict what the story would be about. They said a giant, a giant sandwich, an avalanche of jelly, a river of jelly, a sandwich people eat, etc.

Page:

- | | |
|-------|---|
| 7-9 | Read pages
Show illustrations and point out <ul style="list-style-type: none">• wasps |
| 10-12 | Read pages
Show illustrations <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Ask – What is the problem the town is having?• What do wasps like to eat? |
| 13-15 | Read pages
Show illustrations and point out <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Bap the Baker giving instructions• The people mixing the dough• Ask – why are they making dough? |
| 15-19 | Read pages
Show illustrations |
| 20-23 | Read pages
Show illustrations |

- Why are they slicing the bread?
 - How would the village bus spoil the fields of Farmer Seed?
- 24-27 Read pages
Show illustrations
- Predict what will happen next
- 28 Read the first two lines
- Ask – what is coming?
- 28-29 Read pages
- Talk about predictions - were our predictions right?
- Show illustrations
- 29 Read page
Show illustrations
- 30 Read the first sentence
- Predict what happened to the sandwich
 - Draw a picture of your prediction (guided imagery)
- Finish reading page
Show illustration
- Discuss predictions

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target Word: nuisance

1. Story Context: In the story, the author says “and the noisy, nasty nuisance grew...”
2. Definition: A person, thing or action that bothers someone else
3. Repeat the word: Ask the children to repeat the word to create a phonological representation of the word
4. Examples
 - My shoe keeps coming untied. It is a nuisance to keep tying it.
 - Doing chores is a nuisance
5. Student Examples
 - I was a nuisance when the babysitter was at my house.
 - Kids who run in the hall are a nuisance.
6. Use the word
 - I asked for thumbs up if the example I was going to give was a good example of nuisance.
-I went to the playground.

- Someone tracked rocks into the classroom from the playground.
- My little brother screams all the time.

- Write the word on the board and have students use it throughout the day in their vocabulary and writing.

Target Word: suggestion

1. Story Context: In the story the village was having a meeting. They were trying to figure out what to do. The author said "...But nobody had a good suggestion..."
2. Definition: To offer an idea or give something to think about
3. Repeat the word: Ask the children to repeat the word to create a phonological representation of the word
4. Examples
 - Let me make a suggestion on how we can clean up faster.
 - Does anyone have a suggestion of what we can do at recess?
5. Student examples
 - I have a suggestion of what we can do for math.
 - I gave my mom a suggestion of treats when she went to the store.
6. Use the word
 - Thumbs up if you think the examples I'm going to give you is a good example of suggestion.
 - I went to school
 - My mom thought it was a good idea for me to clean my room
 - Write the word on the board and have students use it throughout the day in their vocabulary and writing.

Target Word: clever

1. Story Context: In the text the town people were proud of their accomplishment. They said, "Isn't it crusty, aren't we clever!"
2. Definition: Somebody showing knowledge and skill. You are bright and alert.
3. Repeat the word: Ask the children to repeat the word to create a phonological representation of the word
4. Examples
 - My brother is very clever when he wants something
 - I am clever when it comes to art.
5. Student Examples
 - I thought I was clever when I snuck out of my room.

- I ate two cookies before dinner, so I was clever.
- I am clever.

6. Use the word

- Thumbs up if the example I give is a good example of clever.
-I like reading.
-I am really good at drawing pictures.
- Write the word on the board and have students use it throughout the day in their vocabulary and writing.

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples of explanations

- Tell me about a time when you were a nuisance?
- Give me a good suggestion?
- Have you ever had a clever idea?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words

- How would you know if you had a clever idea?
- Why would you be a nuisance?
- We are going to the store to get a treat. What would you like? Give me a good suggestion?

Assessment

Let's think about all three of our new words again: nuisance, clever, suggestion.

Ask students to complete the following sentences.

- I was a nuisance when I _____.
- The teacher asked us for a suggestion when the _____.
- Susan was clever when she _____.

Ask students to respond to each sentence. Students who agree with the responses given can raise their thumb; those who disagree with point their thumbs down.

39. GOLDILOCKS RETURNS

Roxanne Slaugh
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Goldilocks Returns, (Lisa Campbell Ernst, 2001)
ISBN: 0-439-28598-4

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- snarled
- naughty
- snooping
- dreadful
- horrid
- snoops
- haunted
- mere
- sobbed
- wits
- unsuspecting
- adjusted
- finicky
- squealing
- screeched
- cozy
- crept
- laden
- delighted
- crooned
- spruce (clean up)
- stunning
- burst
- ghastly
- glorious
- admire
- dozed
- gasped
- deeds
- awkwardly
- bellowed

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- finicky
- laden
- stunning
- ghastly

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read pages 1-4. Show the illustrations.

Ask: “Why do you think she zoomed off towards the deep dark woods?”

Read pages 5-6. Show the illustrations.

Ask: “What do you think is going to happen?”

Read pages 7-12. Show the illustrations.

Ask: “Why was Goldie feeling better?”

(laden—8, stunning—9, ghastly--12)

Read to the middle of page 13. Show the illustrations.

Ask: “What do you think will happen next?” (finicky)

Read pages 13-20. Show the illustrations and discuss them.

Ask: “How would you feel if you came home and your house was decorated with pom-poms?” “Why was Baby Bear so upset about his chair being a chair again?”

“What will the bears find upstairs?”

Read pages 21-22. Show the illustrations as you read. Validated past predictions.

Ask: “Why did the bears know where to look when they went into the bedroom?”

Predict what will happen next.

Read pages 23-24. Show the illustrations and talk about the incorrect predictions from the other pages.

Ask: “Do the bears really appreciate what Goldie had done?”

Read pages 25-26. Show the illustrations.

Ask: “Why weren’t the bears able to sleep that night?”

Read the page 27-28. Show the illustrations.

Ask: “How do you think the story will end?”

Read pages 29-32.

Ask: “When they saw the other little girl going toward their house, why did they continue on their walk?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: laden

1. In the story the author says “the bears door was laden with the finest of locking hardware.”
2. If something is laden it has a lot of things on it.
3. Everyone repeat the word with me: laden
4. If you have a pile of books on your desk, your desk is laden with books. Sometimes students feel like they are laden with homework.
5. Can you give an example of something that could be laden?
6. What’s the new word? laden

Target word: stunning

1. In the story the author says, “now to spruce this place up a little,” Goldie announced, pulling out three bolts of pom-pom fringe and her staple gun. The results were stunning.
2. If something is stunning it is beautiful or really nice to look at.
3. Everyone repeat the word: stunning

4. If you were going to a ball in a gown or suit you would probably look stunning. If our classroom is nice, neat, and clean it is stunning.
5. Think of a time when you looked stunning. Tell us about it.
6. What is the new word we are learning? Stunning

Target word: ghastly

1. In the story the author writes, “now to fix those other ghastly chairs.”
2. If something is ghastly it could be ugly or disgusting.
3. Repeat the word with me. Ghastly
4. Someone with a big black eye is ghastly. If your mom walked into your messy bedroom she might say it looks ghastly.
5. Can you think of something that is ghastly?
6. What’s the new word? ghastly

Target word: finicky

1. In the story the author writes, “and before you could say Rip Van Winkle, she had adjusted the stuffings to her finicky liking.”
2. If someone is finicky they like things a certain way.
3. Repeat the word with me. Finicky
4. Nick is finicky about the way his desk looks inside. My teacher is finicky about how students walk down the hall to the lunchroom.
5. Think of something you are finicky about. Turn to your neighbor and tell them about it.
6. What’s the new word? finicky

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Not wanting to get your new shoes dirty. Finicky or ghastly?
- Stuffing your backpack full of toys for a trip. Laden or ghastly?
- A beautiful shiny new diamond ring. Laden or stunning?
- A person with a big bleeding gash on their head. Ghastly or stunning?

Maintain all four words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- My mom is finicky about the windows being clean. Can you think of something else a mom might be finicky about? Turn and tell your neighbor.
- Show how you might look at something or someone who is ghastly.
- A diamond ring is stunning. What other things might be stunning?
- Show us what it would look like to be laden down with things in your arms.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Tell about a time you were finicky about something you had to eat. Did you eat it? Why or why not?
- Think of something ghastly you had to do. Tell us about it. Why was it ghastly?
- How do you feel when you have to work at a desk that is laden with things?
- Where would you look to see something stunning?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all four of our new words again: laden, stunning, ghastly, and finicky.”

- Which of these things would an example of laden--A lunch tray of someone who is really hungry or a tray of someone who is not hungry? A table before dinner or a table after dinner? Students that agree put thumbs up. Students that don’t agree put thumbs down.
- Which of these things would an example of stunning--A dirty old pair of sneakers or fancy glittery new sandals? Someone going to a wedding or someone who just finished playing football. Students that agree put thumbs up. Students that don’t agree put thumbs down.
- Which of these things would an example of ghastly--A princess or a monster? An ugly flower growing in the mud or a beautiful rose in a vase? Students that agree put thumbs up. Students that don’t agree put thumbs down.
- Which of these things would an example of finicky--Squeezing the toothpaste tube from the bottom or squeezing the tube right in the middle. Someone who just tosses their books on the bookshelf any way or someone who puts books in just a certain way only. Students that agree put thumbs up. Students that don’t agree put thumbs down.

40. THE GRAVES FAMILY

Kathryn Hall
Bonnevile Elementary School
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Graves Family, (Patricia Polacco, 2003)
ISBN: 0-399-24034-9

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- considered
- neighbors
- suggested
- excuse
- suddenly
- perfectly
- inventor
- endangered
- surrounding
- genius
- laboratory
- discover
- formula
- announced
- unusual
- occasion
- popular
- decorating
- devoured
- significant
- disaster
- ruined

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- unusual
- decorating
- disaster

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

The pages are not numbered, so consider the first page after the title page as page 1.

The pages are broken into three days of reading, due to length and complexity of the story. Reading should be done with expression.

Day 1

Read page 2, first paragraph. Ask and discuss: Why would the Grave's family arrive at night? What happened when they drove by the town clock and the fountain? Why do you think this happened?

Read page 2, second paragraph. Ask and discuss: Would you want to visit them? Why or why not?

Ask and discuss: Describe what you think the house looks like to your partner.

Show pictures.

Read page 3 down to "...Hie-Ronnie-mus..." Ask: Why do you think Ronnie was surprised that Seth and Sara wanted to play with him?

Finish page 3. Ask and discuss: Why do you think Ronnie didn't invite Seth and Sara to his home?

Read pages 6, 7. Ask and discuss: When Ronnie finally asked them to come over Seth and Sara discovered some reasons why he might not have invited them sooner. Name three reasons.

Show pictures on pages 4 – 8.

Read page 9 to the end of third paragraph. Ask and discuss: What was Mr. Graves' top secret experiment? How would you use this liquid if you had it?

Finish the page. Ask and discuss: Is the formula ready to use yet? How do you know?

Show picture on page 10.

Day 2

Have the students retell in partners yesterday's events.

Read pages 11 – 14. Ask and discuss: Why do you think Sara and Seth gulped and hesitated when Mrs. Graves asked them to dinner?

Show pictures on pages 11 -14.

Read page 15 to the end of the fifth paragraph. Ask: What do you think made the explosion? Was anyone upset by it? Why don't you think so?

Finish the page. Ask and discuss: What happened when Mrs. Graves took the flowers? Why do you think this happened?

Show picture on page 16.

Read page 18 and explain some of the menu items briefly while reading:

- vipers are snakes
- capers are peppercorns
- pureed means that it's soft like baby food
- fillets are pieces of meat without bones
- parasitic describes an animal that lives off something else
- aspic is like a meat-flavored cold, hard jello
- au gratin means "with cheese"

Ask: What do you imagine this dinner looked like? Why didn't Sara and Seth eat?

Show picture on pages 17, 18.

Read page 19. Ask and discuss: Why was Mrs. Graves upset? How did Seth and Sara feel about the Graves Family? How do you know? How did Mrs. Graves feel about the invitation? How could you tell?

Show picture on page 20.

Read pages 21 – 22. Ask and discuss: Why were the ladies excited about Christopher Joel coming to their town? Let's make a prediction. A scream was heard. What do you think has happened?

Show pictures on pages 21 and 22.

Read page 23. Ask and discuss: Why did these special flowers wilt and die? How do you know?

Read page 25. Ask and discuss: Mrs. Graves feels they will never fit in. Why does she feel this way? Does she want to have friends? How can you tell? Let's make a prediction. Do you think the Graves family will be able to make friends in the community? How do you suppose this might happen?

Show pictures for pages 23 – 26.

Day 3

Have the students retell in partners yesterday's events.

Review what has happened so far in the story. Have the students retell.

Read pages 27 – 30. Ask and discuss: What was Seth's idea to help the Graves' be accepted in the town? Did it work?

Show pictures on pages 27 – 30.

Read page 32. As you say the word "manicured," briefly explain that it means "cut neatly." Ask and discuss: How did Mr. Joel feel about all of the houses? How can you tell?

Show picture on pages 31 – 32.

Read page 33. Ask and discuss: What is happening to the Mayor? What makes you think this?

Read pages 35 – 36. Ask and discuss: What do the men who are acting strangely all have in common? What could be causing them to act this way?

Read page 37. Ask and discuss: The townspeople are angry with the Graves' again. What do you think will happen now?

Show pictures on pages 33 – 38.

Read pages 39 – 40. Ask and discuss: How do the people feel about the Graves' home? What happens to some of them? What might happen to the Graves' family now?

Show pictures on pages 39 – 40.

Read pages 41 – 42. Ask and discuss: Who loved the Graves' home? Why? What made this so important for the Graves' family and for the town?

Show pictures on pages 41 – 42.

Read page 44 and show the pictures. What do the townsfolk mean when they say, "Well, they fit in. They just fit in?"

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: unusual

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.

When Sara and Seth went over to Ronnie's for dinner, Sara said the moving food was unusual for them.

2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.

Unusual means different, strange, and even weird.

3. Ask the children to say the word unusual.

4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.

Our school day was very unusual because we had two assemblies.

The little boy's feet looked unusual because he had different shoes on each foot.

Erica's Halloween costume was quite unusual for a ghost because it was made of a pink sheet.

5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word. (If children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did.)

Ask the students to fill in the blank in this sentence stem. What they fill in needs to match a meaning for unusual.

My brother (or friend) looked very unusual when he _____.

Have students share with partners, and then choose some to share with the group.

6. Have the children repeat the word unusual.

Target word: decorating

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.

In the story Christopher Joel's television show was on home decorating.

2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.

Decorating means putting things in your home and arranging furniture so the rooms look beautiful. Decorations can include flowers, pictures, statues, posters, and much more.

3. Ask the children to say the word decorating.

4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.

Jacob was decorating his room with pictures of soccer players and a soccer ball quilt on his bed.

Dad was decorating the Christmas tree with lights and ornaments to make it shine.

Mom was decorating the living room for Lisa's birthday party. She used lots of balloons and streamers with Lisa's favorite cartoon character.

5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word.

Ask the students to think of one thing we could put up in the classroom for Halloween. Put it in the blank in this sentence stem. What they fill in needs to be a decoration. They will share with a partner. Then call on some to share with the class.

We will put up a _____ when we are decorating for Halloween.

6. Have the children say the word decorating.

Target word: disaster

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.

In the story the children raced home and told Mr. and Mrs. Graves they had a disaster when the men who used the formula were acting like housecats.

2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.

A disaster is when something terrible has happened. It can be funny as it is used in this story, but more often it is very serious, like damage caused by a fire, tornado, or earthquake.

3. Ask the children to say the word disaster.

4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.

On TV we watched the disaster that was caused by the hurricane in Florida.

My little sister caused a disaster in the kitchen when she pulled everything out of the cupboard onto the floor.

My family has a plan to be prepared in case a natural disaster strikes our city.

5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word.

Ask the students to fill in the blank in this sentence stem. What they fill in needs to match a meaning for disaster. They will share with a partner. Then call on some to share with the class.

The classroom was a disaster after the students _____.

Many people were left homeless after the disaster caused by the _____.

6. Have the children say the word disaster.

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Would you use decorating or disaster to describe a huge mess in your house?
- Would it be unusual or a disaster to go home and find a birthday party going on at your house?
- Would it be decorating or unusual to find pictures on the wall?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- What would be a type of serious disaster?
- Give an example of something to use in decorating a bedroom.
- Name something that would be unusual to see at school.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- What type of disaster have you experienced?
- What things would you choose for decorating your home?
- What would be something unusual for you to see on your way to school?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: unusual, decorating, disaster.”

- Bulleted list of questions asking students to either choose between two examples or two definitions. (Italicize and bold target words.)
- Would it be unusual or decorating for your brother to leave a football on the kitchen table?
- Would it be a disaster or decorating if a car smashed into a building?
- Would it be a disaster or unusual for a tornado to appear on a lake in Utah?

Kathy Huber
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Heckedy Peg, (Audrey Wood, 1987)
ISBN: 0-15-233678-8

Potential Tier 2 words:

- overjoyed
- hobbled
- rapped
- hearth
- pitcher
- despair

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- overjoyed
- despair

Doing the read-aloud

Briefly introduce book: “Listen to this story about some children and their mother. As you listen, think about the problem they encounter and how it is solved.”

Read aloud page one. Ask the children, “What do we know about the characters so far?” (the children are hard workers, Mother is nice---she is going to buy the children anything they want from the store) Show picture and discuss.

Read the next page and show the picture.

After reading the following page, ask the children what instructions the mother gave the children before she left, and why.

Read the next page and ask: “What do you think will happen? Should the children let the witch in? (After responses, ask: “Why do you think that?” or “Are the children making wise choices?” and let the students respond.

Read the sentence on the following page and show the picture. “Why aren’t the children afraid of the witch?”

Read the next page. The witch has just turned the children into different foods. Check for comprehension by asking, “What just happened in our story?” before showing the picture because the children appear to be ghosts as they turn into food. Make sure the students understand what is happening.

Next page. Read and ask “Where is the witch going now?” “Why?”

Read the next page in which the mother comes home and realizes her children are missing. Discuss how she feels and ask “What do you think she might do now?”

The mother goes to the witch’s hut. The witch is interrupted by a knock at the door. Make sure the students understand who is at the door. Show the picture.

Read the next two pages and ask, “Why did the mother do everything the witch wanted her to do?” Talk about all the things the mother is willing to do to get into the witch’s hut, and how she tricks the witch.

After reading the next page in which the mother has to correctly guess the food each child has been turned in to, ask: “How will the mother know which child is which food?”

On the next two pages the children are changed back into children. The illustration shows them dancing around on the table, hugging and kissing. Ask: “How do they feel?” Then, “What words did the author use that told you they were happy?”

Read the end of the book, show the picture, and ask, “Do you think the children learned any lessons in this story?”

Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 words

Target word: overjoyed

1. In the story, it says that the children were overjoyed.
2. Overjoyed means very, very happy.
3. Say the word with me, (phonological representation), overjoyed.
4. I was overjoyed when I had my first baby. I was overjoyed when I got my driver’s license!
5. Have you ever felt overjoyed? Raise your hand when you think of a time that you have felt that way, overjoyed.”
6. Say the word with me, overjoyed.

Target word: despair

1. “In the story, the mother felt despair when her children were gone.
2. If you feel despair, you feel very sad about something.
3. Let’s say the word together: despair.
4. (Knowing that if I named a time I felt despair, as after a death, then I would only get stories about death from my students, I opted, rather, to open the floor for responses and got a variety of incidences.)

5. Now I want you to think of a time you felt despair. Don't tell me. Please turn to your neighbor and tell them what happened to make you feel despair. Then let your neighbor share, partner A go first."
6. Let's say the word again: despair

Combine words:

- Have the students make a choice between the two words:
- If you found out you got to have a sleepover at your best friend's house, would you feel despair or overjoyed?
- If you found a dead kitten on the way home, would you feel despair or overjoyed?
- If you got in really bad trouble for making a bad choice, would you feel despair or overjoyed?
- If you found a bag of gold would you feel despair or overjoyed?

Maintain words:

- When you feel despair, show me how your face would look.
- When you feel overjoyed, show me how your face would look.

Other ways we will maintain these words in our classroom is to write them on one of our word walls, add them to our spotlight wall (along with a photocopy of the book cover), and use them regularly over a period of time until they are more a part of their vocabularies.

Assess:

"Let's think about our new vocabulary words again: overjoyed and despair.

- If I go home and find my new bunny sick, which will I feel: overjoyed or despair?
- Which word means "very happy"?
- Which word means "very sad"?
- How will you feel on the last day of Kindergarten? (Point out to the students that people can feel differently about the same situation)

42. HOW I BECAME A PIRATE

Kappy Lyn Williams
Bonneville Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: How I Became a Pirate, (Melinda Long, 2003)
ISBN: 0-15-201848-4

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- slathering
- sunblock
- chanteys
- land lubber
- gulp
- swabbing
- boomed
- repaired
- batten

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- slathering
- chanteys
- repaired

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Pages 1-2 Read the story as indicated. Show pictures after reading

Pages 3-4—Read as indicated. Have the students think and share a list of possible solutions to get his parents to listen to him. (show picture after reading)

Pages 5-6 Read as prescribed. Ask and have them think about how the little boy is feeling right at that moment

Pages 7-8 Read as in the book—show pictures after

Pages 9-10 Read—Have students think and talk about his parents response and if they really wouldn't care. (Show pictures after talking)

Pages 11-12 Read show picture

Pages 13-14 Read—Have students tell if they think he is having a good time. Then show the pictures

Pages 15-16 Briefly explain the terms landlubber, and scurvey dog -- Read with great expression so the children get the idea that Jeremy Jacob is having the time of his life--
- Show picture after.

Pages 17-18 Read to AArgh Soccer – Have students think about the difficulties of playing soccer on a boat. After discussion: Finish reading the page and show the picture

Pages 19-20 Read -Have students summarize all the reasons Jeremy Jacob wanted to be a pirate forever (write down a few main points). –Show picture after summary.

Pages 21-22 Read—Show pictures

Pages 23-24-Read show pictures Use the summary earlier and have the students compare Jeremy’s feelings now to the feelings he had a few pages earlier—Show pictures

Pages 25-26- Read have them listen for the way Jeremy solves the problem and gets what he wants also.

Pages 27-28-Read show pictures

Pages 29-30 Read Show pictures

Page 31—read and show pictures.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: slathering

1. I tried to tell Mom, but she was busy slathering my baby sister with sunblock.
2. Slathering: Put a thick layer on something--To cover completely
3. Repeat the word
4. Jessica was slathering her bread with butter this morning. Caleb is slathering his shoes with mud.
5. Have the students attempt to use the word in a sentence. Correct or help as needed
6. Have the children say the word slathering

Target word: repaired

1. After that the pirates repaired the ship, they got ready to set sail.
2. Repaired—To fix and make new again
3. Have the children say the word Repaired.
4. The book got ripped at school and needed to be repaired. Kyle’s bike was broken and needed to be repaired. The car was taken to the shop to have the broken seatbelts repaired.

5. What are things at your home or here at school that need to be repaired? Remember to use a full sentence.
6. Have the students say the word repaired.

Target word: chanteys

1. The pirates taught me to sing sea chanteys –the louder the better.
2. Chanteys—Songs – They usually rhyme and have a catchy tune.
3. Have the students say the word chanteys
4. The campers sang chanteys as they were sitting around the campfire. The nursery rhymes are chanteys
5. Now you use the word in a sentence
6. Have the children say the word chanteys.

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Which word fits this sentence - Chantys or repaired
 The teacher sang _____ to help the children learn.
 The mechanic _____ the broken car.
 The children _____ the broken puzzle with tape.
- Which word slathering or repaired:
 The water is _____ the rock.
 The window needed _____ because the rock went inside through it.
 Mom was _____ my sandwich with peanut butter.

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Children please give me an example of the word repaired.
- When could the word slathering be used.

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: slathering, chanteys, repaired

Matching game

- slathering _____ to fix
- chanteys _____ a song
- repaired _____ To cover completely

43. HOW THE STARS FELL INTO THE SKY

Christena Anderson
Montezuma Creek/ Mexican Hat
San Juan District

Text Talk Lesson for: How the Stars Fell into the Sky: A Navajo Legend, (Jerrie Oughton)

ISBN: 0-395-77938-3

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- pulse
- rim
- disappear
- impatient
- squatting
- dome
- designing
- crouched
- laws
- crafted
- mosaic
- tacking
- deliberately
- confusion
- toiled
- grumbled
- lacked
- patience
- flung
- disarray
- shattering
- foolish
- shrieked
- haste

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- laws
- impatient
- confusion

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

“Today we will be reading a story about Coyote and how he put the stars in the sky. We will read the story and after we read the story, we will be learning some new words. The reason we will be learning new words is because good readers need to learn lots of words in order to understand what they are reading about.”

“As I read the story, I will be stopping to ask you questions so that we can make sure we understand what is being read. Sometimes I will show you the pictures while I am reading and sometimes I won’t show you the pictures until after I have asked you a question. This is because we need to be active readers and think about what words say without always relying on the pictures to tell us what is going on.”

Show the cover of the book. “The title of the story is How the Stars Fell into the Sky. The author is Jerrie Oughton.

Read aloud the first page. “First Woman wants to make sure the people know what the laws are.”

Read aloud the next two pages. “First Man tells her to write the laws in the sand and in the water, but first woman tells him that that won’t work.”

Read aloud the next two pages. “Where does First Man tell First Woman to write the laws?”

Read aloud the next page. “First woman places the stars in the sky. She uses the stars to write the laws so everyone can read them.”

Read aloud the next page. “Who is watching First Woman?”

Read aloud the next two pages. “What did First Woman tell Coyote she was doing? First Woman wants every one to know what the laws are so they will know what to do. (confusion)

Read the next page.

Read the next page. “What is coyote doing?”

Read the next page. “How long will it take to write the laws?”

Read the next two pages. “First Woman wants everyone to know what the laws are, but Coyote thinks the job is taking too long.” (impatient)

Read the next two pages: “What did Coyote do?”

Read the next page. “Look at the picture, how is First Woman feeling? Why?”

Read the next two pages. “Since Coyote was so impatient, the people do not know the laws and they do not know what they are supposed to do.” (confusion)

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

“We are now going to learn some new words.”

Target word: laws

1. “The first word is laws. I will write the word laws on the board. Say laws. Say laws again.”
2. In the story, First Woman wanted to write the laws so all the people could see them.
3. Laws are rules that everyone needs to follow to be safe and happy.
4. “Say laws”
5. “A law that we have to follow is to not steal. Another law we need to follow is to treat other people kindly and with respect.
6. “I’m going to tell you some statements. If it’s a law, put your thumb up, if it isn’t a law, put your thumbs down. When you are driving a car, you have to stop at a stop sign. You can’t wear a hair tie in your hair. You have to wear a seat belt in the car. You have to run to school.
7. “What word did we just learn?” ‘law’

Target word: impatient

1. “The second word is impatient. I will write the word impatient on the board. Say impatient. Say impatient again.
2. “In the story, Coyote was impatient and flung all the stars into the sky.
3. “To be impatient means you don’t like to wait, you want something right now.”
4. “Say impatient.”
5. “_____ was impatient to go out to recess, he didn’t want to sit in class; he wanted to go play outside right now. The little girl was impatient and opened up her Birthday presents early. She couldn’t wait to see what was in them.
6. Can you tell me a time when you were impatient? Say, ‘I was impatient when...’
7. “What word did we just learn?” ‘impatient’

Target word: confusion

1. “The last word is confusion. I will write the word confusion on the board. Say confusion. Say confusion again.
2. “In the story the people lived in confusion because they didn’t know the laws.
3. “When there is confusion it means that people don’t know how to act or what to do.”
4. “Say confusion”
5. If you were left by your self all alone in a big city, you would be confused. You wouldn’t know where you were or how to get home. When _____ first came to the school, she was confused because she didn’t know which door to come in after recess. If you went to a new school and didn’t know the school rules, you might be confused.
6. “Now, you tell about a time when you were confused. You can say, ‘I was confused when ...’ (If the children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than was used in the book.)
7. “What word did we just learn?” ‘confusion’

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

I’m going to tell you some statements. Then, I will give you two of our new words to choose from. You tell me which new word makes more sense with the statement.

- You can hardly wait for the field trip we are going on. Are you confused or impatient?
- You can’t go too fast when you are driving. Is that a law or is it being impatient?

- You are lost and don't know what to do. As that a law or are you confused?
- You can't steal something from a store. Is that being impatient or a law?
- You wish school would get out soon. Are you impatient or is that a law?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

"Now, I will ask you some questions about our four new words."

- Have you ever been confused? Tell us about it.
- Give some examples of laws that you have to follow.
- Has there ever been a time when you were impatient? Tell us about it.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

"I am going to ask you some more questions that I want you to think about."

- Has your mother ever been impatient with you? How did that make you feel? What did you do about it?
- The man broke the law by stealing a pair of shoes from the store. What do you think will happen to him?
- The children were confused when the lights went off at the school. If this happened to you, what would you do?

Assess:

"Let's think about our three new words again: confusion, impatient, laws

- "I will tell you a statement, if you agree with the statement; put your thumb up, if you don't agree with the statement, put your thumb down."
- "Which statement would show confusion? Children running all over because they don't know what to do, or children sitting quietly and listening to their teacher.
- "Which statement is an example of a law? You can't jump on your bed or you have to wear your seatbelt when you're in the car.
- "Which statement would show you are being impatient? You shove and push in line so you can be the first to get a drink or you wait for the others to get a drink first.

"We just learned three new words. What three words did we learn?" confusion, impatient, laws

We did what good readers do. We will now be able to understand what the words mean the next time we hear them either in a book or when someone is talking to us.

CULTURAL NOTE – it is appropriate to tell this story in the winter time. Telling Coyote stories during the summer is seen as Taboo in the Navajo culture.*

44. I WANNA IGUANA

Paula Bickerton
Mountain View Elementary
Salt Lake City School District

Test Talk Lesson for: I Wanna Iguana, (Karen Kaufman Orloff, 2005)
ISBN: 0-439-85545-4

Potential Tier 2 Words in the text:

- sensitive
- compassionate
- adorable
- mature
- concerned
- lonely
- responsible

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- concerned
- compassionate
- lonely

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Briefly introduce the book I Wanna Iguana. “Listen to this story about a little boy who wants a pet iguana. Pay attention to how he tries to convince his mother that an iguana would be a great pet.”

Read page 1 and 2. Ask the children why Alex wants this pet iguana and what he thinks may happen to it if he doesn't get it.

Read page 3 and 4. Check children's understanding of tarantulas and Godzilla. Are these cute animals?

Read pages 5 and 6. Ask the children if they think the iguana will fit on Alex's dresser with his soccer trophies. Ask if they have any other ideas on where Alex may be able to put a six foot lizard. Show them the picture.

Read pages 8 and 10 (7 and 9 are just pictures). Ask the children if they know what the word mature means. Ask the girls if they would like to marry someone with a six foot lizard. Show the pictures and ask the students if the picture on the page is similar to the picture in their heads.

Read pages 11, 12, and 13. Ask if any students have pets that are kind of like brothers and sisters to them. Ask if the children were surprised to learn that Alex has a brother already. Show pictures.

Read pages 15, 16, and 17. Ask why Alex thinks that an iguana would be more fun than a baby brother. Have children predict what happened to the class fish BEFORE reading page 17. Show pictures after reading.

Read page 18. Ask the students if they what it means to have something on a “trial basis.” Explain that a trial basis is the chance to try something out to see if it will work. How do the students think Alex will respond to his mother’s question on how to take care of an iguana?

Read page 19. Ask students if their guesses matched Alex’s responses. What do they think his mother will say? Show picture.

Read pages 21 and 22. Ask students if they think Alex’s mom’s response is fair. Is it a good idea for Alex to buy his iguana’s food with his own money? Why or why not? Show pictures.

Read pages 23, 25, and 27 (24 and 26 are pictures). Ask how does Alex feel now that he has his iguana? What makes you think that? How do you think Alex’s mom feels? Why? Show pictures after students respond.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction:

Target word: compassionate

1. In this story Alex’s mom told him “I’m glad you’re so compassionate but I doubt that Stinky’s mom will let Lurch get into the iguana’s cage.”
2. Compassionate means that you care about what happens to others.
3. Say the word with me “Compassionate.”
4. If someone helped a friend who had fallen and hurt himself, that person would be compassionate. If someone gave money to a person who didn’t have any, he or she would be compassionate.
5. Now you think of a way to be compassionate to someone else. Begin your sentence with “I could be compassionate by...” Think, pair, share and then share as a class.
6. Boys and girls, what is the word we’ve been talking about? “Compassionate.”

Target word: concerned

1. In this story Alex’s mom signs one of her letters about why an iguana may be a difficult pet as “Your concerned mother.”
2. Concerned means worried.
3. Say the word with me “concerned.”
4. If your mother always wants to know where you will be playing she is concerned for your safety. When grown-ups tell children not to play with matches they are concerned that a fire may get started.
5. Now girls and boys, you think of a time when you or someone you know was concerned about something. Start your sentence with “I was concerned when...” Think, Pair, Share and then share as a whole class.
6. “Boys and girls, what is the word we’ve been talking about?” Concerned

Target Word: lonely

1. "In this story Alex wrote that the iguana could be the brother he never had and signed his letter 'Your lonely son, Alex.'"
2. "Lonely means that you feel a little sad because you have no friends, brothers, or sisters around you."
3. "Say the word with me: lonely"
4. "If all the boys and girls in our class were playing together, but you weren't a part of their game, you would feel lonely. Sometimes when you move to new school and don't know anyone, you feel lonely until you make friends."
5. "Now, you think of time when you may feel lonely. Start your sentence with 'I feel lonely when...' Think, Pair, Share and then share whole class."
6. "Friends, what is the word we've been talking about?" Lonely.

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words.

- Helping another student pick up her tool box when it falls: lonely or compassionate?
- Moving to a new neighborhood where you don't know anyone: lonely or compassionate?
- Watching your little sister at the park: concerned or lonely?
- Helping your mom or dad make dinner: compassionate or concerned?
- Watching a group of kids play and wishing you could join them: lonely or concerned?
- Making sure your little cousin crosses the street safely: lonely or concerned?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations.

- Tell us about a time when someone in your family was compassionate.
- Tell us about a time when you felt lonely.
- Has there ever been a time when you have felt concerned about something? Tell us about it.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words.

- Has another person ever been compassionate toward you? How did it make you feel?
- Has there ever been a time when you felt lonely? How could you help someone else who might feel lonely?
- What might you do to show that you were concerned about someone?

Assess:

Let's think about all three of our new words again: compassionate, concerned, lonely."

- Which of these is compassionate: a student ignoring a friend or a student helping a friend find his library book? Students will flash green cards to agree, red cards to disagree.
- When might you feel concerned: if your dog is playing in the backyard or if your little brother is playing with matches. Use green cards and red cards again.
- When would you feel lonely: when you are playing a game with your friends or if you are new to school and haven't made any friends? Use green cards and red cards again.

45. IF YOU COULD GO TO ANTARCTICA

Crystal Riser
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: If You Could Go To Antarctica, (Fay Robinson, 2007)
ISBN: 0-328-19188-4

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- crashing
- acrobatic
- coast
- scientists
- seas
- lunging
- completely
- unusual

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- lunging
- completely
- unusual

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Show students a globe and point out where North America is. “This is North America. We live in North America. North America is one of the 7 continents of the world. We are going to read a book today about Antarctica. Antarctica is another of the 7 continents of the world.” Show students where Antarctica is. “Let’s see what we can learn about Antarctica as we read this book.”

read pgs. 2-4: “What do you know about Antarctica so far?”

read pgs. 6-7: “Why doesn’t the snow and ice ever melt?”

read pgs. 8-9: “Listen to this sentence: ‘They crash like thunder as they split from the ice.’ What do you think it means to crash like thunder?”

read pgs. 10-13: “Those pages taught us a lot about penguins! Tell me some things you learned about penguins.”

read pgs. 14-15: “How do the seals stay warm in such ice-cold water?”

read pgs. 18-19: “Why aren’t there very many plants in Antarctica?”

read pgs. 20-23: “If you could go to Antarctica, what would you see?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: lunging (lunge)

1. Use the target word as contextualized in the story: "In the story it says that in Antarctica, you might see whales lunging up from the water."
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms: "If you are lunging, you are leaping or jumping really hard. The whale was lunging, or leaping out of the water"
3. Ask the children to repeat the word so they can create a phonological representation of the word: "Say this word with me: lunging."
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story: "If I see a glass about to fall off the counter, I would lunge towards it to catch it before it falls. Or, if a fox is going to catch a rabbit to eat, he would have to lunge for the rabbit before it ran away."
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word: "If any of the things I say would be lunging, say 'lunging.' If not, don't say anything."
 - Chase walked up the stairs.
 - Carson jumped to get the very last cookie.
 - Brynn sat down on the couch.
 - Blake leapt across the mud puddle.
 - Kristen suddenly sprang from the doorway to scare her mom.
6. Have the children repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation: "What is the word we have been talking about?" "Lunging."

Target word: completely

1. Use the target word as contextualized in the story: "In the story it said that whales can throw their bodies completely out of the water."
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms: "Completely means that it is all the way. The whale was completely out of the water because his whole body was all the way out of the water."
3. Ask the children to repeat the word so they can create a phonological representation of the word: "Say this word with me: completely."
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story: "If I finished all my school work, then I am completely done. Or if I filled a glass of milk all the way, then the glass is completely full."

5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word: “If any of the things I say would be completely, say completely. If not, don’t say anything.”
 - Eating a couple bites of a cheeseburger.
 - Reading a whole book.
 - Sticking your foot in the swimming pool.
 - Folding all the laundry.
 - Cleaning your whole room.
6. Have the children repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation: “What is the word we have been talking about?” “Completely.”

Target word: unusual

1. Use the target word as contextualized in the story: “In the story it says that scientists study the unusual plants, animals, and weather.”
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms: “If something is unusual, it is not normal, or maybe it is a little weird or different than most other things. The plants, animals, and weather in Antarctica are unusual because they are different from plants, animals, and weather in the rest of the world.”
3. Ask the children to repeat the word so they can create a phonological representation of the word: “Say this word with me: unusual.”
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story: “Our classroom is unusual because it is the only classroom in our school that has a snake in it. It would be unusual if Haylee was really mean to her classmates, because she is usually so nice to everyone.”
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word: “If any of the things I say would be unusual, say unusual. If not, don’t say anything.”
 - Our snake started talking.
 - I asked you to use a #1 voice.
 - Your mother started walking on her hands instead of her feet.
 - It started to rain candy.
 - We wrote stories during writer’s workshop.
6. Have the children repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation: “What is the word we have been talking about?” “Unusual.”

Combine the words by having children make a choice between two of the words:

- “If Mike had a dinosaur for a pet, would that be completely or unusual?”
- “If Jaron jumped across a puddle of water, would that be lunging or unusual?”
- “If Taniesha finished every page in her alphabet book, would that be completely or lunging?”

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- “Give me an example of something that would be unusual?”
- “Can someone show me how to completely erase this whiteboard?”
- “Who would like to show me what lunging looks like?”

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- “What are some unusual things you would like to have as a pet?”
- “What are some foods that you would eat completely before anyone else could take a bite?”
- “What are some things you would lunge over instead of walking on?”

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: lunging, completely, unusual.”

- “If you are lunging, are you jumping really hard or eating really fast?”
- “Does completely mean all the way or half-way?”
- “Does unusual mean normal or strange?”

46. IMOGENE'S ANTLERS

Annabelle Rutledge
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson For: Imogene's Antlers, (David Small, 1985)

ISBN: 0-517-55564-6 (Trade)

ISBN: 0-517-56242-1 (Pbk.)

Potential Tier Two Words in the text:

- found
- difficult
- fainted (in the text 2 times)
- glared
- advice
- offer
- consulted
- announced
- rare
- decked
- milliner
- Voila (for fun)
- Bravo (for fun)
- Bravissimo (for fun)
- overjoyed

Tier Two words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- consulted
- rare
- overjoyed

I selected these words because they would be found across many content areas and due to their frequency in other texts. I feel that they will have a chance to use these words in conversations at home. These are also words they will encounter as they have experience with different medias, such as T.V., radio and “the net.”

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Procedures for Prereading, During Read Aloud of text with focus on Comprehension, and Post

1: Introduce the story briefly and activate the student’s prior knowledge. “Today we will activate our prior knowledge by writing a story. You all like to write stories for me and we are going to use our prior knowledge to help us write together. After we write our story we will read Imogene’s Antlers and look at how the author, David Small, organized his story.

2: Story Impression

- Imogene
- antlers
- home
- fainted
- doctor
- principal
- glared
- hat

3: “Now while we read we can look back at our story and see if we organized ours like his.”

Note: Show pictures as you read through the pages.

Stop 1: Read to page 6. Ask the students “What do we know so far about Imogene?” “When we wrote our story did we have this happen?” Discuss why mother fainted.

Stop 2: Read pages 7-10. “Why did Imogene’s mother faint again?” “Did anyone faint in our story?” “What happened instead?” “Why do you think her principal glared at her?” How do you think Imogene became this rare kind of elk, did this happen in our story?”

Stop 3: Read pages 11-13. “How did the rest of the house staff react to Imogene’s antlers?” “In our story _____ happened. What do you think the author is going to have happen next?”

Stop 4: Read pages 14-17. “It looks like Imogene’s mother has fainted again. What do you think made her collapse this time?” “Did we use a hat like this in our story?”

Stop 5: Read to the end of the book. “When Imogene woke up the next morning did she still have the antlers? What did she have instead? How do you think the family will react to her new image?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: consulted

1. Use the target word as it was used in context in the story. “In this story it says, “Norman consulted the encyclopedia. . .”
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.
 - a. “In this context, consulted means that he looked in the encyclopedia to find out information. They also consulted the doctor. Did they consult the principal? Sometimes, we have to consult the principal about things that happen in our school.
3. Say the word with me “consulted.” (Build phonological representation of the word.)
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story. “When my daughter had a very high fever I didn’t know what to do for her. I consulted the doctors and nurses up at the hospital so they could help me because they were specialists in what to do. I know that you ask your mom and dad questions and for information from them. This is consulting. They have more knowledge and can give you their opinion of some actions you could take.

5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word. (If children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did.)

Have the students take some time to interact with the word. Can you give me an example of when you might want to consult a book? Can you give me an example of a time you may have needed to consult an adult? If I were trying to build a house, whom do you think I could consult?

6. Finally, have the children repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘consulted’

Target Word: rare

1. Use the target word as it was used in context in the story. “In this story it says, ‘Imogene had turned into a rare form of miniature elk!’”
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms. Rare in this context means something that doesn’t happen often.
3. Say the word with me “rare.” (Build phonological representation of the word.)
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story. “When some scientists went into Indonesia earlier this year, they found a butterfly that had never been found before, but they only found a few. They were rare because there were only a few of them found.” When we read Pirates Past Noon, they were looking for Captain Kidd’s treasure. We predicted that there would be rare jewels inside. In this case they are rare because they are unusually great or excellent.”
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word. (If children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did.)

Have the students take some time to interact with the word. Can you give me an example of something that is rare? Can you give me an example of things that are not rare?

6. Finally, have the children repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘rare’

Target Word: overjoyed

1. Use the target word as it was used in context in the story. "In this story it says, "When she came down to breakfast, the family was overjoyed to see her back to normal. . ."
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms. "Overjoyed in this context means being very happy or delighted."
3. Say the word with me "overjoyed." (Build phonological representation of the word.)
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story. "When I had Kyra I was so overjoyed I cried. Have you ever seen your mom so happy she cried? I bet she was overjoyed."
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word. (If children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did.)

Students have agree and disagree cards from a previous lesson. They will use these in this part of the lesson. "I'm going to give you some examples. If what I say would make you overjoyed show me your agreeing smiley face. If it is not, please show me your disagreeing frowny face."

- You asked for a pony for Christmas and Santa brought it for you.
 - You found out your dog was hurt after running into the road.
 - You just won the school spelling bee, beating one hundred students.
 - You lost your wallet with all your money in it, but somebody finds it and returns it.
 - Your favorite teddy bear gets lost when you go on vacation.
6. Finally, have the children repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation. "What's the word we've been talking about?" 'overjoyed'

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If I have the biggest diamond in the world would that be rare or overjoyed?
- Your mom is so happy that she cries. Is she consulting or overjoyed?
- When you find your favorite toy when it has been lost for a long, long time are you overjoyed or rare?
- I have a really bad pain and I went to see a doctor, would that be rare or consulted?
- If you find dinosaur bones that have never been discovered before is this something rare or is it consulting?
- I want to find out about the dinosaur bones I just found would I consult something or rare something?

Maintain words:

- Students will be asked to listen for the words consulted, rare, and overjoyed.
- Students will add tally marks to a board with the words on it when they have used or hear the words.
- Students will be asked to give examples and non-examples of all three words.

Assess:

- Have students think about ways they can use the words while they are writing or speaking. “We have several new words we have learned. When we write we can use those words. Could you use any of those words in today’s writing about treasures?”
- Have students give examples and non-examples of the words rare and overjoyed.
- Have students list things in that are rare on a paper.
- Have students list what could be consulted.

47. JULIUS, BABY OF THE WORLD

Kristi Sorenson
Mountain View Elementary
Salt Lake City District

Test Talk Lesson for Julius, Baby of the World, (Henkes, 1990)

ISBN: 0-590-10896-4

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- insulting
- stroked
- amused
- restrained
- doubtful
- chimed
- admired
- ghastly
- dreadful
- clever
- uncooperative

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- insulting
- uncooperative
- doubtful

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension

Before reading: Ask students what they think about the front cover. What is happening on the cover? Why is this person wearing a mask? Who do you think this person is? Who is the baby?

Page 1: The author tells us that Lily is the best big sister before Julius was born. What things made her a great big sister? How did she do those things before he was born?

Pages 2-3: What happened after Julius was born? What things does Lily do to Julius? How does she feel about him now? How do you know?

Pages 4-5: Does Lily think Julius is staying for a long time? Why doesn't she want him to stay?

Pages 6-7: Lily's parents want Julius to grow up like Lily. Does Lily want this? How do you know? What does Lily do when her parent's aren't looking?

Page 8-9: Why are Lily's parents afraid to leave them alone? What do you think an "uncooperative chair" is?

Pages 10-11: How are Lily's parents treating her differently? Why do you think they're doing that?

Pages 12-13: Why is Lily acting like Julius? Why does she get in trouble for doing the same things Julius does?

Page 14-15: What was wrong with the story Lily told Julius?

Page 16: Do you think Julius' invitation really got lost in the mail? How do you know?

Pages 17-22: Why are Lily's parents treating her being extra nice to her? Is it working?

Page 23-end: Why did Lily get upset when Cousin Garland said Julius was disgusting? Does Lily change her mind about how she feels about Julius? How do you know?

Follow up questions: Why do you think Lily liked Julius at the end? Do you think they will stay friends?

Step 2: Direct Instruction of Tier 2 words

Target word: insulting

1. In the story the author says "she yelled insulting comments in the crib."
2. Insulting means saying rude or mean things to make someone mad or hurt their feelings.
3. Say the word with me: insulting
4. If you told me I was ugly that would be insulting. I was insulted when that boy told me he didn't like my picture.
5. Now think of something that would be insulting to you. Start your sentence with "I was insulted when _____" or "It would be insulting if _____".
6. What word have we been talking about?

Target word: uncooperative

1. In the story the author tells us that "Lily spent more time than usual in the uncooperative chair."
2. Uncooperative means not following directions or rules.
3. Say the word with me: uncooperative
4. If I asked you to line up and you said, "I don't want to" you would be uncooperative. When your mom asks you to clean your room and you just ignore her you are being uncooperative.

5. Think of times you have been uncooperative or someone else has been uncooperative when you have asked them to do something. Start your sentence with “I was uncooperative when _____” or “_____ was uncooperative when _____”
6. What the word we’ve been talking about?

Target word: doubtful

1. In the story Lily’s parents were “more than doubtful about leaving the two of them alone.”
2. Doubtful means worried about something. Doubtful also means that something might not happen.
3. Say the word with me: doubtful
4. If I told you “It’s doubtful that we will go to recess today” that would mean we probably aren’t going to recess. If I was doubtful that you were going to bring your homework back to school it would mean I didn’t think you were going to bring your homework back.
5. Think of times you, or your friends, have been doubtful. Start your sentence with “I was doubtful when _____” or “It is doubtful that _____.”
6. What word are we talking about?

Combine the words by having children make a choice between two of the words:

- If your brother said “You’re stupid.” Would that be insulting or doubtful?
 - Why?
- If you were running in the halls would you be uncooperative or insulting?
 - Why?
- It probably won’t rain. Is it uncooperative or doubtful?
 - Why?
- If someone said, “Get away from me. You stink.” Would that be doubtful or insulting?
 - Why?
- You’re playing somewhere your mom asked you not to. Are you being doubtful or uncooperative?
 - Why?
- Spending everyday at the school in the summer. Is that doubtful or uncooperative?
 - Why?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell me about a time someone said something insulting to you.
- Can you think someone was uncooperative with you?
- What is something you are doubtful about?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words

- If someone said something insulting, how would you feel?
- My nephews were uncooperative when I wanted to leave McDonald's Playplace and they didn't want to. When have you been uncooperative?
- I was doubtful that I wouldn't have to send anyone to the bus on the fieldtrip. What are you doubtful about?

Assess

Let's think about all three of our new words again: insulting, uncooperative, doubtful

- Which of these is insulting?
 - "Thank you."
 - "You look nice today."
 - "Get out of here; I don't want to play with you."
- When would you feel doubtful?
 - When someone is selfish but tells you that you may borrow their pencil.
 - When someone says it's raining outside. When someone is running down the hall.
- Who is being uncooperative?
 - Sam who is sitting in his chair reading a book, just like the teacher asked him to.
 - Lisa, who is sitting in her chair reading a book, although the teacher asked her to come to the floor.
 - Or Ted who is cleaning his room.

Marla Atkinson
Reading First Coordinator
San Juan School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Katie's Trunk, (Ann Turner, 1992)

ISBN: 0-02-789512-2

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- sew
- seams
- itchiness
- skittish
- harbor
- the green
- rebels
- arming
- crouched
- still(ed)
- fierce
- pickings (in context)
- trunk
- muffled
- skirmish

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- skittish
- crouched
- stilled
- muffled

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

(Number the pages in this book ahead of reading aloud since there are no numbers printed on each page then briefly build prior knowledge with students about the Revolutionary War using and defining the terms, Tory and rebel. Include a brief explanation of the Boston Tea Party in building this prior knowledge.)

Read page 1. "Boys and Girls, Katie has been bad all day long. Her mother doesn't quite know how to punish her for this misbehavior. She is thinking about making Katie sit down to sew long seams all day to get the goodness straight inside of her." Discuss briefly how to sew a seam using a needle and thread. Ask the children if they think sitting and sewing long seams would help them forget about misbehaving. Then ask the children how their mothers punish them when they have had a day full of mischief.

Read pages 2-3. Katie tried to explain to her mother why she was misbehaving. She could feel the "itchiness" in the air. Tell the children of a time you felt nervous that something frightening was about to happen. Ask them, "Have you ever felt such "itchiness" in side of you?"

Read pages 4-7. This "itchiness" in the air was causing problems between friends. Ask the children, "Why was Tory a word that some people hissed as a snake about to bite to others who had once been their friends?” Who were the rebels? Why were they arming and marching and drilling beyond the meadows?

Read pages 8-11. Ask the children, “If Katie could not “still” herself and hide quietly in the bushes, what do you think she did?”

Read page 12. Ask the children, “Why did Mama whisper fiercely as Katie ran out of the hiding place? What do you think Katie would do to try to stop the rebels?”

Read pages 14-15. Katie touched all the wonderful things her mother had collected to make their home a lovely place. Then she heard the rebels at the door saying, “This’ll be fine pickings!” Ask the children, “What do you think the rebels will do once they get inside the house?”

Read page 16. Ask the children to look at the illustration on page 17 to help them answer these questions: “Why did Katie decide to hide? Do you think her hiding place was a good one? Why or why not.”

Read pages 18-21. Ask the children, “Why did Katie still herself this time?”

Read pages 22-27. Ask the children, “Why did John Warren leave the trunk lid open? Why did he call the others away?”

Let’s review: When people have disagreements that might lead to battle and war against each other, we must all remember that there are people of good will on both sides and it is their goodness that’s really important. John Warren was a rebel. Katie was a Tory. What was the seam of goodness that tied them together?

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: skittish

1. “In the story, Katie and mama felt skittish as a newborn calf.”
2. “If someone feels nervous they may feel skittish. Katie and mama knew something was wrong in the little town where they lived and they were worried. They felt jumpy and restless just like a newborn calf trying to get up and begin to walk.”
3. “Say the word with me: skittish.”
4. “I feel skittish when my children are traveling on mountain roads in the snow. I know how dangerous snowy roads are and how easily an accident can happen. My jumpiness does not end until my children call me and tell me they have arrived home safely. I also feel skittish when I know I have played unfairly on the playground and the principal calls me into his office to talk to me.”

5. “Tell me something that would make you feel skittish. Try to use the word skittish when you tell about it. You could start by saying, ‘I feel skittish when _____.’”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘skittish’

Target word: crouched, still(ed)

1. “In the story, Katie crouched in the underbrush and could not still herself.”
2. “Crouched means to bend your knees and hold yourself in a small ball. Still yourself means to remain very, very quiet and make absolutely no noise and no movement. Katie was told to crouch into a small ball and still herself by not moving or making any noise. She was to hide so no one would find her.”
3. “Say these words with me: crouched, still.”
4. “When I was a young girl, I crouched down low and stilled myself every time I played hide-and-go-seek.”
5. “Tell me about a time when you have crouched low and stilled yourself. Try to use the word crouched or stilled when you tell about it. You could start by saying, ‘I crouched down low and stilled myself when I _____.’”
6. “What are these words we’ve been talking about?” ‘crouched’ ‘stilled’

Target word: muffled

1. “When Katie was in the trunk, the sounds she heard – the door slamming and footsteps in the parlor were muffled and far away.”
2. “Muffled means that something is causing sounds and words to be heard in an unclear manner. The sounds and words seem fuzzy and can’t be understood clearly.”
3. “Say the word with me: muffled.”
4. “Earmuffs covering my ears on a cold wintry day muffled the sounds of the students playing games at recess.”
5. Now I want you to think of how you might muffle a sound. What could you put over your mouth so that the sounds are muffled? Turn to your partner and tell him how you muffled the sound. Make sure you use the word muffle or muffled when you share your idea with your partner.
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘muffled’

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Sally hid her head in the pillow and screamed: muffled or stilled?
- Billy sat on his chair as quietly as he could: skittish or stilled?
- The ball rolled under the bushes so Jim tried to retrieve it: muffled or crouched?
- Jill yelled at Lamont, “Mom wants to see you right now, she is very angry.”: skittish or stilled?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- If a sound was loud and muffled, tell me what might have happened.
- If you found your pet puppy crouched in a corner of the garage, tell me what might have happened.
- Explain a time when you stilled yourself.
- Explain what type of storm would make you feel skittish.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Show me how you would look if you felt skittish.
- _____, muffle your voice as you tell _____ the name of your best friend.
- Show me how you would crouch and still yourself.

Assess:

“Let’s think about all four of our new words again: skittish, crouch, still, muffled.”

- Which of these would describe a person feeling skittish – a person driving a car sees the lights of a police car or a person sleeping comfortably on a soft pillow bed?
- Which would cause a sound to be muffled – speaking as loudly as possible or static on the telephone?
- Which would cause someone to crouch down low and still themselves – playing hide-and-go-seek or playing red rover?

Sandi Barber-Baker
Bonneville Elementary School
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Library, (Sarah Stewart, 1995)
ISBN: 0-374-34388-8

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- incredible
- preferred
- promptly
- volumes
- donations
- courthouse
- attending
- exercising
- manufactured

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- incredible
- preferred
- promptly

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

(Note: pages are not numbered in text. Page numbers references begin with page one being the beginning of the text.)

Day 1

(This introduction is written from an interview that was done with the author and her husband at a BYU author/illustrator workshop, I attended one summer.)

Today boys and girls, we are going to read about a little girl who loves to read books more than anything else in the world. Her name is Elizabeth. Elizabeth is a character very much like the author. Sarah Stewart loves books and has developed a talent in writing she shares with children through writing children's stories. Her goal in writing this story was to give children a desire to want to read and find great enjoyment from the experience. Ms. Stewart's husband illustrated the book and reflected his wife in the drawings.

Show the cover of the book and ask the children to discuss what they see. Have them describe Elizabeth.

Ask: Where do you think Elizabeth got her love for reading? Have the students predict the answer.

Begin reading

Page 2 : What did Elizabeth like to do instead of playing? Why do you think so?

Page 3: What was the purpose of the flashlight? Have you ever read in bed with a flashlight?

Page 4: Explain explicitly what a steamer trunk is, using the picture.

Page 5: What did she take in the steamer trunk? Why do you think she only took books?

Page 6: Interesting words give reader's a better mind movie in describing an event. Elizabeth dreams of being in a "Reader's Olympiad". What do you think Reader's Olympiad would be? Describe other Olympiads to the students such as a math Olympiad where students compete with each other in doing math problems or solving puzzles. You could also talk about the Summer and Winter Olympics and relate that to the word Olympiad.

Page 7: Why would she collect books in the middle of the night?

Day 2

Do a quick retell of what was read on day 1 and then continue reading.

Page 11: Read page 11 What happened? Show the picture of Elizabeth in the snow storm. Look what she took with her. Note that she has trunks with her for a short day trip. What do you think she has in her trunks? Why do you think that?

Page 12: Elizabeth didn't want new clothes or other things. What did she want? Have students infer the answer. Show the picture at the bookstore.

Page 16: What did she leave with?

Page 17: Why did she walk into the door?

Day 3

Have the students sequence the previous events as a review and then show the picture on page 18. Have the students discuss what they see.

Page 19: What does the author mean by stacks for teacups and building blocks? Why did she need to use books for furniture?

Page 21: What has happened? Why can't she have another book? Discuss then show the picture.

Page 22: Read, then ask, "What do you think she is doing now? What is it she wants? What does she give away?"

Pages 24 – 25: Show the pictures and discuss how Elizabeth solved the problem of so many books.

Then read to the end of the book. Be sure to revisit the predictions from day 1 and talk about them as they actually relate to the events of the book.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: incredible

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.
 - She learned to read quite early at an incredible rate.
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.
 - awesome, unbelievable, fabulous
3. Ask the children to repeat the word so they can create a phonological representation of the word.
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.
 - It was incredible how hard it rained yesterday.
 - That was an incredibly good story.
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word. (If children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did.)
 - The _____ was incredible because _____.
 - I preferred to play _____ instead of _____.
 - My teacher said I must promptly _____ before the test began.
6. Finally, have the children repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation.

Target word: preferred

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.
 - Elizabeth preferred a book to other activities.
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.
 - liked better than
3. Ask the children to repeat the word so they can create a phonological representation of the word.
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.
 - Tom preferred pizza over burritos for lunch.
 - Kickball was the preferred activity of the third grade class.

5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word.
 - The little boy preferred soccer to _____.
 - I prefer _____ to _____.
6. Finally, have the children repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation.

Target word: promptly

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.
 - She promptly lost her way.
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.
 - immediately, quickly
3. Ask the children to repeat the word so they can create a phonological representation of the word.
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.
 - I arrived at school promptly at 8:40.
 - My teacher asked me to promptly sit at my desk.
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word.
 - We should promptly _____.
6. Finally, have the children repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation.

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- You are given a choice between ice cream and cookies. Would you use prefer or promptly to tell me?
- You want to describe something fabulous. Would you use promptly or incredible?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Make a sentence telling about something you do promptly. Use the word promptly in your sentence.
- List as many things as you can that are incredible. Write a sentence for each of three words you have chosen using the word incredible.
- Tell your partner some things you prefer. Tell in your own words what the word prefer means.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Tell your partner another word or synonym for the word prefer.
- Tell your partner another word or synonym for the word promptly.
- Tell your partner an antonym or the opposite of the word incredible

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: prefer, promptly, incredible.

- Which of these is the definition for the word prefer?
Amazing, awesome or quickly
- A synonym for the word promptly is:
later or immediately
- What does the word incredible mean?
Very smart or Fantastic

Linda Roundy
Salt Lake City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Lilly's Big Day, (Kevin Henkes, 2006)
ISBN: 0-06-074237-2

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- announced
- appropriate
- pretend
- assistant
- responsibility
- glamorous
- uncooperative
- proudly
- ceremony
- motioned
- reception
- coached
- exhausted

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- assistant
- proudly
- ceremony

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Here is a new story about our friend Lilly. In this story Lilly does something very brave. Even though she gets her feeling hurt and she feels very sorry for herself, she just acts proudly and everyone has a happy ending. Let's read the story to find out how Lilly acts proudly.

1 Read aloud page 1. Lilly's teacher, Mr. Slinger is going to marry the school nurse. There are usually lots of flowers at a wedding ceremony and Lilly wants to be the girl that carries the flowers at the wedding. Lilly tells herself that this will be the biggest day of her life. The problem is that No one has asked Lilly to be the flower girl. Do you think she will get to be the flower girl or will she be disappointed?

2. Lilly really wants to be the flower girl. At home Lilly practices her moves. She is practicing to be a flower girl. Lilly is certain this will be the biggest day of her life. Read page 2. and share pictures.

3. Read aloud to page 7 sharing pictures. Although Lilly is highly qualified to be the flower girl at her teacher's wedding she has not been asked. Lilly is being stubborn and determined to be the flower girl. Listen to how Kevin Henkes tell us Lilly is not giving in: when he says:"After her parents left her room, Lilly said, "I understand that I'm going to be a flower girl. " Do you think Lilly doesn't understand or do you think she is being very determined, even stubborn? Ask: "What do you think will happen for Lilly?

4. Before reading to page 9. Discuss how Lilly is really preparing to be a flower girl. She is practicing her flower girl moves right in front of her teacher. Reading to page 9.

5. Now I am going to read the part where Lilly finds out if she is the flower girl or not. Let's see if she handles the news proudly. That means: Is Lilly brave about getting her feelings hurt?

6. Reading pages 10 and 11. Ask the children to identify what Lilly was asked to do at the wedding. Make certain all children understand what an assistant is and why this might hurt Lilly's feelings. Ask: Why do you think Lilly accepted the job of the flower girl's assistant?

Reading to page 15. Discuss Lilly's behaviors and her conflicted emotions. Reading page 16 and compare page 15 and 16. Lilly is trying to be brave.

Set up the story. Now kids listen to what happens and see how important the assistant is to this story and how the wedding would not have happened if Lilly had not done her job proudly. Read aloud to page 21.

Read the rest of the story then discuss Lilly's character strengths and the happy ending.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: assistant

1. In this story Lilly is the Flower Girls assistant. Lilly could be the flower girl's helper, but not the real flower girl.
2. If someone is an assistant they are a helper.
3. Say the word with me: assistant.
4. If someone helps cook a meal he is the assistant cook. If a mother comes and helps us in the classroom, then she is an assistant. If I help you tie your shoes, then I am your assistant. I would be assisting you.
5. Now, you think ways you have assisted someone. You could say, I gave assistance to _____ when I _____. Take two or three examples, then buddy up so all children create sentences.
6. OK. Kids help me think of the word we are talking about, you can be me: assistants. Say the word with me: assistant

Target word: proudly

1. When Lilly was practicing her flower girl moves she carried her hands proudly in front of her.
2. Lilly felt happy and she like herself and respected herself when she was practicing to be the assistant flower girl. Proudly means doing something that makes you feel good about yourself,
3. Say the word: Proudly.
4. When you first learn how to walk or ride a two-wheeler you usually feel proud. You want people to see how grown up you are. When you are brave at night you feel proud because you know you can take good care of yourself and do what is right.
5. Walking to school with your head high and back straight even if your mom made you wear a shirt you don't like: proud or not proud? When you are mean to a little kid for fun: proud or not proud? When you learn how to read: Proud or not proud?

Target word: ceremony

1. The author tells us that it was time for ceremony to begin. The music got louder and everyone stood up.
2. A ceremony is special things we do and special things we say on very important day. Lilly is going to a wedding ceremony where people get married.
3. Say ceremony with me: ceremony. Say wedding ceremony: wedding ceremony.
4. When we say the Pledge of Allegiance that is a ceremony. We stand up, put our hand over our heart, and say special words. Lots of churches have ceremonies, which are special ways, and special words that help us remember really important events.
5. Put your thumbs up if the even I tell you is a ceremony: roller-skating? Pledge of allegiance? Eating at the school cafeteria or getting married.
6. What is the word we have been talking about? Ceremony

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Going to church and doing something special is that assistant or ceremony?
- Helping the teacher sharpen pencils: ceremony or assistance?
- Eating the yucky food in the lunchroom: ceremony or proudly?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell your partner about a ceremony in your family. Why is that ceremony important?
- Have you ever been as assistant? Whom did you assist? What did you help do?
- Tell me about a time when you or someone you know had to be brave and act proudly and not get feelings hurt.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- If you had an assistant what would he do?
- If you decide to get married where will the ceremony happen?
- What is the hard thing you did today that made you feel proud about your learning.

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: assistant, proudly, ceremony.”

- Which of these is assistant – a boy helping take grocery sacks to the car or a dog barking?
- When would you walk very proudly – when you see the American Flag wave – or walk past a grocery store?
- Which is a ceremony - getting married or putting on your socks?

51. LILLY'S PURPLE PLASTIC PURSE

Patsy Mecham
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Lilly's Purple Plastic Purse, (Kevin Henkes, 1996)
ISBN: 0-688-12897-1

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- pointy
- squeaky
- privacy
- creations
- provided
- permitted
- volunteer
- considerate
- amused
- furious
- absolutely
- fabulous
- disturb
- difficult
- response

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- privacy
- amused
- disturb
- difficult

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read aloud & show pictures of pages one-three. Ask the children to think about what Lilly loved. "Let's summarize what Lilly loves. What can we say about what Lilly is like?" (privacy)

Read aloud & show pictures of pages four-five. Ask the children to think about what makes Mr. Slinger such a "Wow" kind of teacher. Let the students share their ideas.

Read aloud the next two pages. "Why did father say wow? Why did Mr. Slinger say wow?"

Read the next two pages. Share a connection of a time when I got something new and was proud to show it off. Let the students share their experiences of this also.

Read aloud & show pictures of pages 8-9. Summarize what Lilly is trying to do and what Mr. Slinger is doing about it. Ask, "Why is Mr. Slinger not amused? If the students don't respond, I may have to explain what is meant by," He was not amused", using the word in context for clues about what it means. Explain how good readers sometimes look for clues to understand new words. (amused)

Read aloud the next two pages. What is Lilly feeling now? What does she do about it?

Read aloud the next four pages. Let's summarize what has happened and how Lilly feels.

(disturb)

Read aloud the next four pages. Let's predict what we think will happen next. What does Lilly think about what her teacher did? Does she forgive him? How do we know?

(difficult)

Read aloud the next four pages. What does Mr. Slinger do that helps us know he has forgiven Lilly?

Read aloud the rest of the book. Let's summarize how Lilly is feeling now. How do we know this?

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: private/privacy

1. Use the word as it was contextualized in the story. "In the book it says, Lilly loved the privacy of her very own desk."
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms. Private means only for you. In the book, Lilly's desk was her very own desk, a place to keep her things, a place to keep her things private.
3. Ask the children to repeat the word so they can create a phonological representation of the word. "Say the word with me: privacy."
4. Provide additional examples of the word in context. "When I write in my journal, I write my thoughts that I want to keep private. When we go to the restroom we need privacy. To use my computer I have a password that I keep private, so no one else can use it."
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word. "Tell an example of something that is private. Try to use the word privacy when you tell about it."
6. Finally, have the students repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation. "What's the word we've been talking about?" – privacy

Target word: amused

1. In the book, when Lilly said, "Look, everyone. Look what I've got!" Mr. Slinger was not amused.
2. To be amused, you think something is funny or pleasing. What Lilly did in class did not please Mr. Slinger? To be amused Mr. Slinger would have preferred that Lilly listen to the lesson that he was teaching, and wait for an opportunity to speak.

3. Let's say the word aloud, amused.
4. Have you ever been to an amusement park or Lagoon? That is a fun place and we are generally amused. Notice that in the words amusement park, the word amuse is part of the word, amusement. Mother is amused when you eat all of your vegetables. You are amused when your friend plays with you. When you watch your favorite TV program you are amused.
5. If any of the things I say would make someone amused, say amused. If not, don't say anything. Washing your hands, playing a game, singing a song, eating a cookie, washing the dishes, reading a book.
6. What's the word we are talking about? Amused

Target word: disturb

1. In the book it says, "You may bring them back to school as long as you don't disturb the rest of the class." And later in the book it says, "She peeked at them often but did not disturb a soul."
2. Disturb means not to bother. Your teacher may ask you to walk down the hall very quietly so you will not disturb another class. If your baby sister is sleeping, Mother does not want you to wake her up or to disturb her while she is sleeping. Or another way to use this word would be, don't disturb the glass of milk. It would make a big mess on the rug. That means to not upset or spill the milk. At the library there is a sign that reads, Do not disturb.
3. Say the word with me: disturb.
4. Mr. Slinger was referring to Lilly's quarters, glasses and purse as something that could disturb the class. How would these things disturb the class? What can Lilly do if she brings her things that will not disturb the class?
5. If any of the things I say would disturb someone or something, say the word disturb. If not, don't say anything. Running in the halls at school, pushing in line, shouting in your face, getting poor grades on your report card, raising your hand to be called on.
6. Let's say our new word: disturb

Target word: difficult

1. In the story Mr. Slinger wrote a note to Lilly and put it in her purse and it said, "Today was a difficult day. Tomorrow will be better."
2. Another word for difficult is hard, meaning something that is hard to do.
3. Say the word difficult.

4. 4. Some of our new words that we are learning for the word wall are difficult, because we are still learning them. When you learned to tie your shoes at first it was difficult.
5. Think of something that is difficult to do. Turn to your partner and tell them what is difficult to do. Make sure you use the word difficult when you share with your partner.
6. Let's say our new word again, difficult.

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Your brother uses your baseball mitt without your permission: privacy or disturb?
- Driving a race care: amused or disturb?
- Learning to play the piano: disturb or difficult?
- Sharing a secret: difficult or privacy?
- Taking a bath: privacy or difficult?
- Learning to fly an airplane: difficult or privacy?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Explain a time that you were amused.
- Describe a private place.
- What are some difficult things to do for your younger sister? What can you do to help her learn difficult things?
- When is a time you don't want to be disturbed? Sleeping? Watching TV? Reading a good book?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- I often watch television to be amused. What kinds of things do you like to do to be amused?
- When I'm tired it is difficult to get up in the morning. Do you agree?
- When my dog was hit by a car, it disturbed me. What has disturbed you?
- When I want to be alone I like my privacy. When do you like your privacy?

Assess:

Let's think about all four of our new words again: privacy, amused, disturb, difficult.

- When do you need privacy – playing a new game in PE or going to the restroom?
- Which would be amusing – a cartoon or the telephone book?
- What would disturb Mother – tending the baby or tracking mud on the new carpet?
- Which is difficult to do – say the ABC's or read the dictionary?

52. THE LION, THE WITCH AND THE WARDROBE

Amy Shirts
Bonneville
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe,

(Based on the Original Book by C.S. Lewis, 2004)

ISBN: 0-06-055650-1

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- longing
- adventure
- wickedness
- imagine
- awaits
- wounded
- restored
- trudged
- ransacked
- furious
- prepared
- smirking

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- longing
- furious
- wounded

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

PAGE:

1-2 Read page (longing)

Show illustration and explain what a wardrobe is.

- What is so special about this wardrobe?

3-4 Read

- What do we know about Mr. Tumnus so far?

Show both illustrations

5-6 Read

Show illustration

- Why is Mr. Tumnus so upset?
- What are Lucy's plans?

7-8 Read without showing illustrations

- How does the Witch persuade Edmund to do what she wants?

Show picture

9-10 Read without showing illustrations (furious)

- Why do you think this happened to Mr. Tumnus?

Show picture

11-12 Read

Show illustration

- What do we know about Aslan?
- Where do you think Aslan was going?

13-14 Read

Show illustration

15-16 Read (wounded)

Show illustrations

- What do you think Father Christmas meant when he said, "I bring you what your adventures call for?"

17-18 Read without showing illustrations

- What is happening to the weather in Narnia?

Show illustration

19-20 Read without showing illustrations

- What new information do we have about Aslan?

Show illustration

21-22 Read and show illustration

- Point out the horizon line.
- What does Lucy mean when she says Edmund is lost?

23-24 Read and show illustration

25-26 Read without showing illustrations

- What does it mean that Aslan offered his own life to save Edmunds?

Show illustration

27-28 Read and show illustration

29-30 Read and show illustrations

31-32 Read without showing illustrations

- Where did Aslan get many of the members of his Army?

33-34 Read and show illustrations

- Why did Edmund go for the Witch's wand instead of the Witch?

35-36 Read and show illustrations

- How did Edmund earn his place back with the other children?

37-38 Read and show illustrations

- What was Narnia like after Aslan and the four children came to power?

39-40 Read without showing illustrations

- What surprised the children?

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: longing

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.
In the story, the author tells us that the four children were all longing for adventure. Lucy, the most longing, was first to push past the furry coats and through the wardrobe.
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.
If you are longing for something that means you want something really special, and you can't wait for it to happen, or to get it.
3. Have the children say the word longing.
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.

ADDITIONAL EXAMPLES:

- Juan is longing to see his mother again because she has been in Mexico for six months.
 - Sarah is longing for her birthday to come because she can't wait to get her new roller blades.
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word. (If children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did.)

STUDENT GENERATED EXAMPLES

- Think of something that you are longing for. Start your sentence with "I am longing to/for . . ."
6. Have the children say the word longing.

Target word: wounded

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.
STORY CONTEXT: In the story, Father Christmas gives Lucy a small diamond bottle of cordial made from fireflowers, so magical that a few drops would heal the wounded. At the thought of the wounded, Lucy remembered Edmund. She had the feeling something terrible was happening to him
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.
DEFINITION: hurt or injured
3. Ask the children to say the word wounded.
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.

ADDITIONAL EXAMPLES:

- If a soldier is hit by a bullet in his leg, he is wounded.
- If you fall off your bike and break your arm, you are wounded.

STUDENT GENERATED EXAMPLES:

- Now you think of other ways that someone might get wounded. Begin your sentence by saying, "You may get wounded by..."
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word.

Listen to these situations. If you would be wounded by doing what I say, stand up and say, "I'm wounded." If you would not be wounded stay seated and say nothing.

- You are in a car accident and you cut your head on the windshield.
 - Your dad tickles your feet.
 - You cut your finger while slicing some cheese.
 - Your grandma gives you a hug before you leave her house.
6. Have the children say the word wounded.

Target word: furious

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.

In the story, Lucy finds out that Mr. Tumnus had been dragged away by the Witch's Secret Wolf Police. She was furious. She cried, "Well, that does it, I'm not leaving until that Witch has had her wand smashed and her wickedness stamped on!"

2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.

DEFINITION: extremely angry

3. Ask the children to say the word furious.
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.

STUDENTS REPEAT WORD

5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word.

STUDENT GENERATED EXAMPLES:

Now you describe a time when you were furious and tell why. Start your sentence with: "I was furious when . . . because . . ."

6. Have the children say the word furious.

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

Number the three new words 1-3, and hang them on the wall. Give the following situations and have the students say the correct word while holding up the number of fingers corresponding with that word.

- I fell and broke my wrist, while skateboarding.
- My baby sister flushed my new necklace down the toilet.
- I can't wait until I am 16, and I can get my driver's license.
- Your bike was stolen during the night.
- A soldier was hit in the leg by a road-side bomb.
- I wish I could go visit my dad, because I miss him so much.

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

1. Complete this sentence: Jack was longing to _____. Ask for response from one student. Then ask, "Thumbs up or Thumbs down?"
2. A person would be wounded badly if _____. Ask for response. "Thumbs up or thumbs down?"
3. I would be furious if _____. Ask for response. "Thumbs up or Thumbs down?"

53. LITTLE GRUNT AND THE BIG EGG

Jennifer Davila
Montezuma Creek Elementary
San Juan School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Little Grunt and the Big Egg, (Tomie dePaola, 1990)
ISBN: 0-440-84457-6

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- brunch
- hearth
- crowded
- housebroken
- erupting
- resign
- scenery

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- erupting
- resign
- hearth

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Today we are going to read a story about a boy who finds an animal who becomes special friend. Before we begin to read we need to think about what we already know about pets who are friends. (Have class brainstorm a list of pets that they would like to have.) Today when I read the story to you, I want you to practice listening very carefully to the story. Good readers can answer questions about a story while they are reading it. This helps them remember the story better. When I am done with a page, I will ask you a question about the page and then we will look at the picture in the book.

- pg. 1 question (read the text and ask the students the question to help them remember the story. Q: Who lived in the cave?
 - Model request, I remember from the story that a family named the Grunts lived in the cave; there were a lot of them for just one cave.
- pg. 2 Q: What was Little Grunt's job?
- pg. 3 Q: How did Little Grunt get the egg home?
- pg. 4 Q: How do the Grunts feel about the egg?
- pg. 5 Q: What happened to the egg?
- pg. 6 Q: What hatched out of the egg?

- pg. 7 Q: Does Little Grunt like the dinosaur? How about the rest of the family?
- pg. 8 and 9 Q: What was the big problem with George?
- pg. 10 and 11 Q: Do you think that the Grunt family likes George?
- pg. 12 Q: Why does George have to leave?
- pg. 14 Q: Where did Little Grunt take George?
- pg. 16 Q: Why do the Grunts think the cave start to shake?
- pg. 18 Q: Do you think that the Grunts are in trouble? Why?
- pg. 20 Q: I wonder who is making that strange new noise?
- pg. 22 Q: How can George save the family?
- pg. 24 Q: Where do you think George will take the family?
- pg. 26 Q: How do the Grunts feel about George now?
- pg. 28 Q: Why did the Grunts change George's name to Georgiana?
- pg. 30 Q: Do you think that Georgiana will be a good mother? Why?

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

There were some words today in our story that you might not know so we are going to learn them. The reason we are going to learn the words is because good readers know lots of words so when they are reading a story so they can understand exactly what the author wants them to know. Our first new word is:

Target word: erupting

1. The volcano is erupting in the story
2. Erupting is when something explodes or blows up.
3. When I count to three I would like all of you to say the word erupting
4. When this class is noisy, the sound is erupting from the students' mouths.
5. Can you raise your hand and tell me about a time when you something erupting please use the word erupting in your sentence.
6. Let's practice saying our word one more time. When I count to three say erupting.

Target word: hearth

1. The Grunts put the egg near the hearth in the story.
2. A hearth is the edge of a fire place, where it is nice and warm.
3. When I count to three I would like all of you to say the word hearth.
4. In the winter when my shoes are wet from walking in the snow I put them on the hearth to dry.
5. Can you tell me what you would put on the hearth? I would put a _____ by the hearth because...
6. Let's practice saying our word one more time. When I count to three say hearth.

Target word: resign

1. When the Grunts were trapped in the cave Chief Rock head said, "Don't ask me! I resign."
2. Resign means to quit.
3. Let's practice saying our word. When I count to three say resign.
4. When the students were acting very naughty in the class the teacher said, "That's it, I resign!"
5. Can you tell me what might make a person resign from their job? Please use the word resign, _____ would resign from their job because...
6. Let's practice saying our word one more time. When I count to three say resign.

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two or three of the words:

- The water was exploding out of the sprinkler, the water was
 - a. erupting
 - b. resign
 - c. a hearth
- I am nice and warm next to the fire, I am going to sit on the
 - a. resign
 - b. hearth
 - c. brunch
- When the doctor found out that he had to give 71 students shots he decided to
 - a. eat brunch
 - b. resign

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Please raise your hand and tell me something that could be erupting
- I put my mittens on the hearth. Where is the hearth in my room?
- Why do you think that a trash man would resign?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Please go back to your seats and write a sentence about a something that was erupting.
- Draw a picture of a hearth.
- Write a sentence about why you would resign from being a student.

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: erupting hearth, and resign.”

- Where would you put a turtle to stay warm in the winter?
 - By the hearth
 - If it was erupting
- I don’t want to work anymore. I am going to
 - resign
 - be a hearth
- The radio was so loud in the car it was _____ out the windows.
 - resigning
 - erupting

54. LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD

Debra Tjoland
Lewis Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Little Red Riding Hood, (Lisa Campbell Ernst, 1995)
ISBN: 0-590-89933-3

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- prairie
- scorcher
- startled
- adores
- wafting
- scrumptious
- tantalizing
- slyly
- response
- dastardly
- feeble
- delectable
- muddled
- ancient
- scoundrel
- frail
- disposition

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction.

- scrumptious
- dastardly
- disposition

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Introduce the story by asking the students, “How many of you are familiar with (or know) the story of Little Red Riding Hood. Tell me how it goes.” After students have told you the story they know, show them the front cover of the book. Ask the students if this book looks like the story that they know. Ask “What is the same/different about it?”

I want you to listen carefully and think about what is the same and what is different from the story that you know. I want you to compare the things that are the same and contrast the things that are different from the story that you know.

Read page 3: What is the same about how this story begins compared to the story you know? What’s different? Where does this Little Red Riding Hood live? Let’s read a little farther to see if we can find out what a prairie is. Show the picture.

Read page 4: In the story that you know, what does Little Red Riding Hood bring to Grandma? What does she bring to Grandma in this story?

Read pages 7 and 8. Remember that Little Red Riding Hood lives at the edge of a great prairie? Where do you find a prairie? What are some things you would find on a prairie? Display a realia picture of a prairie then show the picture of Little Red Riding Hood riding her bike on the prairie on pages 8 and 9.

Show pages 10 and 11 at the same time as reading it. Point out the wafting lines on the page. Sometimes when something smells and tastes really good, it is almost as if we can see the wonderful smells coming at us. That is wafting.

Read page 12.

Read pages 15 and 16. Let's recap for a moment. What has happened so far in this story? Let's compare how it is the same as the story we know. Describe what is different about the stories.

Read pages 18 and 21

Read page 22. In the story that we know, where does the wolf find Grandma? Is that where the wolf in this story finds Grandma? Where do you think Grandma might be? Show the picture.

Remind what the wolf says when he finds Grandma in the house. (Allow children time to retell that story part from the story that they know.)

Read page 25 and show the picture. Does this look like the Grandma from the story that you know? What is different about it?

Read page 26. In the story that you know, who has the "big eyes," "big ears," and "big hands?" Was there something different? Who has those things in this story? – grandma

Read page 28 to the end. Did this story end the same way as the story you know? Tell me what was different? What was the same? Describe the wolf's disposition in the beginning of the story and then at the end.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: scrumptious

1. In the story the wolf smells the wheat berry muffins that came wafting under his nose and he whispers, "What is that scrumptious smell?"
2. When foods taste so good they make your lips smack, we say that it is tastes scrumptious.
3. "Say the word with me softly, loudly and then like Grandma: scrumptious."
4. When we are hungry and we smell our favorite foods, we think about eating them because they taste so scrumptious. Fresh warm tortillas are scrumptious. In the summer, I love corn on the cob and barbecue chicken on the grill because they taste and smell so scrumptious it makes my mouth water.
5. I want you to think about a food that tastes and smells scrumptious. Try to use the word scrumptious when you tell us about it.
6. "What's the word we have been talking about?" 'scrumptious'

Target word: dastardly

1. "Our story says that the wicked wolf had a dastardly plan."
2. "To be dastardly means to be sneaky."
3. "Say the word with me in a whisper, like a robot, and then like an opera singer. Dastardly."
4. "When you make a plan to try to trick your younger brother or sister in to doing your chores, you could say that you have a dastardly plan. When someone plots a way to trick you out of your money, they plotted a dastardly plan."
5. "Have you ever tried to come up with a plan to get out of doing something or plotted a trick to get a brother or sister to do something for you that you didn't want to do? Begin by saying, 'My dastardly plan was...' Practice your sentence with your shoulder partner."
6. "The word we are learning about isdastardly."

Target word: disposition

1. "The story says, naturally, the wolf got to eat all the muffins he wanted, which improved his disposition enormously."
2. "Disposition describes your natural personality."
3. "Say the word sounding like you have a sad disposition, then an angry disposition, and finally a cheery disposition like Mary Poppins."
4. "When you see someone that is smiling and happy, we say that they have a cheery disposition. A person that seems to be mad all the time may have an angry disposition."
5. "I am going to say some things may or may not describe someone's disposition. If it could describe someone's disposition, say 'disposition.' If it does not describe someone's disposition, do not say anything."
 - Sneaky
 - Shopping for clothes.
 - Helpful
 - Lazy
 - Eating a sandwich.
 - Watching television.
6. "Remind me again of the new word we have learned." disposition

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If you were eating s'mores around a campfire, would they taste scrumptious or disposition?
- If someone refuses to do what you ask them, would they have a dastardly plan or stubborn disposition?
- If it was your turn to do the dishes and you came up with a plan to trick your brother or sister to do them instead, did you have a dastardly plan or a scrumptious plan?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Give an example of something that would not be scrumptious.
- If you were a patient in the hospital, would want to have a nurse that had a mean disposition or a caring disposition? Why?
- Can you think of a character from another story or movie that had a dastardly plan?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Have you ever tasted something you thought would be scrumptious, but it really wasn't? What did you do?
- If you met a stranger on your way home from school, they might have a dastardly plan to get you into their car. What should you do?
- What should you do if someone on the playground had a mean-spirited disposition and pushed you down?

Assess:

“Let's think about all three of our new words again: scrumptious, dastardly, disposition.”

- Which food would you think was scrumptious, a chocolate bar or broccoli?
- Which would be a dastardly plan, trading your 4 quarters for your sister's/brother's dollar or trading your 10 pennies for sister's/brother's dollar?
- Which person would have a funny disposition, a policeman or a clown?

55. THE MAGIC HAT

Sara Johnson
Backman Elementary
Salt Lake District

Text Talk for: The Magic Hat, (Mem Fox, 2003)
ISBN: 0-439-56133-7

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- magic
- spun
- warty
- toad
- baboon
- kangaroo
- appeared
- lofty
- giraffe
- skip
- wizard
- warning
- fabulous

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- amused
- mischievous
- confused

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read aloud pages 1 & 2. Show the illustrations and point out the town and the hat in the sky.

Read aloud pages 3 & 4. Ask the students, “What do we know so far?” Show the illustrations.

Read aloud pages 5 & 6. Ask the students, “What is the hat doing? Where is it going?” Show the illustrations.

Read aloud pages 7 & 8. Show the illustrations and point out the hat and where it is going.

Read aloud pages 9 & 10. Say to the students, “I am noticing that the story is rhyming. I noticed that ‘hat’ rhymes with ‘that’, ‘air’ rhymes with ‘there’. Do you think that the next animal that the hat is going to land on rhymes with ‘air’ and ‘there’?” “Let’s find out!”

Read aloud pages 11 & 12. Ask the students, “Did the hat land on an animal that rhymes with ‘air’ and ‘there’?” “Was your answer right?”

Read aloud pages 13 & 14. “Good readers predict what is going to happen next in the stories they read. Tell me what you think is going to happen next?” or “Can you predict where the hat is going next?” Show the illustrations.

Read aloud pages 15 & 16. Ask the students, “Was your prediction right?” “Let’s keep reading to find out what the hat is going to do next!” Show the illustrations.

Simultaneously read aloud pages 17 & 18 while showing the illustrations.

Read aloud pages 19 & 20 and ask the students to help you read the word that is big and bright red (STOP!).

Read aloud pages 21 & 22. Say to the students, “Let’s answer the question asked. ‘and what do you think?’” Show the illustrations.

Read aloud pages 23 & 24 while showing the illustrations. Point out the people who were turned back into people and the crowd as well. (confused and amused)

Read aloud pages 25 & 26 while showing the students the illustrations. (mischievous)

Read aloud pages 27 & 28. Show the illustrations and ask the students, “Can you predict what is going to happen to the wizard?”

Read aloud page 29. Show the illustrations and ask the students, “Did your prediction happen?” “Good readers reflect on the story and how it ended. How did our story end?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target Word: amused

1. “In the story the author said the crowd was highly amused.”
2. If you say someone is highly amused, you mean they are not bored but they are happy, and or laughing and smiling.
3. “Say the word with me: amused.”
4. “If (teacher name) came to school today wearing a horse costume his/her class would be amused.” “Having a clown slip on a banana peel and fall would make people amused.”
5. “Now you think of something that has amused you. Please start your sentence with, ‘I was amused when...’ (If students provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did.)
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘amused’

Target word: mischievous

1. “In the book it said the wizard had a mischievous smile.”
2. mischievous means to be playful or is playful.
3. “Say the word with me: mischievous”
4. “While having a water fight my brother gave me a mischievous look before he hit me with a bucket full of water.” “Someone hiding under a table waiting to scare the teacher would be mischievous.”
5. “Now it is your turn to think of a time when you have been mischievous. Please begin your sentence with, ‘I was being mischievous when I...’ Please share it with your partner.”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘mischievous’

Target word: confused

1. “The author wrote, ‘Turned back into people, dazed and confused.’”
2. confused means to mistake one thing for another.
3. “Say the word with me: confused.”
4. “I confused the sound /k/ for the letter C when it should have been K.” “Some students get confused when they see the letters p and q, or b and d.”
5. “Now will you please share a time when you were confused. Start your sentence, ‘I was confused when...’”
6. “What’s the word we’ve talking about?” ‘confused’

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Calling someone by the wrong name. mischievous or confused
- Hiding your moms’ keys. amused or mischievous
- Laughing at someone’s joke: confused or amused
- Walking into the wrong bathroom: confused or mischievous
- Someone wearing a funny hair-do: mischievous or amused
- Sneaking into your sisters room to take something: mischievous or amused

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell us of a time when one of your friends amused you.
- Has there ever been a time when you were confused and got lost? Tell us about it.
- Will you tell us of a time when someone in your family was mischievous?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- If someone amused you how would you feel? Describe what you would do.
- If someone was being mischievous during a movie, would you begin acting like them? Why or why not?
- My dad was confused when he took the wrong turn on the way to the movie theater. What other things make parents confused?

Assess:

“Let’s think about our three new words we learned about: confused, mischievous, amused”

- “One of these sentences means confused. Please give me a thumbs up if it is or if it is not give me a thumbs down.”
 - a) a little child knowing where he/she is, or
 - b) a little child not knowing where he/she is.
- Which of these is mischievous?
 - a) hiding behind a door to scare someone, or
 - b) hiding behind a door because there is a stranger in your house.
- If you are amused you are:
 - a) having a good time and laughing at something or
 - b) having a bad time and crying.

Tami Zirker
East Elementary School
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Mailing May, (Michael O. Tunnell, 1997)
ISBN: 0-688-12878-5

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- sit a spell
- postal code
- tingly
- beeline
- permissible
- adventuresome
- slogged
- valise
- spidery trestles
- commenced
- poultry
- conductor
- flabbergasted
- carted
- mail carrier
- mumbled
- boar hog

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- mumbled
- permissible
- poultry

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

I chose the three starred words as my target vocabulary. Many of the other words, such as beeline, slogged, flabbergasted, valise, commenced, and sit a spell, seemed very old fashioned. Words like boar hog, spidery trestles, and postal code seemed seldom used. From the remaining words, I chose the three that seemed most common and usable. I thought about adding conductor, but decided to use only three words for my text talk.

First I will briefly introduce the story. “This is a true story of a little girl named May who wanted to go visit her grandma, but couldn’t afford it. As we read, see if you can figure out how she will get there.”

“The story takes place in 1914, so some of the words will be old-fashioned and hard to understand. Let me know if I read a word that you don’t understand.” I will read each page and then show the picture from that page.

I will read pages 1&2 and ask “Why was May looking for a job?” and “Why couldn’t she get one?”

Read pages 3&4 and ask, “Why do you think Ma and Pa were whispering and not letting May ask questions?”

Read pages 5&6 and ask, “Why did Pa take May to the post office?”

Read pages 7&8 and ask, “Why did they call May a baby chick?”

Read pages 9&10 and ask, “Why did May say that she was ‘adventuresome’.” “Why do you think that the author used that word?”

Read pages 11&12 and ask, “What did May see out the door of the train? Why would she see these things?”

Read pages 13&14. Ask, “How did May get to Grandma’s house?”

Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words:

Target word: mumbled (page 6)

1. In the story when they bring May to the train station to mail her, Mr. Perkins mumbles, “Mailing May” and shakes his head. He would have said it like this (mumble) “Mailing May”.
2. Mumble means to speak something quietly without opening your mouth very much.
3. The word is mumbled. Say the word mumbled with me, “mumbled”.
4. Sometimes when you are in trouble and you don’t want to get in more trouble, you mumble your words, like this “You always blame me.” Or if you have something in your mouth when you are trying to talk, it can come out as a mumble. When I speak clearly in class, I am not mumbling. When you yell across the playground, you are not mumbling.
5. Can you think of a time when you mumbled? Try to use the word mumbled in your sentence when you tell about it. You could say, “I mumbled when _____.”
6. What is the word we have been talking about? Say it together, “mumbled”.

Target word: permissible (page 7)

1. In the story Mr. Perkins said, “Well, the rule book says nothing about children, but it is permissible to mail baby chicks.” He means that it is okay to mail chicks. They will allow it.
2. Permissible means ‘allow or let something happen’. The word permissible comes from the same root word as permission. You sometimes have to have permission to do something and it is permissible to do so.
3. The word is permissible. Say the word permissible with me, “permissible”.
4. It is permissible to bring show and tell to school on Friday. It is permissible to take the paddle to go the bathroom. It is not permissible to hit someone. It is not permissible to steal. If any of these things I say would be permissible, say permissible. If not, don't say anything.

- reading a book
 - lying
 - running in the hall
 - being kind
 - throwing food in the lunchroom
 - feeding the dog
5. Tell me something that you know is permissible. Say it this way, "It is permissible to . . ."
 6. Tell me something that you know is not permissible. Say it this way, "It is not permissible to . . ."
 7. What is the word we have been talking about? Say it together, "permissible."

Target word: poultry (page 8)

1. In the story Mr. Perkins says, "Well, Leonard, looks like you'll be in charge of some poultry on this mail run." They were talking about mailing May as a baby chick.
2. Poultry are tame birds like chickens, turkeys, and geese. People use them for eggs or meat.
3. We eat poultry like chickens and turkeys. Wild birds are not considered to be poultry. Chickens are poultry. Dogs are not poultry. Penguins are not poultry.
4. Can you think of a time when you did something with poultry? Try to use the word poultry in your sentence when you tell about it. You could say, "A _____ is a kind of poultry. or "Poultry _____."
5. What is the word we have been talking about? Say it together, "poultry".

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- "If you were hungry would you want mumbled or poultry?" Why?
- If your mouth was full would you mumble or permissible? Why
- If you had the bathroom pass, would going to the bathroom be permissible or poultry? Why?

Maintaining all three words by asking the children to give examples of explanations:

- "Please mumble your name and phone number."
- Name three things are permissible to do at school.
- Think of a time when you had poultry.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- When I ate lunch I had chicken. What else could I have eaten that was poultry?
- When you are mumbling, what are you doing?
- How would you act if something was permissible?

Assess:

- What were our three new words again? Mumbled, permissible, poultry.
- When something is permissible is it okay or not okay?
- When would you mumble- when you are upset or when you are happy?
- Which of these would be poultry- a flagpole or a turkey?

57. THE MAN WHO WALKED BETWEEN THE TOWERS

Jileen Boydston
Lewis Elementary
Ogden City Schools

Text Talk Lesson for: The Man Who Walked Between the Towers, (Scholastic, 2004)
ISBN: 0-439-71141-8

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- fiery
- amazed
- reel
- equipment
- sparkling
- plummeted
- secured
- frantically
- absolutely
- gasped
- stared
- astonishing
- terrifying
- surrounded
- satisfied
- completely
- sentenced
- imprinted

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- plummeted
- astonishing
- imprinted

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Before reading the story, say, “This is a true story that happened in New York City.”

Read aloud page one. Compare the height with something the children are familiar with. Show the illustration.

Read aloud pages 2 and 3. Ask the children, “What do we know about the young man?”

Read aloud pages 4 & 5. Show the illustration. Ask the children, “What else do we know about him?”

Read aloud pages 6. Ask the children, “Why wouldn’t the police officers allow him to do this?”

Read aloud page 7. Ask the children, “What is the man planning to do?” Show the illustration.

Read aloud pages 8. Explain briefly the terms, “cable” and “equipment”. Ask the children, “What are do you think they going to do?” Show the illustration.

Read aloud page 10 & 11. Show the illustration.

Read aloud page 12 & 13. Show the children how thick the cable is. Ask the children, “Do you think he will make it? Why or why not? Would you do it? Why or why not?” Show the illustration.

Read aloud pages 14 and 15. Explain that plummeted means fell, and secured means tied. Explain that his friends could have fallen. Show the illustration.

Read aloud page 16 & 17. Explain that frantically means that they are worried and hurrying. Show the illustration.

Show the illustration and fold out for pages 18 and 19. Read aloud page 19. Ask the children, “How would you feel if you were on the street below Phillippe, and looked up and saw him?”

Read aloud page 20. Show the illustration.

Unfold and read page 21. Ask the children, “What will the police do? How will they get him down?”

Read aloud page 22 and 23. Show the illustration.

Read aloud page 24 and 25. Show the illustration. Remind the children about how big around the cable is. Ask the children, “How will they get him down?”

Read aloud page 26 and 27. Explain that satisfied meant, he was happy and finished. Show the illustration.

Read aloud page 28. Show the illustration.

Read aloud pages 30 and 31. Show the illustration. You may want to briefly explain what happened to the towers, and emphasize that they are no longer there. We just have memories of them. Ask the children, “How did the story end?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: plummeted.”

1. “In the story, the author states that the cable plummeted toward the street.
2. “Plummet means to drop straight down.”
3. “Say the word with me: plummet”
4. “When a hawk is flying and sees a mouse on the ground that we want to eat, he will plummet to get it. If I was to stand on a cliff and drop a rock, it would plummet to the ground.”
5. “Give me an example of something that could plummet. You could say, “ The _____ plummeted from the _____”
6. “What word have we been talking about? “plummet”

Target word: astonishing

1. "In the book, when the people first saw Phillipe, the author states that they gasped and stared! It was astonishing."
2. "Astonishing means surprising or amazing. The people could hardly believe someone would walk up there so high."
3. "Let's say the words aloud, astonishing."
4. "It would be astonishing to look outside and see hamburgers falling from the sky." "It would be astonishing for a dog to say, "Meow".
5. "I am going to tell you some things. If this thing is astonishing, say, "That's astonishing!" If not, shake your head.
 - The principal wearing his swimming suit to school
 - School letting out at 2:45
 - Eating pizza for lunch
 - Your teacher letting you drive her car
6. "What word have we been learning? astonishing

Target word: imprinted

1. "The last page of the story reads, "but in memory, as if imprinted on the sky, the towers are still there."
2. "Imprinted means that something is permanent. It is there forever. The towers aren't still there, but the memory of the towers is in people's minds forever."
3. "Say the word with me :imprinted."
4. "The picture on this page is on here forever. I can't erase it. It is imprinted." "If I record my voice on a CD, it is imprinted on the CD."
5. "I'm going to give some examples. If it is imprinted, say "imprinted". If not, don't say anything.
 - A photograph in a book
 - Writing something with a pencil
 - The memory of my mother's face
 - What I ate for lunch
6. "What word are we talking about? imprinted"

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Would a movie star coming to class be astonishing or plummeted? Why?
- Would rain falling from the sky plummet or imprint? Why?
- Would a title on a book be imprinted or plummet? Why?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- If something astonishing happened at school? What might happen?
- How do people imprint their thoughts or stories?
- What would be fun to see plummet from the sky? Why?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- When you are seeing something that is astonishing, what words might you say?
- Could a feather plummet, why or why not?
- What is something imprinted in your memory?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: plummet, astonishing, imprinted.”

- What is most likely to plummet from the sky-snow or hail?
- What is astonishing-your best friend coming over to play or your best friend flying over your house?
- What is imprinted, the words in a book, or words on the white board?

58. THE MARKET SQUARE DOG

Karen Toledo
Montezuma Creek Elementary
San Juan School District

Text Talk Lesson For: The Market Square Dog, (James Herriot, 1989)
ISBN: 0-590-48062-6

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- devoured
- eagerly
- fringed
- anesthetic
- glancing
- anxiously
- claim
- inquired
- reunited
- mongrel

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- reunited
- anxiously
- inquired

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

“Okay boys and girls today you are going to listen to a story about a lonely dog in England. Listen as I read about a veterinarian, also the narrator, who sees the dog in a market square. A market square is where people come together in one place to sell and buy all sorts of things.”

Read pages 2-4. Stop. Think aloud: “Okay. After reading I understand that the veterinarian and a farmer spot the little dog. They have never seen the dog before. The dog is begging for food appealingly. He is appealingly begging for food by sitting upright, paws dangling, rocking steadily, and with his head pointing expectantly. Like he was sure he was going to get something to eat.”

Continue reading. Stop on page 8. “The dog keeps trotting (sort of like running) away whenever someone gets close to it. Why do you think this is so? The veterinarian seems very curious about this particular dog doesn’t he? He says, “The memory stayed with me for the rest of the day. It is our duty to look after the animals who depend on us and it worried me to think of the little creature wandering about in a strange place, sitting up and asking for help in the only way he knew.” Turn to your partner and tell them whether or not you agree with this statement.”

Continue reading. Stop on page 14. “A whole week goes by and finally the veterinarian gets to examine the dog. The dog is badly hurt and is taken to surgery immediately. THINK-PAIR-SHARE: By his action, how do you know that the veterinarian cares about the dog?”

Continue reading. Stop on page 18. “The veterinarian visits the dog at the police station. Both the vet and the dog are glad to see each other. They are ecstatic! If the dog is doing well, why is the veterinarian still worried?

Ask: Will the dog ever get reunited with his owners? Why?”

Continue reading. Stop on page 24. “Boys and girls let me read a section of the story again. Think about the meaning of this statement.” Reread page 24. “...but nobody seemed to be interested in him. Maybe it was because he was only a mongrel and the people who visited the kennels wanted a more elegant dog...”

“Look at the picture.

Ask: Would you agree with the veterinarian? Why? What makes something elegant or highly prized and desired?”

Finish reading the story. “The begging dog finally has a home! Both the dog and the veterinarian are happy.”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: reunite (reunited)

1. “The story had us anticipate a reunion of the dog and his owner. But the dog was never reunited with his owner.” “The dog and the owner didn’t reunite or come back together.”
2. “Say reunite with me. Reunite”
3. “If I was lost and then found, I would be reunited with my family. When I see old friends from school, I will reunite with them to talk about old times.”
4. “Reunite. To come back together. Think of a 7-up sentence using the word reunite. Share your sentence with your partner. Write the sentence.”
5. Reunite. What word?

Target word: anxious (anxiously)

1. “In the story the veterinarian’s wife, Helen, kept glancing at the dog anxiously.”
2. “Anxious means to be in a type of rush; to be unable to wait.
3. “Say anxious with me. Anxious.”
4. “If you studied hard for a spelling test, you would be anxious to see your test score. If you and your friends have started a fun game, you would be anxious to go out for recess.”
5. Anxious. Unable to wait. Think of a 7-up sentence using the word anxious. Share your sentence with your partner. Write it down.”
6. Anxious. What word?

Target word: inquire (inquired)

1. “In the story the veterinarian asks if anybody has inquired about the dog.”
2. “Inquire means to ask about.”
3. “Say inquire with me. Inquire.”
4. “When you want to know more about stars and planets, you inquire about it by reading about it. If you want to know what is in the taco casserole, you inquire about it.”
5. Inquire. To ask about. Think of a 7-up sentence using the word inquire. Share your sentence with your partner. Write it down.”
6. “Say in inquire with me. Inquire.”

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If you brought a pet and its owner together, would you reunite them or would you inquire about it?
- If you finally went to see a long awaited movie, would you be anxious to see it or would you inquire about it?
- If you went to a family get-together, would you be reunited with your distant cousins or inquire about them?
- If you read more, to get more information, would you be anxious or would you be inquiring about it?
- If you were waiting for your birthday party, would you be anxious or inquire about it?
- If you were asking a store clerk about an item, would you be inquiring or reuniting?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Has there been a time when you were anxious for something to happen?
- Tell about a time when someone inquired about you. Maybe when you were visiting someone and people didn't know you.
- Why wouldn't I be reunited with my family if I never left them in the first place? Explain.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- When you are anxious for something to happen, how do you act? What does your body do?
- If you had to write about tropical birds, whom would you inquire about the topic? What would you also inquire?
- How would you feel if you were reunited with a long lost loved one?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: reunite, anxious, inquire.”

- Which of these would a curious boy inquire about- a nest filled with tiny robin eggs or an empty nest?
- Which of these would make someone anxious- seeing a newborn baby or watching doctors and nurses go by?
- How might two animals be reunited after being apart for two days-being put in the same cage or being put in separate cages?

59. THE MIDNIGHT FRIDGE

Ben Moser
Lewis Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Midnight Fridge, (Bruce Glassman, 1998) ISBN: 1-56711-801-1

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- alarm
- surprise
- reminded
- gather (ed)
- squealed
- paces
- blabbing
- groan
- boasted
- pride
- deserve
- uncoiled
- chanting
- raving
- ranting
- erupted
- fretted
- fussed
- flung
- fray
- halted
- cooperation
- celebration
- promoting
- nudged
- restored
- dimmed

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- boasted
- raving
- cooperation

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read aloud page 1. Ask the students, “What type of genre is this story?” Have them explain their answers. Show the illustration to the students.

Read aloud pages 2 & 3. Ask the students, “What do you think is happening here?” Have them explain their answers. Show the illustrations to the students.

Read aloud pages 4 & 5, and ask “How are the foods feeling?” Show the illustrations to the students. Point out facial expressions.

Read aloud pages 6 & 7. Ask the students, “When somebody they knew said they were the best, how did it make them feel?” Have students explain their feelings. Show the illustrations to the students.

Read aloud pages 8 & 9 and ask, “How do you think the foods are feeling now?” Show the illustrations to the students. Point out potato and hot pepper.

Read aloud pages 10 & 11. “What do you think the problem is in this story? Have the students explain their answer. Show the illustrations to the students.

Read aloud pages 12 & 13. Ask the students, “Why is the problem getting worse?” Show the illustrations to the students.

Read aloud pages 14 & 15. “If you were one of the foods in this fridge what would you do in this situation?” “Why?” Show the illustrations to the students.

Read aloud pages 16 & 17 and ask, “Why is fighting bad?” “Why does fighting not make the problem go away?” Show the illustrations to the students.

Read aloud pages 18 & 19. “If you were one of the foods in this fridge what would you do in this situation?” “Why?” “Do you think the problem is being solved?” Have students explain their answers. Show the illustrations to the students.

Read aloud pages 20 & 21 and ask the following questions: “Why do you think it took hero sandwich so long to stop the fighting?” “How do you think the foods feel now?” “How have you felt when you have been caught doing something wrong?” “How do you think hero sandwich will make the foods feel better?” “Explain your answer.” Show the illustrations to the students.

Read aloud pages 22 & 23. “Has the problem been solved yet?” “Do the foods feel better?” “Explain your answers.” Show the illustrations to the students.

Read aloud pages 24 & 25 and ask the students, “What is hero sandwich doing to solve the problem?” “Is it working?” Show the illustrations to the students.

Read aloud pages 26 & 27. Ask the students the following questions: “Are the foods friends again?” “Why do you think that?” “How do you feel when you apologize and are friends again?” Show the illustrations to the students.

Read aloud pages 28 & 29 and ask the students these questions: “How do the foods feel now?” “Has the problem been solved?” “Do you think the problem could have been fixed sooner?” “Explain your answer.” Show the illustrations to the students.

Read aloud page 30. Ask the students, “How does the story end?” Show the illustration to the students. Also ask the following questions: “What do you think the little girl is thinking?” “What would you be thinking if you walked into the kitchen in the middle of the night and there was food spilled in front of the fridge?” Have the students explain their answers.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: boasted

1. “In the story, the author writes ‘I am the top food,’ egg boasted with pride.”
2. “If you say that somebody boasted, you mean they said something about themselves making them better than anybody else.”
3. “Say the word with me: boasted.”

4. "If I were to say that I was the best teacher in the world, I would have boasted about my teaching." "My friend told me that he could play basketball better than I could. He boasted about how well he could play basketball."
5. "Now think about when you heard somebody who boasted about themselves. Tell us what they said. Start your sentence with 'This person boasted when he/she said..., ' or 'If you boasted about _____, you said you were the best.'" (If children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them to use the word in a different way than the author did.)
6. "What's the word that we have been talking about?" 'boasted'

Target word: raving

1. "In the story, the author writes 'protein is yucky!, ' the pastries were chanting, which started the hamburgers raving and ranting."
2. "If you say that somebody is raving, you mean to say that person is very angry."
3. "Say the word with me: raving"
4. "I was ranting and raving when I couldn't get my lawn mower to start." My wife was ranting and raving when she found out she was not paid for the work she had done."
5. "Now think of a time that you were really mad. Tell us why you were mad, please start your sentence with 'I was ranting and raving when..., ' or 'When _____ happened I went about ranting and raving."
6. "What's the word we have been working on?" 'raving'

Target word: cooperation

1. "In the story, the author writes 'Why, I am a model of cooperation, a blending of flavors, a taste celebration!'"
2. "Cooperation means to work together with other people to get something done."
3. "Say the word with me: cooperation"
4. "By using cooperation the group of students was able to win the relay race." "Cooperation is very important to use when working in any type of group."

5. “If any of the things I say would require cooperation, say ‘cooperation.’ If not, don’t say anything.
 - Eating breakfast
 - Building a house
 - Playing on a basketball team
 - Going to bed
 - Driving a car
 - Paddling a canoe
6. “What’s the word we have been learning about?” ‘cooperation’

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- A group of students working together to build a tower: raving or cooperation?
- Getting angry because somebody called you a name: raving or boasted?
- My brother said he was the best at skiing: cooperation or boasted?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- If somebody had boasted about how well they are at math, what did they do?
- My father was ranting and raving because he broke a piece on his car, what was he doing?
- Would you be using cooperation skills if you said, “I want to work on this project alone?” Why or why not?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Have you ever boasted about how good you are at something? Are you actually that good or were you just saying you were that good? Why did you say that? Do you think you might have hurt somebody’s feelings?
- Tell us about a time when you were ranting and raving. What caused you to get so angry? How did you calm back down?
- When did you have to use cooperation? Would you rather work in a group or by yourself? Why?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our words again: boasted, raving, cooperation.”

- Which one of these examples would somebody have boasted about themselves – a student asking another student for help? A student telling another student that she is going to “smoke” him because she is better than him at math?
- What would cause somebody to be raving mad – getting a 100% on a test? Finding out that your best friend told everybody in your class a lie about you?
- When would it be better to use cooperation – building a house? Brushing your teeth?

60. MING LO MOVES THE MOUNTAIN

Kim Gianelo
North Star Elementary
Salt Lake School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Ming Lo Moves the Mountain, (Arnold Lobel, 1982)
ISBN: 0-688-10995-0

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- damp
- drippy
- cast
- sparse
- wise (8x)
- wisps
- billowed
- steep
- bind
- possessions (3x)
- bound

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- wise
- steep
- possession

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Briefly introduce the book as a folktale set in China with a creative way of solving a problem.

Read pages 1-3. Ask the children, “What is the problem with Ming Lo’s house?” Show the illustration on page 3.

Read pages 5 & 6. Ask the children, “Ming Lo’s wife wants him to move the mountain, what do you think they should do?” Do not show the picture.

Read page 7. Ask the children, “What do you think will happen?” Show the illustration of the wise man.

Read pages 9 & 10. Ask the children, “What just happened when they cut down the tallest, thickest tree?” Show the illustration.

Read page 11. Ask the children, “The wise man told them to make a lot of noise to frighten the mountain so it will move, and do you think this will work? Tell us why or why not.” Do not show the illustration.

Read page 13. Ask the children, “What did you find out about your predictions?” Show the illustration.

Read pages 15 & 17. Show the illustration on page 17.

Read page 19. Ask the children, “Who can explain what Ming Lo and his wife must do now?”

Read page 21. Ask the children, “Who can explain the dance and show us how to do it?”

Ask the children, “How will the dance of the moving mountain help them to solve their problem?” Now show the illustration.

Read aloud page 23 & 25. Ask the children, “Who can explain what is happening?” Now show the illustrations on 23 & 25.

Read aloud page 27 & 29. Ask the children, “Why do you think the wise man wanted Ming Lo and his wife to try many different ways to move the mountain before he told them to do the dance?” Show the illustration on 29. “This book is a folktale what do you think the lesson in the book tells us about solving problems?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: wise

1. “In the story it says that there is a wise man in the village. Go and ask him how to move the mountain. Then it says that the wise man thought for a long time.”
2. Wise means to be intelligent and make good judgments or decisions. It also means to have great learning.
3. “Say the word with me: wise.”
4. “When you cross the street and stop, look and listen you are making a wise decision. Our principal is wise to tell you to read every night. You are a wise student if you stop, look, and listen before you cross the street.
5. In the story the “wise” man was the smartest man in the village and so the people went to him when they had a question or a problem. “Who do you know that is wise and could help you with a problem? Start your sentence like this: My _____ is wise and helps me _____.”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about? ‘wise’

Target word: steep

1. “In the story it says: Together they began the steep climb to the top of the mountain where the spirit lived.”
2. Steep: If something is steep it has a sharp slope and it is almost up-and-down.
3. “Say the word with me: steep.”

4. Sometimes children on the slide like to climb up the steep part of the slide instead of climbing the stairs to the top. Have you gone sledding and climbed to the top of a steep hill? Ruben said, "I can't hike anymore, this path is too steep and I am tired."
5. "Now, you tell of a time when you climbed something steep. Start your sentence with, "The _____ was so steep that I _____."
6. "What's the word we're learning?" 'steep'

Target word: possession

1. "In the story the wise man told Ming Lo and his wife to "collect all of the things that are your possessions."
2. Possession means something that you own or have.
3. "Say the word with me: possession."
4. "When you move to a new house or apartment you will pack up all of your possessions and take them with you. My favorite possession that I own is my computer. The teacher said, "When you leave the lunch room you shouldn't have any food in your possession, you must eat it in the lunchroom."
5. "Now you tell about a favorite possession that you own. Start your sentence with, "My favorite possession is my _____."
6. "Tell me the word that we are talking about?" 'possession'

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- On the first day of school your teacher said you need to read every night to improve, would that be a wise decision or a steep climb?
- If you were going sledding in the mountains would you be careful walking up the steep hill or with your possessions? Why?
- After you finish your lunch in the cafeteria would it be wise to have a cookie in your possession on the playground or not wise to have the cookie in your possession? Why?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- If you were going on a long trip what possessions would you take?
- Have you ever climbed a steep mountain? How did it feel?
- Who do you know that is wise and what do they do that makes them wise? Here is an example; "My grandmother was wise because she did crossword puzzles everyday to learn new words."

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- “If you were moving to a new apartment or house what possessions would you pack in your box?”
- “If you were riding your bike and you came to a steep hill what would you do?”
- “Each day that you go to school you get wiser. Tell about something you are learning that makes you wise?”

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: wise, steep, possession.”

- If you needed to know how to fix your bike tire, which person would be a wise choice to help you, your baby brother or your Dad?
- Where would you find a steep hill in the shopping mall or in the mountains?
- Which of these might be a special possession you own, your bike or your homework?

61. MISS RUMPHIUS

Valerie Dixon
Bonnevillle Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Miss Rumphius, (Cooney, 1982)
ISBN: 0-670-47958-6

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- faraway
- remain
- curious
- beautiful
- lupines
- tropical
- sowing

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- faraway
- beautiful
- sowing

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Page:

1-2 Read text - Describe the place where Alice lived when she was a little girl.

4. Read text

5-6. Show pictures and read text *Emphasize words faraway, beautiful Why did you think Alice said that when she grew up she would go to faraway places and live by the sea?

8 Read text

10 Show pictures and read text

11-12 Show pictures and read text

13-14 Read text - Emphasize word faraway - Why did Miss Rumphius stop traveling to faraway places and find a home by the sea?

15-16 Show pictures and read text - Emphasize word beautiful - How do you think Miss Rumphius will make the world more beautiful?

17-18 Read text - Why wasn't Miss Rumphius able to plant more lupines?

19-20 Show pictures and read text - In the pictures point out lupines and a house by the sea.

21-22 Show pictures and read text - Emphasize word sowing - What did Miss Rumphius do with her lupine seeds?

24 Show pictures and read text - How did Miss Rumphius make the world more beautiful?

25-26 Show pictures and read text - Why do you think people call Miss Rumphius the Lupine Lady? How do you think she is like her grandfather?

27-28 Read text

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: beautiful

1. In the story, Alice's grandfather says that she needs to do something to make the world more beautiful...
2. If something is beautiful, it is nice to look at or pretty. If you think something or someone is pretty, it is beautiful.
3. Let's segment the word beautiful into sounds we can hear and count the sounds on our fingers. Now say the word beautiful.
4. Let's look in a book and find 2 pictures that you would consider beautiful. Raise your hand and tell me a beautiful city or place you have been to.
5. Now let's write 2 sentences using the word beautiful about objects in this room. Please label the objects you've described with your sentences.
6. Say the word beautiful.

Target word: faraway

1. In the story it says that Miss Rumphius traveled to faraway places.
2. If someone or something is faraway it is not near you or not close by.
3. Let's segment the word faraway into sounds we can hear and count the sounds on our fingers. Now say the word faraway.
4. If you went on a plane that took you faraway, name a place you might go to.
5. Help me label 3 places on this map that are faraway from Utah.
6. Say the word faraway.

Target word: sowing

1. In the story it says that Miss Rumphius wandered over fields and headlands sowing the lupine seeds.
2. Sowing is something we do with seeds. Sowing means throwing out seeds or scattering them all over so they can grow. Sowing does not mean using a needle and thread to fasten something together—that word sounds the same, but it is spelled differently.
3. Let's segment the word sowing into sounds that we can hear, and count the sounds that we hear. Now say the word sowing.
4. A farmer might be sowing his wheat seeds so he can harvest a good crop in the fall.
5. If you were sowing, show me what actions you might do.
6. Say the word sowing.

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Which of the vocabulary words describes an action that a farmer might do?
- Point to the vocabulary word that might describe the way a person looks.
- Match this definition to the correct vocabulary word: Something that is not near you or even close by.

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Explain why you would have a hard time sowing bricks.
- Give me a description of something in your home that you would consider beautiful.
- Write a sentence using the word faraway to describe a boat.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Raise your hand if you have ever planted seeds or sowed seeds.
- Why do they call the girl Beauty in Beauty and the Beast?
- Give me two words that mean the same thing as faraway.

Assess:

“Let's think about all three of our new words again: faraway, sowing, and beautiful.”

- Which vocabulary word matches this definition: very pretty, or pleasing to the eye?
- Which vocabulary word matches this definition: an action of throwing seeds to plant them?
- Which word means not close?

Melissa Brock
Bonneville Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Moondance, (Frank Asch, 1993)
ISBN: 0-590-20830-6

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- chuckle
- drifted
- suggested
- fog
- polished
- excited
- supper
- rumble
- gazed
- gaze
- reflection
- sighed
- ordinary
- reply

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- ordinary
- gaze
- reply

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read aloud pg. 1. Show the illustration and point out the moon's position in the sky.
"What other objects do you see in the sky?" (clouds, stars)

Read aloud pg. 2. "What is Bear planning to do?"

Read aloud pg. 5.

Read aloud pg. 6. Show illustration. "What is happening to the moon?"

Read aloud pg. 7.

Read aloud pg. 8. Show illustration. "What has happened to the clouds?"

Read aloud pgs. 10-11. Show illustrations. "Where has the fog gone?"

Read aloud pg. 12. "What did Bear learn about the work clouds do?"

Read aloud pg. 14. "What do we know so far?"

Read aloud pg. 16. Show illustrations. "What is happening?"

Read aloud pgs. 18-19.

Read aloud pg.21. Show illustration. “What does it mean when Bear waited for the moon to rise?”

Read aloud pg. 22. Show illustration. “What do you think will happen next?”

Read aloud pg. 25. Show illustration. “How is Bear dancing with the moon?”

Read aloud pg. 26. “How does Bear feel?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: ordinary

1. “In the story, Bear says that the moon is so special and he is just an ordinary bear.”
2. “Ordinary means that something or someone is common or normal. A person or object is typical, something you see or hear everyday.”
3. “Say the word with me: ordinary”
4. If you do the same thing everyday with very little change, you would have an ordinary day. If you look like everybody else, people might describe you as being ordinary.”
5. “Now, think of something or someone that is ordinary. Start your sentence with, “_____ is ordinary because _____.”
6. “What’s the word we have been talking about?” ordinary

Target word: gaze

1. “In the story, the author says “for a long time Bear gazed at the moon.”
2. “When you gaze at something or someone, you stare or look at them/it for a long time.
3. “Say the word with me: gaze.”
4. “Sometimes when the sun goes down, the light creates a beautiful sunset. It may be so beautiful that you can not help but gaze at it.” “When you see a diamond, you may gaze at it because of its beauty.”
5. “Now think of something you might gaze at. Start your sentence with ‘_____ is so _____ that I can’t help but gaze at it’.”
6. “What is the word we have been talking about? gaze

Target word: reply

1. “In the story, Bear asks Little Bird a question, ‘Do you think I could have stepped on their toes or something?’. Little Bird replied ‘Silly Bear, the clouds probably had some work to do up high in the sky, that’s all.’.”

2. “To reply means that you give an answer either in speech or writing.”
3. “Say the word with me: reply”
4. “When someone says ‘hello’ to you, you might reply by saying ‘hello’ back.”
“When your grandmother sends you a birthday card, you may reply back to her by writing a letter or calling her to say thank you.”
5. “Now, you think of some way to reply back to someone. Start your sentence with ‘When _____ said _____, I replied _____.’
6. “What’s the word we have been talking about?” reply

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- All the students in your class have brown hair: gaze or ordinary?
- Your friend invites you to their birthday party: gaze or reply?
- The space shuttle takes off: ordinary or gaze?
- Your teacher asks you what you did this summer: reply or ordinary?
- Before bedtime, you take your bath: reply or ordinary?
- The chicks began to hatch from their eggs: gaze or reply?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell us how you would reply to someone who says you look very nice.
- Has there ever been a time when you have wanted to gaze at an object or person?
- Describe an ordinary day for you.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- How would you reply to someone who said something that hurt your feelings?
- How would you feel if someone called you ordinary? Why?
- Would you gaze at an elephant? Why or why not?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: reply, gaze, ordinary.”

- Which is something you might gaze at? A dog sleeping on the front porch or a monkey running down the street? Thumbs up if it is something you would gaze at, thumbs down if it is not.
- Which is ordinary? The school bell ringing at the end of the school day or your principal wearing swimming shorts to school? Stand up if it is ordinary; sit down if it is not.
- Which is the correct way to reply to someone who says ‘You are looking fantastic today’? Thumbs up if you would reply “That was not very nice”, thumbs down if that is not how you would reply. Thumbs up if you would reply “thank you”, thumbs down if that is not how you would reply.

63. MR. PEABODY'S APPLES

Brenda Cook
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Mr. Peabody's Apples, (Madonna, 2003)
ISBN: 0-429-6999-1

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- dedicated
- rumor
- represents
- judge
- admire
- organize
- curiosity
- bleachers
- confused

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- dedicated
- organize
- rumor

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read aloud page 9. Show illustration on page 8. "Who are the characters in the story? What do we know about Mr. Peabody and Billy?"

Read aloud page 10. Show illustration on page 11. "What did Mr. Peabody do? What is Tommy thinking? What will Tommy tell his friends? "

Read aloud page 13 and 14. Show illustration on page 16. "Why was Tommy looking at the ground? What will Mr. Funkadeli say?"

Read page 18 aloud. Show illustration on page 19. "How are the people treating Mr. Peabody? What has Billy found out?"

Read page 20 aloud. "What was the truth? Why does he want to meet him at the baseball field with a pillow stuffed with feathers?"

Read page 22 aloud. Show illustrations on page 24-25. "Why was Tommy willing to do as Mr. Peabody asked/? Why did he have him shake out the feathers?"

Read page 27 aloud. "What did Mr. Peabody mean when he said, 'It would be just as impossible to undo the damage that you have done by spreading the rumor that I am a thief. Each feather represents a person in Happville.'"

Read page 28 aloud. "What did he mean by, " don't be so quick to judge a person. And remember the power of your words?"

Show the illustration on page 30. “Why is there an apple on his night stand? Why is the pillow sewn together and back on his bed?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: dedicated

1. “In the story, it said Mr. Peabody... dedicated every Saturday to organizing baseball games.”
2. “Dedicate means he set that time aside every Saturday to spend on baseball.”
3. “Say the word dedicated.”
4. A student who has a test and decides to study instead of playing is dedicated to his schoolwork. A parent who takes good care of their family is dedicated to their family.”
5. “How else might a person show they are dedicated? Start your sentence with, Someone would be dedicated if...” Have another person tell what would show someone was dedicated.
6. “What word have we just talked about? Say it with me, dedicated.”

Target word: organize

1. In the story it says, ‘...he dedicated every Saturday to organizing baseball games with other schools.’
2. If you organize something, you plan it so that it happens the way you want.
3. “Say the word with me, organize.”
4. “You might organize your desk so that it is easy to find things. The words in a dictionary are organized in alphabetical order to make them easy to find.”
5. “What is something else that you might organize?” Have you been a part of something someone else has organized for you?”
6. “What word have we been talking about...organized.”

Target word: rumor

1. “In the story Mr. Peabody said, ‘It would be just as impossible to undo the damage that you have done by spreading the rumor that I am a thief.’”
2. “A rumor is when someone says something without knowing all the facts to know if it is true.”
3. “Say the word rumor with me, rumor.”

4. “You might tell your teacher a child did something on the playground because someone told you they did but you didn’t see them do it. That would be a rumor.”
5. If someone told you they heard there was a circus coming to town but didn’t know for sure, it would be a rumor.”
6. “Can you think of something that might be a rumor? Someone else tell me another thing that might be a rumor.”
7. What word have we been talking about? rumor.

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If I put my clothes in order in my drawer would it be: rumor or organized?
- If I came to every practice for the class play would I be rumor or dedicated?
- Telling some you heard there is a test Friday: dedicated or rumor?
- To plan and get everything ready for a game: organize or rumor?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Would it be a rumor if I said someone did a kind thing for me?
- What does your mother organize at your house?
- Would I be dedicated to my garden if I never watered it?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Tell me something a dedicated teacher would do? What makes you think that?
- What can you do to organize your bedroom? How will it help you?
- Why is it important to never tell rumors? How can they hurt others?.)

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: organize, dedicated, rumor.”

- Would you be organized if you kept your library books on a special table or if you couldn’t find them?
- Is it a rumor when someone says, “I think she pushed her.” or “I saw her push her?”
- Would I be dedicated if I never practiced my piano lesson or if I practice every night?

Fran Hall
Bonneville Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for Mud Puddle, (Munsch, 1982)
ISBN: 1-55037-468-0

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- unfortunately
- completely
- scrubbed
- smelly
- anywhere
- happened
- afraid

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- unfortunately
- scrubbed
- completely

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

1-2 Read, Show Illustration

3-4 Read, Show Illustration

5-6 Read, Show Illustration

What do you think Julie Ann is going to do outside?

7-8 Read

What do you think will happen next?

9-10 Read

Why was Julie Ann red all over?

11-12 Read, Show Illustration

Why did Julie Ann wear her raincoat outside?

Why did she take off her raincoat?

What do you think will happen next?

13-14 Read, Show Illustration

15-16 Read

Look at the picture and tell how you think Julie Ann feels when the mud puddle jumps on her.

17-18 Read, Show Illustration

19-20 Read, Show Illustration

Why is Julie Ann afraid to go outside?

21-22 Read

What do you think Julie Ann is going to do with that soap?

23-24 Read, Show Illustration

How did that mud puddle feel about soap?

How do you know?

25-26 Show Illustration

Keynote: Use lots of partner discussion during this part of the lesson.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: unfortunately

1. “Unfortunately, hiding up in the apple tree, there was a mud puddle.”
2. “If you say that something is unfortunate, you mean it is not lucky.”
3. “Say the word with me: unfortunate.”
4. “Unfortunately, I lost my coat so I got wet in the rain.”
5. “Unfortunately, I forgot my money and I couldn’t buy an ice cream cone.”
6. “Unfortunately, I didn’t clean my room so I couldn’t play with my friends.”
7. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” “unfortunately”

Target word: completely

1. “She got completely covered with mud.”
2. “If you say that something is completely you mean having all its parts, whole, thorough.”
3. “Let’s say the word aloud: completely.”
4. “I spilled milk completely over my pants.” “I completely finished my book report.”

5. “I completely finished my picture by adding shoes and hands to the people.” “I completely ate all my lunch today.”
6. “What’s the word we are learning? completely.”

Target word: scrubbed

1. “She scrubbed Julie Ann till she was red all over.
2. “If you say that something is scrubbed you mean to cleanse by rubbing hard.”
3. “Let’s say the word aloud: scrubbed.”
4. “I scrubbed my car until it was very shinny.” “I scrubbed my hands until the dirt was all gone.”
5. “I scrubbed my neck until it was all red.” “I scrubbed the floor until the milk was all gone.”
6. “What’s the word we are learning? scrubbed.”

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If you did win the race would you call it completely or unfortunately?
- If you left spilled food on the floor would call it scrubbed or unfortunately?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- How would you feel if you unfortunately lost your best jacket?
- What would happen if you got completely muddy in your best clothes?
- What would happen if you scrubbed the new wallpaper off your bedroom wall?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Which one of these is an example of unfortunately:
 - Unfortunately, I won a prize at the fair.
 - Unfortunately, I lost my new bicycle.
- Which sentence is true?
 - I completely finished my lunch. It was all gone.
 - I finished my math problems completely undone.
- Which one is an example of scrubbed.
 - I scrubbed my bathtub clean.
 - I scrubbed my dirty toy dirty.

Assess:

Let's think about all three of our new words again. unfortunately, completely, scrubbed.

Match the definition of the word with the word card. Use sentence strips and word cards. Have the students work in a team to find the answer, then each team gives their answers.

Unfortunately	Not Lucky Regrettable Not Good
Completely	Having all its parts, whole through
Scrubbed	Cleansed by rubbing hard

65. MUFARO'S BEAUTIFUL DAUGHTERS

Rona Wood
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Mufaro's Beautiful Daughters, (John Steptoe, 1987)
ISBN: 0-590-42058-5

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- temper
- complain
- displeased
- faults
- household
- messenger
- dawn
- relief
- destination
- interrupted
- preparations
- garments
- millet

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

The following words were selected because they will be encountered in other texts, other content areas, and situations inside and outside of school.

- temper
- faults
- messenger

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

“Listen closely to this story about Mufaro’s Beautiful Daughters. Listen to find out how the sisters Manyara and Nyasha are alike and different, and what the character of each sister has to do with what happens to her.”

Read aloud page one. Ask the children, “Where and when does the story take place? How are Mufaro’s two daughters alike?”

Read the next two pages. “What is the difference between Manyara’s and Nyasha’s personalities?” “Why might Nyasha think that Manyara is unhappy?”

Read the next page. “What does bountiful mean?”

Read the next page. “What does Nyasha’s treatment of the garden snake show about the kind of person she is?”

Read the next page. “Why doesn’t Mufaro know how Manyara treats Nyasha?”

Read the next page. “Why does Manyara leave her village in the middle of the night? “Do you think Manyara will improve her chances of becoming queen? “Who do you think the little boy is that Manyara meets in the forest?”

Read the next page. “How is Manyara’s treatment of the old woman like her treatment of the little boy?”

Read the next page. “Why does Manyara laugh at the trees and refuse to talk to the man?”

Read the next page. “Why does the wedding party decide to go on when they find Manyara’s footprints on the path that leads to the city?”

Read the next page. “How is Nyasha’s treatment of the boy and the old woman different from Manyara’s?”

Read the next two page. “How was Nyasha’s journey different from Manyara’s?” “Who had the king been disguised as?”

Read the last page. “What do you think is the point or moral of this story?”

Step 2: Direct vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 words

Target Word: temper

1. In the story it said that Manyara was almost always in a bad temper. She teased her sister whenever their father’s back was turned.
2. Temper means the mood you are in.
3. Say the word with me: temper.
4. Someone might be in a bad temper if they are angry, yelling, teasing or disobeying rules.
What other words or phrases mean about the same as temper?
 - mood
 - state of mind
 - feelingsWhen words have about the same meaning what do we call them? Synonyms
5. The girl was in such a bad mood that she was sent to her room until she was in a better temper. Name some things that might cause you be in a bad temper? You could be in a bad temper if _____. (ask five students to fill in the blank)
6. Let’s all repeat the word we have just learned about. temper

Target word: messenger

1. In the story it says, early one morning a messenger from the city arrived.
2. Messenger means a person who carries a message or does an errand.
3. Let's say the word aloud: messenger
4. Mrs. Wood sent a messenger to the other third grade classes to see how many boys and girls were in each class.
What things might a messenger bring? Letter, package, note or telegram.
5. Would you be a messenger if you... (hold two fingers for yes a fist no)
 - took a note to another classroom.
 - went outside during recess.
 - went to each third grade classroom and had them sign a note for your teacher.
 - went to get a drink of water.
6. What's the word we've been talking about? messenger

Target word: faults

1. In the story Manyara said hysterically, "There's a great monster there, a snake with five heads! He said that he knew all my faults and that I displeased him."
2. A fault is something that is not perfect. Not doing very well in some areas.
3. Say the word with me: faults.
4. Someone might have faults if they are mean, rude, lazy, selfish, greedy, and impatient, if they complain a lot, or if they lie. Why are some people unpleasant and rude? Why are some people nice and pleasant?
5. You could have faults if.... (hold two finger for yes a fist for no)
 - you stole someone's pencil.
 - you interrupted someone when they were speaking.
 - you listened during story time.
 - you were rude to your best friend.
 - you told a lie.
6. What's the word we've been talking about? faults

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If someone brought a note from another classroom would they be a messenger or a temper?
- If someone were greedy or selfish would they have faults or be a messenger?
- If you were sent to your room because you were yelling and kicking would you be a messenger or showing your temper?

Maintain all words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- If someone were a messenger what would they do?
- If someone was in a bad temper how might they be acting?
- Describe someone that has faults.

Maintain by helping children add to their network of related words:

- What causes someone to have faults?
- What might cause someone to be in a bad temper or good temper?
- Why would someone be a messenger?

Assess:

- Let's think about our new words again: faults, temper, messenger
- Which of these would be a messenger? A person bringing a note or a person throwing a fit?
- How would someone act that is in a bad temper? They might be kicking and yelling or they might be helping someone.
- Someone might have faults if they-interrupt someone when they are speaking or if they listen quietly during story time.

66. MY BROTHER NEEDS A BOA

Melody Francis
Backman Elementary
Salt Lake City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: My Brother Needs a Boa, (Anne Weston, 2005)
ISBN: 1-932065-96-2

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- ocelots
- palm
- rattled
- calamity
- shrieked
- vanished
- spotless
- wound

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- shrieked
- vanished

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read aloud page 1. Show the illustration and point out Benito in his house.

Read aloud page 3. Ask the students, “What do we know about Benito so far?” Read aloud page 4. Show the illustrations from both pages.

Read aloud page 6. Show the illustration.

Read aloud pages 7 & 8. Ask the students, “What is Benito’s problem?” Show the illustrations.

Read aloud pages 9 & 10. Ask the students, “Has Benito been able to solve his problem yet?” and, “What does Benito plan to do now?” Show the illustrations.

Read aloud pages 11 & 12. Show the illustrations.

Read aloud pages 13 & 14. Ask the students, “Why didn’t Benito take one of the boas from Julio or from Rafael?” Show the illustrations.

Read aloud pages 15 & 16. Ask the students, “Why didn’t Benito take one of the boas from Estela or from Mr. Murillo?” Show the illustrations.

Read aloud page 17. Ask the students, “Why is Benito feeling this way?” Read page 18. Ask the students, “What has just happened?” Show the illustrations from both pages.

Read aloud page 20. Ask the students, “How did Benito solve his problem?” and, “What will the villagers do now?” Show the illustrations.

Read aloud pages 21 & 22. Show the illustrations.

Read aloud page 23. Ask the students, “How did the story end?” Show the illustration.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: shrieked

1. “In this story, the author says that Mrs. Murillo shrieked when she saw the rat in Benito’s store.”
2. “If you say someone shrieked, you mean they screamed in a high voice.”
3. “Say the word with me: shrieked.”
4. “If someone was scared in a haunted house and yelled, you could say they shrieked. You could make someone shriek by sneaking up on them and surprising them.”
5. “Now you think of some reasons why people would shriek. Start your sentence with, ‘Someone shrieked when . . .’”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about? Shrieked.”

Target word: vanished

1. “In this story, the author says ‘Quick as a snap, the rat vanished.’”
2. “If you say something vanished, you mean it disappeared quickly.”
3. “Say the word with me: vanished.”
4. “If you were on a boat and saw a dolphin it would vanish beneath the water. If I can’t find my pen, I might say it has vanished.”
5. “Now you think of something that could vanish. You can start your sentence with, ‘The _____ vanished when . . .’ For example, ‘The boy vanished when he ran behind the tree.’”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about? Vanished.”

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- When seeing a snake up close someone might: shriek or vanish?
- When your friend is hiding and can't be found they have: shrieked or vanished?
- A piece of chocolate cake has disappeared: shrieked or vanished?
- Being chased by an angry bull would cause you to: shriek or vanish?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell us a time you or someone you know has shrieked?
- Have you ever seen something vanish? What was it?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- What kinds of things might make you shriek?
- What kinds of things may easily vanish?

Assess:

“Let's think about all of our new words again: shrieked and vanished. If you agree with the first choice hold up your blue card. If you agree with the second choice hold up your yellow card.”

- Which of these would cause someone to shriek: one, giving someone a present, or two, falling off your bike?
- Which of these things could easily vanish: one, some pennies, or two, a house.

Brenda Perry
Lewis Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: My Lucky Day, (Keiko Kasza, 2004)
ISBN: 0-439-70105-8

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- startled
- delicious
- preparing
- hauled
- exhausted
- struggle
- filthy
- terrific

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- startled
- hauled
- struggle

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

This story is about a fox and a pig. The name of the story is My Lucky Day. (Show picture on book front cover.) Do you think the fox or the pig will have a lucky day? Let's read and find out.

Read aloud page one. Show the picture. Ask the children, "What was the fox doing to prepare for his hunt?"

Read aloud page two. Show the picture. Ask the children, "Who do you think is at the door?" and "Why do you think 'someone' called to the fox 'hey, Rabbit'?"

On page five, read, "When the fox opened the door, there stood..." Show the picture and let the children finish the sentence. Then you finish the sentence "...a delicious-looking piglet." Ask: "Who is having the lucky day?"

On page seven, read, "This must be my lucky day!" the fox shouted. Ask: "Why does the fox feel like it's his lucky day?" Finish reading the page. Show the picture.

Read page eight. Ask the children. "What context clues are there to help us know what filthy means?" Show the picture. Does the picture validate the discussion about the context?

Read pages ten and eleven. Ask the children, “Do you think the piglet is enjoying his bath?” Show picture and validate.

Read page thirteen. Show picture. Ask: “What do you know about the piglet?”

Read pages fourteen and fifteen. “How does the fox feel?” Show picture.

Read page seventeen. Ask: “Do you think the pig has a plan?” “What do you think the plan is?” Show picture.

Read pages eighteen and nineteen. Ask the children “Who is having a lucky day” Show picture.

Read page twenty-one. Ask: “How do you think the fox is feeling?” Show picture and validate.

Read page twenty-two. Show picture.

Read page twenty-five. Show picture.

Read page twenty-six. Show picture.

Read page twenty-nine. Show the picture. Ask the children, “What was the pig’s plan, and do you think his plan worked?”

Show next picture. Ask: “Do you think the pig’s plan will work with the bear?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: startled

1. “In the story it said the fox was startled by a knock at the door.”
2. “Startled means surprised. The fox was startled by a knock at the door. He was not expecting a knock, so it surprised him or startled him.”
3. “Say the word with me. startled.”
4. “I might be startled to hear the baby cry right after I laid him down. I was startled to hear my name called in the crowd. You might be startled to hear someone answer the phone, when you’ve already tried several times.”
5. “Tell about a time when you might be startled. Use the word startled when you tell about it. You could start by saying, ‘I would be startled if _____.’”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘startled’

Target word: hauled

1. "In the story, the fox grabbed the piglet and hauled him inside."
2. "Hauled means to pull, drag, or carry with force. Usually something heavy."
3. "Let's say the word aloud: hauled"
4. "The farmer hauled the hay to the barn. When you move you might haul your belongings in a trailer. Your dad might haul the big bag of dog food to the garage."
5. "If I say something that could be hauled, say 'hauled', it not, don't say anything. The books to the library. Your favorite song on the radio. The groceries into the house."
6. "What's the word we are learning? Hauled"

Target word: struggle

1. "As the fox held the piglet over the roasting pan, the author said it was useless for the piglet to struggle."
2. "Struggle means to put forth effort or try really hard even when it doesn't work out. Fighting for something."
3. "Let's say our word together, struggle."
4. "It would be a struggle for the boy with a crippled leg to walk. A mom might struggle with a 2 year old to get him to bed."
5. "Tell about something you might struggle with."
6. "What is our new word? struggle"

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- "If I heard the phone ring after I went to bed, would I be startled? Or would it be a struggle?"
- "If I tried really hard to learn to speak Spanish, but you couldn't understand what I said I would have a hard time learning the language. Would that be a struggle or hauled?"

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- "If I struggled with the lawn mower, what might have happened?"
- If you hauled your books home, what did you do?"
- "If you were surprised when you heard your name called, you were _____."

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Have you ever struggled to do something?”
- “What have you hailed?”
- “Tell me about a time when you were startled?”

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: startled, hailed, struggle.”

- “Which of these words would be a surprise?”
- “When would you haul something out of your house?”
- “Would you have a struggle to put shoes on that are too small?”

68. NEVER, EVER SHOUT IN A ZOO

Lisa Fulton
Dee Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Never, Ever Shout in a Zoo, (Karma Wilson, 2005)
ISBN: 0-439-77472-1

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- giant
- grouchy
- charge (run)
- barge (push)
- attitude
- dreadful
- disastrous
- clever
- conniving
- malicious
- mischievous

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- disastrous
- clever
- malicious

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read the title of the book. Without showing the cover, ask the children why they shouldn't shout in a zoo. Show them the front cover.

Show them the title pages and read the first page ask the children why the little girl would shout. When you read the words "don't say I didn't warn you," emphasize them because it is repeated text and the children will read it with you in the future.

Read the first bear page without showing the illustrations. Ask the children why they wouldn't want to shout near a bear.

Read the second bear page without showing the illustrations. Emphasize "Uh-oh! Don't say I didn't warn you. Show the illustration.

Read the first moose page without showing the illustrations. Ask the children why the moose might have a bad attitude.

Read the second moose page without showing the illustrations. Encourage children to help you read, "Uh-oh! Don't say I didn't warn you." Show the illustration. (Dreadful)

Read the first ape page without showing the illustrations. (Clever)

Read the second ape page. Choral read the “Uh-oh! Don’t say I didn’t warn you.” Ask the children what animals have escaped so far. Show the illustration. (Malicious)

Read the zookeeper page and show the illustration. Have the children predict what is going to happen next.

Choral read the next page. Give the children time to study the illustration.

Read the next page while showing the illustration. Point out the little girl. Ask the children what she might be thinking or feeling.

Read the next two pages while showing the illustrations. Ask the children what they would do if they were locked in a cage at the zoo.

Read the next page and show the illustration.

Read the last page and show the illustration. Ask the children what it probably going to happen next.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: disastrous

1. “In the story the moose got a disastrous idea to leave his cage.”
2. Disastrous is something that causes a lot of problems.
3. “Say the word with me: disastrous.”
4. “It would be disastrous for me to try to fly a plane.” Or “It would be disastrous for our class to try to cook lunch for the school.”
5. “Now let’s see if we can think of something that would be disastrous. Start your sentence with “It would be disastrous if...”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about: disastrous.”

Target word: Clever

1. “In this story the apes are clever.”
2. “The word clever means able to learn quickly.”
3. “Say the word with me: Clever.”
4. “If you were able to learn how to play a new game quickly. I would say that you were clever.”
5. Now you think of something clever. Start your sentence with “Someone would be clever if...”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about: clever.”

Target word: malicious

1. “The apes in the story thought up a malicious plan to let all the animals out of their cages.”
2. “The word malicious means to do something that will hurt someone else.”
3. “Say the word with me: malicious.”
4. “If someone were to cut my hair without permission I would call that person malicious.” Or “If someone were to break my toy on purpose that person would be malicious.”
5. Now you think of something malicious. Start your sentence with “It would be malicious if someone...”
6. “What is the word that we’ve been talking about: malicious.”

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Destroying someone’s school work: clever or malicious?
- Learning how to play a new game: clever or disastrous?
- Hurting someone on purpose: disastrous or malicious?
- Using eggs to build towers on the kitchen floor: clever or disastrous?
- Solving a riddle: malicious or clever?
- Forgetting to put away the marbles and leaving them loose on busy stairs: disastrous or clever?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell us about a time that you were clever?
- How would you feel if someone did something very malicious to you?
- Describe something you’ve done that’s been disastrous?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- If someone did something malicious to you, how would you feel? What would you do?
- What would you do if a friend told you he was going to do something that you thought would be disastrous?
- I felt clever when I did well on a test. What things have made you feel clever?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: disastrous, clever, malicious.”
Students will put their thumb up if the definition agrees with the word and their thumbs down if it doesn’t.

- Which of these is clever- getting to the final level on a video game or watching TV?
- Which of these things could be disastrous- playing football in the house or playing football in the park?
- Which of these things would be malicious- finding a new toy on the playground and breaking it or finding a toy and giving it to the playground monitor.

69. NEVER TRUST A SQUIRREL

Kristi Sorenson
Mountain View Elementary
Salt Lake City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Never Trust a Squirrel, (Walters, 1999)

ISBN: 0-525-46009-8

Potential Tier 2 words

- trust
- dull
- scampered
- suggested
- crossly
- terrified
- alerted
- yelp
- dislodge

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction

- alerted
- terrified
- suggested

Step 1: Doing a read aloud o the text with a focus on comprehension

Before reading: This story is called Never Trust a Squirrel. What do you think that means?

Page 1: Why is William bored?

Page 2-3: Why does William want to play with Stella?

Page 4: How does William get out of his hutch?

Page 5-6: What games did William and Stella play? Do you think that Stella was fun to play with?

Page 7: What terrified William?

Page 8-11: How did William get away from the fox? How did William's mother save him?

Page 12: What lesson did William learn? Why should William never trust a squirrel?

Step 2: Direct Instruction of Tier 2 words

Target word: terrified

1. In the story the author told us, "William was terrified" when the fox came.
2. Terrified means that you're really scared of something.
3. Say the word with me: terrified
4. I was terrified when I got lost at the zoo. The thought of falling terrifies me.
5. Think of a time you were terrified. Start your sentence with "I was terrified when _____" or "_____ terrifies me."
6. What word have we been talking about?

Target word: suggested

1. In the story Stella suggested they climb a tree.
2. To suggest something means to give someone an idea.
3. Say the word with me: suggested
4. When I wanted a new dress my mom suggested that I save my money to buy one. Mr. Erlacher suggested that tomorrow is a good time to clean our room.
5. What has someone suggested to you? Start your sentence with "_____ suggested that I _____"
6. What word have we been talking about?

Target word: alerted

1. In the story William was hiding in the bushes. His movement alerted the fox.
2. To alert someone means to let them know that something is happening or where something is.
3. Say the word with me: alerted
4. The fire alarm alerted us that there might be a fire in the building. My sister giggling alerted me to her hiding place.
5. Think of a time something has alerted you. Start your sentence with "I was alerted by _____"
6. What word have we been talking about?

Combine the words by having children make a choice between two of the words

- If the fire alarm rings are you being alerted or suggested?
- The lights go out and you hear a strange sound in the basement. Are you terrified or suggested?
- I told kids to play baseball at recess. Am I suggesting something or alerting you?
- I was bored and my mom told me to clean my room. Is she terrifying me or suggesting something?
- I heard shouting in the bathroom. Did the shouting alert me or suggest?
- Right before I went on a roller coaster my heart started pounding fast and I started shaking. Am I suggesting or terrified?

Maintain all three words by asking children to give an example or explanation

- What suggestions does your mom give to you?
- When have you felt terrified?
- What would alert you to something dangerous?

Maintain by helping children add to their network of related words

- What suggestions would you offer someone who was new to our school?
- What would someone do to terrify you?
- How could you alert someone that something was going to happen?

Assess

Let's think about all three of our new words again: terrified, suggested, alerted

Alerted

- Shouting while playing hide and seek
- Playing basketball
- Crying about falling down

Terrified

- Singing with my friends
- Looking over the edge of a cliff
- Thinking of summer vacation

Suggested

- "Go help your brother with his homework"
- I like to play games.
- It's time to go home.

Lori Gammon
Dee Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Nonna's Porch, (Rita Gray, 2004)
ISBN: 0-7868-1613-9

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- brave
- scatter
- shucking
- swirling
- arched
- masked
- steady

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- scatter
- swirling
- steady

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read aloud the title, "Nonna's Porch," and ask the question, "What do you think you are going to see on Nonna's porch?"

Turn to pages 1 and 2. Show the illustration.

Read aloud page 4. Show the children the illustration after on page 3. Point out to them where the rocking chair is on the porch.

Read aloud page 6. Show the children the illustration after on page 5. Ask the children, "What is Nonna doing?" "What could she be knitting?"

Read aloud page 8. Show the illustration after on page 7. Point to the nest. Ask the children, "What color is the bird?"

Read aloud page 10. Show the illustration after on page 9.

Read aloud page 12. Show the illustration after on page 11. "What are the chipmunks doing on Nonna's porch?"

Read aloud page 14. Show the illustration after on page 13. (scatter)

Simultaneously read aloud and show the illustrations for pages 15 and 16. Ask the children, “What is happening here?”

Read aloud page 18. Show the illustration on page 17 after. Ask the children, “Where are they hiding?”

Simultaneously read aloud and show the illustrations for pages 19 and 20. Ask the children, “What did the boy make?” “What is the ice doing in the glass?” (swirling)

Simultaneously read aloud and show the illustrations for pages 21 and 22.

Read aloud page 24. Show the illustration on page 23 after. Ask the children, “What sound do the peas make when they drop from a shell?”

Simultaneously read aloud and show the illustrations on page 25 and 26. Ask the children, “What is the family doing?”

Read aloud page 28. Show the illustration on page 27 after. Ask the children, “Can you see the cricket?” “Why not?”

Read aloud page 30. Show the illustration on page 29. Ask the children, “What’s happening here?”

Simultaneously read aloud and show the illustrations for pages 31 and 32. Ask the children, “What is keeping a steady beat?” “How does Nonna feel?”

Read aloud page 34. Show the illustration on page 33 after. Ask the children, “When did we see the rocking chair on Nonna’s porch?” “What do you notice about the beginning and the ending of this story?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: scatter

1. “In the story, the author says that all the animals scatter.”
2. “If you say that animals scatter it means they run away in different directions.”
3. “Say the word with me: scatter.”
4. “If I gave you a handful of flower seeds and told you to throw them in different directions, that would be to scatter. “Is there another way can you use the word scatter?”
5. “Now you think of something that could scatter. Start your sentence with, “I could scatter _____,” or “I saw the _____ scatter.”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘scatter’

Target word: swirling

1. "In the story, Nonna's porch is very still except for the sound of lemon and ice swirling in a glass."
2. "Swirling means that something is moving around as if to dance or spin."
3. "Say the word with me: swirling."
4. "When you see water go down the drain in your sink, you would say that the water is swirling. "If you saw a tornado in the sky, you could say that the air was swirling around in circles."
5. "Now you think of something that could be swirling. Begin your sentence with, "I saw _____ swirling....."
6. "What's the word we've been talking about?" swirling

Target word: steady

1. "In the story, the author wrote, "Except for the sound of Nonna's heart, it keeps a steady beat."
2. Steady means that it happens all the time without changing.
3. "Say the word with me: steady."
4. "The song has a steady beat." "In the race, I will walk at a steady pace."
5. "Have you ever done or heard anything that is steady?" "Start your sentence with, "I heard a steady beat when....."
6. "What's the word we've been talking about?" steady

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- The water went down the sink quickly: steady or swirling?
- The seeds were thrown into the garden: swirling or scatter?
- Her heart was beating in a regular pattern: scatter or steady?
- The tornado was spinning in the sky: swirling or scatter?
- The kids were dancing to the beat: steady or scatter?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell me about something you would scatter.
- Have you ever heard something that was steady? Tell us about it.
- Did you ever see anything that could be called swirling in the sky? Explain.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- I love to scatter the seeds when I plant flowers. What else could I scatter?
- My heart was beating steady when I ran around the track. What other things might be steady?
- The dress was swirling around my legs. Has there ever been a time when you had a dress that did that?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: scatter, swirling, steady.”

- Which of this is to scatter? – a man throwing seeds on the grass or a man eating sunflower seeds?
- Which definition would be swirling? Ice in a glass or ice in a pond?
- When something is steady would it be when your heart is beating in a rhythm or would it be when your heart stops beating?

Kathy Lien
Mountain View School
Salt Lake District

Text Talk Lesson for: Odd Velvet, (Mary Whitcomb, 1998)
ISBN: 0-8118-2004-1

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- wondered
- belongs, belonged
- announce, announced
- protest, protested
- polite, politely
- impressive
- different
- odd

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- belongs
- protested
- announced

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Briefly introduce the book and talk quickly about two tier 3 words that I feel they need to know in the story: These words are potpourri and milkweed. They need to know these to help understand the story. Then tell them to listen closely to the story about a little girl named Odd Velvet. As you listen, think about why the students thought Velvet was odd.”

Read page two and ask the following question. “What is the author trying to tell us about Velvet? Then ask them to tell you about the gifts the children brought and the gifts that velvet brought to school.” Ask follow up question. “Why were they strange of odd gifts?

Read page three. “Why did the students wonder where Velvet came from? Why do you think Velvet did not wear a new dress the first day of school? Ask follow up question. “Do you think that the clothes you wear change who you are inside?”

Read page five. “What does the author mean when she states the other girls saved the day? Did the milkweed pod that Velvet brought for show and tell really ruin the day or show and tell time? Does it really matter what some one brings to show and tell?”
Read page seven. “The book says nothing was right about Odd Velvet. How do you feel about this? Can you tell me some things that were right about Velvet? The author says that no one was silly enough to pick Velvet for partner play. What does the author mean by this?"

Read pages nine, ten, twelve and thirteen. "What is the author trying to say about how the children felt when Velvet won the contest? How did the students describe Velvet's drawing of an apple?"

Read pages sixteen and seventeen. "What is the author telling about how the children's feelings were changing towards Velvet? Why were the things Velvet did starting to make sense? Even though their feelings are beginning to change why the children were still uneasy about going to Velvet's house?"

Read pages twenty and twenty-one. "How was Velvet's birthday party different than the usual birthday party? Why did the children have fun at Velvet's party even though it was different from a usual child's party?"

Read page twenty-five. "What can you tell about the other children by the gifts that they brought the teacher at the end of the story? How do the children feel about Velvet at the end of the story?"

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: belongs

1. In the story it says that her sweater once belonged to her older sister.
2. Belongs means that someone owns something. In the story Velvet was wearing a sweater that used to be her older sisters. It used to belong to her sister, but now it does not fit her sister now so it belonged to Velvet.
3. "Say the word with me: belongs."
4. There were three dolls on the bed and the doll with red hair belongs to you. Or, if your family has two cars, the red car belongs to your dad and the blue car belongs to your mom.
5. Tell me about something that to belongs to you. Try to use the word belongs when you tell about it. You could say, "The shiny new wagon belongs _____ my sister." Or the cool game boy _____ my brother!"
6. "Say the word with me: belongs."

Target word: protested

1. In the story Velvet won the school drawing contest and Sarah protested. Sarah had all the best art supplies and everyone figured she would win the contest. Because she did not win she protested the results of the contest.

2. If you do not agree or think something that has happened to you or someone you know and you decide to argue, you would be protesting.
3. "Say the word with me: protested."
4. When Jenny and her friend were running in the hall the teacher only stopped Jenny. She made Jenny go all the way back to the end of the hall but not her friend. Jenny protested that it was not fair to make only Jenny and not her friend.
5. Tell me about a time that you were told not to do something and you thought it was unfair and you protested.
6. "Say the word with me: protested."

Target word: announced

1. In the story it stated that the school drawing contest was announced. And when the day of the contest arrived the winner was announced.
2. Announced means to state some important information in front of several people. To make sure the people are aware of the information.
3. "Say the word with me: announced."
4. Every Friday the winners of the spelling bee were announced. Another example would be when my friend announced to all her friends that it was her birthday.
5. Now you think of a time when you or someone you know announced something. You could start your sentence with "The name of the class president was _____."
6. "Say the word with me: announced"

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- When Sarah's mother told everyone in the neighborhood that she just graduated from kindergarten. Sarah's mother announced or protested to the neighbors that she graduated from kindergarten?
- If the blue bike was the little girl's? The bike belongs or announced to the little girl?
- If someone told Jenny she could not go on the roller coaster because she was not tall enough and she got very upset. Which would it be? Jenny belonged or protested because she could not ride the roller coaster?
- Jack protested when his parent would not let him go to the movies with his friends. Jack announced or protested to his parents about not going to the movies?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- When you were younger you had toys, why did they belong to you?
- Tell me about a time when you protested that you could not do what you wanted to do?
- Tell me what would be important incident that you would want to be announced about you?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- When you want to stay up later and your parents make you go to bed, how have you protested not wanting to go to bed?
- Tell me how your teacher announced the winners of the of the class spelling bee?
- A friend found a dollar bill on the floor of your classroom how could you find out whom it belongs to?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: belongs, protested, announced.”

- Which of these is belongs - you gave your old blue jacket to your younger sister and the jacket is now hers.
- What would make you want to announce the news? – You have a peanut butter sandwich in your lunch or you got a new puppy for Christmas?
- Which one of these situations would you protest? – You get to go to Disneyland or you have to clean your room?

72. ONE GIANT LEAP

Angela Child
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: One Giant Leap–The Story of Neil Armstrong, (Don Brown, 1998)

ISBN 0-618-15239-3

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- propellers
- spectacle
- fearless
- hovered
- hovering
- climb
- swoop
- bank
- hurtled
- suspended

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- spectacle
- fearless
- hurtled
- suspended

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension:

Before reading: Activate prior knowledge by listing what they already know about Neil Armstrong. During reading activity is KNEW, NEW, Q.

Pre-reading (explicit language):

“Good readers think about what they already know. Let’s activate our prior knowledge about Neil Armstrong by listing all of the things we already know.”

During reading (explicit language):

“Good readers think about what things they already knew before reading. Another good thing readers do is they think about new information they did not know but learned as they read. Can you tell me any new information we learned during this section of the book about Neil Armstrong? Something else good readers do is they ask questions as they read. You might ask I wonder questions. You might wonder about what the author is saying, or need more information. You might also ask quiz questions. These would be questions a teacher might ask or questions that might be on a quiz. Does anyone have any questions they had about this section of the book?”

Pages:

- 1-2 Read the page and show the picture.
Point out the propellers on the front of the airplanes.
Propeller is the part of the plane that makes it move.

(spectacle)

3-4 Read the page and show the picture. (fearless)
 Ask what Neil felt if he was Fearless?
 Stop and add to the Knew, New, Q Chart.

5-10 Read the pages and show the pictures.

11-12 Read the page and show the picture.
 Stop and add to the Knew, New, Q Chart.

13-16 Read the pages and show the pictures.

17-18 Read the page and show the picture.
 Talk about the words climb, swoop and bank.
 These words describe the motions of an airplane.
 Stop and add to the Knew, New, Q Chart

19-20 Read the page and show the picture.

21-22 Read the page and show the picture. (hurtled)
 Talk about the words erupted, spewed, and brutally.
 Discuss how these words describe what is happening.
 Talk about how the author chose these words to help create a better picture in our minds.

23-24 Read the page and show the picture.
 Stop and add to the Knew, New, Q Chart

25-28 Read the pages and show the pictures.

29 Read the page and show the picture. (suspended)
 Stop and finish the Knew, New, Q Chart

This is what the board looked like after our lesson:

KNEW	NEW	Q
He was an astronaut He was the first man to walk on the moon He was a pilot He landed the spacecraft on the moon He said "This is one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind" when he landed on the moon	He wanted to ride in an airplane ever since he was two He rode in an airplane when he was six He wasn't scared to ride Neil was a hard worker His flying teacher was Aubrey Knudegard He loved to look at the stars He had a pilot's license before a driver's license	How small was he? How did his neighbor make a telescope? Does he still work hard? How old was Neil when he became an astronaut? Where does he live now? Was being on the moon as neat as he had dreamed it would be? Why did only three men go to the moon?

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 words:

Target word: spectacle

1. Page 1. In the story the author describes the airplane show and says that “The spectacle surely left its mark on young Neil.”
2. The word spectacle means: An interesting or impressive sight.
3. Children say the word aloud: Everybody say the word “Spectacle”.
4. Examples in multiple contexts: A great spectacle would be a tree growing purple flowers. Another great spectacle would be a beautiful sculpture of a famous person. The circus was a great spectacle. Would it be a bigger spectacle to be a twenty foot frog or a twenty foot tree? How about a purple cow or a purple shoe?
5. Can anyone think of a spectacle? Can you tell us about it by finishing this sentence, “A great spectacle would be...”
6. What’s our new word? “Spectacle”

Target Word: fearless

1. Page 3. In the book the author says “The noisy, bumpy ride and ever-tilting view worried Stephen Armstrong. But Neil was fearless.”
2. If you describe someone as being fearless, you admire them for their courage.
3. Everybody say the word “fearless.”
4. The skydiver was fearless. The mountain climber was fearless.
5. Does anyone have an example of someone that was fearless? Can you use the word fearless when you tell us about it? Finish the sentence, “The _____ was fearless.” And then tell us why you think that.
6. What’s our new word? “Fearless”

Target Word: hurtled

1. Page 21. In the book the author says, “After two turns around the Earth, a final rocket engine blasted the capsule to 25,000 miles an hour and they hurtled to the moon.”
2. If someone or something hurtles somewhere or is hurtled, they move there very quickly, often in a rough or violent way.
3. Everybody say the word “Hurtled”.

4. Snowballs can be hurtled at someone, not at school of course. A meteor can be hurtled towards Earth by the pull of gravity. Could a rock be hurtled? Could a feather? A cotton ball? A shoe?
5. Can anyone think of a thing that could be hurtled? Use this sentence "The _____ was hurtled..."
6. What's our new word? "Hurtled"

Target Word: suspended

1. Page 29. In the book the author says, "A boy who dreamed of hanging in the air suspended only by a trapped breath."
2. If something is suspended from a high place, it is hung from that place.
3. Everybody say the word "Suspended".
4. A parachute can be suspended from a tree. A bird feeder can be suspended from a tree. Can you think of anything that could be suspended?
5. Use this word to tell us the example you came up with: The _____ was suspended (in the air)."
6. What's our new word? "Suspended"

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If you were hanging from a tree would you be suspended or hurtled? Why?
- If you had just finished first in a race would you be a spectacle or fearless? Why?
- If you crossed a flaming river would you be fearless or suspended? Why?
- If you saw a flying elephant would it be a spectacle or hurtled? Why?

Maintain all four words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- When might you be suspended?
- When might you be fearless?
- When might you be a spectacle?
- When might you be hurtled?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- If you are being hurtled, how might you feel?
- Describe a time you might be fearless?
- If something is suspended, what might be suspending it?
- Tell of a time when you saw a spectacle.

Assessment:

Think about all four of our words again: suspended, fearless, spectacle, and hurtled.

- Which of these would be suspended – A tree house or a trailer house?
- Which of these would be fearless – A firefighter or a waitress?
- Which of these would be a spectacle – A zebra or a kitten?
- Which of these would be hurtled – a rock or a Kleenex?

73. OWEN & MZEE: THE TRUE STORY OF A REMARKABLE FRIENDSHIP

Michele Paoletti-Schelp
North Star Elementary
Salt Lake City School District

Text Talk for: Owen & Mzee: The True Story of a Remarkable Friendship, (Isabella Hatkoff, Craig Hatkoff, and Dr. Paula Kahumbu, 2006)

ISBN: 0-439-82973-9

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- anxious
- extraordinary
- hefty
- hoisted
- inseparable
- joyous
- nuzzles
- resilience
- slippery
- surging
- tickled
- towed
- unlikely
- upsetting
- wallowed

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- inseparable
- resilience
- unlikely

Step 1: Doing the read-aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Introduce the text: “This is a true story about what happened to a baby hippo and a very old tortoise. The story takes place in the country of Kenya, on the continent of Africa.” Show the map of Kenya on the next-to-the-last-page of the book, in the section entitled, “MORE ABOUT...”.

Pages 1 and 2: Read Page 2 aloud. Show the photograph of Owen and Mzee (mm-ZAY) on Page 2, pointing out Owen, the hippopotamus, and Mzee, the tortoise.

Pages 3 and 4: Read Page 3 aloud. Show the photograph of the pod of hippopotami on Page 4. Discuss the term “pod” which is used when talking about a group of hippos. Mention that other terms are used when describing groups of animals, such as a “pack” of wolves and a “pride” of lions. Also, point out the different plural form of hippopotamus: “hippopotami”.

Pages 5 and 6: Read the first paragraph on Page 6 aloud. Show the photograph on Page 5 of Owen stranded on the coral reef. Ask: “What do you think the villagers will do after seeing the baby hippo stranded on the coral reef?” Then read the second paragraph on Page 6. [It is here that the teacher could also discuss what happened during the tsunami of December 2004, if appropriate.]

Pages 7 and 8: Before reading Page 7, ask: “How do you think the baby hippo felt when the villagers and visitors tried to rescue him?” Read Page 7. Show the photograph on Page 8 (a pick-up truck on the beach with many people walking beside it and a few people riding in the back of it) only if you think your students would be interested in seeing it. Ask: “Why was the baby hippo given the name “Owen”?” Ask: “What do you think the villagers will do with Owen after rescuing him?”

Page 9 and 10: Read Page 9. Show the photograph on Page 10, pointing out Dr. Paula, the manager of Haller Park, Stephen, the chief animal caretaker at Haller Park, and Sabine Baer, an ecologist at Haller Park. Explain what an animal sanctuary is: “a place where wild animals can live in safety”. (Haller Park is an animal sanctuary located near Mombasa, Kenya, about 50 miles away from Malindi, the village where Owen was rescued.)

Page 11 and 12: Read Page 12. Show the photograph on Page 11, pointing out Dr. Paula and what is shown of Owen. Reiterate that they have put the net over Owen and tied him so that he would not be hurt while Dr. Paula and Stephen drive him to his new home, Haller Park.

Page 13 and 14: Read Page 13. Show the photographs on Page 13 and Page 14. Ask: “What do you think Mzee will do when he meets Owen?”

Page 15 and 16: Read Page 16. Show the photograph on Page 15, pointing out how Owen is crouched behind Mzee, just like what baby hippos do with their mothers for protection. Show the photograph on the bottom of Page 16, pointing out how close Mzee has allowed Owen to get.

Page 17 and 18: Read Page 17. Show photographs on page 17 and 18.

Page 19 and 20: Read the first two sentences on page 19. After the sentence, “Soon, they were inseparable.” ask, “What do you think the word ‘inseparable’ means?” (Two more things that cannot be separated or pulled apart from each other. If two people are inseparable, it means that they are close friends and like to spend a lot of time together.) “We will learn more about this word after we finish reading the story.” Finish reading Page 19. Show the photographs on Page 19 and 20 while asking: “Why do you think Owen and Mzee seem to trust each other and seem to be friends?”

Page 21 and 22: Read Page 22. Show the photograph on page 21 while asking, “Have any of you had the experience of becoming friends with someone who was very different from you?” “Would you like to share about your experience with us?”

Page 23 and 24: Read Page 23. Show the photograph on page 24 while asking all three questions before calling on students to answer, “Why do you think photographs and stories about Owen and Mzee appeared in newspapers around the world?” “Why was this book written about them?” “Why did they become famous?”

Page 25 and 26 (the last pages of the story): Read the first sentence on Page 26. Ask: “What great loss did Owen experience?” Read the second sentence on Page 26. Ask: “What do you think resilience means?” (The ability to feel better after something bad happens to you.) “We will learn more about this word after we finish the story.” Read the rest of Page 26. Show the photograph on Page 25.

NOTE: There is a website where there are more photographs of Owen and Mzee and the other wild animals at Haller Park: www.lafargeecosystems.com. Photos and comments by Stephen Tuei, the chief animal caretaker, are added almost daily.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: inseparable

1. “In the story, it says, ‘As the weeks went on, Owen and Mzee spent more and more time together. Soon, they were inseparable.’ ”
2. “When you talk about people or animals being inseparable, it means that they are very good friends and like to spend a lot of time with each other. When you talk about things being inseparable, it means that you cannot take them apart or separate them.”
3. “Say the word with me: inseparable.”
4. “If two boys or two girls are good friends, and they talk to each other when they can at school, and they always play together at recess, and when they get home they talk to each other on the phone for as long as their parents will let them, then they would be inseparable friends. If you crack eggs into a bowl and beat them together to make scrambled eggs, then the egg yolks and the egg whites become inseparable. When you add Nestles’ Chocolate Drink powder to a glass of milk and stir it into the milk, then the milk and the chocolate drink powder become inseparable.”
5. “Tell about some things that you think would be inseparable. Start your sentence with, ‘Two things are inseparable if they _____.’
“Ask another student why the two things mentioned are inseparable.”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” “inseparable”

Target word: resilience

1. “In the story it says, ‘Owen suffered a great loss. But with the help of many caring people, and through his own extraordinary resilience, Owen has begun a new, happy life.’ “
2. “Resilience is when someone feels better after going through a bad experience. Resilience is also when an object is squished by someone; then when the person lets go of it, the object ‘bounces back’ to its original shape.”

3. “Say the word with me: resilience.”
4. “When something bad has happened to your friend, such as his cat ran away, then, a while later, your friend does not feel so sad when he talks about his cat, then it means that he is resilient. It means he has resilience. If you squeeze a spongy Nerf ball in your hand and then let it go, and it returns to its original shape, then you say it has resilience.”
5. “Now you think of some way that a person or a thing has resilience. Begin your sentence with ‘Someone (or something) has resilience when he (it) _____.’ “Then ask another student to explain why the example that the first student gave shows resilience.”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” “resilience”

NOTE: Although this vocabulary word is a bit difficult, it is of great importance to the story. Scholastic has even developed a discussion guide to go with this book that can be downloaded free of charge from www.scholastic.com/discussionguides, called Cultivating Resiliency: A Guide for Parents and School Personnel

Target word: unlikely

1. “The story talks about how ‘wildlife experts are still puzzled about how this unlikely friendship came to be.’ “
2. “Unlikely means that there is not a great chance of something happening, but it happens anyway.”
3. “Say the word with me: unlikely.”
4. “When children eat a lot of candy just before dinner time, it is unlikely that they will be hungry for dinner. When students do not study for a spelling test, it is unlikely that they will get a good grade on the spelling test. If children are always rude to other people, it is unlikely that they will have many friends.”
5. “Now you think of something that would be unlikely to happen. Start your sentence with ‘If _____ were to happen, then it is unlikely that _____ would happen.’” Ask another student to explain why the example the first student gave was unlikely.”
6. “What’s the word we have been talking about?” “unlikely”

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words.

- Terry thinking that his mom won't mind his getting a "D" in Writing: resilience or unlikely?
- A wilted flower becoming "unwilted" after being watered: resilience or inseparable?
- The friendship between a boy and his dog, who the boy loves very much: unlikely or inseparable?
- The water and Koolaid powder mixed together to make Koolaid: resilience or inseparable?
- Tommy squeezes his Nerf ball, lets it go, and it springs back to its original shape: resilience or unlikely?
- A child getting a lump of coal from Santa Clause after being very good all year long: unlikely or inseparable?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell us something that is unlikely to happen at school today.
- Would a lump of clay that you have taken and formed into a figure of a cat be considered resilient? Why or why not?
- Your mom mixes milk into the pancake cake batter and cannot take any of the milk out after she has mixed it. Would this be an example of the milk being inseparable from the pancake batter? Why or why not?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- When you are inseparable from a good friend, what do you do?
- What is something that you are unlikely to do here at school?
- When a ball is resilient, describe what it does after you squeeze it and then let it go.

Assess:

"Let's think about our three words again: inseparable, resilience, and unlikely."

- Which of these is unlikely to happen when you plant a tulip bulb in your garden: a beautiful red tulip comes up or a large rose bush comes up?
- When are people showing resilience: when something bad happens to them and they stay sad or when something bad happens to them and they get over it and feel better?
- Which would be inseparable: when you mix sand and rocks together or when you mix sand and water together?

74. PAPER DRAGON, THE

Marla Atkinson
Reading First Coordinator
San Juan School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Paper Dragon, (Marguerite W. Davol, 1997)
ISBN: 0-689-31992-4

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- humble
- ruins
- interrupted
- scrolls
- messenger
- prowl
- scorched
- confront
- disturb
- terrifying
- slumber
- devastation
- created
- solution
- trudged

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- distressing
- clever
- devour

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

(Number the pages of text in this book ahead of reading aloud since there are no numbers printed on each page.)

“Today as we read this book together, we will practice being good readers. One strategy that good readers use is predicting. As you read, you think about what might happen next in the story by looking for clues from the author and making connections with your prior knowledge. So let’s do an activity in which we practice this strategy.”

Read pages 1-2. Re-read the paragraph describing the destruction caused by the dragon and ask students to close their eyes and visualize that destruction. Ask the children to predict the kind of person the villagers will choose to face the dragon.

Read page 3. Verify or refine predictions. Mi Fei will need something more than strength and bravery to fight the dragon. Ask the children to predict what else Mi Fei might need to be successful against the dragon.

Read page 4. Verify or refine predictions. Ask the children what clue the author left to tell them what other quality besides bravery Mi Fei might need to face the dragon.

Read pages 5-6. The first task – bring the dragon fire wrapped in paper. Ask the children to look for clues from the author in both the text and the illustration. Link these clues to prior knowledge. Ask students to make predictions as to how Mi Fei will accomplish this task.

Read page 7. Verify or refine predictions. Discuss clues students found in text and illustrations.

Read page 8. The second task – bring the dragon the wind captured by paper. Ask the children to look for clues from the author in both the text and the illustration. Link these clues to prior knowledge. Ask students to make predictions as to how Mi Fei will accomplish this task.

Read page 9. Verify or refine predictions. Discuss clues students found in text and illustrations.

Read page 10. The third task – bring the dragon the strongest thing in the world carried by paper. Ask the children to look for clues from the author in both the text and the illustration. Link these clues to prior knowledge. Ask students to make predictions as to how Mi Fei will accomplish this task.

Read pages 11-13. Verify or refine predictions. Discuss clues students found in text and illustrations.

Read pages 14-15. Ask the children, “What does the small dragon in the corner of Mi Fei’s scrolls stand for?”

Let’s review: What qualities are needed for someone to outwit a dragon?

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: distressing

1. “The story tells about one day when a messenger enters the village with distressing news of how the terrible dragon, Sui Jen, has awakened from its hundred years’ sleep and is destroying everything in its path.”
2. “If you hear distressing news, the news is not good news rather it is bad news. Something terrible has happened causing people lots of pain and suffering.”
3. “Say the word with me: distressing.”
4. “It would be distressing to have a flat tire while traveling on a road through the desert on a very, very hot day. It would also be distressing if your family forgot all about celebrating your birthday.”

5. Tell me something that would be distressing or upsetting to you. Try to use the word distressing when you tell about it. You could start by saying, 'It would be distressing to me if _____ happened.'
6. "What's the word we've been talking about?" 'distressing'

Target word: clever

1. "The people in the village were so frightened about the dragon that they wondered if anyone in their village was brave enough and clever enough to face this dragon and convince it to sleep once more."
2. "If you say someone is clever, you mean this person is smart, brainy, and can come up with good ideas."
3. "Say the word with me: clever."
4. "Someone who came up with a new way to build a snowman without getting your hands cold could be called a clever person. A clever person might think up some new lyrics of a song that would make us roar with laughter."
5. "Now I want you to think of a time when you were especially clever and thought up a bright new idea. Try to use the word clever when you tell about it. You could start by saying, 'I was being very clever when I thought of _____.'"
6. "What's the word we've been talking about?" 'clever'

Target word: devour

1. "In the story, the dragon gave Mi Fei three tasks to do. If Mi Fei did not accomplish each task within the length of time given to him by the dragon, the dragon would devour Mi Fei."
2. "If you devour something you eat it greedily. You do not use good manners; rather, you gulp it down as fast as you can."
3. "Say the word with me: devour."
4. "The big hungry bear who loves the taste of strawberries will devour the entire bucket of freshly picked berries left on the path by the young child. Carefully and securely wrap the worm around the hook, cast the line into the water, and hold the fishing pole quietly until the hungry fish devours the worm and the hook."
5. Now I want you to think of a time when you devoured something delicious. Turn to your partner and tell him what you devoured. Make sure you use the word devour or devoured when you share your idea with your partner.
6. "What's the word we've been talking about?" 'devour'

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Discovering your dog just ripped up your homework: devoured or distressing?
- Thinking of a new idea to solve the problem: clever or distressing?
- Opening the refrigerator after returning home from camping when you forgot to pack any food: devour or clever?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Has there ever been a time you have received distressing news?
- If you were clever and invented something new, what would it be?
- Could you devour a whole elephant in just one day? Why or why not?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Describe how you would devour your favorite candy bar.
- If you heard some distressing news, how would you react? What could you do about it?
- My dad was clever when he invented a bucket opener for my mom. What kind of clever thing could you invent to help make chores around your house easier to accomplish?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: distressing, clever, devour.”

- Which of these would you devour – a plateful of broccoli or a plateful of cookies?
- Which news item would be distressing to you – school is cancelled for one snow day or your pet dog was hit by a car?
- Which would make you clever – to ride your bike around the block or to outwit your friend playing a card game?

75. THE PATCHWORK QUILT

Sharon McKenzie
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk for The Patchwork Quilt, (Valerie Flourney, 1985)

ISBN: 0-8037-0097-0

ISBN - 0- 8037- 0098 - 9 (library binding)

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- restlessly
- anxious
- gazed
- *masterpiece (4x)
- arrival
- dreaded
- permitted
- realized
- *recognized
- stiffening
- absentmindedly
- miserable
- flowing
- mischievous
- *examined

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

The following words were selected because they are important to the understanding of the text and they are words that the children will encounter in other texts and in other situations in conversations and interactions.

- masterpiece
- recognize
- miserable
- examine

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension

Prereading: “We are going to activate our prior knowledge about quilts. Do any of you or your family have any quilts that have been special to you?” (discuss briefly)

Read first 2 pages. Ask the children, “How did Tanya and Grandma feel about each other? How do you know?”

Read next 2 pages. Ask “What does Grandma mean by saying I’m going to make a masterpiece.” Discuss briefly at this point what masterpiece means. A masterpiece is something that is done with great skill.

Read the next page. Ask, what did Grandma mean when she says, “A quilt won’t forget. It can tell you life story.”

Read the next page. Ask students how she added Tanya to the quilt?

Read next 2 pages. Ask the students how Mama and Tanya became interested in quilts.

Read next 3 pages. Ask, “Why did Tanya say, ‘Your quilt misses you.’”
Read the next 2 pages. Ask what Tanya meant when she said “Someone is missing.”
Why did she remove a few squares from Grandma’s old quilt?

Read the next page. Ask why did Grandma say “This quilt is nothing but a joy.”

Read “The Patchwork Quilt” to the end.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words:

Target word: masterpiece

1. “In the story, Grandma says that she wants to make the quilt a masterpiece.”
2. A masterpiece is something that is made with great skill. If grandma made the quilt a “masterpiece”, she would make something very special. Masterpieces are things that people really value.
3. Say the word ‘masterpiece’. It even sounds like something special.
4. If a famous painter paints a special picture, it would be considered a masterpiece. The statue of liberty is considered a masterpiece. A book that is really well written might be considered a masterpiece.
5. “Tell me something that you think might be considered a ‘masterpiece’.”
6. What is the word that we have been talking about? ‘masterpiece’

Target word: recognized/recognize

1. In the story, Tanya ‘recognized’ some of the scraps of material that Grandma used in the quilt.
2. To recognize means that it is something that you have seen before. When Tanya recognized the scraps of material, it meant that she had seen them before used as clothes, such as Papa’s old work shirt.
3. “Say the word with me.” recognized
4. “Children see me in the stores and they recognize me from school. Sometimes you recognize some place that you have been before. Many of you have recognized a book as one that you have read before.”
5. Tell me about something or someone that you have ‘recognized’. You can start by saying “I recognized _____.”
6. “What is the word that we have been talking about?” recognize

Target word: miserable

1. “In the story, Jim was ‘miserable’ because his favorite corduroy pants had been held together with patches. Now they were beyond repair and he couldn’t wear them anymore.
2. Miserable means that you are extremely unhappy about something.
3. “Say the word with me: miserable.”
4. “Someone might be miserable for awhile if their best friend moved away. Or a person might be miserable if their dog got ran over. A person might be miserable if Mom and Dad got a divorce.”
5. Tell me about a time that you were ‘miserable’. You could start by saying, ‘I was miserable when_____.’
6. “What is the word that we have been talking about?” miserable.

Target Word: examined/examine

1. “In the story it says that Tanya and Mama examined the quilt.”
2. To examine something means that you look really closely at it.
3. “Say the words with me: examine.”
4. If you wanted to see if you want to buy something, you might examine it. I could also examine you to see if you know something, such as I do every week with your spelling words. Sometimes I examine your writing to see if you are doing good writing. I have examined furniture to see if I wanted to buy it.
5. “Tell me something that you might want to examine. You might start by saying “I would want to examine_____ because_____.”
6. “What’s the word we’re talking about?” ‘examine’

Maintain all four words:

- When you think about a masterpiece, what do you think about?
- If you were to recognize something, show me what your face would look like.
- What is something that could make you miserable?
- What is something that you would want to examine?

Assess:

- Ask “Who can remember the four words we talked about?”
masterpiece, recognize, miserable, and examine
- Which would be a masterpiece – a wonderful book or a piece of garbage?
- Would you be more likely to recognize a friend or a stranger?

- Would you be miserable when you missed all the words on your spelling test or got 100%
- What would you be more likely to examine – a piece of art or a glass of milk?
- Who would like to tell us a sentence using all four words?

Daphne Marchant
Edison Elementary
Salt Lake City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Pecos Bill, (Kellogg, 1986)

ISBN: 0-590-41110-1

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- rugged
- nibbled
- yanked
- romp
- recruit
- ambushed
- mild
- respectable
- ornery
- admiration
- devotion
- grumbling
- descent
- careening

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- ornery
- devotion
- respectable

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Introduce the book: “This is a tall tale about a character named Pecos Bill. As you listen to the story, think about the things that Pecos Bill did in the West.”

Read aloud page 1. “Why did Pecos Bill’s family leave New England? Where did they go?” Show the picture.

Read page 2. “What happened when Pecos Bill was fishing?”

Read page 3. “Why didn’t he drown? Then what happened?” Show picture.

Read pages 4-5. “What was Bill’s childhood like? What did he do for fun?” Show picture.

Read pages 6-7. “‘Peppered him with questions’ means that he asked a lot of questions. How did Bill’s life change when he met Chuck?” Show picture.

Read pages 8-9. Show pictures.

Read page 10. “What was Bill’s problem? How did he solve it?”

Read page 11. “What was Bill’s problem here? How did he solve it?” Show pictures.

Read the first half of page 12. “What happened when Bill met the Hell’s Gulch Gang? Why did they make Bill their new boss?”

Continue through page 13. “How did Bill invent cattle roping?” Show pictures.

Read page 14 and show picture.

Read page 16. Discuss “rodeo” to make sure students understand what it is. Read pages 17-21 and show pictures.

Read pages 22-23. “How did Bill catch Lightning? Why did Lightning decide to stay with him? Show picture.

Read page 24. “What was Bill and the cowboys’ problem? How did Bill solve it?” Show picture.

Read pages 26-27. “What was Bill’s problem in this part? How did he solve it?” Show picture.

Read pages 28-29. Briefly explain “bustle.” “What were Slewfoot Sue’s two conditions for marriage? Do you think Bill will be able to meet her conditions? Will Lightning let Sue ride him?” Show pictures.

Read pages 30-34. “What happened when Sue tried to ride Lightning?” Show pictures.

Read pages 35-36. “Where did Sue finally land? What happened then? Show pictures.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: respectable

1. “In the story it says that when Bill met the Hell’s Gulch Gang, he told them he would turn them into respectable ranch hands.”
2. “Respectable means proper or civilized. In the story, before the men in the gang met Pecos Bill, they were wild outlaws or criminals. When Bill made them respectable, they became cowboys and worked with him.
3. “Say the word with me: respectable.”
4. “If someone is living a wild life and they change their ways, they might say they have become respectable. If someone does something well, they might say they did a respectable job.”
5. “Tell about a time when you did something in a respectable way. Try to use the word respectable when you tell about it. You could start by saying, ‘When I did _____, I did it in a respectable way because _____’ or ‘I did a respectable job on _____ because _____.’”
6. “What is the word we have been talking about?” ‘respectable’

Target word: ornery

1. “In the story it says that the Hell’s Gulch Gang, told Bill that Texas cattle were much too ornery to ever put up with ranching.”
2. “Ornery means stubborn and not cooperative. In the story, the cattle were used to being free and doing whatever they wanted to do. On a ranch, they would have to do what the cowboys told them to do and they would not like that because they were ornery.”
3. “Say the word with me: ornery.”
4. “If someone is asked to do something and they refuse, you might say they are being ornery. If it is bedtime and a child stomps out of the room while talking about how he wants to stay up, that child is being ornery.”
5. “If any of the things I say would make you feel ornery say ‘I’m ornery!’ If not, don’t say anything.
 - Your sister breaks your favorite toy.
 - Your brother gives you a birthday present.
 - Your teacher makes you stay in from recess to do your work.
 - You read a good book.
 - You play a fun game.
 - You have to clean the house while your family goes to the park.
6. “What is the word we have been talking about?” ‘ornery’

Target word: devotion

1. “In the story it says that after Bill caught Lightning the Horse, he promised her a lifetime of partnership and devotion.”
2. “Devotion means giving love with all your heart. In the story, Bill and Lightning felt devotion for each other because they loved each other forever.”
3. “Say the word with me: devotion.”
4. “If there is someone or something that you love very much, you could say you feel devotion for that person or thing. Your parents feel devotion for you because they love you very much. Someone might also feel devotion for an idea or a cause. Martin Luther King was devoted to the idea that all people should be treated equally.
5. “Tell about something for which you feel devotion. Try to use the word devotion when you tell about it. You could start by saying, ‘I feel devotion for _____ because _____.’”
6. “What is the word we have been talking about?” ‘devotion.’

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If you get 100% on a test, are you being respectable or ornery? Why?
- If you have a pet for many years would you feel respectable or devoted? Why?
- If your little brother follows you everywhere and tries to be just like you, does he feel devotion or ornery? Why?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- What are some things that make you feel ornery?
- What are you devoted to?
- What are some things that are respectable? What are some things that are not respectable?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- How do you look and sound when you are feeling ornery?
- How do you feel about things or people to which you are devoted?
- How do you act when you are being respectable? What do you look like?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: ornery, devotion, respectable.”

- Which of these children is ornery-- the one stomping her feet and shouting, or the one smiling and helping her dad?
- Would you feel devotion for a family member or a stranger?
- Which of these is respectable-- A bully or a police officer?

77. PRINCIPAL FROM THE BLACK LAGOON, THE

Julia Martinez
Mountain View School
Salt Lake District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Principal from the Black Lagoon, (Mike Thaler, 1993)
ISBN: 0-590-45782-9

Potential Tier 2 Words in the text:

- principal
- office
- poisoned
- monster
- lucky
- slowly
- careful

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- monster
- lucky
- careful

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read aloud page 1 & 2 and show pictures to students. Explain to students that the boy is really scared.

Read aloud pages 3 and 4 show pictures to students and ask them if they are scared of skeletons and bones.

Read aloud pages 5 and 6 and show pictures to students; ask the students why they think the boy is scared to see the principal.

Read aloud pages 7 and 8 show pictures to students and ask students what they think it may happen next.

Read aloud pages 9 and 10 and show the pictures to students. Continue to read pages 11, 12, 13, 14, 15 and 16 and ask students what they think could happen to the boy.

Read aloud pages 17, 18, 19, 20 and 21 show pictures to students. As students what they think of the principal, is she a monster?

Read aloud the rest of pages and show pictures to students. As students what they thought the ending was going to be and if they liked the ending.

Read aloud page 18 and 21. Show pictures to students. Ask students who they think is coming out the door a monster? The Principal?

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: monster

1. In the story it says that Mr. Green the principal is a real monster.
2. If you say somebody is a real monster, you mean that person is a very ugly, mean wicked person.
3. say the word with me: monster
4. Could we say that our sister is a monster? Or could we say that our brother is a monster?
5. "Now think of somebody that could be a monster? Say....".I think.....is a monster because....."
6. That is the word that we just read? "monster"

Target word: lucky

1. In the story the boy said " If you are really lucky you get sent home in chains"
2. Lucky means having good luck.
3. Say the word with me: lucky
4. If you win a prize you are lucky. Or if you run away from a car and don't get hit, you are lucky.
5. Now you think of some ways you can be lucky. Start your sentence with: "I am lucky because....."
6. What is the word we just talked about? Yes lucky.

Target word: careful

1. In the story, the author says " And the next time, we will have to be more careful"
2. Careful means you are very cautious, you do things paying much attention.
3. Say the word with me: careful
4. If you say somebody is careful you mean that that person does things very well. You could say that a mother is very careful when she takes care of her baby.
5. Now you think of some ways you can be careful. Start your sentence with: "I am careful when....."
6. The word we were talking is : careful

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Crossing the streets looking at the cars: are you careful or lucky?
- Hitting at somebody in the face: are you careful or a monster?
- Getting a new pair of shoes: are you careful or lucky?
- Waiting for your parents to pick you are from school: careful or monster?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell us about something you have done that was careful.
- Tell who do you think could be a monster.
- How can you tell when you are lucky?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Tell me what it means to be careful.
- What are some of the things that will make you a careful student?
- Think of some ways you can be lucky in life or at school.
- Think of some things students can do to you that will make them monsters.
- What are some of the things monsters do?

Assess:

- Let's think about all three of our new words again: monster, lucky, careful
- Who do you think is careful the student who follows directions or a student who got sent to the office?
- When would you feel lucky? When you get a new set of clothes or when you loose your bike?
- Who do you think a monster is.? A person who does nice things to others or a person who is mean to others?

78. POLAR EXPRESS, THE

Ben Moser
Lewis Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Polar Express, (Chris Van Allsburg, 1985) ISBN: 0-395-38949-6

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- rustle
- insisted
- wrapped
- outstretched
- flickered
- lean
- roamed
- barren
- crawl
- crowded
- pranced
- paced
- cheered
- imagine
- tossed
- struck
- roared
- cracked
- charged
- lurch

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- insisted
- crowded
- charged

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension:

Read aloud page 1 and ask the students the following questions: “What time of the year does this story take place?” “How do you know?” “How do you feel on Christmas Eve?” “What do you think about?” Show the students the illustration.

Read aloud page 3. Ask the students, “If a train pulled up in front of your house and was heading to the North Pole, would you go? Why or why not? Show the students the illustration.

Read aloud page 6. “Do you think the children are having a good time?” “How can you tell?” Show the students the illustration.

Read aloud page 7 and ask, “What has happened so far in the story?” Show the students the illustration.

Read aloud page 9. Show the students the illustration.

Read aloud page 11. Ask the students these questions: “If you were in this train and saw the North Pole for the first time, how would you feel?” “Do you think these children feel the same way?” “Why or why not?” Show the students the illustration.

Read aloud page 14 and ask, “Would you want Santa to choose you?” “Why or why not?” Show the students the illustration. “Does the North Pole look like a place where you would want to live?” “Explain your answer.”

Read aloud page 16. Show the students the illustration.

Read aloud page 17. “How do you think the little boy felt when Santa chose him?” “Would you have the same feelings or would you feel different?” “Explain your answer?” “If Santa were to ask you what you would like for Christmas, what would you ask for?” Show the students the illustration.

Read aloud page 19 and ask, “Why do you think Santa smiled when the boy told him what he wanted for Christmas?” “Why?” Show the students the illustration.

Read aloud page 22. “Where is Santa going?” Show the students the illustration.

Read aloud page 24. Ask the students the following questions: “Have you ever lost something you really liked?” “How did you feel?” “How do you think this boy feels?” Show the students the illustration.

Read aloud page 25. “When somebody says, ‘Merry Christmas,’ what do they mean?” Show the students the illustration.

Read aloud page 27 and ask, “How do you think the boy feels when the bell is found?” “How do you think the boy feels when his mother and father cannot hear the bell?” “Explain your answers.” Show the students the illustration.

Read aloud page 29. Ask the students the following questions: “How does the story end?” Show the students the illustration. Also ask these questions: “Why can’t Sarah hear the bell any more?” “The author writes, the bell still rings for me as it does for all those who truly believe. Believe in what?” “Why do you think you can only hear the bell if you believe?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words:

Target word: insisted

1. “In the story, the author writes ‘There is no Santa,’ my friend had insisted, but I knew he was wrong.
2. “If you insisted something, you said something firmly and with feeling.”
3. “Say the word with me: insisted”
4. “My parents insisted that I do my homework before I go out and play.” “After getting injured, I insisted that I was fine, I could still play baseball.”
5. “Now think of a time where you or your parents insisted something. Start your sentence with, ‘I insisted that ...,’ or ‘My parents insisted that ...’”
6. “What’s the word we have been talking about?” insisted

Target word: crowded

1. "In the story, the author writes ...we slowed to a crawl, so crowded were the streets with Santa's helpers.
2. "If a place is crowded with people, then there are a lot of people there and it is hard to move around."
3. "Say the word with me: crowded"
4. "The plaza was crowded with spectators." "The city streets were crowded with cars so I had to drive slowly."
5. "Now think of a place you have been where it has been crowded. Start your sentence with 'The _____ was so crowded that ...,' or 'I couldn't even move the _____ was so crowded.'"
6. "What's the word we have been learning about?" 'crowded'

Target word: charged

1. "In the story, the author writes his team charged forward and climbed into the air."
2. "If something charged forward, then it quickly moved forward."
3. "Say the word with me: charged"
4. "The two deer charged forward hitting their antlers together." "The army charged towards their enemies."
5. "Now you think of a way to use the word charged. Start your sentence with 'The _____ charged forward...,' or 'the _____ charged towards...'"
6. "What word have we been discussing?" 'charged'

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- My mother _____ I make my bed: insisted or crowded?
- I could hardly even move at the store because it was so: charged or crowded?
- The children _____ towards the candy: insisted or charged?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell us when your teacher insisted that you did something.
- Would a store be crowded if I was able to move around it easily? Why or why not?
- Would a ram have charged another ram if it got scared and ran the other way? Why or why not?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- If somebody insisted you do drugs, what would you tell them? How would you get out of that situation?
- If you were in a crowded area with your family, what would you do so you didn't get lost? Have you talked with your parents and discussed a plan if you do get lost in a crowded area?
- Have you ever charged toward your parents when they got home from work? Tell us about it.

Assess:

“Let's think about all three of our new words again: insisted, crowded, charged.”

- Which example defines insisted – your mother telling you to do something or choosing what you want to eat for breakfast?
- When would a store be crowded – when the store is closed or on a Saturday when many people are out shopping?
- When might an animal have charged another – when it was defending his area or when he got scared and ran away?

79. THE RELATIVES CAME

Valerie Dixon
Bonneville Elem.
Ogden City Schools

Text Talk Lesson for: The Relatives Came, (Rylant, 1985)
ISBN: 0-689-71738-5

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- relatives
- traveled
- particular
- tend
- Virginia
- strange
- extras
- headed

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- relative
- Virginia
- particular

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Page:

2. Read text and show pictures - Name two things that the relatives are doing to get ready to go on this trip.
4. Read text and show pictures - What do you think happened to their mailbox? Why didn't they stop and fix it?
6. Read text - How do think the relatives feel while they are driving?
10. Read text
11. Read text and show pictures - Why do you think everyone is hugging so much? Do you think these people see each other very much? Why or why not?
13. Read text and show pictures
14. Read text – What do you think everyone could be talking quietly about?
15. Read text and show pictures - If the relatives weren't particular about beds, where do you think everyone slept? Do they look comfortable? Tell why you think you might be particular about wanting a bed to sleep in.

16-17. Read text and show pictures

18. Read text

22. Read text and show pictures

23. Read text - Why do you think the house was too big and too quiet?

26. Read text Show pictures

27. Read text - What do you think the relatives are dreaming about? Why?

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: relatives

1. In the story, the author talks about a bunch of people or relatives who came to visit and stayed a long time.
2. A relative is someone who is related to you like your grandma, grandpa, aunt, or cousins.
3. Let's segment the word relative into sounds that we can hear and count those sounds on our fingers. Now say the word relative slowly with me.
4. If I were your mother's sister, I would be your relative.
5. Name 3 people that are your cousins or relatives.
6. Say the word relative.

Target word: Virginia

1. In the story it says that the people that came to visit were from a place called Virginia.
2. Virginia is the name of a state in the United States of America. Virginia is a long ways away from our state. (Locate Virginia on a map of US)
3. Let's segment the word Virginia into sounds we can hear, and let's count those sounds on our fingers. Now say the word Virginia slowly with me.
4. There are cities located in the state of Virginia named Norfolk and Williamsburg.
5. Have students put label that says Virginia on a map of the US and then on a map of the world.
6. Say the word Virginia.

Target word: particular

1. In the story the author says the relatives were not particular about beds.
2. When you are particular about something you want it to be just right. Sometimes it may even mean that you are fussy or picky.
3. Let's segment the word particular into sounds we hear, and count those sounds on our fingers. Now say the word particular slowly with me.
4. Sometimes particular can mean certain things or ideas like a particular book that you have read, or a particular flower that you have seen.
5. What would you do if you were not particular about the way you make your bed? You might just pull the covers up or maybe you wouldn't make it at all. How many of you are particular about your bed?
6. Say the word particular.

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between the words:

Assign a number to each vocabulary word. 1 is for relative, 2 is for Virginia, and 3 is for particular. Give the following situations and have the students say the correct word while holding up fingers to show the corresponding number:

- I love to visit my _____.
- My sister is _____ about how she looks.
- Someday I want to visit _____.
- I am not _____ about the way I comb my hair.

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Which vocabulary word names a place we could drive to?
- Explain why you like or do not like to visit your relatives.
- Name three people that you think are particular and tell why.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- How is your aunt related to you?
- Give me a definition of particular that doesn't mean picky or fussy.
- Name a US president that lived or grew up in Virginia.

Assess:

"Let's think about all three of our new words again: Virginia, relative, particular."

- Put this definition on the correct vocabulary word: fussy or certain
- Put this definition on the correct vocabulary word: a state in the Eastern US.

Chris Panas
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Royal Nap, (Charles C. Black, 1995)
ISBN 0-670-85863-3

Pre-Reading Strategy: Story Impression.

The words from the story I chose for this impression were:

- cross (His Majesty gets cross)
- sharp (his hearing was very sharp)
- spoiled
- racket
- immediately
- crept
- dank
- startle
- culprit
- banish
- wailing
- peered
- nonsense

This is the story we made together as a class:

The Royal Nap

The Royal King was cross because he had a sharp sense of hearing and his nap was spoiled because of all the racket in the palace.

The King said, "to stop that noise immediately!"

Someone crept through the dank castle looking for the culprit and it startled the king. The king banished the culprit from the castle.

The culprit was wailing because he was banished. He peered into the castle and said, "This is a bunch of nonsense."

Page:

1-3 Read, show illustration and point out:

1. How mean the King looks
2. Servants walking barefoot carrying their shoes
3. Women servants picking up their shirts so they don't make noise

4-5 Read. (spoiled)
What do we know about the King so far?
Show illustration

6-7 Read
What happened on these pages?
What would you do if you were Lord Twombly?

8-9 Read and show illustration. (immediately)
What are they looking for?

Where are they?

10-11 Read, ask what we know so far.

12-14 Read

What is happening to Gerald?

Where are they taking Gerald?

14-15 Read and show picture. Why is Phoebe crying?

16-18 Read and show illustrations.

Is the king sleeping better? How can you tell?

Why is Twombly running so fast?

18-20 Read.

What is Phoebe doing?

Show pictures.

What do you think is going to happen to Phoebe?

20-21 Read and show pictures at the same time.

Did the King like Phoebe's song? How can you tell?

22-23 Read and show pictures. (nonsense)

What is happening on these pages?

How do the King and Twombly feel?

24-25 Read and show at the same time.

How would you feel if you were Gerald?

26 Read

What is happening?

27 Read

How does the story end? Is this the way you thought it would end?

Potential Tier 2 words:

- cross
- sharp
- spoiled
- racket
- immediately
- crept
- dank
- startle
- culprit
- banish
- wailing
- peered
- nonsense

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

These words were chosen for their relevance to the story and words they are very likely to encounter when they read.

- spoiled
- immediately
- nonsense

Target Word: spoiled

1. In the story, the author said that since the King was such a light sleeper, his nap was spoiled by the sound of a moth landing in a room two doors away.
2. DEFINITION: If you say that something is spoiled, it is ruined or rotten and not good anymore.
3. STUDENTS SAY WORD
4. DISPLAY WORD
5. EXAMPLES:
 - If you leave the milk out over the weekend, when you use it on your cereal Monday morning, it will be spoiled.
 - If you are having a swimming party at an outdoor pool and it starts raining and there is lightning, your party is spoiled.

STUDENT EXAMPLES:

- Think of something that could spoil or be spoiled. Use it in a sentence.
- Explain what spoiled is and use an example that they know of something being spoiled.

6. WHAT WAS OUR WORD?

MAINTENANCE:

- Which of these would be spoiled?
 - An ice cream bar right out of the freezer or out of the garbage can?
 - A fresh glass of milk or a glass of milk left out of the refrigerator over night?

Target Word: immediately

1. In the story, Lord Twombly and his men were going to search the castle and find the noise that awoke the King immediately.
2. DEFINITION: Immediately means that something needs to be done or started that very second and as fast as humanly possible.
3. STUDENTS SAY THE WORD

4. DISPLAY THE WORD

5. EXAMPLES:

- If your mom asks you to take out the garbage immediately, you stop what you are doing and do it that second.
- If you are told to go to the principal's office immediately, you do it as fast as you can.

STUDENT EXAMPLES:

- If the store was going to close immediately and I wanted to buy a new toy, I would go...
- Have students share how they have or would do something immediately.

6. WHAT IS THE NEW WORD?

MAINTENANCE:

Listen to these examples and if what I say stands for something immediately, clap your hands.

- If your mom is mad and asks you to do something.
- If you are tired and want to sleep in.
- If your dog gets loose and is about to run away.

Target Word: nonsense

1. In the story, Phoebe tells the King that she won't play or sing for him until her father is returned to the castle and Lord Twombly said, "This is nonsense, How dare you tell the king what to do?"

2. DEFINITION: nonsense means that something is made up or not real and shouldn't happen.

3. HAVE STUDENTS SAY WORD

4. SHOW WORD

5. EXAMPLES:

- If the teacher leaves the room for any reason, the class gets out of their seats and starts playing catch with a football in the classroom.
- To have a beach party in the middle of winter when there is two feet of snow on the ground.

STUDENT EXAMPLES

- Give me an example of something that would be nonsense. If this is nonsense, (rest of class) raise your hands. Have a few students give examples.

6. SAY THE NEW WORD

MAINTENANCE:

Point and say the new words and say we will play a game. Spoiled will be number 1, immediately will be number 2, and nonsense is number 3. If the following situations is number 1 raise one hand, if it is number 2 raise both hands, and if it is number 3, clap your hands.

- Drinking milk that tastes bad.
- I have to go to the bathroom and can't wait.
- Having Mr. Heaton dress up in a tutu.
- Having a swimming party when the swimming pool is frozen over.
- Christmas morning and you want to open your presents.

ASSESS:

While the lesson is taught, there are multiple ways to assess students on what they know but in addition, I would have students respond to situations with thumbs up if they agree or thumbs down if they disagree.

1. Complete the following sentence: I knew the party was spoiled because _____.
2. Give an example of doing something immediately.
3. It would be nonsense if Mr. Panas wore _____ to school.

81. RUBY THE COPY CAT

Marcia Machado
David Gourley Elementary
Granite School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Ruby the Copy Cat, (Peggy Rathman, 1991)
ISBN: 0-590-43747-X

Potential Tier 2 Words in the text:

- coincidence
- loyal
- murmured (murmur)
- gently
- recited
- sensitive
- pleasant
- sprang
- slid
- modeled

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- coincidence
- loyal
- murmured

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Introduce the book showing the children the cover of Ruby the Copycat. Then read the title and author's name.

Read aloud page 1. Ask the children, "Which child do you think is Ruby the Copycat? Why?"

Read aloud pages 2 and 3. Ask the children, "Why did Ruby raise her hand only halfway to answer the question?"

Read aloud pages 4 and 5. Ask the children, "What is Ruby planning by wearing a red bow in her hair?"

Read aloud pages 6 and 7. Ask the children, "Why did Ruby go home to change her clothes? Look at her dress. Do you think she made the dress? Why?"

Read aloud pages 8 and 9. Ask the children, "What do you think Ruby did to her shirt? How do you know that?"

Read aloud pages 10 and 11. Ask the children, "Look at Angela's face? How is she feeling?"

Read aloud pages 12 and 13. Ask the children, "Why is the teacher, Miss Hart, pressing her hand to her bowed head?" Show the picture.

Read aloud pages 14 and 15. Ask the children, “What is happening here? How does Ruby feel?”

Read aloud pages 16, 17 and 18. Ask the children, “Was Miss Hart mean to Ruby? What is Miss Hart trying to do?”

Read aloud pages 19 and 20. Ask the children, “Why did Ruby glue pink plastic fingernails on every finger of her hands?”

Read aloud pages 21 and 22. Ask the children, “Why did the class giggle at Ruby?”

Read aloud pages 23 and 24. “What is happening here?” Show the picture.

Read aloud pages 25, 26 and 27. Ask the children, “Why do you think the children in the class are clapping their hands and cheering?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words.

Target word: coincidence

1. “In the story, Miss Hart called it a coincidence that both Ruby and Angela were flowers girls over the weekend.”
2. “A coincidence happens when two or more things happen at the same time without planning.”
3. “Say the word with me: coincidence.”
4. “It would be a coincidence to run into your best friend while you are away on vacation.”
5. “Let’s think about some coincidences. Try to use the word coincidence when you tell about it. Begin your sentence with, ‘It is a coincidence when_____.’”
6. “What is the word that we’ve been talking about? ‘Coincidence.’”

Target word: loyal

1. “In the story, Angela wrote a poem about her cat that was a loyal pet.”
2. “If someone is loyal to you, it means that he or she will always support you or be your friend.”
3. “Say the word with me: loyal.”
4. “If a dog waits by the door until you come home, you can call him a loyal dog. A friend who always tells people how great they are is a loyal friend.”
5. “Now you think about some examples of loyal. You could start by saying, ‘If a person eats at the same restaurant every week, he is_____.’ ‘My friend is _____ to me because he plays with me every recess.’”
6. “Let’s say our new word: loyal.”

Target word: murmured

1. "In the story, Miss Hart murmured, 'What a coincidence.'"
2. "Murmured means saying something in a quiet and low voice so that not many people can hear."
3. "Say the word with me: murmured."
4. If you murmured something, you said it in a low and quiet voice." Demonstrate. "You murmured something to your mom that you didn't want anyone else to hear."
5. "Now you describe a place that when you talked in it you murmured, and then tell why you murmured. Start your sentence with, 'When I was at _____ I murmured when I talked because _____.'"
6. "What is the word that we have been talking about?" Murmured.

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- When you say something softly: murmured or coincidence.
- My friends and I always root for our soccer team: loyal or murmured.
- Telling a secret: coincidence or murmured.
- If things happen by chance at the same time: coincidence or loyal.

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Which would be a coincidence, going to your best friend's birthday party or having the same birthday as your best friend?
- Who is more loyal, a friend who is there when you need him or a friend who doesn't know when you need him?
- Who murmured, someone who told a secret or someone who sang a song?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- How do you feel if by coincidence your friend got the same hairstyle as yours? Do you feel happy or embarrassed?
- What can you do to show someone that you are loyal?
- If the people murmured, was it because they wanted everyone to know what they were saying or because they didn't want everyone to know what they were saying?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: coincidence, loyal, murmured.”

- Which of these is a coincidence, a person wearing the same shirt as his friend or two friends playing at recess?
- Which one of these is a loyal friend, one who says something mean about you for no reason or one who always says something good about you?
- When your teacher asked you a question and you weren’t sure about the answer because you hadn’t done your homework, did you murmur that you hadn’t done your homework or did you shout that you hadn’t done your homework?

Stephanie Hyder
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Rude Giants, (Audrey Wood, 1993)

ISBN: 0-15-201889-1

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- freshest
- selfish
- scolded
- manners
- rumbled
- divine
- rude
- pleasant
- proclaimed

Tier 2 words selected fro direct vocabulary instruction:

- bellowed
- trampled
- proper - most suitable & socially acceptable definitions
- divine

During the compare and contrast there should also be a focus on the words rude and manners. Students should know these words, but this lesson should deepen their knowledge of what behaviors would be considered rude or mannerly.

Brainstorm

Today we are going to read a story called Rude Giants by Audrey Wood. If someone is rude, they behave in a way that is not polite. I want you to think about what you already know and help us think of some ways these giants might behave that might be considered rude?

Text Talk & Compare and Contrast:

Fill in this chart during reading.

Rude Giants	Polite Giants
clumsy loud (bellowed) selfish trampled flowers quarreled stole wanted to eat Gerda the cow messy castle dirty giants The villagers didn't like the giants because they acted rude.	clean castle swept & scrubbed junked the junk put things in their proper place good manners speak in pleasant voices take tiny bites sip, not slurp clean giants bathed curled and combed their hair new, clean clothes The giants have friends because the villagers like them now that they have good manners.

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

The compare and contrast chart will be filled in throughout the lesson.

Read the first four pages aloud. Ask the children, Why are the villages worried what the giants might do next? The villagers look angry and worried. Do you think they should be worried? Why or why not?

Read the next page. The text says "life must go on, giants or not." What does this mean? There isn't anything Greta can do about the giants, so, life must go on. She can't spend her time worrying about the giants. What things in our world could we worry about, but instead we choose to have life go on?

Read the next four pages. On the page where Beatrix scolded the giants briefly tell the students that scolded means to speak angrily to someone because they did something wrong. Example: Your mom might scold you if you came home late from school.

Read the next seven pages. (Be sure to add the items on these pages to the compare and contrast chart.) On the seventh page, Greta tells the giants that they must do one last thing to make Greta taste delicious. They must make themselves beautiful. Say to the children, Now I'm really wondering. How will a clean castle, good manners, and making themselves more beautiful make Greta taste better?

Read the next seven pages. (Keep filling in the chart.) On these pages the giants are getting more beautiful. Quickly address the words glistening and peered. They are used as follows. The giants peered (looked) into a mirror. The giant smoothed back his glistening (shiny) hair. Make sure to draw attention to how much the giants' appearances have changed since the beginning of the story.

Read the next page where Beatrix leads the villagers to the castle. How do you think Greta got the villagers to come to the giants' castle?

Read the next page. Notice how happy the villagers look at the giants' party. Why do the villagers want to be friends with the giants now? Look at the expression on the giants' faces. How have they changed?

Read the next page. Predict. What do you think the giants are going to do about their rude son?

Review and Connect-

What changes did the giants make in the story?

Can people make these same changes?

Extend the list of what behaviors would be considered rude and which would be polite.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words:

Target Word: bellowed

1. Contextualize

In the story, when the giants want food, they bellow their request because they are very hungry and very rude.

Example 1 - "Yum! the giantess bellowed "Food!

Example 2 - "Cow! they bellowed, reaching for Gerta. We want cow.

2. Student Friendly Meaning

If someone bellows, they shout in a loud, angry voice.

3. Students say the word - BELLOW

4. Examples in other contexts.

- Your mom might bellow at you when she tells you to clean your room for the fifth time.
- You might hear someone bellow if they were having an argument with someone.
- You might bellow if you saw someone steal your Game Boy Advance and run away with it.

5. Provide opportunities for students to interact with the word or to provide their own examples using the word.

- Tell me when you might bellow. Try to use the word bellow when you tell about it. You could start by saying, _____(someone) would bellow if _____ happened.

If any of the things I say would make you want to bellow, say bellow. If not, don't say anything.

- Your teacher gives you extra recess.
- Your little brother broke your new remote control car.
- You get a birthday invitation to a friend's birthday party.
- You stub your toe really hard on the fireplace.
- You get all A's on your report card.
- Your little sister drew all over your homework.

6. Students say the word – BELLOW

Target Word: trampled

1. Contextualize
In the story, the giants trampled the flowers.
2. Student Friendly Meaning
If you trample on something, you tread (stomp or walk) heavily on something and damage it.
3. Students say the word - TRAMPLE
4. Examples in other contexts.
 - The other day when I left my charts out on the floor, someone trampled over them and ruined the rings.
 - The neighbor's dog trampled our garden.
 - My boys were running through the house and trampled through my piles of homework.
 - When the students ran in from recess, they nearly trampled over the principal.
5. Provide opportunities for students to interact with the word or to provide their own examples using the word.

Have a student stand up and show what it would look like if they trampled on something.

Idea Completion

I looked out the window just in time to see the neighbor dog trampling on my garden. My garden looked like . . .

I had to explain to my teacher why my homework looked like _____ after my sister trampled on it.

If my newly planted grass seed were just beginning to sprout, I wouldn't want someone to trample them because . . .

6. Students say the word – TRAMPLE

Target Word: proper

1. Contextualize (two contexts)
In the story, when the giants are cleaning the castle it says they “put everything back in its proper place.” In the beginning of the story the giants were rude. They did not act properly. Later Beatrix taught them to be polite and have manners. When the giants learned to be polite and have manners they acted properly.
2. Student Friendly Meaning
Proper means the right or correct way. When the giants put things in their proper place, they were putting things in the right place, or where they go. When the giants learned to have good manners, they acted in a way that society (the village) thought was proper. If you act properly, you act in a way that others think is appropriate.
3. Students say the word - PROPER
4. Examples in other contexts.
 - It is proper to chew with your mouth closed.
 - If Mrs. Hyder asked you to hang your coat in the proper place, you would hang it in the coat closet.
 - In the story we read about Amelia Bloomer, people didn’t think she was proper because she wore pants. Today it is proper for girls to wear pants to school.
 - The proper place to use your number five voice is outside on the playground.
5. Provide opportunities for students to interact with the word or to provide their own examples using the word.

Have students give examples of things that are proper, and things that aren’t proper.

It would be proper to . . .

It wouldn’t be proper to . . .

Each student could write a caption and illustrate it. The heading used in the compare the contrast chart could be modified rude students (it wouldn’t be proper to...) and polite students (it would be proper to...). Their work could be collected for a bulletin board or class book.

6. Students say the word – PROPER

Target Word: quarreled

1. Contextualize
In the story, the rude giants quarreled until the birds stopped singing.
2. Student Friendly Meaning
If you quarrel with someone, you have a fight, or an angry argument.
3. Students say the word - QUARREL
4. Examples in other contexts.
Your teenage brother or sister might quarrel with your mom or dad.
You might quarrel with your brother who won't let you have a turn jumping on the trampoline.
A customer who felt they had been treated poorly might quarrel with the manager.
5. Provide opportunities for students to interact with the word or to provide their own examples using the word.

Have you ever had a quarrel with someone?

What kinds of things might make you want to quarrel with someone?

6. Students say the word – QUARREL

MAINTAIN:

- Hang a copy of the cover of rude giants with the four vocabulary words near it for the students to reference back to. Encourage students to use the words in their own conversations and writing.
- Watch for other contexts that these words appear, and use it as an opportunity to show students the other contexts, and to review the words. Encourage students to do the same.
- Use opportunities that arise in the classroom to model the vocabulary. Example: If students are arguing, ask them why they are quarreling. If someone does something correctly, or has good manners, express appreciation for the proper way they behaved.
- When learning future vocabulary words help students connect words that may have similar meaning, or opposite meanings. Help them scaffold these words together. When students' vocabularies include a sufficient number of similar words rank them. An example would be if students also know the words screamed, hollered, whispered, said, and bellowed, have them rank them from quietest to loudest.

ASSESS:

- Which do you think would be louder someone yelling, or someone bellowing? Why?
- Which would be more likely to cause a quarrel someone sending you flowers, or someone sticking tacks on your chair?
- Would it be proper to bellow in the library?
- If you accidentally trampled on your neighbors tulips, what would be the proper way to handle it?
- Are people more likely to whisper or bellow in a quarrel?
- Which classroom voice would be closest to bellowing?
- If you dropped your Snickers bar and someone trampled on it, would you still eat it? Why or why not?

83. SIGNMAKER'S ASSISTANT

Wendy Betts
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for The Signmaker's Assistant, (Tedd Arnold, 1997)

ISBN: 0-14-056097-1

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- ordinary
- assistant (teach in context)
- informed (inform)
- confused
- feverishly
- gathered
- mistakes
- wisdom
- sensible
- fools
- realized
- discovered
- downcast

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- ordinary
- informed
- feverishly

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Briefly introduce the book: "Today we're going to read this book. (Hold up book.) The title is The Signmaker's Assistant. The author and illustrator is Tedd Arnold." Ask, "What does an assistant do?" (This is to clarify because understanding assistant is essential to "getting" the story.) "As we read this story, listen to what the assistant does and thinks. Listen for any problems the assistant might have and what he does to fix the problems."

Read the first two pages of the text. Show the pictures after reading. Ask: "Who is Norman?" "What do you think Norman did to help or assist?"

Read the next page. Show the picture of Norman standing at the window. Ask: "What was Norman's job?" "What did Norman want to have of his own?" "What did Norman notice as he watched out the window?" "When Norman painted a sign of his own, what do you think it said?"

Read the next page and show the pictures. Ask: "What happened?" "What do you think Norman will do now?"

Read the next page and show pictures. Teacher predicts to introduce possible problems. Say: "I don't have a good feeling about this, what do you think Norman is doing?"

Read the next pages and show pictures. Read the sign, continuing on as each page shows the signs Norman has painted. Allow children to discuss possible consequences of Norman's signs. If the children don't bring it up, ask, "Why do you think people are doing what the signs say?" Continue on to next page of text. Read text and show picture. Ask: "How did Norman feel about what his signs did?" "How did the people feel about the signs?" Discuss fools. Ask: "Did the people know who painted the signs?" "What do you think about what Norman did?"

Read text and show pictures, continue on the next page, read and show picture. Ask: "What happened to the Signmaker because of Norman's signs?" "Why do you think the people wouldn't listen to Norman?" "What can Norman do now?"

Read next page and show picture. ASK: "How did Norman solve the problem he created?" "Do you think the town's people will believe his new sign?" "Why?"

Read next page and show picture, continue on to the last page, read and show picture. Ask: "How did things turn out for Norman the Assistant?" "Why did the Signmaker allow Norman to stay after all the trouble he caused?" "Okay, let's review. What were the problems Norman had?" "Why did he have these problems?" "How did Norman solve the problems?"

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: ordinary

1. Use the word as it was contextualized in the story. "Under his brush ordinary letters became beautiful words--."
2. Explain the meaning in student-friendly terms.
3. "Ordinary describes things that are plain, every day, not fancy. In the story the Signmaker made ordinary or plain letters into beautiful or special words."
4. Create a phonological representation of the word by having the children repeat the word. "Say the word with me: ordinary."
5. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.
"If someone is wearing a plain white tee-shirt, one with no words or other colors, we can say they are wearing an ordinary white tee-shirt. We can say it has been just an ordinary day in Kindergarten. Because it's an ordinary day, nothing different or special happened."
6. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word.
"Tell me about something you think is ordinary. Try to use the word ordinary when you tell about it." Help the children provided examples other than those I have used or the example from the book.
7. Finally, have the children repeat the word to reinforce its phonological representation. "What's the word we've been talking about? ordinary"

Target word: informed (inform)

1. “In the story, the sign on the school door that said there would be no school today surprised everyone. The teacher said, “No one informed me.”
2. “If you have not been informed about something, you have not been told about it. Something is happening that you do not know about. It is important to inform people about things if you want them to do things for you, or if you need them to be somewhere.
3. “Let’s say the word aloud: informed”
4. “You would be informed if you were supposed to bring a treat to school. I informed you that we would be having a spelling test on Friday. Your parents are informed about the days we do not have school.”
5. “If you would need to be informed about any of the things I say, say informed. If not, don’t say anything.”
 - Library day is changed to Monday.
 - You need special shoes for P.E.
 - Paper
 - I ate yogurt for breakfast.
 - We will not have any more recesses.
 - You are sitting on the rainbow rug.
6. “What’s the word we are learning? informed”

Target word: feverishly

1. “In the book when the Signmaker returned from his trip, he saw the light on in his shop. “Norman was painting feverishly.”
2. “If you are doing something feverishly, you are doing it as fast as you possibly can. You are in a BIG hurry to get it done. Sometimes you work feverishly to get your seatwork finished if it is time to go to recess. Most mornings I am feverishly getting ready for school before the bell rings. The lunch ladies feverishly serve lunch to the children so everyone has time to eat.”
3. “If I say something you would do feverishly hold up the smiley face. If it is not something you would do feverishly hold up the frowny face.”
 - Clean your room so you can play outside.
 - Take a nap.
 - Eat Thanksgiving dinner.
 - Play with your friends.
 - Do your best coloring.
 - Get ready for bed so you can hear your favorite story.
 - Get home before you are late for dinner.
4. “Let’s say our new word: feverishly.”

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If you really, really have to go to the bathroom, would you walk ordinary or would you run feverishly? Why?
- If we were going to have a pajama day, would you need to be informed, or would that be ordinary? Why?
- If we have a fire drill at school, would you walk feverishly, or just need to be informed? Why?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- If we have an ordinary Friday at school, what will happen?
- Tell me something you think you would need to be informed about.
- What is something you would be feverishly doing?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Show me what your hands would be doing if you were coloring feverishly.
- What would you do if no one had informed you that you needed to wear something red to school?
- Turn to your neighbor and show them a very excited smile. Now show them your ordinary smile. Tell your neighbor how the smiles were different.

We would also maintain these words by putting them in our words books to use in our writing. The children are familiar with “amazing” words, because that is how we identify the vocabulary words from our basal books. I would refer to these words as “amazing” words as well. I really like the idea of photocopying the cover of the book and attaching the words to it to refer to as we incorporate the words into our daily conversations.

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: ordinary, informed, feverishly.”

- Which of these would be ordinary – the school bus picking up the children on the playground or the school bus picking the children up in the loading zone?
- When would your parents need to be informed – when you wrote your name at the top of your paper or when you got a bloody nose?
- Would you work feverishly to – finish your nap or to get your chores done so you could have an ice cream cone?

84. SOMEWHERE IN THE OCEAN

Colleen Bowcutt
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Somewhere In the Ocean, (Jennifer Ward and T.J. Marsh, 2000)
0-439-22035-1

Potential Tier 2 words

- nibble
- nestle
- snug
- shore
- thrive
- raft
- prickly
- cruise
- shimmers
- drift
- tidbits

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction

- nibble
- nestle
- thrive
- drift

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension

Say, "We're going to read a story about different animals that live in the ocean. As I read, think of the things the text tells us about each animal."

Read the text.

As I read the story we discussed the characteristics of each animal and their surroundings.

(This book lent itself more to discussion items than to comprehension questions.)
page:

1-2

What is a manatee?

Where does it live?

What does it eat?

(nibble)

3-4

What is a pod?

4-5

Is a sea anemone a plant or an animal?

What does the clown fish remind you of?

(nestle)

6-7

What is a tide pool?
What did it mean when mother hermit crab said, "Dress!"

8-9

What is a sea otter?
What is a "raft"?
What is kelp?
What is an urchin? (thrive)

10-11

What does "where the seas and rivers mix. " mean?
What did it mean when the mother tiger shark said, "Cruise!"

12-13

Why did father sea horse say "Hold on!"
Why father not mother?

14-15

How does the sea turtle move through the water?
What kind of animal is a turtle?

16-17

What does "zap" mean in the story?
What does it mean to "drift"? (drift)
What are "tidbits"?

18-19

What is a coral reef?
What does the octopus squirt? Why?

Conclusion: There are many kinds of animals that live in and near the ocean. They have many similarities and differences.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction

Target Word: nibble

1. Story Context: In the story it says, "Nibble!" said the mother, "I nibble!" said the one, so they nibbled sea lettuce where the warm waters run."
2. Definition: When you nibble something you take small, tiny bites of it.
3. Students repeat word
4. Display word

5. Examples:
The rabbit will nibble on the lettuce.
He doesn't like vegetables, so he nibbles at them.
The mouse nibbles the cheese.
She is sick, so she will only nibble the toast.

Student generated examples:

Tell us about something you would nibble. Use the word nibble in a sentence.

You could start by saying, "I like to nibble on _____."

6. Ask: "What's the new word?"

Target Word: nestle

1. Story Context: In the story it says, "Nestle!" said the mother, "We nestle!" said the three, so they nestled safe and snug in their sea anemone."
2. Definition: Nestle means to get comfortable, warm, safe or cozy.
3. Students repeat word
4. Display word
5. Examples:
The dog and cat nestled together on the rug.
I nestled under the blankets to get warm.
The new baby nestled with its mother.
I nestled close to the fire.

Student generated examples:

Tell us about how, who or what you would nestle with. Use the word nestle in a sentence.

You could start by saying, "I want to nestle with _____."

6. Ask: "What's the new word?"

Target Word: thrive

1. Story Context: In the story it says, "Somewhere in the ocean where the kelp forests thrive lived a raft of sea otters and their baby otters five."
2. Definition: The word thrive means to grow well, or to do well at something.
3. Students repeat word
4. Display word

5. Examples:
The plant will thrive when I set it in the sun.
The runt pig thrived when I fed it from a bottle.
I thrive at baseball.

Student generated examples:

Use the word thrive in a sentence. You could start by saying, "I thrive at _____."

6. Ask: "What's the new word?"

Target Word: drift

1. Story Context: In the story it says "...they zapped tasty tidbits as they drifted in a line.
2. Definition: When something drifts, it just kind of floats along with no place to be.
3. Students repeat word
4. Display word
5. Examples:
The kite drifted through the sky.
Our boat drifted on the lake.
The feather drifted to the ground.

Student generated examples:

Tell us about something you watched drift along. Use the word drift in a sentence.

You could start by saying, "I saw a _____ drift _____."

6. Ask: "What's the new word?"

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If a kite were floating in the sky, would it be drifting or nibbling?
- If you were taking small bites of a cookie, would you be nestling or nibbling?
- If the flower is growing really tall, is it thriving or drifting?
- If the baby cuddles with it's teddy bear, is it thriving or nestling?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Which word goes with cuddle?
- Which word goes with float?
- Which word goes with tiny?
- Which word goes with grow?
- Which word goes with bite?
- Which word goes with blanket?
- Which word goes with boat?
- Which word goes with seed?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- We will write a Story Impression together using the targeted vocabulary words.

Assess:

"Let's think about all four of our new words again: nibble, nestle, thrive and drift."

- Which of these would you nibble - soup or a cracker?
- When would you nestle - when you are reading or when you are riding your bike?
- When would a baby animal thrive - when it eats good food or when it sleeps in the sun?
- Which of these would drift in the water - a rock or a leaf?

Barb Gallagher
Mountain View Elementary
Salt Lake City School District

Text Talk Lesson for Stellaluna (Janell Cannon, 1993)
ISBN: 0-590-96797-5

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- sultry
- clutched
- swooped
- limp
- clumsy
- anxious
- peculiar
- grasped
- perched

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- clumsy
- limp
- clutched

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Briefly introduce the book: “This is the story of a little bat named Stellaluna.” Allow students to tell you what they know about bats. Listen closely to what happens to her when she gets separated from her mother.” The illustrations are excellent, show them after you read.

Read aloud page one. Explain how little bats hang on to their mother as they fly. “Why do you think that she has to take Stellaluna with her?”

Read aloud page two. “Why do you think the owl attacked the mother bat?” “What happened to Stellaluna as the mother and the owl were fighting?”

Read aloud page three. “Was mother able to find her baby?”

Read aloud page four. “Where did Stellaluna land?”

Read aloud page five. “How did Stellaluna get some food to eat?”

Read aloud page six. “Why was mother bird angry with the baby birds?” “What were they trying to do?”

Read aloud page seven. “What did Stellaluna promise to do so that she could stay with the baby birds?” “Do you think that promise will be easy for her to keep?”

Read aloud pages eight, nine, ten, and eleven. Be sure the students can see the illustrations and pause so that they have time to look at them. There is not much text on these 4 pages. “Why did Stellaluna have trouble trying to fly like the baby birds?”

Read aloud page twelve. “Does anyone know why the baby birds had to go home since it was getting dark?”

Read aloud pages thirteen and fourteen. “Why did the bat ask Stellaluna about the way she was hanging from the tree branch?”

Read aloud page fifteen. “Why were the bats surprised at the things Stellaluna had been doing with the birds?”

Read aloud page sixteen. “Does anyone know what fruit bats usually eat?”

Read aloud page seventeen. “Can bats fly at night?” “Can birds fly at night?”

Read aloud page eighteen. “What do you think Stellaluna will tell her friends, Pip, Flitter and Flap?”

Read aloud pages nineteen and twenty. “Do you think it was a good idea for Stellaluna to get her bird friends to fly at night with her?” “Why?”

Read aloud page twenty-one. “How were the birds and Stellaluna alike?” “How were the birds and Stellaluna different?” “Do you think people that are different in some ways and alike in some ways can still find a way to be friends?” “What are some ways you are different than your friends?” “What are some ways that you are like your friends?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words.

Target word: clumsy

1. In the story, Stellaluna had trouble flying and did not want to be clumsy.
2. If you are clumsy, you have a difficult time doing something usually when you try it for the first time.
3. Say the word with me: clumsy.
4. If I tried to run down the basketball court and make a basket, I would look clumsy because it is not something that I have had much practice at. When you try something new for the first time you might feel clumsy. Do you remember the first time you tried to ride a bike or go roller skating? Did you feel clumsy?
5. Has anyone ever felt clumsy trying to do something for the first time? Have children give examples.
6. What is the word we have been talking about? clumsy

Target word: limp

1. In the story, the author told us that when Stellanuna fell from her mother that her little baby wings were as limp and useless as wet paper.
2. We can tell that her wings were not strong, they were limp.
3. Say the word with me: limp.
4. When your mom makes spaghetti, she cooks the hard noodles from the package in some hot water to make them soft, or limp so that we can eat them. Things that are limp are soft.
5. Now you tell me some things that are limp. You might start your sentence this way, _____ are soft and limp.
6. What is the word we have been talking about? limp

Target word: clutched

1. In this story, the author used this word two times. The first time, Stellanuna clutched, or hung onto her mother as she went to hunt for food. The second time, when Stellanuna fell from her mother and landed in some twigs, she clutched or hung onto one of the twigs.
2. When you clutch something, you hang on tightly to it.
3. Say the word with me: clutched.
4. When someone throws you a football in a game and you are trying to keep others from taking it away from you—you have to clutch it or hold on very tightly.
5. Can anyone think of something else you need to clutch, or hold on tightly to?
6. What is the word we have been talking about? clutched

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Falling off your bicycle. Is it clumsy or limp?
- Grabbing onto a cup before it falls off the table. Is it an example of something you can clutch or is it limp?
- A wet noodle. Is it clumsy or limp?
- Slipping on a banana peel. Is it clumsy or clutched?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations.

- Give me some examples of ways we can be clumsy.
- What are some things we can clutch?
- Explain what it means to be limp.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Have you ever been clumsy at something? How did it make you feel?
- Have you ever worked hard to help out at home by carrying something heavy for a long time? How did it make your arms feel—would that be an example of limp? If I asked you to carry a big stack of books down to the library, do you suppose your arms might feel limp? What other heavy things to carry would make your arms feel limp?
- Have you ever held a toy that you loved very tightly? Is that an example of clutching something? What toys would you like to clutch?

Assess:

Let's think about all three of our words again: clutched, clumsy, limp.

- Which of these things would be limp? A string or a pencil?
- When would you feel clumsy? Learning how to ski for the first time or riding in a car?
- Would you walk down the hall and clutch your book or your ice cream cone?

86. THE STORY OF JUMPING MOUSE

Kathryn Hall
Bonneville Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Story of Jumping Mouse, (John Steptoe, 1984)
ISBN: 0-688-08740-X

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- gathered
- wonderful
- content
- warned
- journey
- perilous
- dismay
- admiring
- powerful
- encounter
- hardships
- despair
- avoided
- exhausted
- scornfully
- beneath
- reflection
- enormous
- rhythm
- cautiously
- courage
- survive
- manage
- unselfish
- compassion

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- journey
- exhausted
- unselfish

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

The pages are not numbered, so consider the first page after the title page as page 1. The pages are broken into three days of reading, due to length and complexity of the story. Reading should be done with expression. Tell the students: This story is a Native American Legend, or folk tale, so it will have some magic in it, and some lessons to learn.

Day 1

Read pages 1 – 3, stopping briefly at the words content (happy) and perilous (dangerous) to define them as you read. Ask and discuss: Why do you think the young mouse was so determined to go to the far-off land? How might traveling be dangerous for a mouse?

Show pictures on pages 1 – 3.

Read page 4. Ask and discuss: Why do you think the mouse couldn't get across the river? Since the book continues, we know that he gets across. How do you predict that he is able to cross?

Show pictures on pages 4, 5.

Read pages 6, 7. Ask and discuss: What are two ways that Magic Frog helped the mouse? What happened when Magic Frog named him Jumping Mouse? Why would this be helpful for a traveling mouse? What did magic Frog say Jumping Mouse would have to do in order to reach the far-off land?

Show pictures on pages 6, 7.

Read pages 8 – 10. Ask and discuss: The old fat mouse invited Jumping Mouse to stay with him. Why you think he did this?

Do a think-aloud: The old mouse was not very friendly. In fact, he was scornful of (he put down) Jumping Mouse's dream of going to the far-off land. He even said he used to dream about the far-off land himself, but then he found everything he needed right here. If he has everything he needs, I wonder why he seems so unhappy. Perhaps he feels bad because he didn't finish his journey to find what he was looking for.

Show pictures on pages 8 – 11.

Read pages 12, 13. Ask and discuss: These pages give several reasons why Jumping mouse decided to leave and go on his way. What were they? What do you think was the most powerful reason? Why?

Show pictures on pages 12, 13.

Day 2

Have the students retell in partners yesterday's events.

Read pages 14 – 17. Ask and discuss: Do you think Jumping Mouse realized that he was giving the bison his own eyesight? Do you think he would have helped the bison had he truly realized this would happen? Why or why not? How does the bison feel? Do you think he will help Jumping Mouse in return? Why or why not?

Show pictures on pages 14 – 17.

Read pages 18, 19. Ask and discuss: Do you remember what Magic Frog told Jumping mouse he must do to reach the far-off land? What was it? Is he still doing this?

Show pictures on pages 18, 19.

Read page 20 to "...Wolf!" Ask and discuss: What do you think will happen? Why?

Finish the first and second paragraphs. Ask and discuss: Why didn't the wolf attack?

Read the third and fourth paragraphs. Ask and discuss: Will Jumping Mouse help the wolf? What will probably happen if he does?

Finish the page. Pretend you are in Jumping Mouse's place. Would you help the wolf, knowing you will no longer have the sense of smell if you do? Why would you or would you not help?

Show pictures on pages 20, 21.

Day 3

Have the students retell in partners yesterday's events.

Read pages 22, 23. Ask and discuss: The wolf, like the bison, is grateful and offers to help Jumping Mouse on his way. He protects him from the shadows of the sky. What are these shadows? Why are they a danger to Jumping Mouse?

Show pictures on pages 22, 23.

Read page 24, the first paragraph. Ask and discuss: Jumping mouse has made it to the far-off land, but how is he feeling? What will he be able to do here?

Show pictures on pages 24, 25.

Finish page 24 and read page 27. Briefly define compassion as caring for others more than one's self while reading. Ask and discuss: Magic Frog helped Jumping Mouse before. How do you think he will help this time?

Show pictures on pages 26, 27.

Read pages 28 – 32. Ask and discuss: What do you think is happening to Jumping Mouse?

Show pictures on pages 28 – 33.

Read pages 35, 36 and show pictures on pages 34 – 36 at the same time. What happened to Jumping Mouse because he achieved his goal and helped others along the way? How did he change inside?

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: journey

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.
In the story, Jumping Mouse went on a long journey to the far-off land.
2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.
A journey is a long trip to another place.
3. Ask the children to say the word journey.
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.
 - Our journey from Utah to France was made mostly by airplane.
 - My family had a journey from Mexico to Utah by bus.
 - Walking to school seemed like a long journey when we went up the steep hill.

5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word. (If children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did.)

Have the students say the following sentence stem and fill in the blanks with appropriately long distances:

- It was a long journey when we went from _____ to _____.
- Have students share with partners, and then choose some to share with the group.

6. Have the children say the word journey.

Target word: exhausted

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.

In the story Jumping Mouse stopped to rest when he was exhausted.

2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.

The word exhausted means very, very tired.

3. Ask the children to say the word exhausted.

4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.

- My friend and I were exhausted after hiking for fourteen-miles.
- Mom asked me to watch my little sister and brother during the afternoon because she was exhausted and needed to rest.
- My sister went to bed early because she was exhausted from playing two games of soccer today.

5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word.

- Have the students say the following sentence stem and fill in the blank with an activity which would cause exhaustion.
- James was exhausted when he finished _____.
- Have students share with partners, and then choose some to share with the group.

6. Have the children say the word exhausted.

Target word: unselfish

1. Use the target word as it was contextualized in the story.

In the story Magic Frog praised Jumping Mouse for being unselfish by caring for others in spite of great problems for himself.

2. Explain the meaning of the word in student-friendly terms.

Unselfish means sharing and giving to others willingly

3. Ask the children to repeat the word unselfish.
4. Provide additional examples of the word in contexts other than the one used in the story.
 - My little sister was unselfish when she shared her toys with me.
 - I showed that I can be unselfish when I let another student play with my basketball.
 - Jody was unselfish when she shared her candy with her friend.
5. Provide opportunities for the children to interact with the word or to provide their own examples of using the word.

Have the students say the following sentence stem and fill in the blank with an unselfish act.

Luis was unselfish when he gave _____.

Have students share with partners, and then choose some to share with the group.

6. Have the children repeat the word unselfish.

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Is a long trip a journey or unselfish?
- Would giving something to others be exhausted or unselfish?
- Would someone be a journey or exhausted after running for two miles?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Jose is an unselfish person. Why type of things might he do?
- Alexis is exhausted. What should she do?
- Daisy's family is getting ready for a long journey. What are they doing and where might they be going?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- If you have been on a long journey, please tell where you went, using the word, journey.
- Tell one sentence about a time you were exhausted. Use the word in your sentence.
- What could you share or give to show that you are unselfish? Use the word in your sentence.

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: exhausted, journey, unselfish.”

- Bulleted list of questions asking students to choose between either two examples or two definitions. (Italicize and bold target words.)
- Does being exhausted mean being very rested or very tired?
- What is an example of a journey? Going to California or going to the store?
- If someone is unselfish, does she keep things for herself or share?

87. THE STRANGER

Jen Knight
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Stranger, (Chris Van Allsburg, 1986)
ISBN: 0-395-42331-7

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- jammed
- figure
- comfortable
- lent (borrowed)
- confused
- fascinated
- shivered
- draft (cold breeze)
- stroked
- expected
- exactly
- tagged (followed along)
- occasionally
- hypnotized
- timid
- noticing
- peculiar
- puzzling
- drab
- trembling
- dashed
- etched

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- peculiar
- timid
- drab
- tagged

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read aloud pages 1-4. Ask the question, “What do we know so far?” Then show the illustrations.

Read aloud pages 5-10. Ask the questions, “What are some things you noticed about the stranger?” and “what are some of the things that are happening in the story?” Then show the illustrations.

Read aloud pages 11-12. Show the illustrations. Then ask the children, “Why are the rabbits acting like they want the stranger to follow and do they know the stranger?”

Read the pages 13-14. Ask the children, “What are other things you have noticed about the stranger?” (tagged)

Read aloud pages 15-18. Show the illustrations. (timid)

After reading the pages, ask the children, “Do you have any questions about what is happening in the story?” and “Are you curious about anything?”

Read aloud pages 19-20. Show the illustrations as you read. Ask the children, “Why aren’t the seasons changing?” (peculiar)

Read pages 21-24. Show the illustrations. Ask the children these questions, “The stranger seems worried about something. What do you think he is worried about?” “Why do you think the stranger blows on the leaf?” and “What is going to happen next?” (drab)

Read aloud pages 25-26. Show the illustrations. Ask the children these questions, “Why are the trees still green only around the farm?” and “Who do you think the stranger really is?”

Read page 26. Show the illustrations. Ask the children these questions, “How do you think the words “see you next fall” come to be etched on the window?”

After reading, ask the children, “Do you know who the stranger is now?” and “What were the clues that told us?” You may need to reread certain parts of the book to help with the identity of the stranger.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: tagged

1. In the story the author says “the stranger shyly tagged along”.
2. If someone tagged along, they would follow after you.
3. Everyone say the word with me: tagged
4. If you have a little brother that follows you all over the place, he tags along. The ducklings tagged along after their mother.
5. Can you think of a time when you tagged along? Start your sentence with “Once I tagged along with ____.”
6. What is the new word we have been talking about? tagged

Target word: timid

1. In the story the author says that “day-by-day he had become less timid.”
2. If someone is timid they are very shy and quiet and a bit scared.
3. Everyone say the word with me: “What is the new word? Timid”
4. If you are new to school on the first day you might be timid. A new baby animal is timid around the larger animals.

5. Can you think of a time when you were timid? Start your sentence with “I was timid when _____.
6. What’s the new word? Timid

Target Word: peculiar

1. In the story the author says “the weather was peculiar.”
2. If something is peculiar it is very strange or odd. It doesn’t always happen.
3. Everyone say the word with me: peculiar
4. A flower blooming through the snow is peculiar. If Mr. Heaton walked into our room with a dress on that would be peculiar.
5. Can you think of a time when you saw something peculiar? Start your sentence with “It would be peculiar to see ...or something that is peculiar is...”
6. What’s the new word? peculiar

Target Word: drab

1. In the story the author says” the trees were shades of green. The stranger thinks they were drab and ugly. They should be red and orange.”
2. If something is drab it is very dull and boring.
3. Everyone say the word with me: drab
4. A room that is all one color is drab. Only using the word walk in a story would be drab.
5. Can you think of a time when you saw something that was drab? Start your sentence with “It would be drab to see... or once I saw a drab...”
6. What’s the new word? Drab

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two or the words:

- If you saw a monkey talking on TV. Drab or peculiar.
- A small boy playing football with big boys. Drab or timid.
- The little brother following his big brother. Timid or tagged along.
- A brown wall with nothing on it at all. Tagged along or drab.

Maintain all four words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- The rocks on the playground are drab. What other things can be drab?
- I've seen a man wearing a skirt once. That was peculiar. Tell about something peculiar you have seen.
- Show how you would look if you were timid.
- If you ran after your older brother or sister to go with them to play would you be tagging along? Why or why not?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- If someone tagged along after you how would you feel? Explain your answer.
- What could you wear to school that would be peculiar?
- Tell about a time you were timid. How did you feel?
- If you wanted to see something drab would you go to an amusement park? Why or why not?

Assess:

“Let's think about all four of our new words again: tagged, timid, peculiar, and drab.”

- Which of these things would an example of tagged along--A boy catching a ball or a boy running after his friend to play ball? Students who agree with the response will raise their thumb; those who disagree will point their thumb down.
- Which of these things would an example of drab--A flowerbed with dead flowers or a flowerbed that has blooming flowers? Students who agree with the response will raise their thumb; those who disagree will point their thumb down.
- Which of these things would an example of peculiar--A baby carrying a mom around or a mom carrying a baby around? Students who agree with the response will raise their thumb; those who disagree will point their thumb down.
- Which of these things would an example of timid--A puppy running up and jumping on you or a puppy hiding under the chair? Students who agree with the response will raise their thumb; those who disagree will point their thumb down.

88. THE STRAY DOG

Kathy Carson
Bluff Elementary
San Juan School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Stray Dog, (Marc Simont, 2001)
ISBN: 0-439-38591-1

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- scruffy
- appeared
- stray
- collar
- introduced
- neighborhood
- warden

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- appeared
- stray
- introduced

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Show the illustrations on the cover, inside the cover, the title page, the dedication page and page 2 and read page 2. Point out the dog and the family. What do we know so far?

Read pages 3-6 and show the illustrations. What has happened now?

Read page 8. What is the problem? Show illustration.

Read pages 10-14. What is happening?

Continue to read page 15, but do not show illustration. (appeared) What has just happened with Willy? Now show the illustrations. Who is the man in the bushes? Show illustration on pages 17 and 18. Point out the children, the man and the dog.

Read pages 19 and 20, do not show illustrations. (stray) What has just happened here? Show illustrations, also show pages 21 and 22. How do the kids and the dog feel now?

Read pages 23-25 (introduced). What has happened to Willy? Show illustrations.

Read page 27. How did the story end?

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: appeared

1. In the story, the author says, “Willy!” they all cried when he appeared.”
2. If something or someone appears, they show up suddenly.
3. Say the word with me: appeared
4. If I were to wave a magic wand and a rabbit suddenly showed up, we could say that it appeared. If we were to look out the window and not see anyone, we look away and then look back and someone is standing there, we could say that they appeared.
5. Think of a time when something appeared. Tell you partner and tell them what appeared. Make sure you use the word appear or appeared. (Wait a few seconds, so that they all share.) Now share with the rest of us. Touch your nose if you would like to share.
6. What’s the word we’ve been talking about? appeared

Target word: stray

1. In the story, the dog warden says that Willy has no collar or leash and “This dog is a stray. He doesn’t belong to anybody”.
2. Stray means that an animal, usually a dog or cat doesn’t have anyone to take care of it. No one feeds it or gives it water. The animal is on its own.
3. Say the word with me: stray
4. A dog is stray if it has no owner or no home. A stray dog came to our house and we fed it and took it to the vet and then it became our dog and wasn’t a stray anymore.
5. Now you tell me about a stray that you’ve seen. Your sentence might start with, “I saw a stray_____”.
6. What’s the new word? stray

Target word: introduced

1. The author says that the kids” introduced him (Willy) to the neighborhood, where he met some very interesting dogs”.
2. If you are introduced to someone, you meet them for the first time.
3. Say the word with me: introduced.

4. When I introduce myself to someone, I tell them my name and ask theirs. It might sound like this, “Hi. I’m Kathy” and the other person says, “Hi. I’m _____.”
5. Get with your partner and introduce yourself. You might start by saying: Let me introduce myself. My name is _____.
6. What’s the word we are working with? Introduced or introduce

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- You met a new friend: stray or introduced
- No one is feeding the cat or giving it a home: stray or appeared
- A rabbit comes out of the magician’s hat: appeared or introduced
- Your mom has you meet a new cousin for the very first time: introduced or appeared
- The horse doesn’t belong to anyone: appeared or stray
- Nothing was on your plate and when you looked again, a piece of cake was there: introduced or appeared

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell us about a stray animal you may have seen.
- Think about a time when you were introduced to someone new. What was said? How did you feel?
- Has there ever been a time when something just appeared? Think about that time. What happened? Did it seem strange? How did you feel when it appeared?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- When someone is introduced, what do they say?
- A stray cat lives in my shed. I don’t feed it. Do you have any stray animals living at your house?
- What would you do if ten dollars appeared in your hand? Would you be scared if that really happened? What if a dinosaur appeared in our classroom? How would that make you feel?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: appeared, stray, introduced”

- Which of these is a stray – a cat that you have been taking care of for one year or one that just showed up at your house? (Children can show their choice by thumbs up or down.)
- Do you need to be introduced to your sister or to the new child that just came to our school for the first time?
- Has your teddy bear appeared if you couldn’t find it for a long time and now it is on your bed or if you put it on your bed every day and it is still there?

89. SUNFLOWER HOUSE

Susan Hardy
Edison Elementary
Salt Lake City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Sunflower House, (Eve Bunting, 1996)

ISBN: 0-152-01952-9

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- sow (a seed)
- pesky
- guaranteed
- mammoth
- tinged
- bulge
- ringed
- pale
- frilly
- rushing
- impossible
- aware
- prepare

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- guaranteed
- impossible
- prepare

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Show the title page and ask the children to identify the seeds in the picture. “Listen closely to this story about a boy who plants some sunflower seeds. As you listen, think about what happens to the seeds throughout the story.”

Read aloud the first page. Briefly explain that “sow” means the same as “plant” does and ask the children, “What did the boy do before he could sow or plant his sunflower seeds?” What did the Dad mean when he said, “round and round is fine?” Show the picture on page 2.

Read page 4 and ask, “What did the boy have to do for his sunflower seeds next?” Ask the children to show how to “shoo away a pesky bird” and show them only the picture on page 3. Do not show the picture of the seed sprouting on page 4.

Read page 6 and explain that “mammoth” means very, very big. Ask the children why the boy’s friend Bernice say’s “There’s no way.” What does the boy mean when he tells Bernice to “wait.” Show the pictures (on pages 4-6) of the sprouting seeds now. (guaranteed)

Tell the children to make pictures in their minds of what is happening to the sunflowers as they listen to the next few pages. Read pages 7-10 and ask them to tell what they pictured and which words helped them. Then show the pictures.

Read page 11 and ask the children to describe what kind of “house” the sunflowers made. Ask, “How is the sunflower house different from your house?” Show the picture on page 12, then say, “Listen to the text as I read the next few pages to see if you can find out how the boy uses his sunflower house.” Read pages 13-18. Ask the children why they think the author says “Moon shadows shiver” and “The sunflowers whisper” and the “stars play and wish.”

Read pages 19-24 and ask, “What is happening to the sunflower house? Why do you think that is happening? Is this a problem for the boy?” Ask the children why the boy says, “WAIT!” Show them page 24 and ask why the word is written in all capital letters with an exclamation mark. (impossible)

Read pages 25-26 and ask, “What solution did the boy come up with to save his sunflower house?” Show the picture.

Read pages 27-29 and ask, “Why does the author say that “next summer they’ll be everywhere?” Show the pictures. (prepare)

“Tell me, in the correct sequence, what happened to the sunflower seeds the boy planted at the beginning of the story.”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: guaranteed

1. “In the story the package of sunflower seeds says they’re guaranteed.”
2. “If you say something is guaranteed, you promise that something will happen. In the story, the sunflower seed package guaranteed that every seed will grow into a mammoth sunflower. If the promise is not kept the company who sold the seeds will have to give the boy his money back.”
3. “Say the word with me: guaranteed.”
4. “When I buy a new radio at the store I make sure it comes with a one-year guarantee. Then, if the radio stops working after only a few months I can take it back and get my money back. Sometimes my students have guaranteed me that they will do their homework right away. They know that if they break their promise they will have to stay in from recess.”
5. “Tell me about something that you think should be guaranteed. Try to use the word guaranteed when you tell me about it. You could start by saying, ‘I think _____ should be guaranteed because _____.’ Or you could tell about a time you guaranteed something.”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘guaranteed’

Target word: impossible

1. "In the story the boy said they tried to tie the broken sunflower plant up with string and sticks, but it's impossible to fix."
2. "If you say something is impossible you mean that it cannot be done."
3. "Say the word with me: impossible."
4. "It would be impossible for a cat to fly like a bird. If your bike got run over by a car your dad might say it was impossible to fix it. If you say that something is not possible that means that it is impossible to do."
5. "Now think of something that would be impossible. Start your sentence with, 'It would be impossible _____,' and then tell me why your idea would be impossible."
6. "What's the word we've been talking about?" 'impossible'

Target word: prepare

1. "In the story the author says the children should be aware, prepare, and take care because next summer sunflowers will be everywhere."
2. "Prepare means you will get ready for something before it happens."
3. "Say the word with me: prepare."
4. If you prepare for a spelling test you will practice your words before the teacher gives you the test. Your mom will prepare dinner by cooking the food and having you set the table. When you are going to get a shot you prepare by closing your eyes or looking away."
5. "Now think of something you have had to prepare for and tell me what you had to do to be prepared. You can start by saying, "Once I had to prepare for _____ so I _____."
6. "What's the word we have just learned about?" 'prepare'

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Putting on your hat, boots, and gloves before you went out to build a snowman: impossible or prepare?
- Building a snowman on a hot, sunny, summer day: impossible or guaranteed?
- You return your coat because the zipper broke the first time you wore it because it was: guaranteed or prepare?
- Washing your lettuce before you make a salad: impossible or prepare?

- You promised to clean your room before your mom gets home from work: impossible or guaranteed?
- Your toy spaceship flies you to the moon and back: impossible or prepare?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell us about a time a family member had to return a guaranteed item to the store?
- Has there ever been a time when something was impossible to do? How was that a problem for you?
- Tell about a time you had to prepare something?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- If you had a toy that was guaranteed and it broke, what could you do about it? What other types of things are guaranteed?
- Your mom said that it was impossible for you to get a kitten because you were allergic to them? What other things are impossible to do?
- I had to prepare this lesson for you before I came to school today. What kinds of things do you have to prepare for?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: guaranteed, impossible, and prepare.”

- Which of these is guaranteed – a bike being put together at a bike shop or a bike that is for sale at a bike shop? Students will put up one finger for the first choice or two fingers for the second choice.
- Which of these is impossible – flying like superman or flying on an airplane? Students will put up one finger for the first choice or two fingers for the second choice.
- When would you prepare something – before you need it or after you needed it? Students will put up one finger for the first choice or two fingers for the second choice.

90. SYLVESTER AND THE MAGIC PEBBLE

Melissa Brock
Bonneville Elementary
Ogden School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Sylvester and the Magic Pebble, (William Steig, 1969)
ISBN: 0-590-98066-1

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- pebbles
- unusual
- extraordinary
- flaming
- remarkable
- gradually
- vanished
- helpless
- exist
- frantic
- gratified
- inquire
- startled
- nook
- panicked
- gully
- bounding
- dreadful

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- extraordinary
- frantic
- miserable

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read aloud pg. 1. Simply explain (or have an example) that “pebbles are smooth, small rocks.”

Read aloud pgs. 2-3.

Read aloud pg.4. Ask the children, “What did Sylvester do to make it rain again?”

Read aloud pg. 5. “What is Sylvester planning to do? Show illustration.

Read aloud pgs 6-7. “What happened?” Show illustrations.

Read aloud pgs. 8-9. Ask the students, “What do we know so far?”

Read aloud pgs 10-11. Show illustrations.

Read aloud pgs 12-15. You do not need to show illustrations.

Read aloud pgs16-17. Ask students, “How are Sylvester’s parents feeling?”

Read aloud pgs. 18-19. Show illustrations. “How is Sylvester feeling?” “How will he solve this problem?”

Read aloud pgs. 20-21. Show illustration. Point out the wolf and the rock (Sylvester).

Read aloud pgs. 22-23. Show illustrations.

Read aloud pgs. 24-25. "What is happening?". Show illustration.

Read aloud pgs. 26-27. Show illustration. "What do you think will happen?"

Read aloud pgs. 28-29. "How did Sylvester become himself again?" Show illustrations.

Read aloud pg. 30. "How did the story end?"

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: extraordinary

1. In the story, Sylvester was collecting pebbles and "on a rainy Saturday during vacation he found a quite extraordinary one."
2. Extraordinary means someone or something is beyond what is ordinary or usual.
3. "Say the word with me – extraordinary."
4. "A person might be called extraordinary if they accomplished something not many people have done such as playing an instrument at a very young age or being a performer that can perform magic tricks." "A jewel that looks like no other would be called extraordinary."
5. "Now, you describe something or someone that you consider extraordinary and tell why. Start your sentence with, "_____ is extraordinary because _____".
6. "What's the word we have been talking about?" extraordinary

Target word: frantic

1. When Sylvester did not come home for dinner, "Mr. and Mrs. Duncan paced the floor, frantic with worry."
2. Frantic means you are uncontrollably angry, frustrated, or excited about something.
3. "Say the word with me – frantic."
4. "Someone would be frantic if they could not find their bike or their car where they left it." "You might be frantic if you saw your favorite actor/actress in a store. "
5. "Now you tell me a time that you or someone you know was frantic. Start the sentence with, "I/_____ was frantic when _____ because _____."
6. "What's the word we have been talking about?" frantic

Target word: miserable

1. In the story, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan were miserable at home without Sylvester.
2. Miserable means you are very unhappy or uncomfortable.
3. "Say the word with me: miserable."
4. "Someone would be miserable if they had to sit in a hot car all day." "If your best friend moved far away, you might be miserable because you can not see them or play with them."
5. "Now, you tell me a time that you were miserable. Start your sentence with, "I was miserable when _____ because _____>"
6. "What's the word we have been talking about?" miserable

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Losing the keys to your car and you are late for work: frantic or extraordinary?
- Seeing a dog with 5 legs: miserable or extraordinary?
- Having a sore throat: miserable or frantic?
- Your sister breaks your favorite toy: extraordinary or miserable?
- It's dark and you can't remember how to get home: extraordinary or miserable?
- Finding a four leaf clover: miserable or extraordinary?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Would you be miserable if you had to take a nap at school? Why or why not?
- Tell us about something you have at home that is extraordinary.
- Has there ever been a time that you were frantic? Why?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- What would you do if your friend was frantic because they couldn't find their homework?
- I was miserable when I had a snowball fight and I forgot my gloves. What else could make you miserable during the cold weather?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: frantic, extraordinary, miserable.”

- Which of these would make you miserable? Swimming on a hot day or sledding with a bathing suit on? Thumbs up if it would make you miserable, thumbs down if it would not.
- Would you be extraordinary if you could speak one language or if you could speak three languages? If you would be extraordinary stand up, if not, sit down.
- Which would make you more frantic: being late to work or watching a movie on the television? Thumbs up if it would make you more frantic, thumbs down if it would not.

91. SYLVESTER AND THE MAGIC PEBBLE

Barbara Gallagher
Mountain View Elementary
Salt Lake City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Sylvester and the Magic Pebble, (William Steig, 1969)
ISBN: 0-440-84219-0

Potential Tier 2 Words in the text:

- pebbles
- hobbies
- extraordinary
- remarkable
- ceased
- vanished
- gratified
- perplexed
- concluded
- dreadful
- sorrow

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- remarkable
- vanished
- perplexed

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension:

Briefly introduce the book, read the title, and talk about the word magic. Let children respond with what they think magic is. After you discuss the question, you may show the illustrations.

Read aloud page one and ask the following question. What do we know so far?

Read aloud pages two and three. “What happened when Sylvester wished that the rain would stop?” “What did Sylvester like about the pebble?”

Read aloud page four. “What did Sylvester have to do to make his wish come true?”

Read page five. “What is Sylvester going to do now?”

Read aloud pages six and seven. “What happened to scare Sylvester?” “What did he do to save himself?”

Read aloud pages eight and nine. “Is there anything Sylvester could do now?” “Why?”

Read aloud pages ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen and seventeen. (Be sure to show illustrations, there is little text on these pages). “How are Sylvester’s parents feeling?” “Why can’t they find him?”

Read aloud pages eighteen, nineteen, twenty, twenty-one, twenty-two and twenty-three. “Where is Sylvester now?” Show illustrations pointing out the pebble. “What do you think Sylvester needs to do to be able to be himself again?” “Is he able to do that?”

Read aloud pages twenty-four and twenty-five. “Do Sylvester’s parents know that he is the rock?”

Read aloud pages twenty-six and twenty-seven. “Sylvester’s dad put the pebble on the rock.” “What could that do for Sylvester?” “Does Sylvester know that it is there?”

Read aloud pages twenty-eight through thirty. “Why did Sylvester’s father put the magic pebble into the iron safe?” “Do you think that they will ever get it out?” “What did Sylvester and his parents learn from this experience?”

Step 2: Direct vocabulary instruction of the Tier 2 words:

Target word: remarkable

1. In the story, the author said the pebble was remarkable.
2. If you say something is remarkable, you mean it is amazing or wonderful.
3. Say the word with me: remarkable.
4. If you got exactly what you wanted for a birthday gift, you could say that was remarkable. If you got all the words right on your spelling test that would also be a remarkable thing.
5. Now you think of something remarkable. Start your sentence with, “Something that would be remarkable is....” or you can begin your sentence with “If _____ happened, it would be remarkable.” (allow students time to give examples of something that they think is remarkable.)
6. What is the word we have been talking about? “remarkable”

Target word: vanished.

1. In the story, the author told us that when Sylvester wished the rain to stop, the raindrops vanished on the way down.
2. Vanished means to disappear, or to not be seen any longer.
3. Say the word with me—vanished.
4. If you saw a magician doing a magic trick with a hat and a rabbit, and he put the rabbit in the hat and covered it and said a magic word and then showed you the empty hat, you would say that the rabbit vanished. Another example would be

- when your mom sets out a plate of delicious cookies and soon they are all gone, you could say they vanished because everyone ate them up.
5. Now you think of something that can vanish. Allow students time to respond.
 6. What is the word we have been talking about? Vanished

Target word: perplexed.

1. In the story, the author told us that when the lion saw Sylvester disappear or (vanish) he was perplexed.
2. Perplexed means confused, puzzled, bewildered. The lion was not sure of what he was seeing.
3. Say the word with me: perplexed.
4. A person would be perplexed if they did not understand what the words meant in a story. A student would be perplexed if they did not know how to do a math problem.
5. Now you describe a time when you might be perplexed. Think of something you might not be sure about.
6. What is the word we have been talking about? Perplexed.

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Finding one hundred dollars on the street. Would it be remarkable or would you feel perplexed?
- Not knowing where the lunchroom is. Would it be remarkable or would you feel perplexed?
- Getting an "A" in a big project. Would it be remarkable or would you feel perplexed?
- Getting lost in the shopping mall. Would it be remarkable or would you feel perplexed?
- If you could make something vanish, would it be remarkable or leave you perplexed? (Maybe both)

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell me about a time you felt perplexed.
- Give me an example of something remarkable.
- What might it be like if you were able to vanish any time that you wanted to?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- If something remarkable happened to you, what might you do?
- If you noticed a classmate feeling perplexed, how could you help?
- Can a magician really make something vanish?

Assess:

Let's think about our three new words again, vanished, perplexed and remarkable.

- Which of these would be remarkable? Finding the ring that you had lost or reading a book.
- When might you feel perplexed? The first day of school or at a birthday party.
- Which thing can really vanish? The birthday cake at a party or your best friend.

Sheila Davis
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Thunder Cake, (Patricia Polacco, 1990)
ISBN: 0-399-22231-6

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- sultry (sweltering)
- horizon (skyline)
- scurried (move quickly)
- ingredient
- jagged
- samovar(metal urn)
- glistening(sparkling)
- pane (piece of glass)
- stammered (speak with hesitation)
- croaked (hoarse sound)
- growled
- churned (stir)
- beamed
- rattled (to shake)

Tier 2 Words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- shudder
- crackling
- luscious

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read aloud pages 1 & 2. Show illustration and point out the Grandmother in the farm yard and the clouds on the horizon. Grandma sees a big storm approaching with crackling lightning and thunder that will shudder the windows. (crackling, shudder)

Read aloud pages 3 & 4. Ask “What is a Thunder Cake?” “What is Grandma planning to do?”

Read aloud pages 5 & 6. Show illustration. Ask “Who is hiding up the bed and why?”

Read aloud pages 6 & 7. Show illustration. Ask “What is Grandma planning on doing with the girl?”

Read aloud pages 7 & 8 Show the illustration. Ask the questions: “What is happening?” Why was Grandma scurrying?

Read aloud pages 9 & 10. Show the illustration. Ask the questions, “Why did Grandma want the little girl to count?” and “Why did Grandma have the girl collect the eggs and get the milk?”

Read aloud pages 11-14. Show the illustrations. Ask “Did counting and working with Grandma help the little girl?”

Read aloud and showing the picture for pages 15 & 16. Point out that the storm is getting stronger.

Read aloud pages 17 & 18. Show the illustrations. Ask “How can you tell that the storm is getting closer?”

Read aloud pages 19 & 20. Show the illustrations. Ask “What are the secret ingredients?”

“What kinds of tomatoes are luscious? (luscious)

Read aloud pages 21 to 24 and show the illustrations. Ask “Was the girl afraid of the storm when she was working with Grandma?”

Read aloud pages 25 & 26. Show the illustrations. Ask “Was the little girl a very brave person?”

Read aloud pages 27 & 28. Show the illustrations. Ask “When did Grandma and the girl eat the Thunder Cake?”

Read aloud pages 29 & 30. Show the illustrations. Ask “Why did Grandma call it Thunder Cake?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: shudder

1. “In the prologue of the story, the author explains how she loved to visit her Babushka (grandmother) but the fierce summer thunderstorms used to shudder the grandmother’s house.”
2. “If you say that something shudders, you mean that it will tremble greatly.
3. “Say the word with me: shudder.”
4. “If there was a very strong wind with fierce wind and rain then we would say, ‘the trees shuddered with the storm. (Ask the children to provide an example of something else that would shudder.)
5. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘shudder’

Target word: crackling

1. “In the story, Grandma is looking up at the sky and watching the fierce storm and sees a sudden crackling noise.”
2. Crackling means to make a slight, sudden, sharp noise.
3. “Say the word with me: crackling.”

4. "If you were out camping with your family and your dad made a campfire then you would hear the fire crackling. Ask the students to think of another time that they would hear a crackling sound.
5. "What's the word we've been talking about?" crackling

Target word: luscious

1. In the story the author wrote, "I reached three luscious tomatoes while she picked strawberries."
2. Luscious means highly pleasing to the taste and smell.
3. "The author used this specific word to help the readers understand how good the tomatoes were so that they could make a delicious cake. "
4. "Now can you describe something that you have tasted that might be luscious?"
5. "What's the word we've been talking about? Luscious

Assess:

"Let's think about all three of our new words again: shudder, crackling, luscious."

- When would you feel a shudder- when the snow is falling softly down or during a windy, rainstorm? Students give their answers.
- When would you hear a crackling sound—when you are walking in the forest on leaves and twigs or when you are walking on the grass? Students give their answer.
- Which of these would be something luscious to eat—warm, chocolate chip cookies or dry uncooked beans? Students give their answer.

93. TOO MANY TAMALES

Amy Shirts
Bonneville Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Too Many Tamales, (Gary Soto, 1993)

ISBN: 0-590-22650-9

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- drifted
- glittered
- tamales
- kneaded
- sparkled
- answer
- dough
- disappeared
- reappeared
- delicious
- underneath
- littered
- swallowed
- stomach
- interrupt

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- sparkled
- littered
- interrupt

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Before reading explain what a tamale is. (corn and cornmeal dough stuffed with a meat mixture then wrapped in corn husks and steamed)

Page 1 - Do not show the picture.

Read the page. Have them visualize what the picture looks like using the key words: Snow drifted, dusk, Christmas trees glittered in the windows.

Read Pages 2 & 3 Show picture.

Why does she want to wear her mom's ring?

Read Page 4 – Show picture

Let's make a prediction about what Maria might do.

Read Pages 6 – 7 Show pictures

What might happen because Maria chose to do this?

Read Pages 8 – 9 Show Pictures

What things did Maria do to help make the tamales?
How might this effect the ring?

Read pages 10 – 13 Show pictures

What caused Maria to remember the ring?

Read page 14 – Do not show picture until after discussing the following question.

What could Maria do to solve her problem?

Read pages 15 -18 – show pictures

What do you think will happen? Do you think the ring is in the last tamale?

Read page 19 – show picture

Why does Maria need to tell her mother?

Read pages 20 – 24 show pictures

Did this end the way that we predicted?

Read pages 25 – 26

How do you think the kids feel about making another batch of tamales?

Finish the story – show the pictures

What lesson do you think Maria might have learned from this experience?

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: sparkled

1. Story Context:

“Maria loved that ring. She loved how it sparkled like their Christmas tree lights”
“The ring sparkled on her thumb.”

2. Definition: shining, reflected flashes of light, glittered

3. Ask the children to repeat the word so they can create a phonological representation of the word.

4. Additional Examples:

- Her eyes sparkled in the moonlight.
- The crystal clear icicles sparkled in the sunshine.
- The sunshine sparkled on the waves.

5. Student Generated Examples:

- Now think of something that you once saw that sparkled. Begin your sentence with the object, followed by the word sparkled, and then finish with a prepositional phrase. EX: The river water sparkled in the sunshine.
- Think – Pair – Share

6. Have the children say the word sparkled.

Target word: littered

1. Story Context:
“Corn husks littered the floor.”
2. Definition: carelessly thrown on the ground
3. Ask the children to repeat the word so they can create a phonological representation of the word.
4. Additional Examples:
 - John littered when he threw his candy bar wrapper on the field.
 - The lawn was littered with ripped up newspaper.
 - The locker room was littered with the football players’ bath towels.
5. Student Generated Examples:
 - Tell about a time when you or someone you know littered. Begin your sentence like this. I (or the name of the other person) littered when I _____.
 - Think – Pair - Share
6. Have the children say the word littered.

Target Word: interrupt

1. Story Context:
“They chattered so loudly that Maria didn’t know how to interrupt. Finally she tugged on her mother’s sleeve.”
2. Definition: to break into the middle of what someone is doing
3. Ask the children to say the word interrupt.
4. Additional Examples:
 - Please don't interrupt me while I'm on the phone.
 - The rain interrupted our baseball game.
 - The fire alarm interrupted our reading lesson.
5. Student Generated Examples:
 - Have students think of a time when they interrupted someone. Have them begin their sentence with – “I interrupted my teacher when _____.
 - Think – Pair - Share
6. Have the children say the word interrupt.

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

Read the statements, students much choose between two of the target vocabulary words. Ask them to explain their choice.

- If trash is all over the park, was it littered or sparkled?
- If I spoke to my mom when she was on the phone, did I sparkle or interrupt?
- I can see light reflecting off of the waves in the ocean. Are they sparkling or littering?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Who can tell me about something that would sparkle on a cold, winter's day?
- Who can tell me about something that would sparkle on a hot, summer day?
- Who can give me an example of someone littering?
- Who can think of a time when it would be ok to interrupt your teacher?

Assess:

“Let's think about all three of our new words again: sparkled, littered, interrupt”

- If the ring sparkled, did it shine and glitter in the sun, or did it fall in the mud?
- If the boy littered, did he clean up trash, or throw it on the ground?
- If the girl tried not to interrupt her teacher, did she sit quietly, or talk out?

94. THE UGLY DUCKLING

Jennifer Davila
Montezuma Creek Elementary
San Juan School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Ugly Duckling, (Madge Tovey, 2000)
ISBN: 0-201-32225-0

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- beamed
- smart
- fowl
- elegant
- noble

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- fowl
- smart
- elegant

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Today we are going to read a story about a little duck who was always teased because he didn't look the same as his friends. Before we read we need to activate our prior knowledge, I have some statements for you to listen to. If you think the statement is true put your hand on your head, if you think it is false put your hand on your nose.

1. Ugly babies stay ugly all their lives.
2. All baby birds are cute.
3. You feel sad when you are alone.
4. It is nice to have friends.

While we are reading our story today we are going to practice being good readers by listening very carefully and answering questions about the story. Good readers think about questions while they are reading because answering questions while they are reading helps them remember the story better.

1. pg. 3. Why was Mrs. Duck so happy?
2. pg. 5. What did the last duckling look like?
3. pg. 6. How did the ducks go to the pond?
4. pg. 9. Why did the other birds make fun of the last duckling?
5. pg. 11. Why did the Ugly Duckling hide his head?
6. pg. 13. What did the other babies on the farm do to the Ugly Duckling?
7. pg. 15. Why was the Ugly Duckling sad?
8. pg. 17. Where did the Ugly Duckling spend the winter?
9. pg. 19. Why didn't the swans laugh at the Ugly Duckling?
10. pg. 21. Did the other birds know who the "new swan" was?
11. pg. 23. Do you think that the swan will be nice or mean to other animals?

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Now we are going to learn some new words that were in our story. Good readers and writers understand a lot of words and can use them in different ways. The words that we are going to learn today are:

Target word: smart

1. The mama duck told her babies to look smart.
2. The word smart has two meanings, one meaning is if someone knows a lot of things, the other meaning, which was in our story today is to look neat and straight.
3. Let's practice saying our word, when I count to three please say the word smart
4. The children looked smart while they stood in line. OR Joshua is very smart he knows a lot of things.
5. Please tell me about someone who is smart, use the word smart in your sentence.
6. Let's practice saying our word, when I count to three please say the word smart

Target word: fowl

1. "Oh, dear, what an ugly duckling!" agreed all the farmyard fowl.
2. In our story fowl means birds.
3. Let's practice saying our word, when I count to three please say the word fowl.
4. The fowl flew over the lake.
5. Please tell me a type of fowl.
6. Let's practice saying our word, when I count to three please say the word fowl.

Target word: elegant

1. One day a flock of birds with elegant wings, snowy white feathers, and long necks flew over the pond.
2. Elegant means beautiful and graceful (can move easily), fancy
3. Let's practice saying our word, when I count to three please say the word elegant.
4. The dancer was very elegant in her new dress.

5. Tell me about a time when you looked elegant. Use the word in your sentence.
6. Let's practice saying our word, when I count to three please say the word elegant

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- When I went to the party I wore a/an _____ dress.
 - elegant
 - fowl
- The class had a nice, _____ line in the hall.
 - elegant
 - smart
- I saw some _____ swimming in the pond
 - fowl
 - smart

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Please use the word fowl in a sentence describing a bird.
- Please tell me about someone who is smart.
- Please tell me about someone who is elegant

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- How would you look if you were being smart in line?
- Tell me something that would make you look elegant.
- What is a type of fowl?

Assess:

“Let's think about all three of our new words again: fowl, smart, elegant.”

- A turkey is a type of _____
 - fowl a bird
 - fowl something bad
- My students made a nice, neat line outside, they looked _____
 - smart they knew a lot.
 - smart nice and straight
- When I want to look elegant I wear _____
 - tennis shoes
 - high heel shoes.

Sara Johnson
Backman Elementary
Salt Lake District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Umbrella, (Jan Brett, 2005)
ISBN: 0-439-81427-8

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- Cloud Forest
- Kinkajou
- Tapir
- toucan
- Jaguar
- Quetzal
- Hummingbird
- umbrella
- scramble
- screeches
- bawl
- peeps
- frisky

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- blunders
- squabbling
- clamber

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read aloud pages 1 & 2. Show the illustrations and point out the picture of the boy with the umbrella that he made as he walks off to the Cloud Forest. Also point out the picture on the side of page 2 of the Cloud Forest and explain what it is.

Read aloud pages 3 & 4 and ask the students “What do we know so far?” Show the illustrations.

Read pages 5 & 6. Ask the students “Who is in the umbrella?” Show the illustrations.

Read pages 7 & 8. Show the students the illustrations and ask “Someone else has come into the umbrella, who is it?”

Read pages 9 & 10. “Another animal has found the umbrella, who is it?” Show the illustrations.

Read pages 11 & 12. “The umbrella is getting full and another animal has come, what animal just came?” Show the illustrations. (blunders)

Read pages 13 & 14. Ask the students “What animal just landed on the handle of the umbrella?”
Show the illustrations

Read pages 15 & 16. Ask the students, “Oh no, another animal? Who wants to get into the umbrella now?” Show them the illustrations. “What do you think is going to happen to the animals and the umbrella?”

Read pages 17 & 18. Show the illustrations. (squabbling)

Read pages 19 & 20. Ask the students the following questions. “Have we found out if we were right about the animals and the umbrella?” “Who is the other animal that joined the group in the umbrella? How do the animals feel about the new friend that has joined them in the umbrella?” Show the illustrations.

Read pages 21 & 22. Show illustrations.

Read aloud and showing the pictures for pages 23 & 24 point out the animals and what happened.

Read aloud pages 25 & 26. Show illustrations and point out the animals and what they are doing. (clamber)

Read pages 27 & 28. After reading ask the students, “Who is in the tree? What is he doing?” Show the illustrations.

Read pages 29 & 30. After reading show the illustrations and ask the students, “How do you think the story is going to end?”

Read aloud page 31 while showing the illustrations and ask the students “Did the story end like you thought it was going to end?” “How did it end?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target Word: blunder(s)

1. “In the story the author says the baby Tapir blunders into the green umbrella.”
2. “If you say something or someone blunders into something, you mean that they moved in an awkward and clumsy way, usually because they cannot see where they are going.
3. “Say the word with me: blunder or blunders.”
4. “If at night your mom was clumsy in the dark. You could say that she blunders in the dark.” “A person with a blindfold on blunders into things like the wall.”
5. “Now you think of how things (people, animals, toys, etc) blunder(s). Start your sentence with, ‘The _____ blunders into the _____.’ (if the students use the same example you do or say what the author did in the story have them try again using the word in a different way than the author did.)
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘blunder(s)’

Target word: squabbling

1. "In the story the Jaguar is cleaning himself when he hears all the squabbling."
2. Squabbling means a noisy argument over something unimportant.
3. "Say the word with me: squabbling."
4. "If someone is squabbling it means they are arguing over something that is not important." "The kids on the playground were squabbling over who got to the slide first."
5. "Now, you think of someone squabbling over something or someone. Start your sentence with 'The _____ were squabbling' Ask another student why that would be squabbling."
6. "What's the word we've been talking about?" 'squabbling'

Target word: clamber

1. "In the story the author wrote, "Jaguar, Quetzal, Baby Tapir, Kinkajou, Toucan, Monkey and Froggy all clamber back to shore."
2. Clamber means to climb quickly and awkwardly by using the hands and feet.
3. "Say the word with me: clamber"
4. "When a person has to climb quickly and awkwardly away from a bear using his/her hands and feet that means the person has to clamber away."
5. "It is your turn, please describe a time when you have had to clamber away from someone or something. Your sentence can begin how you would like it to, but it needs to have the word clamber in it."
6. "What's the word we've been talking about?" 'clamber'

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

(Stand up if it is the right word or sit down if it is not)

- Awkwardly climbing out of the way of a 3 headed dog: clamber or squabbling?
- The Principal clumsily walked into the room and tripped on a toy: blunder or clamber?
- Kids on the playground yelling at each other over the ball: blunder or squabbling?
- Walking into a chair: clamber or blunder?
- You fighting with your little brother or sister over the remote: squabbling or clamber?
- A cat climbing up a fence to get away from a blue dog: clamber or squabbling?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell of a time when you have had to clamber away from something or towards something to save it (like a cup falling off the table, etc).
- Has there ever been a time when you have been told by your parents or grandparents to stop squabbling with someone? Did you have to be told more than once to stop squabbling? Why or why not?
- Has there ever been a time when you have seen someone blunder into something? Have you ever blundered into something? Tell us about it.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- I saw a teacher blunder into a volleyball pole, have you ever seen someone blunder into a pole or tree? What happened?
- What would you do if your friends started squabbling over one of YOUR toys? Would you join in on the squabbling? Why or why not?
- When I see a spider I clamber out of the way so I am not near it. Do you clamber out of the way of things that you don't like or that scare you? Why or why not?

Assess:

“Let's think about all three of our new words again: clamber, squabbling, and blunder.”

- When someone blunders they: a) a student running in a circle or b) a student running into a desk in the dark? Student will hold up one finger for the letter a, or hold up two fingers for the letter b.
- Would you be squabbling if you were: 1) talking about your family or 2) loudly arguing about the score of the game? Students hold up one finger for number one and two fingers for number two.
- If you clamber then you: a) climb slowly and awkwardly using your hands and feet or b) climb quickly and awkwardly using your hands and feet? Student will hold up one finger for the letter a, or hold up two fingers for the letter b.

96. UNCLE JED'S BARBERSHOP

Sharon Oakes
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Uncle Jed's Barbershop, (Margaree King Mitchell, 1993)
ISBN: 0-590-22313-5

Possible Tier 2 words from Text:

- saving
- unconscious
- fancy
- bundled
- *dreams
- operation (discuss in context during reading)
- exchange
- *delayed
- particular
- disappointed
- *separate
- segregation

Tier 2 Words selected for instruction:

- dreams
- separate
- delayed

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Say: "As you listen to Uncle Jed's Barbershop think about what the most important idea might be in this story."

Read the first page. Ask: "What do you know about Uncle Jed so far?" Show the picture.

Read the next two pages. Ask: "What did Uncle Jed say he wanted to do someday?" "What do people usually do when they want to get something but don't have enough money?" "How did Uncle Jed plan to get his barbershop?" Show the picture.

Read the next page. Ask: "What did the author say sharecroppers were?" Show the picture. "Were these people sharecroppers?" "Were they rich or poor?" "Do they seem to be happy or sad?" "Why do you think so?"

Read the next three pages. Say: "In the story the girl had to have an operation. An operation is when a doctor has to cut on someone's body to fix something that is wrong inside so they can get well." "What do you think the girl's family was thinking when they found out the operation cost so much money?"

Read the next page. Ask: "Why do you think Daddy went the next day to find Uncle Jed?" "What important decision did Uncle Jed have to make before he gave up the money for the operation?"

Read the next two pages. Ask: “Why couldn’t Uncle Jed get his barbershop this time?” Did Uncle Jed give up on getting the barbershop?” “ How do you know?”

Read the next page. Ask: “What did Uncle Jed do after he lost his money?”

Read the next page. Ask: “How did Ol’ Uncle Jed celebrate his 79th birthday?” “How do you think he felt to finally get his barbershop after all that time?” Show the picture.

Read the next page. Show the picture. Say, “Look at the picture. How have Uncle Jed and the girl changed since the beginning of the story?”

Read the last page. Ask: “What is the most important idea that you can learn from this story?” “What kind of a person was Uncle Jed?”

Step 2: Direct instruction of Tier 2 words.

Target word: dreams (dream)

1. “In the story we hear about Uncle Jed wanting to get a barbershop. It says that nobody believed him. People didn’t have dreams like that in those days.
2. Dreams are like wishes that people hope for and work for to make come true.
In the story Uncle Jed dreamed of having a barbershop of his own. He saved and worked for many years to make his dream come true.
3. Say the word with me: dreams.”
4. Say: “You might dream of being a dancer or a baseball player or many other things. You could work hard and make your dreams come true.” Say: “Martin Luther King dreamed of a time when there would be no difference in what white people and black people would be allowed to do. They would be treated the same. Many people have tried to make his dream come true.”
5. Say: “What is a dream you have? What could you do to make that dream happen?”
“Do you think all dreams can come true no matter how silly?”
6. What is the word we have been discussing? Dreams

Target word: separate

1. Say: "In the book it said they had to go to the colored waiting room. In those days they kept blacks and whites separate. There were separate public restrooms, separate water fountains, and separate schools."
2. Say, "In the story, to keep the blacks and whites separate meant to keep them apart. There was a nice hospital waiting room for the whites and a not so nice waiting room for the blacks and they couldn't go in the white people's waiting room." "Separate can also mean different. If you and your brothers and sisters have separate bedrooms you don't have to share a bedroom, you have a different room."
3. "Say the word with me: separate"
4. Say: "If you and your friend are going home from school you might need to take separate streets to get to your own homes." "My kids have separate homes from me now that they are grown up. "
5. Say: "Turn to your neighbor and tell them about something you have that is separate from someone else. Use the word separate to tell about it."
6. "What is the word we have been learning? Separate

Target word: delayed

1. Say: "In the story, the girl said, "I know that three hundred dollars delayed him from opening the barbershop." "If something has been delayed it has been slowed down or stopped for a while. So when Uncle Jed was delayed in opening his barbershop he wasn't able to open it when he had planned".
2. "Say the word with me: delayed"
3. Say: "A student could be delayed in getting to school because her mom lost the car keys." "If you delay handing in your homework you could get a lower grade."
"An airplane might be delayed and not land on time."
4. Say: "Take turns telling the students at your table about a time when you or someone you know was delayed. Be sure to use the word delayed as you tell about it."
5. Ask, "What word have we been talking about?" Delayed

Combine words: Ask:

- If you work hard to get good grades so you can go to college when you grow up would you be working for your dream or your separate?
- If your parents get you a new bike so you don't have to share your brother's would you have a delayed bike or a separate bike?
- If you get in trouble do you think your recess will be delayed or separate?

Maintain:

- If your friend is delayed in getting to your house to play, what might be the reason?
- If you have a dream of going to the sun some day do you think it will happen? Why?
- How would you feel if your school decided to put boys and girls in separate classrooms?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: dream, separate, and delayed.”

- Does having a dream mean getting what you want right now or getting what you want by working and planning for a long time?
- If you were on time to school would you be delayed in getting to school?
- Which of these would be an example of separate?
 - 1- Sharing a room with someone in your home.
 - 2- Having a different restroom for boys and girls.

97. WHEN JESSIE CAME ACROSS THE SEA

Ursula Jones
Dee Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: When Jessie Came Across the Sea, (Hest, 1997)
ISBN: 0-763-61274-X

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- slanting
- Ginger
- occupation
- narrow
- huddling
- burst
- comfort
- swapping
- parlor
- lining
- paved
- delicate
- dock
- tattered
- flights
- channel
- splintered
- patches
- pitied
- pitched
- frail

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- narrow
- comfort
- slanting

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Briefly introduce the book: Say, “Listen closely as I read this story about a young girl named Jessie who lived far away and came to America by herself. Think about the things that Jessie went through while I am reading to you.”

Read aloud pages 1 and 2. Show the illustrations and have students get an idea of whom Jessica is. Ask: “What can you tell me about Jessica by looking at the pictures of her and her Grandmother?” Show the slanting roof of the house.

Read pages 3 and 4 and discuss what they think the Rabbi (explain a type of priest) will do with the ticket to America. Show the pictures. Ask if anyone knows what comfort means.

Read page 5 and ask students why they think the Rabbi gave the ticket to Jessie. Show the picture.

Read the next two pages. Show the pictures and discuss what feelings Jessie may be experiencing while getting ready for her journey. Mention how she is thinking about the slanting roof of her Grandmother’s hut in her country.

Read page 8 and show the pictures. Have students talk about the things Jessica is doing for people on the ship.

Read page 9 and discuss her friendship with Lou while showing the pictures.
Read page 10 and discuss the feelings Jessie is having as she reaches America.
Show pictures.

Read page 11 and talk about why the author repeated the phrase “Wait on line” 3 times. Show the Pictures. Ask if anyone knows why she said her occupation was sewing lace.

Read page 12 and show the pictures. Point out the picture of the delicate sash.
Discuss the letter Jessie wrote to her grandmother.

Read pages 13 and 14 and show the pictures. Discuss what is happening on these pages.

Look at the pictures on the next two pages and ask students to predict who is waving at Jessie. Then read page 15 to see if students’ predictions were correct.

Read page 16 and show pictures. Ask students why she said in her letter to her Grandmother “You will like him...” Ask them how she can like him if she is so far away.

Show the pictures of Jessie smiling on both of the next pages and ask the students why they think Jessie is smiling. Then read page 17 to see if they were correct.

Show the pictures on the last pages and ask the students to discuss with a partner.
Ask them what is happening. Read page 18 and ask what the students think about the ending.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: slanting

1. The author described the small house that Jessie and her Grandmother lived in as having a slanting roof.
2. Slanting means something is in a sloping direction.
3. “Say the word with me: slanting.”
4. When people write in cursive they usually slant their letters.
5. Can you think of something that slants or is slanted? Can you draw a slanted line? Look around the room and find something that is slanting.
6. What is the word we have been talking about? slanting

Target word: narrow

1. The author says that the beds are narrow in Jessie's Grandmother's house.
2. If something is narrow, it means it is not very wide.
3. Say the word with me: narrow
4. When I walk between the desks the path is very narrow.
5. What are some things you can think of that might be narrow?
6. "What is the word we are learning?" 'narrow'

Target word: comfort

1. The Rabbi tells Grandmother that Jessie will be able to comfort his brother's widow.
2. When you comfort someone, you help them to feel less worried or upset.
3. Say the word with me: comfort
4. When I saw a little girl that was lost, I comforted her until her parents came for her.
5. What are some things that comfort you when you are feeling sad?
6. "What is the word we are using?" 'comfort'

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Something that is sloping is: narrow or slanting? Explain your answer.
- If you saw a baby crying would you comfort him or narrow him? Why?
- Would you say "I am walking down a narrow path or a comfort path." Why?

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- If the ski slope was slanting how would it look?
- If a car was driving down a narrow street, would it have a lot of room?
- If your baby sister fell down and skinned her leg, how would you comfort her?

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- Does your roof have a slant, or is it flat?
- When you were crying because you were sad, who comforted you?
- Are there any narrow streets in your neighborhood, or are they all wide?

Assess:

- “Let’s think about all three of our new words again: “slanting, narrow, comfort.”
- Which of these words would mean a house that has a sloping roof: a roof that is slanting, or one that is flat?
- If the rows between the desks in our room were very narrow, would you have a lot of room, or a little bit of room?
- Would you comfort someone when they are crying or when they are laughing?

Elizabeth Beebe
Backman Elementary
Salt Lake District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Widow's Broom, (Van Allsburg, 1992)
ISBN: 0-395-64051-2

Potential Tier 2 Words in the text:

- widow
- fortunately
- instant
- cloaked
- daybreak
- brilliant
- slumbering
- convince
- gesturing (gesture)
- horrified
- distant
- innocent
- amuse
- ignore
- possessions
- guilt

Tier 2 Words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- guilty
- amuse
- convince

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Read aloud the first two paragraphs of text (begins with “Witches’ brooms...”). Ask the children, “What do we know so far?” Read aloud the last paragraph.

Read aloud the first two paragraphs of text on the second page (begins with “Out of a moonlit sky...”). “What is happening?” and “What is the widow’s problem?” Read aloud the last paragraph.

Read aloud the third page of text (begins with “She rose from the bed...”). “What’s happening?” Show the picture. “Why is the witch leaving?” and “Why didn’t the witch take her broom?”

Read aloud the first two paragraphs of the fourth page of text (begins with “at first Minna was frightened...”). Ask the children, “How did Minna feel when she locked the broom in the closet?” (guilty) Read aloud the last paragraph of text. Ask, “Why did Minna want to teach the broom how to do other things?” and “In what ways was the broom a ‘good student’?” Show the picture.

Read aloud the fifth page of text (begins with “Not a week passed before...”). “What’s happening here?” Show the picture.

Read aloud the first paragraph of the sixth page of text (begins with “Soon, more distant neighbors heard...”). Ask, “What’s happening here?” Read aloud the last paragraph of text. Ask, “What did the broom like to do down at the dirt road?” (amuse)

Read aloud the first two paragraphs of the seventh page of text (begins with “One afternoon...”). Ask, “What’s happening here?” Read aloud the last paragraph of text. Ask, “Why did the broom act the way it did?” Don’t show the picture on that page but do show the picture on the next page.

Read aloud the eighth page of text (begins with “That evening...”) and show the picture. Ask, “Why do the men want the broom?”

Read aloud the first three paragraphs of the ninth page of text (begins with “They opened the closet...”). Ask, “What’s happening here?” Read aloud the last paragraph. Ask, “What’s happening here?” Show the picture on the following page.

Read aloud the first paragraph of the tenth page of text (begins with “The next morning...”). Ask, “Why are the Spivey’s leaving their home?” and “Why did the Spivey’s want Minna to leave with them?” (convince) Read aloud the last two paragraphs of text. Ask, “How does the story end?”

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: guilty

1. “In the story, Minna locked the broom in a closet, ‘but when it tapped on the door for more than an hour Minna felt guilty and let it out.’”
2. “If you say someone feels guilty it means that they know they have done something wrong.”
3. “Say the word with me: guilty”
4. “If I broke my neighbors window I would be guilty. If someone stole something from the store they would be guilty.”
5. “Now, you think of some way to be guilty. Begin your sentence with “You would be guilty if...” Ask another student to explain why that person would be a guilty.”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘guilty’

Target word: amuse

1. “In the story, the author says that ‘the broom could amuse itself...for hours’ on the dirt road.”
2. “Amuse means to do something pleasant.”
3. “Say the word with me: amuse.”

4. “If you have to sit in the car while your dad pumps gas you could draw a picture to amuse yourself. I like to amuse myself by listening to music.”
5. “Now, you think of a way you could amuse yourself. Start your sentence like this ‘Someone could amuse themselves by...’ Ask another student to explain why that someone was amused.”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” amused

Target word: convince

1. “In the story, the author says ‘Mr. Spivey tried to convince the widow to leave with them, but she chose to stay behind.’”
2. “Convince means to make a person agree or believe by arguing or showing proof”
3. “Say the word with me: convince”
4. “If someone told that worms taste good and that you should try one they are trying to convince you to eat a worm. If someone tripped you at recess and they told you not to tell or they would do something mean they are trying to convince you not to tell the teacher.”
5. “Now, you think of something you have said to try to convince the teacher of. Begin your sentence with ‘I tried to convince the teacher that...by telling her...’ Ask another student to explain how they tried to convince the teacher.”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” convince

Combine by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Drawing a picture: guilty or amuse
- If you try to tell the teacher that sharks are nice you are trying to ____ her: convince or guilty
- Doing something wrong: amuse or guilty
- Asking someone to go down the slide: convince or amuse
- Stealing a book: guilty or convince
- Playing a game while waiting in line: amuse or convince

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Tell us about something someone did that made them guilty.
- Has there ever been a time when you need to convince someone of something? Tell us about it.
- How could you amuse yourself when you finish your work early?

Maintain by helping children add to their network of related words:

- If you were guilty of stealing something, how would they feel? What could you do to not feel guilty?
- A student tried to convince me that the movie wasn't scary. What other things could you try and convince a teacher of?
- If you were amusing yourself what might you be doing?

Assess:

“Let's think about all three of our new words again: guilty, amuse, convince.”

- Which of these is guilty- a girl with a new dog, a woman shopping, or a boy running in the hall? Students who agree with the response will raise their thumb; those who disagree will point their thumb down.
- Which person is doing something amusing- a boy who took a candy bar without asking or a boy playing soccer? Students who agree with the response will raise their thumb; those who disagree will point their thumb down.
- When you to convince someone of something you- give them proof or you laugh at them.

Students who agree with the response will raise their thumb; those who disagree will point their thumb down.

99. THE WIDOW'S BROOM

Brenda Perry
Lewis Elementary
Ogden City School District

Text Talk Lesson for: The Widow's Broom, (Chris Van Allsburg 1992)
ISBN: 0-590-47543-6

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- clutching
- horrified
- innocent
- occasionally
- ignore
- revealing
- convince
- guilty
- amuse

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- ignore
- convince
- occasionally

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

“Listen to this story about a broom. This isn’t an ordinary broom. See if you recognize the trouble this broom gets into and how it gets out of it.”

Read aloud the first page. “What do you know about the broom so far?” Show the picture. Show the picture on the next page.

Read the next page. “How did the author describe the witch’s broom?” “Do you think the witch’s broom is like yours at home?” Show the picture.

Read the first 2 paragraphs on the next page. Ask: “Why do you think the witch dropped a strand of her hair into the flame?” Finish reading the page. Show the picture.

Read the next page, until you finish reading the sentence “She peeked in and saw something that made her heart jump.” STOP Ask: “What do you think she saw?” Finish reading the page and then show the picture.

Read the next page until you finish the second paragraph. Ask: “If you were the author, what other things would you make the broom do?” Finish reading the page and show the picture.

Read the next page. Ask: “Why do you think Mr. Spivey was so upset?” “Would you be like Mr. Spivey or Minna Shaw who thought the broom was wonderful?” Show the picture.

Read the next page. “What do you think the broom will do to amuse it’s self down the dirt road?” Show the picture.

On the next page read the first two paragraphs. Ask: “Does it seem to you that the Spivey boys are being bullies? What are they doing that bullies do also? How would you feel if you were the broom?” Show the picture. Finish reading the page. Show the picture on the next page. Let the children express themselves, they enjoy this picture.

Read the next page until paragraph three, ending with “For a moment she stood silently, then answered.” Ask: “What would you do?” What do you think Minna Shaw did? Finish reading the page, then show the picture.

Read the next page, stop after the second paragraph and show the picture. Stop after the third paragraph to allow the children to chuckle and cheer. Finish reading the page and show the picture on the next page.

Read the next page. In the discussion afterwards guide the children to understand the ghost broom was really the real broom painted white. Minna Shaw had switched brooms in the closet. They had actually burned a different broom. Show the picture. Comment on how peaceful Minna Shaw looks. Ask them why they think she looks so peaceful. Your children will probably ask to hear this story again. After they get it figured out they want to hear it again to pick up o the clues.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: ignore (ignored)

1. “In the story when the broom continued to ignore the Spivey boys, they picked up a couple of sticks and started tapping the broom’s handle.”
2. “If you don’t pay attention or don’t listen to someone, you ignore them. If you go on with what you are doing and don’t acknowledge someone they will feel ignored.”
3. “Say the word with me: ignore.”
4. “If you ignore your mother when she tells you to do something you will get in trouble. It would be good to ignore someone who is bothering you.”
5. “Tell about a time when you could ignore someone or something. Use the word ignore when you tell about it.”
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” ‘ignore’

Target word: convince

1. “In the story Mr. Spivey tried to convince the widow to leave with them, but she chose to stay behind in her little farmhouse.”
2. ”If I convince you to go shopping with me, I talk you into going with me, even if you don’t really want to go.”

3. "Say the word aloud: convince"
4. "I would like to convince you to do your homework every night. I hope you don't let anyone convince you to do drugs."
5. "Turn to a partner and try to convince them to come to your house to play."
6. "What's the word we are learning? Convince"

Target word: occasionally

1. "In the story it says: Occasionally, when there was nothing left to do around the widow's house, the broom would hop down the road that separated Minna Shaw's and the Spiveys' farms."
2. "Occasionally means, once in a while, not often or sometimes."
3. "Say the word with me: occasionally."
4. "If you have ice cream for dessert sometimes, you could say you have it occasionally. If a babysitter only occasionally changed my baby's diaper I would not get that babysitter again."
5. "What is something that you do occasionally? Would you like to do it more often? Tell your partner what you would do occasionally."
6. "What's the word we are learning? Occasionally"

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- "If you like to eat at McDonalds, but you don't get to very often, would you say you eat their occasionally or ignore?"
- "If you were to give your mother many reasons why you would like to play before you take your bath, would you convince your mother or occasionally your mother?"
- "If you didn't pay any attention to the cat walking down the hall you would convince the cat or ignore the cat?"

Maintain all three words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- "Tell us about something you do occasionally."
- "Try to convince your teacher to let you go out to recess early."
- "Tell us about a time when you felt ignored."

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- "My mom occasionally wears lipstick. What else might my mom wear occasionally?"
- "If someone ignored you, how would that make you feel?"
- "What would you say to convince your mother to let you go to a sleep-over at your friend's house?"

Assess:

“Let’s think about all three of our new words again: convince, ignore, occasionally”

- “Which of these would you be most likely to do occasionally? Go to bed at night. Drive a car. Help your mother carry in the groceries.”
- “When would you feel ignored? When your mom and dad are getting ready to go somewhere? When your Grandma comes to visit. When your mother tucks you in at night.”
- “Which of these might convince you to eat your vegetables? Your mom says you can have some more vegetables if you finish your vegetables. Your dad says you can have some desert after you finish your vegetables.

Rebecca Donaldson
Utah Reading First
Utah State Office of Education

Text Talk Lesson for Wolf! (Bloom, 1999)
ISBN: 0-531-30155-9

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- wandered
- peered (teach in context w/picture)
- complained
- concentrate
- emergency(ies)
- ignore, ignored
- impressed (2x)
- splendid
- admire
- confidence
- serious
- satisfied
- improved
- educated (4x) (Teach in context of discussion of why Wolf goes to school)

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- concentrate
- emergency
- ignore
- impressed

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

Briefly introduce the book: “Listen closely to this story about Wolf. As you listen, think about the problem that Wolf has in the story and how he solves this problem.”

Read aloud page one. Ask the children, “What do we know about the Wolf so far?” Show the picture.

Read the next page. After reading the page, show the picture and talk about “peered” through the context of the text and the picture. Continue reading the next page. Ask: “What did the cow, pig, and duck do when Wolf leapt at them?” “Why did they react this way?”

Read the next page and show the picture of the pig pushing the wolf away. “Why did the pig want wolf to leave?” “Why isn’t pig afraid of wolf in this story?” Discuss the word “educated” as it appears 3 more times in the text and is an important concept in the book.

Read the next page and show the picture of Wolf attending school. “What does Wolf do so he can go back to the farm with the pig, duck, and cow?” “Why does Wolf want to be educated?” “What is something people can do if they are educated?”

Read the next page. Model Wolf's slow, choppy, non-fluent reading. "Do the other animals let Wolf join them now?" "Why not?" "What is the problem with Wolf's reading?"

Read the next page and show the picture of Wolf at the library. Continue reading the next page. Model the way Wolf reads too fast and slurs all of the words in the text together. "Did Wolf get to join the other animals this time?" "What is the problem with Wolf's reading now?"

Read the next two pages and show the pictures. "What is different about Wolf's reading now?" "Why did the other animals want him to keep reading to them?"

Read the last two pages of the story. "How does Wolf feel now?" "What does the author tell us that makes you think that?" "How do the pig, duck, and cow feel about Wolf now?" "How do you know?"

"Let's review: What was Wolf's problem in this story? How did Wolf solve his problem?"

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: emergency (emergencies)

1. "In the story it says that Wolf was tired and hungry, his feet ached, and he had only a little money that he kept for emergencies."
2. "Emergencies describe things that happen very quickly when we aren't expecting them to happen. In the story, Wolf kept a little bit of money with him just in case he had an emergency and needed some money for food or he needed to use a pay phone to call someone to help him quickly. Sometimes emergencies are very serious things like accidents."
3. "Say the word with me: emergency."
4. "If someone suddenly gets very, very sick, they may have to go to the emergency room at the hospital. Or, if there is a building that catches on fire that would be called an emergency. If there was a really serious emergency like an accident or a fire someone might need to call 911 to get a policeman or fireman to come and help them."
5. "Tell about something you think would be an emergency. Try to use the word emergency when you tell about it. You could start by saying, 'If _____ happened that would be an emergency.'"
6. "What's the word we've been talking about?" 'emergency'

Target word: concentrate

1. “In the story, the cow complained about the awful noise that Wolf made. She said, ‘I can’t concentrate on my book.’”
2. “If you concentrate on something, you give it all your attention so you can really think carefully about what you are doing. When someone is at work, it’s important to concentrate on getting their job done.”
3. “Let’s say the word aloud: concentrate.”
4. “Your mother might concentrate when she is trying to figure out how to make a new recipe for dinner. Someone might concentrate if they are trying to put something together and they have to figure out exactly how the parts go together. I have to concentrate really hard when I am studying to take a test in my college class so I can remember the things I am learning.”
5. “If any of the things I say would make someone concentrate, say ‘concentrate.’ If not, don’t say anything.”
 - Eating a cookie
 - Listening to a book on tape
 - Playing a game of checkers with your brother
 - Washing your hands
 - Looking for your lost dog
 - Taking a nap
6. “What’s the word we are learning? concentrate.”

Target word: ignore (ignored)

1. “In the story when the cow complained that she couldn’t concentrate on her book because Wolf was making noise, the duck said, ‘Just ignore it.’ The book says that the wolf did not like to be ignored.”
2. “If you ignore someone or something it means you pay absolutely no attention to them. You act as if they are not even there. The other day I went to a meeting and the people there tried to get me to eat a big piece of cake, but I just ignored the cake because I am trying not to eat too many sweet things.”
3. “Let’s all say our word together: ignore.”
4. “Now I want you to think of time when you ignored someone or something. Turn to your partner and tell them who or what you ignored. Make sure you use the word ignore or ignored when you share your idea with your partner.”
5. “What is our new word? ignore.”

Target word: impressed

1. “In the book when Wolf read really slow and choppy the pig, the duck, and the cow were not very impressed with the way Wolf read. After Wolf went to the library and read lots and lots of books, he said, ‘They’ll be impressed with my reading now.’”
2. “If you are impressed with someone or something it means you feel really great about them or about something they did. When I went to New York City I was very impressed with all the big, tall buildings. I had never seen buildings that tall before. When you came in the classroom so quietly this morning and got right to work, I was impressed by your excellent behavior. The first time I tried to park a car, my driving teacher was not very impressed.”
3. “If any of the things I say would make you feel impressed, say ‘I’m impressed!’ If not, don’t say anything.”
 - You see a messy room.
 - Your best friend wins a million dollars.
 - You get 100% on your spelling test.
 - Your cat is asleep.
 - When you get home from school, your house has turned into a giant cupcake.
 - Your class reads every single book in the school library in one day.
4. “Let’s say our new word: impressed.”

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- If your brother fell down and broke his arm, would that be an emergency or would you just ignore it? Why?
- If the principal won the American Idol contest on TV, would you be impressed or would you need to concentrate? Why or why not?
- If you found an amazingly beautiful butterfly on the playground, would that be an emergency or would you be impressed?
- If you had to learn something new that is hard to do, would you ignore it or would you try and concentrate on it? Why?

Maintain all four words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- If there was an emergency at the gas station, what might have happened?
- If your friend kept teasing you at recess, what could you do to ignore him?
- Explain a time when you had to concentrate on something.
- Describe something or someone that has impressed you.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- When you are concentrating on something, what do you do?
- If you were really impressed with something or someone, how could you show it?
- How would you act if you were trying to ignore someone or something?
- When I was in a car accident, it was an emergency. Besides an accident, what else could be an emergency?

Assess:

“Let’s think about all four of our new words again: emergency, concentrate, ignore, impressed.”

- Which of these would be an emergency – a house that is being built or a house that is on fire?
- When would you need to concentrate the most- when you are reading a book or when you are eating lunch?
- When would you ignore something-when you didn’t care about it or when you really wanted to know about it?
- Which of these might impress you-your favorite football team wins the championship or your favorite football team loses every game?

Johanna Wight
East Elementary
Duchesne County School District

Text Talk Lesson for: Zen Shorts, (Jon J. Muth, 2005)
ISBN: 0-439-33911-1

Potential Tier 2 words in the text:

- unannounced
- arriving
- retrieve
- nuisance
- discovered
- rummaging (rummage)
- tattered (2x)
- lamented
- sympathy (sympathetically)
- impatient
- scolding
- departed
- sedan (teach in context)
- transported
- brooding

Tier 2 words selected for direct vocabulary instruction:

- nuisance
- rummaging
- tattered
- sympathy

Step 1: Doing the read aloud of the text with a focus on comprehension.

As we read this story today you are going to think of the most important word through the section that I read. When I stop reading you are going to tell your group the word you choose and why you choose it. There is no right or wrong answer.

Read page 1-5. Ask students, “What kind of story is this so far?” “Who are the characters?”

Read 6-13. “What was Stillwater’s story Uncle Ry trying to tell Addy?” “Why would he want to tell Addy that?”

Read 13-21. “What does Stillwater mean in this story?” “What kind of lesson do you think that Michael learned?” “What have we learned so far about Stillwater?”

Read 21-30. “What do you think a sedan chair is?” Talk about the meaning. Show students the picture. Where else have you seen sedan chairs?” What kind of friend is Stillwater?”

Read until the end of the book. What did Karl learn? Review the story. Each child learned something different.

Step 2: Direct Vocabulary Instruction of the Tier 2 Words

Target word: nuisance

1. “In the story it says Stillwater says “I thought I would retrieve it before it became a nuisance.” It being the umbrella.
2. “Nuisance describes a person or a thing that is causing trouble. Something or someone bothering you. In the story Stillwater retrieved that umbrella before it became a nuisance or bother some to the children.
3. “Say the word with me: nuisance.”
4. “If my brother continually asked me questions while I was trying to study I might say to him that he is being a nuisance. Or if a mosquito kept buzzing in my ear or biting me I might say that the mosquito is a nuisance.”
5. “Tell about something you think would be a nuisance. Try to use the word nuisance when you tell about it. You could start by saying, _____ was a nuisance when _____. (If children provide an example of the very same way the word was used in the book, ask them again to use the word in a different way than the author did.)
6. “What’s the word we’ve been talking about?” nuisance

Target word: rummaging

1. In the story the robber had broken into the house and was rummaging through my uncle’s few belongings.
2. If you are rummaging through something you are searching for something in a crazy way. Someone might rummage through something if they can’t find something that they have lost. I was rummaging through my belongings when I couldn’t find something that I needed right away.
3. Let’s say the word: rummaging
4. Someone might rummage through things at a yard sale to find the perfect item. Your friend might rummage through her desk to find last week’s homework
5. How would you rummage for something if you were in a hurry? How would you rummage for something if you were looking for something but did not need it right away?
6. What’s the word we are learning? Rummage/rummaging

Target word: tattered

1. In the story when Uncle Ry was looking for something to give the robber “He took off his only robe, which was old and tattered.”
2. If something is tattered it might be well worn with many holes and patches in it. If you had a blanket that you used since you were born it might be tattered because of how much you used it. If you had a teddy bear that you took everywhere even outside it might be tattered. Dad looked tattered after working in the yard all day.
3. Let’s say the word: tattered
4. If you had a blanket that you used since you were born it might be tattered because of how much you used it. If you had a teddy bear that you took everywhere even outside it might be tattered. Dad looked tattered after working in the yard all day.
5. If any of the things that I say could be tattered I would like you to say the word tattered. If not don’t say anything.
 - a. Jeans, shirt, shoes, blanket, person after a hard days work.
6. What is our special word? “tattered”

Target word: sympathy/sympathetically

1. In the book when Stillwater told the story The Farmer’s Luck the neighbors came to the farmer and said “Such bad luck,” they said sympathetically. And after the farmer’s son broke his leg they came back. Again, the neighbors came to offer their sympathy on his misfortune.
2. If you have sympathy for someone or something you feel bad or sorry for that person.
3. Let’s say the word: sympathy
4. I had sympathy for the horse after the owner whipped it four times. I had sympathy for my self because I could not go the water park with my friends.
5. Now I want you to think of a time when you felt sympathy for something or someone. Turn to your partner and tell them who or what you have sympathy for or how you would say something sympathetically. When you do it please try to say the word. You could say, “I felt sympathy for the dog as he wobbled home.”
6. What are our special words? Sympathy/sympathetically

Combine the words by having the children make a choice between two of the words:

- Whenever the wind blows, your neighbor's clothes end up in your yard. Would you feel like it was sympathy or a nuisance? Why?
- Things thrown all over the floor. Would this be tattered or rummaging? Why?
- If you saw your friend crying at recess. Would you have sympathy or would it be a nuisance? Why?
- You saw your friend wearing a torn shirt. Would you have sympathy or think it was tattered?

Maintain all four words by asking the children to give examples or explanations:

- Throughout the week I would try to use all four words in a speaking and maybe as I use those students would be more likely to use them.
- I would ask students to use a special word in a sentence and have another students told me why they used it that way.

Maintain by helping children add to their networks of related words:

- During a journal time to get students to transfer the words from oral to written we will brainstorm ideas of things that might bother us or what it might be like to go through your great grandma's belongings? This way students can see how to use the words in their writing.

Assess:

“Let's think about all four of our new words again: nuisance, rummage, tattered, sympathy.”

- Show students Frayer Model. You are going to pick one of the special words to put in the middle of this and follow the directions. Give the definition, two examples used in a sentence, and some non-examples of the word you chose. When you are doing your sentences you cannot have it be the same sentence by just changing one thing of it. For example: While reading a book my brother's music was a nuisance because I could not focus. While watching TV my brother was a nuisance because I could not focus.

TRADE BOOK INFORMATION

- 1 A Bad Case of Stripes (David Shannon, 1998)
ISBN: 0-439-07955-1
- 2 A Bad Case of Stripes (David Shannon, 1998)
ISBN: 0-439-07955-1
- 3 Abiyoyo (Pete Seeger, 1986)
ISBN: 0-590-42720-2
- 4 Alexander and the Wind-Up Mouse (Leo Lionni, 1969)
ISBN: 0-394-82911-5
- 5 Amazing Grace (Mary Hoffman, 1991)
ISBN: 0-803-71040-2
- 6 Amber On the Mountain (Tony Johnston, 1994)
ISBN: 0-8037-1219-7
- 7 Anansi and the Talking Melon (Eric A. Kimmel, 1994)
ISBN: 0-8234-1167-2
- 8 Appelmando's Dreams (Patricia Polacco, 1997)
ISBN: 0-329-05500-3
- 9 Armadillo Tattletale (Helen Ketteman, 2000)
ISBN: 0-590-99723-8
- 10 Art Lesson, The (dePaola, 1989)
ISBN: 0-399-21688-X
- 11 Barefoot Escape on the Underground Railroad (Pamela Duncan Edwards, 1999)
ISBN: 0-06-02713-X Or 0-06-443519-9 (pbk.)
- 12 Baseball in April and Other Stories: La Bamba (Gary Soto, 1990)
ISBN: 0-15-202567-7
- 13 Betsy Who Cried Wolf (Levine, 2002)
ISBN: 0-06-028763-2
- 14 Bubble Factory, The (Tomie dePaola, 1996)
ISBN: 0-590-21275-3

- 15 Chrysanthemum (Kevin Henkes, 1991)
ISBN: 0-590-13565-1
- 16 Cow Who Wouldn't Come Down, The (Paul Brett Johnson, 1993)
ISBN: 0-531-05481-0
- 17 Coyote Steals the Blanket; A Ute Tale (Janet Stevens)
ISBN: 0-8234-1129-X
- 18 Dandelions (Eve Bunting, 1995)
ISBN: 0-15-200050-X
- 19 Detective LaRue-Letters From the Investigation (Mark Teague, 2004)
ISBN: 0-439-79168-5
- 20 Detective LaRue-Letters from the Investigation (Mark Teague, 2004)
ISBN: 0-439-79168-5
- 21 Dog Who Cried Wolf, The (Keiko Kasza, 2005)
ISBN: 0-399-24247-3
- 22 Drop Goes Plop, A First Look at the Water Cycle, The (Sam Godwin, 1998)
ISBN 1-4048-0657-1
- 23 Ducky (Eve Bunting, 1997)
ISBN: 0-395-75185-3
- 24 Easter Egg Farm, The (Mary Jane Auch, 1992)
ISBN: 0-8234-1076-5
- 25 Edward and The Pirates (David McPhail, 1997)
ISBN: 0-316-56344-7
- 26 Elbert's Bad Word (Audrey Wood, 1988)
ISBN: 0-15-225320-3
- 27 Empty Pot, The (Demi, 1990)
ISBN: 0-59047090-6
- 28 Exploring the Deep, Dark Sea (Gail Gibbons, 1999)
ISBN: 0-439-16839-2
- 29 Fancy Nancy (Jane O' Connor, 2006)
ISBN: 0-06-064209-8

- 30 Fancy Nancy and the Posh Puppy (Jane O' Connor, 2007)
ISBN: 0-06-054213-6
- 31 Fireflies! (Julie Brinckloe, 1985)
ISBN: 0689-71055-0
- 32 Friend Frog (Alma Flor Ada, 2000)
ISBN: 0-15-201522-1
- 33 Friends (Helme Heine, 1982)
ISBN: 0-689-71083-6
- 34 Gardener, The (Sarah Stewart, 1997)
ISBN: 0-374-32517-0
- 35 Gem (Emma Kallok, 2001)
ISBN: 1-58246-027-2
- 36 Getting to Know the World's Greatest Artists: Diego Rivera (Children's Press, 1994)
ISBN: 0-516-42299-5
- 37 Ghost-Eye Tree, The (Martin & Archambault, 1985)
ISBN: 0-8050-0208-1
- 38 Giant Jam Sandwich, The (John Vernon Lord, 1972)
ISBN: 0-395-16033-2
- 39 Goldilocks Returns (Lisa Campbell Ernst, 2001)
ISBN: 0-439-28598-4
- 40 The Graves Family (Patricia Polacco, 2003)
ISBN: 0-399-24034-9
- 41 Heckedy Peg (Audrey Wood, 1987)
ISBN: 0-15-233678-8
- 42 How I Became a Pirate (Melinda Long, 2003)
ISBN: 0-15-201848-4
- 43 How the Stars Fell into the Sky: A Navajo Legend (Jerrie Oughton)
ISBN: 0-395-77938-3
- 44 I Wanna Iguana (Karen Kaufman Orloff, 2005)
ISBN: 0-439-85545-4

- 45 If You Could Go To Antarctica (Fay Robinson, 2007)
ISBN: 0-328-19188-4 (available only from Scott Forseman, Kindergarten kit)
- 46 Imogene's Antlers (David Small, 1985)
ISBN: 0-517-55564-6 (Trade) OR 0-517-56242-1 (Pbk.)
- 47 Julius, Baby of the World (Henkes, 1990)
ISBN: 0-590-10896-4
- 48 Katie's Trunk (Ann Turner, 1992)
ISBN: 0-02-789512-2
- 49 The Library (Sarah Stewart, 1995)
ISBN: 0-374-34388-8
- 50 Lilly's Big Day (Kevin Henkes, 2006)
ISBN: 0-06-074237-2
- 51 Lilly's Purple Plastic Purse (Kevin Henkes, 1996)
ISBN: 0-688-12897-1
- 52 The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe (Based on the Original Book by C.S. Lewis, 2004)
ISBN: 0-06-055650-1
- 53 Little Grunt and the Big Egg (Tomie dePaola, 1990)
ISBN: 0-440-84457-6
- 54 Little Red Riding Hood (Lisa Campbell Ernst, 1995)
ISBN: 0-590-89933-3
- 55 The Magic Hat (Mem Fox, 2003)
ISBN: 0-439-56133-7
- 56 Mailing May (Michael O. Tunnell, 1997)
ISBN: 0-688-12878-5
- 57 The Man Who Walked Between The Towers (Scholastic, 2004)
ISBN: 0-439-71141-8
- 58 The Market Square Dog (James Herriot, 1989)
ISBN: 0-590-48062-6
- 59 The Midnight Fridge (Bruce Glassman, 1998)
ISBN: 1-56711-801-1

- 60 Ming Lo Moves the Mountain (Arnold Lobel, 1982)
ISBN: 0-688-10995-0
- 61 Miss Rumphius (Cooney, 1982)
ISBN: 0-670-47958-6
- 62 Moondance (Frank Asch, 1993)
ISBN: 0-590-20830-6
- 63 Mr. Peabody's Apples (Madonna, 2003)
ISBN: 0-429-6999-1
- 64 Mud Puddle (Munsch, 1982)
ISBN: 1-55037-468-0
- 65 Mufaro's Beautiful Daughters (John Steptoe, 1987)
ISBN: 0-590-42058-5
- 66 My Brother Needs a Boa (Anne Weston, 2005)
ISBN: 1-932065-96-2
- 67 My Lucky Day (Keiko Kasza, 2004)
ISBN: 0-439-70105-8
- 68 Never, Ever Shout in a Zoo (Karma Wilson, 2005)
ISBN: 0-439-77472-1
- 69 Never Trust a Squirrel (Walters, 1999)
ISBN: 0-525-46009-8
- 70 Nonna's Porch (Rita Gray, 2004)
ISBN: 0-7868-1613-9
- 71 Odd Velvet (Mary Whitcomb, 1998)
ISBN: 0-8118-2004-1
- 72 One Giant Leap—The Story of Neil Armstrong (Don Brown, 1998)
ISBN 0-618-15239-3
- 73 Owen & Mzee: The True Story of a Remarkable Friendship
(Isabella Hatkoff, Craig Hatkoff, and Dr. Paula Kahumbu, 2006)
ISBN: 0-439-82973-9
- 74 Paper Dragon, The (Marguerite W. Davol, 1997)
ISBN: 0-689-31992-4

- 75 Patchwork Quilt, The (Valerie Flourney, 1985)
ISBN: 0-8037-0097-0 or ISBN - 0- 8037- 0098 - 9 (library binding)
- 76 Pecos Bill (Kellogg, 1986)
ISBN: 0-590-41110-1
- 77 Principal from the Black Lagoon, The (Mike Thaler, 1993)
ISBN: 0-590-45782-9
- 78 The Polar Express (Chris Van Allsburg, 1985)
ISBN: 0-395-38949-6
- 79 The Relatives Came (Rylant, 1985)
ISBN: 0-689-71738-5
- 80 Royal Nap, The (Charles C. Black, 1995)
ISBN 0-670-85863-3
- 81 Ruby the Copy Cat (Peggy Rathman, 1991)
ISBN: 0-590-43747-X
- 82 Rude Giants (Audrey Wood, 1993)
ISBN: 0-15-201889-1
- 83 The Signmaker's Assistant (Tedd Arnold, 1997)
ISBN: 0-14-056097-1
- 84 Somewhere In The Ocean (Jennifer Ward and T.J. Marsh, 2000)
0-439-22035-1
- 85 Stellaluna (Janell Cannon, 1993)
ISBN: 0-590-96797-5
- 86 The Story of Jumping Mouse (John Steptoe, 1984)
ISBN: 0-688-08740-X
- 87 The Stranger (Chris Van Allsburg, 1986)
ISBN: 0-395-42331-7
- 88 The Stray Dog (Marc Simont, 2001)
ISBN: 0-439-38591-1
- 89 Sunflower House (Eve Bunting, 1996)
ISBN: 0-152-01952-9

- 90 Sylvester and the Magic Pebble (William Steig, 1969)
ISBN: 0-590-98066-1
- 91 Sylvester and the Magic Pebble (William Steig, 1969)
ISBN: 0-440-84219-0
- 92 Thunder Cake (Patricia Polacco, 1990)
ISBN: 0-399-22231-6
- 93 Too Many Tamales (Gary Soto, 1993)
ISBN: 0-590-22650-9
- 94 The Ugly Duckling (Madge Tovey, 2000)
ISBN: 0-201-32225-0
- 95 The Umbrella (Jan Brett, 2005)
ISBN: 0-439-81427-8
- 96 Uncle Jed's Barbershop (Margaree King Mitchell, 1993)
ISBN: 0-590-22313-5
- 97 When Jessie Came Across the Sea (Hest, 1997)
ISBN: 0-763-61274-X
- 98 The Widow's Broom (Van Allsburg, 1992)
ISBN: 0-395-64051-2
- 99 The Widow's Broom (Chris Van Allsburg 1992)
ISBN: 0-590-47543-6
- 100 Wolf! (Bloom, 1999)
ISBN: 0-531-30155-9
- 101 Zen Shorts (Jon J. Muth, 2005)
ISBN: 0-439-33911-1